Ryan REID

42

Sophomore Forward 6-8 237

Hometown: Lauderdale Lakes, Fla.
Current Team (Coach): Florida State University (Leonard Hamilton)
High School (Coach): Boyd Anderson High School (Eugene Richardson)

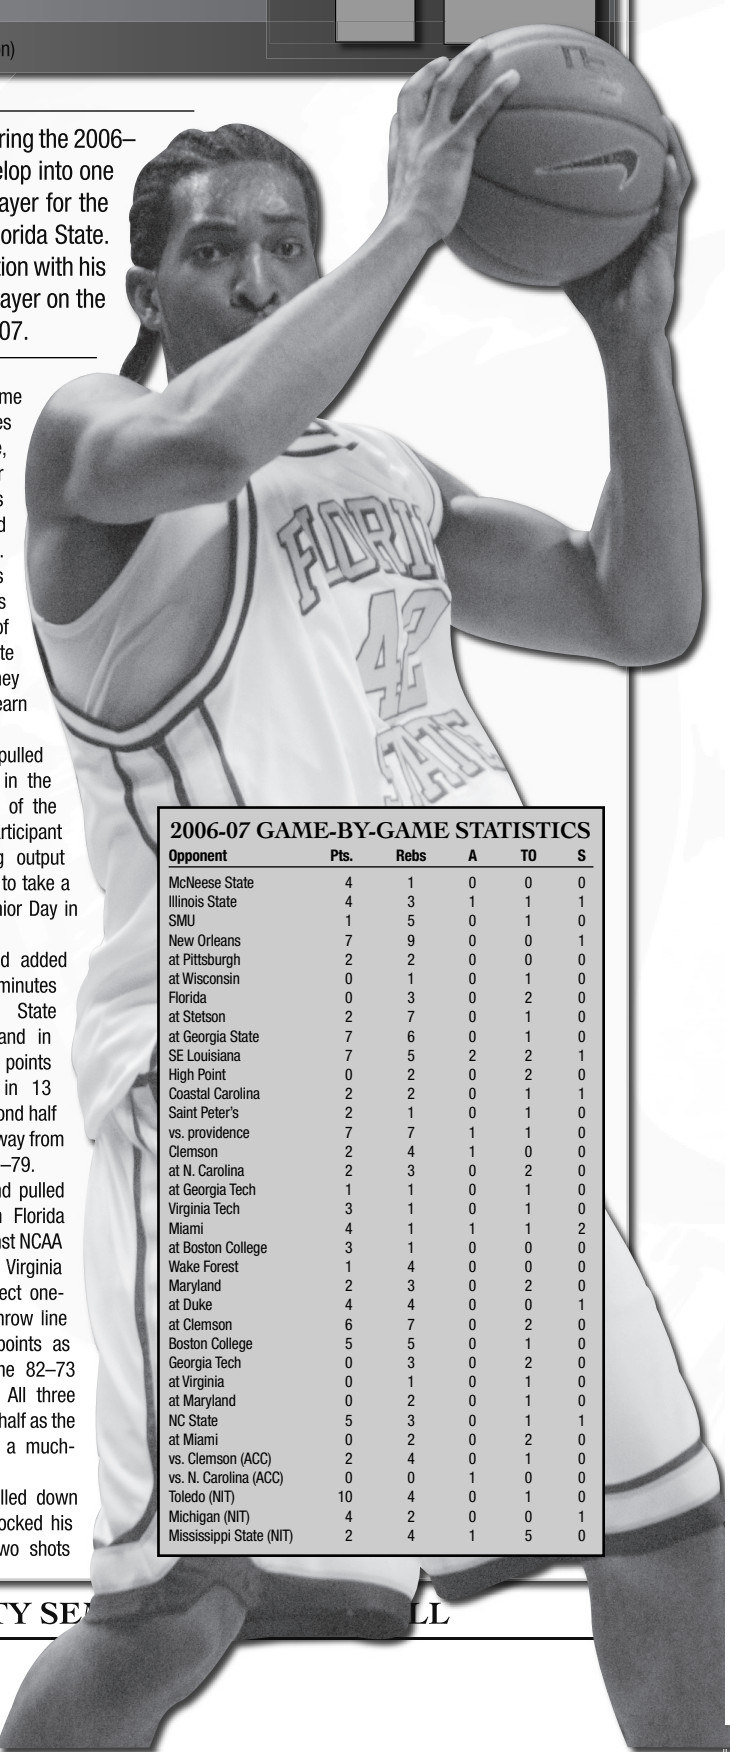

Ryan Reid emerged as the surprise player of the year for the Seminoles during the 2006-07 season. With a high rate of continued improvement, he will develop into one of the top big men in the ACC. He displayed his abilities as a future important player for the Seminoles as he earned playing time early and often during his first season at Florida State. Reid proved to be one of the solid members of head coach Leonard Hamilton's rotation with his no-nonsense rebounding efforts and selfless play on the court. He was the only player on the team who averaged more rebounds (3.2) than he did points scored (2.9) in 2006-07.

AS A FRESHMAN (2006-07)

- Averaged 2.9 points (ninth on the team) and 3.2 rebounds (fourth) while shooting .562 from the field, averaging 16.1 minutes played per game (eighth) during his first season at Florida State.
- Was one of only seven players on the roster who played in all 35 games and one of only eight players on the team who played in all 16 ACC games.
- Averaged more rebounds (3.2) than points (2.9) and blocked more shots (16) than all but two Seminoles as he accepted his role as a defender from day one of preseason camp.
- Scored more points than he had rebounds only 11 times and recorded more blocked shots than he scored points four times in his 35 games played.
- Rebounded extremely well on the offensive end of the court as he finished second on the team in offensive rebounds with a 1.3 offensive rebounds per game average. His 46 total offensive rebounds placed him second behind only Seminole All-American Al Thornton.
- Led the Seminoles in rebounds four times — in wins over New Orleans, Stetson and Providence and against Clemson in ACC play.
- Ranked fourth on the team in rebounds in ACC play while averaging 17.3 minutes played per game in 16 conference games.
- Displayed his value early in the season as he pulled down five rebounds against SMU and his career-high nine rebounds against New Orleans before the regular season was barely a week old.
- Shot the ball from the field as well as any player on the team and finished with a .562 shooting percentage from the field. He did not shoot the ball enough to qualify for the team or conference leaders, but his percentage was the highest among his Florida State teammates.
- Showed he has the ability to put the ball in the basket as he scored in double figures once (10 points against Toledo in the NIT) and totaled at least seven points in four different games.
- His top non-conference games included a seven-point and nine-rebound performance in the Seminoles' victory over New Orleans, a seven-point and six-rebound performance in Florida State's victory at Georgia State and a seven-point and six-rebound performance in the Seminoles' victory at home against Southeastern Louisiana.
- Averaged 4.0 points and 3.0 rebounds in two games against NCAA Tournament participant Boston College. Scored five points and pulled down five rebounds as Florida State played host to Boston College in Tallahassee as he tied his career high with three free throws and shot .750 from the free throw line (three-of-four) for the game.
- Scored four points and pulled down four rebounds in the Seminoles' only game against the NCAA Tournament participant Blue Devils during the season. He made two of his three field goal attempts in a very economical game in helping the Seminoles past No. 8 ranked Duke, 68-67. Reid scored four second-half points as the Seminoles outscored the Blue Devils, 35-31. He led the Seminoles with all four of his points in the last five minutes of the game as Florida State clung to a lead that they would keep in order to earn the victory.

- Scored five points and pulled down three rebounds in the Seminoles' only game of the season against NIT participant NC State. His scoring output allowed the Seminoles to take a 78-52 decision on Senior Day in Tallahassee.
- Scored two points and added three rebounds in 17 minutes of play as Florida State played host to Maryland in Tallahassee. All of his points and rebounds came in 13 minutes during the second half as the Seminoles ran away from Maryland in winning 96-79.
- Scored three points and pulled down one rebound in Florida State's only game against NCAA Tournament participant Virginia Tech. Reid was a perfect one-of-one from the free throw line in scoring his three points as the Seminoles took the 82-73 victory in Tallahassee. All three points came in the first half as the Seminoles sprinted to a much-needed 39-23 lead.

All-Star Candidates

Jason Rich (All-ACC) | Toney Douglas (All-ACC) | Isaiah Swann (All-ACC)

NOTES

Florida State averages 21.0 wins and has played in the postseason in each of the last two seasons...the Seminoles defeated three ranked teams during the 2006-07 season and return four starters and four of their top five scorers from the 2006-07 season...included in Florida State's list of returning starters are senior guards Jason Rich (10.3 ppg, .805 FT %) and Isaiah Swann (10.3 ppg, 68 3FGM) who have started a combined 174 games during their careers... Rich is an All-ACC candidate as a four-year returning starter and the Seminoles' leading returning scorer...the many abilities he has displayed during the first three years of his career on both the offensive and defensive ends of the court place him in the special class as one of the most talented all-around players in the nation's best conference for the 2007-08 season...averaged in double figures scoring in each of the last two seasons and is the Seminoles' leading scorer with 823 total points in 95 career games beginning his senior season...averaged 10.2 points per game in the last two seasons...Swann is an All-ACC candidate as one of the nation's top shooters and most athletically gifted players who returns for his third consecutive season as a member of the Seminoles' starting line-up...he finished tied for sixth in the ACC in total 3-point field goals made (68) and seventh in the ACC in 3-point field goals made (1.94) per game as a junior...made an NIT and near-school-record nine 3-point field goals against Mississippi State in the quarterfinal round of the 2007 MasterCard NIT...his performance from beyond the arc allowed him to score a career-high 31 points...

averaged a career-high 10.3 points per game as a junior and allows the Seminoles to return a trio of double-figure scorers for the 2007-08 season...also a returning starter is junior point guard Toney Douglas (12.7 ppg, 2.9 apg) who played in 30 of Florida State's 35 games but missed five games during the month of February with a broken right wrist...in the five games Douglas missed (Feb. 11 through Feb. 24) the Seminoles averaged 65.4 points per game on the offensive end...in the final six games of the season upon his return, the Seminoles were 4-2 and averaged 77.4 points per game...a fourth returning starter is Uche Echefu who is one of the most rapidly improving players in the ACC...saw his playing time and statistics soar during his sophomore season, and should he realize that same type of improvement during his junior season, he will be well on his way to achieving elite status among the players in the ACC and in the nation...his improved statistics as a sophomore began to show what his immense potential will be during his final two seasons as a Seminole...he scored nearly four times as many points as a sophomore (243/6.9 ppg) than he did as a freshman (68/2.3)...he pulled down 110 rebounds more as a sophomore (151/4.3) this season than he did as a freshman (41/1.4)...all four of Florida State's recruits led their high school teams to top national finishes: Julian Vaughn (Oak Hill, #1), Solomon Alabi (Montverde Academy, #4), Jordan Demercy (Norcross, #14), Chris Blake (LeFlore, #14).
