FLORIDA STATE HEAD COACH

Bobby Bowden

Florida State's final regular season game of 1990 exemplified the reason Bobby Bowden just might be America's finest football coach.

Pressed into a must-win situation to remain among the nation's Top 10 teams and challenged by a young innovative gunslinger from across the state, the wise and crafty coaching graybeard of FSU carved an absolute masterpiece.

With only five seniors in his starting lineup, Bowden's surging "baby" Seminoles executed to perfection, toppling the seemingly insurmountable and sixth-ranked Florida Gators of Steve Spurrier. The 45-30 victory was orchestrated with the skill of a surgeon. And this was a Florida team laden with senior talent and full of so much momentum many felt Operation Desert Storm couldn't have stopped it!

But the Florida State empire was saved again by the "white knight" from Birmingham. Just as it has been for the past 15 seasons.

And then, just to add an exclamation point, Ol' Bobby went out and whipped his lifelong nemeses, Joe Paterno and Penn State, in the inaugural Blockbuster Bowl last December. That's no surprise, though. The last time Bowden lost a bowl game, this year's freshman class was entering the second grade!

Like fine wine, Bowden, at age 61, keeps getting better. The list of coaches who have won more games than Bobby is getting so short you might want to jot them down, on a matchbook cover. Last season, Bowden climbed from 14th to eighth all-time. His 205 career victories rank second among active Division I coaches behind only Paterno.

Just how impressive is Bowden's 25-year coaching record? He's now on the same page with all the legends of college football. The seven coaches in front of him might as well have invented the game: Bear Bryant, Alonzo Stagg, Pop Warner, Woody Hayes, Bo Schembechler, Paterno and Jess Neely.

Looking and feeling perhaps better than ever, Bowden has a "lifetime" contract to coach the Seminoles. Odds are he'll be in the top five on that list soon.

When Bowden first arrived in Tallahassee in 1976, he described his relationship with the school as "a marriage" and was determined to let "no man put it asunder." True to his word, he completed his 15th season at FSU in 1990.

"I'll keep coaching as long as I feel as good as I do now and as long as they'll have me," said the man who is Florida State's No. 1 ambassador nationwide.

Life has never been better in the land of the Seminoles. The victory over Penn State gave FSU its fourth straight Top Four national finish, fourth straight season with 10 or more wins and a jump start on 1991 with most all the key contributors back.

The Blockbuster Bowl win also solidified Bowden's place as college football's best bowl coach. His 10-3-1 record in bowl games is light years ahead of any coach with more than 10 appearances. The Blockbuster was the ninth straight post-season showing by Bowden's Seminoles — a string in which there has not been a loss. A 10th career bowl win makes Bowden just the fourth man in history to reach double digits.

But what Bobby Bowden means to Florida State University off the playing field cannot be measured, even by the most sophisticated of supercomputers. Respect, admiration, class, honesty, charisma, charm and humor. When they put that kind of data into the system, a giant replica of Bowden will appear.

As if his character isn't enough, his coaching style draws admirers nationwide. A wide-open, gambling style makes Bowden teams a treat to watch, a pleasure to play on and a delight to cover. Reverses, flea-flickers, laterals—you name it. Here it comes!

A look at the record shows he's done it both ways. The flashy wins may get all the attention, but for every one of those, there are a dozen others spawned from sound fundamental football. This guy's not just a gambling magician. He can flat out coach!

By now it's been well-chronicled how the Birmingham cracker left the snow and ice of West Virginia to come to Florida State and save the program. Three seasons after he walked on campus, he had taken one of the worst football teams in the country to within one game of a national championship.

When Bowden arrived in 1976, he inherited a team that had been 4-29 over the previous three seasons. He went 5-6 that first year, but his team won its last three games in dramatic fashion. Plays of 80 yards or better figured in each of those victories, and somehow, everyone could sense right then what this man was going to bring to FSU.

Bowden's Florida State record is 132-42-3 (.754). That includes a 71-14-1 (.831) record in Tallahassee and a 61-28-2 (.680) mark away from home. He has built those numbers against some of the nation's toughest schedules. His road record alone includes a 2-0 mark at Ohio State, 1-0 at Notre Dame, 2-0 at Arizona State, 1-0 at Clemson, 4-2 against Nebraska and 2-0 at Syracuse, to name just a few.

The Coach has been a man of his word. At his first FSU press conference in 1976, he said his biggest priority was to play arch-rival Florida on an even keel. The Gators, you see, had owned Florida State, leading the series 15-2-1 at the time. Now after 15 meetings, Bowden owns an 8-7 advantage.

When Florida State opted to join the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference last September, many longtime SEC wags, feeling spurned, cried that Bowden and his Seminoles might somehow be "afraid" to take on that league.

But the figures don't back up the claim. Bowden's Seminoles have won nine of their last 10 games against SEC opposition and have beaten the league's best team four straight years. Overall, Bowden has pounded out a 19-14 edge vs. the SEC.

Bowden achieved some impressive numbers in his previous coaching stops (31-6 at Samford University in Birmingham between 1959 and 1962, and 42-26 at West Virginia from 1970-75), but what he has done at Florida State is simply phenomenal. Seven times in 15 years his Seminoles have won 10 or more games in a season. Florida State had been to just eight bowls in the 29 years before him. Since his arrival, FSU has been to 12 bowl games, including a string of nine in a row and five New Year's Day trips.

There can be no question about the national prominence the FSU program has achieved under Bowden. In 29 years of football before Bowden, Florida State was listed in the Associated Press Top 20 just 13 times.

In his 15 years, the Seminoles have been a mainstay — ranked by that poll in 161 weekly polls out of 215 possible weeks. An incredible 81 times under Bowden the Seminoles have been in the Top 10 on a given week. What about a Top 20 finish? Eleven times in 15 seasons!

Above all his coaching accomplishments, though, are his credentials as a man. Friendly and outgoing, Bowden is a devoted Christian and family man. He loves people. His personality and charm are bigger than life. He has become somewhat of a folk hero in the Deep South.

A polished speaker, Bowden is constantly in demand. His busy coaching schedule curtails many speaking engagements, but any free evening in the year will find him on the after-dinner circuit. Every free Sunday morning will find him in the pulpit of a church somewhere in the South.

Bowden is truly adored and respected by the media. There is no football coach better with the press. Open and candid, he is intently aware of the role of the press and many times looks at situations through their eyes rather than his own. He is a student of the media, reading virtually every article written about the program and watching tapes of network features on his team. He actually seems to relish opportunities to meet with reporters. His style makes Florida State a dream beat.

Outside of football, Bowden has an intense interest in World War II history and reads countless books and articles on the subject. He recently traced his ancestry to parts of Germany and had an opportunity to visit the country in 1988.

The Coach is a golf fanatic, playing almost daily during the off-season. Interestingly, he never plays once football practice begins. Never even has the desire until spring recruiting is finished. He has a solid game which gets into the 70s by the end of the summer. Bowden also enjoys boxing, watching matches on cable TV religiously.

Bowden was born in Birmingham in the shadow of Legion Field on November 8, 1929.

He was an outstanding player at Woodlawn High School there. He went on to Alabama as a freshman quarterback, fulfilling a lifelong dream to play for the Crimson Tide. During one semester in Tuscaloosa, he found his childhood sweetheart, Ann Estock, and she was enough to lure him back to Birmingham. He soon married Ann and transferred to Howard College (now Samford University) in Birmingham.

Bowden was a Little All-American there and started a long Bowden tradition at the school which goes on even today. He began his collegiate head coaching career there in 1959 and his son Terry is currently the head coach. His youngest son, Jeff, and son-in-law Jack Hines are both on Terry's staff. Oldest son Steve is on the faculty at Flagler College in St. Augustine, Fla. Another son, Tommy, recently was named the offensive coordinator on Pat Dye's staff at Auburn. His four sons, daughters Robyn Hines and Ginger Madden, and their families make up the Bowden clan, which numbers 24, including 10 grandchildren.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Chuck Amato

Assistant Head Coach
Defensive Line
(North Carolina State '69)
10th Season at FSU

Chuck Amato begins his 10th season at Florida State as defensive line coach and his seventh in the role of assistant head coach. He came to FSU in 1982 from Arizona as the line coach and was given additional responsibilities in the administrative area three years later. Since joining the Florida State coaching staff, Amato has helped return the Tribe defense to national prominence.

Among Amato's top former pupils are All-America noseguard Odell Haggins and NFL performers Alphonso Carreker, a 1984 first-round draft pick, and Eric Hayes of the Seattle Seahawks.

Amato coached linebackers for two seasons at Arizona before coming to Florida State. Prior to his stint at Arizona, Amato had done all of his coaching at his alma mater, N.C. State University.

Amato first joined the Wolfpack staff in 1968 as a student assistant; he remained at the school for the next 12 years, eventually working his way up to defensive coordinator. After serving as a student, and then a graduate assistant, Amato was hired as a full-time coach in 1971. In 1974, he was promoted to defensive coordinator and held the post for the next six seasons.

While at N.C. State, Amato worked for three different head coaches — Al Michaels, Lou Holtz and the late Bo Rein.

A native of Eaton, Pa., Amato earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from N.C. State. He was a three-year letterman in football and wrestling, and was undefeated in dual matches. He claimed a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference titles in his weight class.

Amato and his wife, Peggy, are the parents of twin daughters — Lugina and Selena.

Mickey Andrews

Defensive Coordinator
Defensive Backs
(Alabama '64)
Eighth Season at FSU

Since Mickey Andrews' arrival at Florida State in 1984, the Seminole defense has returned to the dominating form and success it enjoyed in the late '70s and early '80s. The resurgence of the FSU defense and emergence of the defensive secondary as a strength of the team has helped FSU to 42 wins in the last four seasons and four consecutive top four rankings.

Andrews' skill as a defensive coach has not gone unnoticed as Athlon's Southeastern Football Magazine named him its Assistant Coach of the Year in 1991.

Andrews' most famous pupil is Deion Sanders, a first round draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons in 1989 and the 1988 Jim Thorpe Award winner as the nation's top defensive back. LeRoy Butler joined Sanders as an All-America choice in 1989 and Buckley's selection to AP's second team unit last year gave Andrews four honorees in as many seasons.

Although Andrews came to Florida State from the Arizona Wranglers of the United States Football League, he was no stranger to the college game, having spent 17 years in the collegiate ranks.

One of the most experienced coaches on the FSU staff, Andrews made coaching stops at Eastern Kentucky, Livingston, North Alabama, Clemson and Florida during his career. He was defensive coordinator at Florida for two years (1981-82), and held a similar position at Clemson from 1977-80. His final year with the Tigers, Andrews added duties as assistant head coach.

From 1972-76, Andrews was the head coach and athletic director at North Alabama. It was his second head coaching job, as he spent three years guiding the Livingston University program from 1970-72. During his tenure, Livingston went 24-7 and won the NAIA national championship.

Andrews starred in football and baseball for Alabama from 1961-64, earning second team All-America mention as a wide receiver and defensive back. During his career, the Crimson Tide won a pair of national championships (1961, '64) and played in the 1963 Sugar and '62 and '64 Orange bowls.

In addition to his football honors, Andrews was an All-Southeastern Conference choice in baseball. In 1964, he received the Hugo Friedman Award as the Tide's best all-around athlete.

After one season as a high school coach, Andrews moved on to his first collegiate job as an assistant at Eastern Kentucky before taking a similar position at Livingston.

Andrews and his wife, Diane, have two children — Ronnie and Shannon.

Wally Burnham

Inside Linebackers
(Samford '63)
Seventh Season at FSU

Veteran coach Wally Burnham begins his seventh season on the Florida State staff in 1991 as the tutor of the Seminole inside linebackers. Like defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews, Burnham came to FSU from the Arizona Wranglers of the United States Football League.

Burnham's star pupil at Florida State was Paul McGowan, the 1987 Butkus Award winner as the nation's top linebacker.

The linebacker coach for the Wranglers in 1983-84, Burnham helped Arizona's defense achieve number one status in the league. Before moving to the professional game, Burnham was defensive coordinator at Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas.

Prior to that, Burnham made coaching stops at Memphis State, Richmond, East Tennessee State and North Alabama. At East Tennessee State, he was defensive coordinator from 1977-79, while his stint at North Alabama consisted of five years as defensive line coach under then head coach Mickey Andrews.

Burnham, like Bobby Bowden, played college football at both Alabama and Samford, playing for the late "Bear" Bryant during the 1960 and '61 seasons before transferring to Samford. He was honored as a Little All-American at linebacker his senior season.

Following graduation, he began his coaching career in the high school ranks in Alabama before getting his first college job in 1971 at North Alabama.

The 49 year-old-native of Pell City, Ala. and his wife Barbara have three children — Patrick, Allison and Shane.

John Eason

Receivers
(Florida A&M '69)
10th Season at FSU

Just as Penn State University earned a reputation as "Linebacker U." over its years as a collegiate football power, Florida State has become known as a wide receiver factory for the pros over the last decade.

Since 1981, the man responsible for developing those players at FSU is John Eason. Eason has coached some of the most talented athletes on the Florida State team during his tenure, including current pros Jessie Hester (Indianapolis Colts), Hassan Jones (Minnesota Vikings) and Ronald Lewis (San Francisco 49ers).

While they all had productive careers at Florida State, none enjoyed the collegiate success of Lawrence Dawsey, Eason's first Associated Press All-American, who earned the accolade following last season. Of all the wide receiver greats at FSU, Dawsey became only the third to earn first team AP All-America honors, adding his name to those of Hall of Famers Fred Biletnikoff and Ron Sellers. With 128 catches for 2,129 yards in his career, including 65 grabs for 999 yards in his senior season, Dawsey's statistics outshine those of all Eason's other pupils.

A native of Ocala, Fla., Eason joined FSU from Tallahassee's Lincoln High School where he was assistant principal for student affairs for two years. He also coached on the Tallahassee high school scene, serving as offensive coordinator at Leon High from 1973-79.

A receiver and punter for Florida A & M University in Tallahassee between 1963-67, Eason earned All-America honors his junior and senior years. He was named MVP of the Rattler squad in both those seasons, and was invited to play in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game in 1967.

Following graduation, Eason played two years of professional football with the Oakland Raiders. He began his coaching career at Vanguard High School in Ocala where he coached until 1971. In 1972, he returned to professional football, playing for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian League.

Eason holds a doctorate in Education Administration from Florida State, which he completed three years ago. He received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Florida A & M.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have a daughter — Amanda.

Jim Gladden

Outside Linebackers

(William Jewell '62)

17th Season at FSU

Outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden began his coaching career at Florida State before the arrival of Bobby Bowden, giving him seniority among the FSU staff. He was hired as a full-time coach in 1976, the same year Bowden started in Tallahassee. However, Gladden was a graduate assistant coach for the Tribe during the 1975 season.

Through his 16 seasons with the Seminoles, Gladden has been the outside linebackers coach. His most famous former pupil is Willie Jones, a second round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

In addition to his on-field coaching talents, Gladden has been a proficient recruiter for the Seminoles. When assigned to Central Florida, Gladden signed some of the most highly-sought players from that area, including Jamie Dukes and Sammie Smith. Gladden's move to the Tampa area four seasons ago was a factor in FSU's signing some of the top talent in that sector of the state over the past several seasons.

Another of Gladden's responsibilities are the punt return and punt block units. In 1984, the Seminoles blocked a school record eight punts and added a crucial block in the Citrus Bowl at the end of the season which resulted in FSU earning a tie in the game. Since 1976, Florida State has blocked 54 kicks and earned a well-deserved reputation as one of the country's top blocking units.

After graduating from William Jewell College in 1962, where he was chosen to the all-conference team, Gladden spent the next 15 years coaching in the high school ranks. He spent four years in Kansas City and St. Louis before moving to Kentucky. In 1970, he was the high school coach of the year in the Bluegrass State.

Following a year at Springfield High School in Tennessee, Gladden moved to Brooksville, Fla. where he headed the Hernando High program for two years. From there, he took the assistantship at Florida State which led to his current position.

Jimmy Heggins

Tight Ends
 (Florida State '78)
 Sixth Season at FSU

Jimmy Heggins, now in his sixth year on the FSU staff, returned to his alma mater in 1986. An outstanding player in the mid-70's for current boss Bobby Bowden, Heggins starts his second season as coach of the FSU tight ends after four years of coaching the Seminole noseguards.

Last season, one of Heggins' pupils at tight end was Reggie Johnson, a second round draft pick of the Denver Broncos.

During his time as noseguard coach, Heggins was instrumental in the transformation of Odell Haggins from linebacker to one of the top noseguards in the country.

Before the start of the 1986 season, Heggins came back to Florida State from Southwestern Louisiana, where he spent a year as an assistant coach. He also served as running back coach at Eastern Michigan for two seasons and at Western Illinois for one year.

He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at East Carolina in 1980, and filled the same role at FSU for the 1981 and '82 campaigns.

Heggins originally arrived in Tallahassee in 1974 from Salisbury, N.C. as a freshman running back with impressive credentials. As a senior at North Rowan High School, he was named to the North Carolina all-state team after gaining 1,670 yards. After spending his first two seasons at FSU as a fullback, Heggins made the switch to noseguard in Bowden's first year. At the end of the 1976 season, he was named the squad's outstanding defensive player. A year later, he helped Florida State to a 10-2 record and the Tangerine Bowl championship.

Heggins and his wife, the former Winifred Parker, have two daughters, Andrea and Lauren.

 Second Season at FSU
 Sixth Overall

In his second stint at Florida State, Mark Richt begins his second season as quarterback coach for the Seminoles. Richt also tutored the Seminole signal-callers from 1985-88 in his capacity as a graduate assistant and then as a volunteer assistant. In 1989, Richt left FSU for East Carolina, where he served as the Pirates' offensive coordinator.

Under Richt's direction, Danny McManus and Chip Ferguson led Florida State to Fiesta Bowl and Sugar Bowl titles and back-to-back 11-1 seasons in 1987 and 1988. Peter Tom Willis, now a quarterback for the NFL's Chicago Bears, learned the FSU system under Richt before breaking 15 school records in 1989. Overall, Florida State's most effective field generals directed the offense under Richt.

Richt was well-schooled in the passing game before coming to FSU as a graduate assistant coach in 1985. The Boca Raton, Fla., native was a quarterback at the University of Miami under former Hurricane coach Howard Schnellenberger. He was the backup quarterback to Buffalo Bills star Jim Kelly during his three seasons at UM.

Richt is married to the former Kathy Francis. Their son, one-year-old Jonathan, appeared on the cover of the 1990 FSU Blockbuster Bowl Media Guide along with Coach Bobby Bowden.

Offensive Coordinator

Offensive Line

(Missouri-Rolla '76)

Seventh Season at FSU

Brad Scott, who in his initial year as Florida State offensive coordinator directed the Seminole offense to a 10-2 season, will again handle that role as well as that of offensive line coach in 1991.

Last year's campaign was the first in seven seasons to feature a new man serving as offensive coordinator when Scott followed Wayne McDuffie in that position. Perhaps Scott's greatest achievement was in making the transition so smoothly that the change was barely noticed.

Scott made a name for himself as the Seminoles' recruiting coordinator and tight end coach for five seasons prior to becoming offensive coordinator last season. Considered an excellent judge of talent and a fine game coach, Scott relayed the offensive signals for the Tribe during his five years of coaching tight ends.

He gained a national reputation for his recruiting efforts as three of his five recruiting classes ranked among the nation's top five. Scott is given credit for bringing in the state's best talent and turning some areas not considered FSU territory into a virtual pipeline to the Seminole program. He laid the groundwork for current recruiting successes.

In addition, Scott was an effective tight end coach who is credited with the development of Pat Carter, a former second round draft pick now with the Los Angeles Rams.

Scott originally came to Florida State in 1984 as a graduate assistant coach in charge of the junior varsity squad and the tight ends. He was promoted a year later.

A football standout at Missouri-Rolla from 1972-76, Scott was chosen to play in the American Bowl All-Star Game following his senior season. His squad was coached by Bobby Bowden.

Upon graduation, Scott returned to his native Arcadia, Fla. as an assistant coach at DeSoto County High School. A year later, he moved to Hardee High School in Wauchula for one season. Scott's first taste of collegiate coaching came at The Citadel, where he served as head junior varsity coach in 1981 and '82. The following season, he returned to Arcadia as the head football coach and athletic director prior to coming to FSU.

Scott and his wife, Daryle, have two sons — Jonathan and Jeff.

of the running backs, in 1991.

Over the years, Sexton has helped to develop some of the top runners in Florida State history, like All-American Greg Allen, who broke 26 school records during his FSU career. Sammie Smith, and Dexter Carter, former first round draft picks of the NFL's Miami Dolphins (1989) and San Francisco 49ers (1990), respectively, also learned the FSU system under Sexton.

In 1976, Sexton joined the Florida State staff as a graduate assistant. The next year, he became a member of the full-time staff as quarterback coach. He worked with the quarterbacks for five seasons until 1982, when he became the head junior varsity coach and handled scouting duties.

He took over the running backs in 1983 and has made the group one of the most effective components of the FSU offense. The running backs are averaging nearly six yards per carry since 1983. To Sexton's credit, FSU running backs did not lose a fumble on a rushing attempt during the entire 1990 season.

A standout at Leon High School in Tallahassee, Sexton played his first three years of college football at Alabama as a quarterback before transferring to Florida State. He was the Seminoles' starting quarterback for the opening half of the 1973 season.

Sexton earned a bachelor's degree in business from FSU and began his coaching career as assistant coach at Leon, where he worked for three years before rejoining the Seminoles.

He and his wife, Joy, have three children—Wyatt, Leslie and Taylor.

Dave Van Halanger

Strength Coach
(West Virginia '76)
Ninth Season at FSU

Dave Van Halanger begins his ninth season as Florida State strength coach this year, having already helped hundreds of FSU athletes during his career. Van Halanger, who played for Bobby Bowden at West Virginia, has instituted a year-round strength program for Seminole football players which has paid huge dividends through the years.

Under Van Halanger's direction, the average student-athlete gains 20-25 pounds, adds 100 pounds to his bench press and 200 pounds to his squat during his years at FSU. In addition to stronger, FSU athletes get faster and more flexible. Each athlete can knock about two-tenths of a second off his 40 time and can jump four to five inches higher when he leaves Florida State.

Prior to his arrival at FSU in July of 1983, Van Halanger was head strength coach at his alma mater for five years. He is credited with starting West Virginia's first organized weight training program. He was on the WVU sidelines when Florida State defeated the Mountaineers in the 1982 Gator Bowl.

Van Halanger lettered four seasons under Bowden and was a co-captain of the 1975 West Virginia Peach Bowl team. An offensive tackle, he earned All-East honors his junior and senior seasons and was an honorable mention All-American as a senior. He played professionally with the Atlanta Falcons in 1976 before returning to WVU as a graduate assistant and head junior varsity coach. He was awarded full-time status there in 1978.

Currently, Van Halanger is the North Florida state director (1991-95) and a member of the National Board of Ethics for the National Strength and Conditioning Association. In addition to his work with the football athletes, he teaches several classes on strength training to students and to the Tallahassee community. Van Halanger leads FSU's Fellowship of Christian Athletes group.

Some of Van Halanger's recent assistants currently hold positions as strength coaches at Ohio State, Syracuse and Samford. Van Halanger, a native of Turtle Creek, Pa., and his wife, Michele, have two daughters — Danielle and Julie — and a son, Matthew.

 (Arkansas State '86)
 Fourth Season at FSU

Clint Ledbetter returns for his fourth season with the Florida State staff in 1991. He assists offensive coordinator Brad Scott with the offensive line, spending most of his time with the split side of that line. Ledbetter was elevated to the volunteer job before the 1990 season after two seasons as a graduate assistant under former offensive coordinator Wayne McDuffie.

A former standout player at Arkansas State, where he served one season as defensive line coach after graduation in 1986, Ledbetter earned four letters from 1983-86. He was named to the All-Southland Conference team as a senior and played on Arkansas State's national runner-up squad.

In 1988, Ledbetter gained acclaim following Florida State's "Puntrooskie" play against Clemson. Ledbetter introduced the play to FSU while coaching the scout team.

 Third Season at FSU

Ronnie Cottrell begins his second season as recruiting coordinator at Florida State in 1991. After just one season as a graduate assistant coach, during which time he assisted Brad Scott with the 1990 recruiting class, Cottrell was promoted to the job as the Seminoles' top recruiter.

Cottrell continued FSU's recent recruiting successes this past February. His first recruiting class ranked second nationally according to most analysts, and Florida State was the first school ever to ink both the nation's top offensive and defensive players when it signed Marquette Smith and Derrick Brooks. Overall, a school record seven Parade All-Americans chose Florida State in 1991.

A native of Brewton, Ala., Cottrell came to FSU with two years of coaching experience at the collegiate level, assisting at Troy (AL) State while attending school there in 1981 and 1982. He also held three high school head coaching jobs in Alabama at Kinston, Flomaton and East Brewton high schools. In 1986 and '87, he led Flomaton High School to a pair of perfect regular seasons, the first in school history.

Cottrell has served as an instructor at the Bobby Bowden Football Camp since 1985.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

Greg Guy Florida State '85

Greg Guy begins his second season as a graduate assistant at Florida State in 1991 after working with Coach Jim Gladden and the outside linebackers last season.

This year, Guy will assist defensive coordinator and secondary coach Mickey Andrews, where he will spend most of his time working with Florida State's safeties.

Guy was the secondary coach at Tallahassee's Godby High School from 1985-88, where he guided current Seminoles Eric Turrall and Steve Gilmer. During his stay, the Cougars won a pair of state championships (1986 and '87). The following season, Guy returned to his prep alma mater, Marianna High School, where he served as the offensive coordinator for two seasons.

Guy, a 1985 graduate of Florida State, is married to the former Cheryl Sexton of Tallahassee. They have a two-year-old daughter, Taylor.

Doug Hanlon Arkansas State '90

Doug Hanlon begins his second year as a graduate assistant on the Florida State coaching staff in 1991. As he did last season, Hanlon will assist coach John Eason in developing Florida State's young receiving corps, as well as work with the defensive scout squad.

A 1990 graduate of Arkansas State University, Hanlon was a student assistant coach there from 1986-90. Hanlon also coached one season (1985) at Coffeyville Junior College. Two of Hanlon's pupils at ASU are currently playing in the National Football League.

The Caney, Kansas native married the former Cecilia Caye Western on August 4, 1990.

Mark Salva Florida State '88

Mark Salva begins his second year as a graduate assistant on the Florida State coaching staff in 1991. A four-year letterwinner for FSU from 1984-87, Salva will once again assist Brad Scott in coaching the offensive line, working primarily with the Seminole centers.

Salva was a standout offensive lineman for the Seminoles who anchored the offensive line from his center spot as a senior. He served as a leader of the 1987 Florida State team that went 11-1 and finished the season with a Fiesta Bowl victory over Nebraska. Following the season, he was awarded both the Bob Crenshaw and the Don Powell awards.

Salva served as a student assistant under former FSU line coach Wayne McDuffie in 1988. Following graduation that year, he spent 1989 as an assistant coach at Osceola High School in Seminole, Fla.

Salva's wife Julie is an FSU graduate.

Stan Shiver Florida State '88

Another former Seminole standout, Stan Shiver returns to his alma mater in 1991 as a graduate assistant coach.

A four-year starter in the FSU secondary, Shiver played professionally with the Green Bay Packers over the past two seasons.

One of the hardest hitters to ever play for FSU, Shiver was a 1985 freshman All-America selection, a member of the Victor's Club all four years and an honorable mention All-American in 1988.

During his years with the Seminoles, Florida State went 38-9-1 and won four bowl games. His junior and senior seasons produced a pair of 11-1 campaigns as well as Fiesta and Sugar Bowl championships in 1987 and '88, respectively.

Shiver's duties as a graduate assistant at Florida State this season include assisting his former mentor, defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews, and the defensive backs. Shiver's brother, Clay, is a freshman offensive lineman on the 1991 FSU team.

The 1988 graduate of Florida State is a native of Tifton, Ga.

Tom Wheeler Florida State '83

Tom Wheeler, a two-time letterwinner at Florida State in 1981 and '82, begins his first season as a graduate assistant on the Seminole coaching staff in 1991. Wheeler's assignments include working with Coach Wally Burnham and FSU's outstanding inside linebackers.

Wheeler played tight end on FSU's 1982 Gator Bowl championship team. After graduating from Florida State in 1983, he spent three years coaching in the high school ranks before returning to his alma mater this summer. Wheeler spent 1988 as an assistant coach at Spruce Creek High School in Daytona Beach, Fla., where he was an all-state quarterback as a prep, and has coached quarterbacks and tight ends at Tallahassee's Lincoln High School for the past two seasons.

A single native of Daytona Beach, Wheeler has a black labrador, Jackson.

TRAINERS & MANAGERS

Randy Oravetz

Head Trainer
(Florida State '79)
13th Season at FSU

Randy Oravetz has served as the head trainer at Florida State since 1986, when he was promoted from his position as chief assistant after serving seven years in that post. Oravetz opens his sixth season as the head trainer in 1991, where he is responsible for overseeing the entire training room operation for all FSU student-athletes.

Oravetz directs a staff of three full-time assistants and a large group of student trainers. He serves as a liaison between the Florida State team doctors and the coaching staff and also provides everyday care and treatment to the members of the FSU football team.

Oravetz was a member of the student training corps for four years under legendary FSU athletic trainer Don Fauls. He joined the training staff in 1979 following graduation from Florida State. He began his career at the University of Tampa, serving as a student trainer for his hometown school.

He was the head trainer for the baseball program at FSU for two seasons and worked with basketball, track, swimming, and tennis athletes during his tenure as Fauls' assistant.

Oravetz and his wife Linda have two sons, Jonathan and Thomas.

Jimmie Callaway

Equipment Manager
15th Season at FSU

In 1991, Jimmie Callaway returns for his 15th season in the equipment area at Florida State, having completed his first season as head equipment manager last year.

In addition to his duties of ordering and directing the upkeep of the football team's equipment, he handles ground transportation arrangements for all of the men's sports programs at Florida State and assists in the coordination of security of the Moore Athletic Center on football game days.

Callaway also supervises the football gear and practice fields and oversees team facilities in the Moore Athletic Center. When the Tribe goes on the road, he directs the transfer of all equipment and baggage to the site of the game. Callaway directs a staff of student managers which assist him in these duties.

A Tallahassee native, Callaway came to the athletic staff after 20 years with the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

He and his wife Donna have two daughters, Connie, a Florida State graduate, and Leanne, an FSU student and majorette for the Marching Chiefs.

Jack Marucci

Assistant Trainer
(West Virginia '86)
Fourth Season at FSU

Jack Marucci begins his fourth year as an assistant football trainer in 1991. He joined the Florida State staff in July of 1988 from the University of Alabama, where he served as a graduate assistant.

Marucci spent four years as a student assistant trainer at West Virginia University while earning his bachelor's degree in Athletic Training. During that time, he worked with all 17 intercollegiate teams and traveled with the football team.

After graduation from WVU, he went on to the University of Alabama as a graduate assistant where he was the head baseball trainer, served as a part-time instructor and was responsible for supervising the student trainers. Marucci also travelled with the Crimson Tide football team in 1987 and '88. He gained his master's degree from Alabama in 1988.

Marucci also has experience as a trainer on the professional level as a former assistant trainer with the NFL's Cleveland Browns and Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

A 27-year old native of Uniontown, Pa., Marucci is married to the former Leah Gaines.

Andy Barker

Assistant Trainer
(Clemson '88)
Fourth Season at FSU

Andy Barker, now in his fourth football season at Florida State, begins his second year as an assistant athletic trainer after two years as a graduate assistant.

The Clemson, S.C., native graduated from his hometown school in 1988 after five seasons with the Tigers as a student trainer. While at Clemson, Barker traveled with the Tiger football team to three bowl games and served as the trainer for Clemson's national championship soccer team in 1987. In 1986, Barker was the head student trainer for the CU baseball team.

Barker earned his master's degree from Florida State in 1990. At FSU, he has worked closely with the football team, making three bowl trips as well as supervising the student trainers. Barker also served as the host athletic trainer for the 1990 Junior Pan-Am Gymnastics competition held in Tallahassee.

Barker, 26, is single.
