

HEAD Coach Mike Martin

It's hard to imagine anyone enjoying their job more than Mike Martin does his. For, if ever there was a man tailor-made for a job, it's Florida State University's head baseball coach.

Even though Mike Martin is beginning his 15th season at the helm of the program, he has lived and breathed Florida State baseball for the last 29 years. When the skinny kid from Charlotte transferred to FSU from Wingate Junior College in 1965 to play center field for the Seminoles, it was the beginning of a love affair that has never ended.

At Florida State, Mike Martin is living out a childhood fantasy.

His love for the game of baseball is matched only by the success he has had teaching it to aspiring players. And no higher, something bigger and better comes along. When Martin took over the program in 1980, it was taboo to mention the word Omaha around the ballclub. No one wanted to jinx an FSU team that had made it to the College World Series only three times in the previous 15 seasons. After taking the Seminoles to that hallowed ground in his very first season, Martin would eventually make Omaha not only a household word, but a second home to the Seminoles. Martin has led the Tribe to the CWS five times in the last eight years, including three of the last five campaigns.

Last year, with his youngest club ever, Martin's team failed to win 50 games and/or reach the College World Series for the first time in his 14 seasons. FSU's 46 wins marked, yes, the lowest total of wins during the Martin Era. For 12 consecutive seasons since his arrival, Martin's clubs achieved 50 wins, an unprecedented run in college baseball.

The numbers Martin and his FSU teams have posted are monumental. During the 1992 season, the Seminole coach collected his 700th career victory. That milestone comes earlier than any coach in NCAA history — just his 13th season.

The fourth-winningest head coach in college baseball, Martin's teams have won nearly 75 percent of their games.

Martin's elevation to the top post of the FSU baseball team seemed a perfectly logical step in 1979. The North Carolina native originally came to FSU as a 21-year-old junior center-fielder in 1965. He hit .354 in two seasons as the starter in centerfield, and got his first taste of the College World Series on that 1965 team. He earned all-District honors his senior season and went on to play professionally in the New York Mets and Detroit Tigers organizations.

teaching the game with his fire and drive has given Florida State perhaps the nation's very best all-around college baseball program. From the facilities, to the coaching staff, to the unequalled community support, Mike Martin has taken an already rich FSU baseball tradition to a whole new level of excellence.

association with Florida State baseball, Mike Martin bleeds Garnet and Gold. Perhaps no one has meant more to a program than has Martin to the baseball Seminoles.

Needless to say, with a 761-258-3 record, playing career came to an end after three years, Martin embarked on his coaching career. He spent several years coaching in the prep and college ranks in Tallahassee. He started as a baseball and basketball coach at the junior high level, then became head basketball coach at Tallahassee Community College before spending four seasons as basketball coach at Tallahassee's Godby High.

When Woody Woodward became FSU head baseball coach in 1975, he quickly called on Martin to assist him. Martin served five seasons as the number one assistant, under Woodward for four years, and then under Howser. When Howser got a phone call from then-Yankee boss George Steinbrenner one November day in 1979, there was no question as to who would be the next FSU head coach. And since that day in 1979, there has been no doubt that Mike Martin and Seminole baseball are a perfect match.

For Martin, it is a dream come true. He would be the first to tell you his current position is his ultimate thrill. After 29 years of

*Martin ranks 9th on All-Time Winningest Division I Coaches' list.

Martin is Florida State's winningest coach ever by a mile. Every year under Martin, the Seminoles have participated in NCAA postseason play — 14 straight years. That run, on the heels of appearances in 1978 and '79, give Florida State 16 consecutive tournament trips. By comparison, the longest previous string at FSU was four — ironically, it came during Martin's playing tenure (1965-68). Only one other team in America — Miami — has a longer string of consecutive appearances.

Only seven teams in college baseball have topped FSU's 12 College World Series trips. Martin has been involved in two-thirds of those, with eight trips to Omaha as a player, assistant coach and head coach.

Martin says his years around FSU coaches like Fred Hatfield, whom he played for in 1965-66, and Woody Woodward and Dick Howser, whom he coached under, instilled in him the desire to produce winners on and off the playing field. Stepping out of their shadows, Martin has built his own legacy in Tallahassee. Although entering only his 50th year in 1994, he is already on his way to unprecedented collegiate baseball success. Success which nearly matches that of another Florida State head coach — Seminole football mentor Bobby Bowden. Just as Bowden and Seminole football are synonymous, so are Martin, winning and Seminole baseball.

During his tenure, 26 different players have earned All-America honors, 56 have been named to the all-Conference team and an incredible 68 players have signed professional contracts. Two of Martin's Seminoles — Mike Fuentes and Mike Loynd — won the Golden Spike Award, emblematic of the nation's best amateur player.

Martin arrived at FSU for his junior season after a two-year playing career at Wingate Junior College in North Carolina, where he earned junior college All-America honors twice. The Charlotte native still clings to his tobacco road roots, but North Florida is his home.

A popular speaker, Martin has delivered keynote addresses at several state and national meetings, including gatherings of the Florida High School Coaches Association, Atlanta Braves instructional clinics and Seminole Booster clubs throughout the Southeast. He is also in demand as a speaker at churches and is active in national and local Fellowship of Christian Athletes activities.

A 1966 graduate of Florida State, Martin earned his master's degree from Florida A&M in 1971. He and his wife Carol have three children, Mary Beth (24), Melanie (18), and 21-year-old Mike, Jr., the starting catcher for the Seminoles.

INSIDE Pitch

FSU skipper Mike Martin reached yet another coaching milestone last year. Martin coached his 1,000th game at Florida State on April 23, a 13-3 win over Jacksonville. He picked up career win number 750 two nights later when Paul Wilson blanked Miami, 1-0.

FLORIDA STATE Assistant Coaches

CHIP BAKER Assistant Coach

The senior member of coach Mike Martin's staff, Chip Baker enters his 10th season as a Seminole assistant coach. This 1994 season will, again, see Baker continue to fill many roles for the program.

Baker will return to familiar ground as third base coach for the Tribe. In addition, he is responsible for scouting opposing teams and directs the Seminoles defensively. He also tutors FSU's catchers, a position that has shown extremely consistent play since his arrival.

Chip Baker

A former assistant at Virginia Tech and Georgia Tech, Baker is one of college baseball's premiere catching instructors. During his tenure, Baker has coached four All-Americans, including Ed Fulton, Barry Blackwell, major leaguer Marc Ronan and first-team All-American Pedro Grifol.

FSU Assistant Coach Chip Baker and wife, Julie.

Baker's duties go beyond the field. Administratively, he coordinates team travel plans, the purchasing of equipment and the general administration of the total program.

During each summer Baker is the director of the Mike Martin and Seminole Advanced Baseball Schools. These camps have not only proved to be popular, but beneficial. Thirty-five of those who have attended these camps have gone on to swing the bats for the Seminoles. Several have advanced to the major leagues.

Baker is a popular speaker and has addressed Seminole Booster clubs and civic organizations around the state. He has been on the staff of national and regional baseball clinics. Baker works closely with Tallahassee area youth organizations and has put together clinics for the Tallahassee Babe Ruth League and other little leagues.

INSIDE Pitch

The nucleus of this year's team is made up of many of FSU recruiting coordinator Jamey Shouppe's 1992 class, judged best in the nation by Collegiate Baseball. This year's newcomers were selected as the third best group of incoming baseball talent.

The 36-year-old native of North Carolina has written articles for Scholastic Coach and Collegiate Baseball magazines on the subjects of catching and third base coaching. He is currently working on several baseball instructional and conditioning videos.

A 1980 graduate of High Point College (University) in North Carolina, Baker led the Panthers to four Carolina Conference championships. He was a member of the High Point team that finished second at the 1979 NAIA World Series.

After completing his bachelor's degree in physical education, Baker earned his master's degree in motor behavior at Virginia Tech. Virginia Tech is where Baker began his collegiate coaching career.

Baker is married to the former Julie Larsen, a pitcher on FSU's 1985-88 softball team (and who still owns the record for strikeouts). The two were married in 1991 in a most memorable ceremony — between games of a doubleheader at Dick Howser Stadium.

Assistant Coach Jamey Shouppe, wife Karen and children Kasey, Jake and Jared.

JAMEY SHOUPPE Assistant Coach

Jamey Shouppe begins his fourth season as an assistant coach under Mike Martin, whom he played for here during the 1981 and '82 seasons.

Shouppe has been the catalyst in attracting top caliber talent to Florida State since taking over as the recruiting coordinator in 1990. His 1992 recruiting class was voted best in the nation by Collegiate Baseball, and his most recent group of newcomers was judged the third best class in the country.

Last year, the former Seminole hurler added the role of pitching coach to his duties, with equal success. Under Shouppe's tutelage, the Florida State pitching staff compiled a 2.90 ERA, the fourth best mark in the nation.

In two seasons with the Seminoles in 1981 and '82 the southpaw compiled a 10-4 record. As a senior he set an FSU single season record for appearances with 31. In all, Shouppe stood atop the pitching mound in 60 games and posted a 3.78 earned run average. He fanned a total of 122 batters in 126 innings of work and was named to the Metro Conference All-Tournament team his senior year.

A native of Chattahoochee, Fla., Shouppe came to FSU via George Wallace Junior College in Dothan, Ala. At Wallace he earned all-conference, all-state, and all-region honors in each of his seasons while playing outfielder and pitcher.

The Houston Astros drafted Shouppe following his senior season at FSU. He played three years in the Astros organization at the A and AA levels before retiring from the sport in 1985.

Shouppe received his bachelor's degree in Physical Education from FSU and a master's degree from Nova University in Ft. Lauderdale. He held various coaching and teaching positions in Florida before returning to FSU in 1990.

Shouppe also teaches classes in the physical education department at FSU in addition to his coaching duties. He has worked as director of the Mike Martin Baseball School, 6-9 age division, for the past eight years.

Shouppe and his wife, former FSU cheerleader Karen Hall, have three children — six-year-old Jake, two-year-old daughter Kasey, and Jared, who was born in November.

Gallagher has a multitude of daily responsibilities throughout the season, and throughout the year. He assists Chip Baker with the ordering of all equipment used by the Seminoles and is charged with maintaining all the equipment. When Florida State is on the road, Gallagher coordinates the transfer of luggage and equipment for the team.

He also undertakes various other projects as assigned by the coaches, which often includes assisting at practice in different drills. He spends countless hours at Dick Howser Stadium around the year as he is often the first to arrive and last to leave the facility, whether it's a game day or not. Gallagher, whose input helped make the FSU clubhouse and lockerroom facilities among the best in the nation, has been charged with managing the day-to-day upkeep of that area.

A native of St. James, N.Y., Gallagher attended Smithtown East High School before coming to Florida State. He gained a love of baseball and of all sports there from his father, Larry, a teacher and high school baseball coach for almost 30 years.
