While at FSU she was a member of Tarpon Club, F Club, Garnet Key and Mortified. She was listed in Who's Who in America Colleges and Universities. Following graduation Mollie married Ronald Cardamone and later had two sons and now two grandchildren. She and her husband will celebrate fifty years of marriage in January. They returned to Sarasota and Mollie taught school for a number of years. In 1964 she and her husband opened a retail business (Children World) that they operated for thirty seven years in Sarasota and nineteen years in Bradenton. Mollie became a neighborhood activist and was founder of the Coalition of City Neighborhoods Association and served as President for the first two years. As a result of her civic interest she ran for Sarasota City Commission in 1993 and was re-elected in 1997. She served eight years as a commissioner and two years as Mayor of the City of Sarasota. During her elected years she worked primarily in the area of economic re-development and neighborhood preservation. In 2000 the Florida Redevelopment Association named her as the elected official who had done the most to promote re-development in their community. Mollie currently operates her own consulting business dealing in land use and neighborhood issues and she serves as the Community and Legislative Liaison for First Step of Sarasota, a drug and alcohol treatment organization. Femina Perfecta

This award, Femina Perfecta, means "complete woman" and is given to a member of each of the nine teams. She exemplifies the motto on the University seal, which has three torches and the words VIRES, ARTES, and MORES, and the words under the torches on the Florida State College for Women seal FEMINA PERFECTA. This represented the goal of the college for all students. She will not necessarily be the most intellectual, fastest, strongest, top scorer, funniest, etc., but should be the one who is invaluable to the team and who will always make a difference.
