Photo: Metro Conference teams battled so evenly all season long that everything was up in the air until the last game of the season. Florida State defeated a tough Southern Miss squad to take sole possession of second place in the conference race in the last game of the regular season. The Seminoles are one of the favorites to battle for the conference crown again this year.

Next Page: The Seminoles compete in one of the nation's top conferences. The Metro has produced two national champions in the 1980's as Denny Crum has led his Louisville Cardinals to two national titles. In addition to rivals Memphis State and South Carolina, former NIT national champion Southern Mississippi, Virginia Tech and Cincinnati make up FSU's league battles. The Tribe plays a national schedule that includes Penn State, Villanova, Florida and Auburn.

Left: In the last few years, the FSU-Jacksonville series hasn't had the national significance it once did, but the old intrastate rivalry hasn't lost any of its intensity.
Below: FSU vs. Iowa in last year's NCAA tournament. This November, there will be 48 NCAA teams who won't be able to list their entire schedule, because they'll have at least one extra opponent at year's end. FSU hopes to be one of them.
