HEAD COACH

Bobby Bowden

■ Many factors go into the making of a truly great head football coach. Many of today's "young gunslingers" in the coaching business have some of those elements. But few have been able to piece together the entire package like Florida State's amazing Bobby Bowden.

Oh, some claim to be better strategists than Bobby. Some think they are better recruiters. Others claim to be better spokesmen and in the National Championship race.

Bowden leads his forces into the new league on an incredible hot streak. A streak virtually unprecedented in college football history.

When Bowden's Florida State Seminoles notched their 10th victory of the 1991 season last November, the amazing Seminole coach had once again figured a way to put himself among the elite coaches of ALL-TIME.

were only the big four New Year's Day games. You had made the big time if you made it to the Orange, the Sugar, the Cotton or the Rose. Well, since FSU can't play in the Rose Bowl, this gives us the complete cycle — Orange, Sugar and Cotton."

Add to that a couple of Fiesta Bowls and a multitude of other post-season trips, and the man may stake his claim as the bowl master of all-time.

The Cotton Bowl win solidified Bowden's place as one of college football's best bowl coaches. His 11-3-1 record in bowl games is truly remarkable. The Cotton was the 10th straight post-season showing by Bowden's Seminoles — a string in which there has not been a loss.

Like fine wine, Bowden, at age 62, keeps getting better. The list of coaches who have won more games than Bobby is getting so short you might want to jot them down, on a match book cover. In 1991, Bowden climbed to seventh on the all-time win list. His 216 career victories rank second among active Division I coaches behind only Joe Paterno.

Just how impressive is Bowden's 26-year coaching record? He's now on the same page with all the legends of college football. The six coaches in front of him might as well have invented the game: Bear Bryant, disciplinarians. But truth be known, you could wrap all those head coaching attributes and so many more into a gift box, and out would pop Bobby Bowden.

Bobby Bowden begins his 17th season as the Florida State head man in 1992 and has spent 26 seasons as a collegiate head coach at Samford, West Virginia and FSU.

With records and personal triumphs mounting at an unbelievable pace, Bowden now leads his program into a bold new world — the Atlantic Coast Conference. A world in which the conference champion is guaranteed a New Year's Day Bowl slot and will likely have a say

Before 1991, only Alabama's Bear Bryant and Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson had been able to coach their teams to 10 or more wins in five consecutive seasons.

To top it off, Bowden led his 1991 bunch to a season-ending 10-2 victory over Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl. That bowl appearance completed a cycle of New Year's Day bowls for Bowden.

"When I was growing up in Alabama," Bowden said, "there

10 Memorable Moments

Wayne Hogan, Florida State Sports Information Director for the past decade, recounts 10 of his favorite Bobby Bowden stories.

1. In a 1982 game against Louisville moved to Thursday night for television, Bowden agrees to give post-game quotes in the fourth quarter to assist the state media in meeting tight deadlines. Joe Henderson of the Tampa Tribune and I pace the sideline with the Coach in the final minutes of the game with FSU ahead, 49-14. Bowden's quotes are typed and copied for distribution in the press box as the final seconds tick off the game clock.
2. Distraught after a grueling 17-16 loss at Pittsburgh in 1983, the Coach is leaving the parking lot at the Tallahassee Airport in the wee hours of Sunday morning. He inadvertently drives his car over the concrete curbing, rupturing the gas tank. Unfazed, the Coach continues to drive away, only to have Assistant Coach John Eason, sensing a possible explosion, physically pull him from the vehicle. Eason gives Bowden a ride home.
3. Rick Warner, college football editor for the Associated Press and arguably the most powerful sports pen in America, visits Tallahassee for the first time during the week of the FSU-Miami "Game of the Century" in 1991. Although Bowden is doing almost exclusively gang-style press conferences daily, I agree to set Warner up for a one-on-one interview with the Coach. Determined to cut through this "good ole boy mystique" with his New York savvy, Warner enters Bowden's office only to find the Coach at his desk, shoes off, towel around his neck and in the early stages of a haircut. "Don't mind if I get a trim while we chat," snickers Bowden. Warner swears to this day it was a set up.
4. After one low profile home win in 1989, Assistant SID Rob Wilson and I are escorting Bowden to his post-game press conference. All of a sudden he stops, turns to us and asks, "Is this thing live or is it taped?" An odd question for a man who stands before several dozen "live" media types after every game. Apparently, he had been thrown off by hearing a taped replay of his press conference aired on local radio later in the evening.
5. After a 27-24 loss at Auburn in 1983, Bowden sits before the media looking quite disheveled. "Men," he says, "I'm visibly shaken." "I've observed and written that a time or two," said one writer, "but I've never had a guy tell ME he was VISIBLY shaken."
6. With Florida State ranked number one for the first time ever going into the 1988 season opener at Miami, Bowden agrees to do a live shot with Tallahassee TV station WCTV during an hour-long pre-game show from the Orange Bowl. Satellite problems delay the Bowden interview for an inordinate amount of time, forcing the Coach to sit in the end zone of the rapidly filling stadium for better than 20 minutes. Told he could bag the interview as game time neared, the Coach declined, choosing to stick with his commitment and wait out the technical glitch.
7. Prior to a 1988 home game with Michigan State, Bowden has his team gathered in the tunnel for entry onto the field on the cue of ESPN. But a miscommunication sends the team, led by Renegade and Bowden, onto the field nearly four minutes early. Someone tells the Coach he has run out too soon. He promptly signals the team back into the tunnel to wait for the proper signal. Entrance No. 2 was flawless.
8. Florida State is in Syracuse for a 1989 game at the Carrier Dome. Reporters glance to the sideline just before kickoff and notice that Bowden has not changed into his traditional coaching wear. Instead, he is in his travel attire — a gray sportcoat, blue slacks, conservative tie and black street shoes. Never before or since has the Coach failed to change for a game. Asked to explain the attire after FSU's 49-10 victory, Bowden said, "This place is so clean, and it's air-conditioned. I just didn't feel like I was going to get dirty."
9. In 1982, Bowden agrees to help his good friend Howard Schnellenberger stir up some interest in Miami football by making a trip to South Florida during the week of FSU's game there. Bowden and Schnellenberger appear at a joint press conference Wednesday in Miami. On Saturday, FSU beats Miami 24-7 in the Orange Bowl, and Schnellenberger commits to visit Tallahassee during FSU-Miami week in 1983. When the two stage a mock boxing match in Tallahassee during that '83 season, no one knew that a national championship was in the offing for the Hurricanes. A 17-16 Miami win at Dook Campbell Stadium propelled the 'Cones to the surprising title. Needless to say, interest in UM football has needed no stirring since.
10. By now all the world is aware of the famous "puntooskie" play that lifted FSU to a 24-21 win at Clemson in 1988. But perhaps the best scene of that day came during Bowden's explanation of the play in his post-game press conference. Using several chairs, as well as a stunned sportswriter or two, to simulate players, a rain-drenched Bowden is on stage, bent over, holding a football between his legs. "We named it puntooskie. It's some dad-gum play, ain't it?"

Bowden does most of the play-calling for the Florida State offense during games, along with coordinator Brad Scott and quarterbacks coach Mark Richt.

Alonzo Stagg, Pop Warner, Woody Hayes, Bo Schembechler and Paterno.

When Bowden first arrived in Tallahassee in 1976, he described his relationship with the school as "a marriage" and was determined to let "no man put it asunder." True to his word, he begins his 17th season at FSU in 1992.

What Bobby Bowden means to Florida State University off the playing field cannot be measured, even by the most sophisticated of supercomputers. Respect, sincerity, class, honesty, charisma, charm and humor. When they put that kind of data into the system, a giant replica of Bowden will appear.

As if his character isn't enough, his coaching style draws admirers nationwide. A wide-open, gambling style makes Bowden teams a treat to watch, a pleasure to play on and a delight to cover. Reverses, flea-flickers, laterals — you name it, here it comes!

A look at the record shows he's done it both ways. The flashy wins may get all the attention, but for every one of those, there are a dozen others spawned from sound fundamental football. This guy's not just a gambling magician, he can flat out coach!

By now it's been well-chronicled how the Birmingham cracker left the snow and ice of West Virginia to come to Florida State and save the program. Three seasons after he walked on campus, he had taken one of the worst football teams in the country to within one game of a national championship.

Bowden's Florida State record is 143-44-3 (.760). That includes a 76-15-1 (.831) record in Tallahassee and a 67-29-2 (.694) mark away from home. He has built those numbers against some of the nation's toughest schedules. His road record alone includes a 2-0 mark at Ohio State, 1-0 at Notre Dame, 2-0 at Arizona State, 1-0 at Clemson, 4-2 against Nebraska and 2-0 at Syracuse, to name just a few. Last season, he added a coveted 51-31 victory over Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The Coach has been a man of his word, too. At his first FSU press conference in 1976, he said his biggest priority was to play archival Florida on an even keel. The Gators, you see, had owned Florida State, leading the series 15-2-1 at the time. In 16 meetings since his arrival, Bowden owns an 8-8 mark vs. the intra-state school.

Bowden achieved some impressive numbers in his previous coaching stops (31-6 at Samford University in Birmingham between 1959 and 1962, and 42-26 at West Virginia from 1970-75), but what he has done at Florida State is simply phenomenal. Eight times in 16 years, his Seminoles have won 10 or more games in a season. Florida State had been to just eight bowls in 29 years before him. Since his arrival, FSU has been to 13 bowl games, including a string of 10 in a row and six New Year's Day trips.

In his 16 years, the Seminoles have been a mainstay in the AP Top Twenty — ranked by that poll in 176 weekly polls out of 230 possible weeks. An incredible 96 times under Bowden, the Seminoles have been in the Top 10 on a given week. What about a Top 20 finish? Twelve times in 16 seasons!

Last year, Florida State became only the fourth school in college football history to record five consecutive Top 5 finishes in the Associated Press rankings. The current run has seen the Seminoles finish second (1987), third (1988-89) and fourth (1990-91) over the last five years. A truly remarkable run.

Above all Bowden's coaching accomplishments, though, are his credentials as a man. Friendly and outgoing, he is a devoted Christian and family man. The Coach loves people. His personality and charm are bigger than life. He has become somewhat of a folk hero in the Deep South.

A polished speaker, Bowden is constantly in demand. His busy coaching schedule curtails many speaking engagements, but any free evening in the year will find him on the after dinner circuit. Every free Sunday morning will find him in the pulpit of a church somewhere in the South.

Outside of football, Bowden has an intense interest in World War II history and reads countless books and articles on the subject. He traced his ancestry to parts of Germany and had an opportunity to visit the country again last summer.

Bowden was an outstanding player at Woodlawn High School in Birmingham, Ala. and went on to Alabama as a freshman quarterback, fulfilling a lifelong dream to play for the Crimson Tide. During one semester in Tuscaloosa, he found his childhood sweetheart, Ann Estock, and she was enough to lure him back to Birmingham. He soon married Ann and transferred to Howard College (now Samford University) in Birmingham.

Bowden was a Little All-American there and started a long Bowden tradition at the school which goes on even today. He began his collegiate head coaching career there in 1959, and his son Terry is currently the head coach while son-in-law Jack Hines is on Terry's staff. The youngest Bowden son, Jeff, is an assistant coach at Southern Mississippi and Tommy Bowden is the offensive coordinator at Auburn. Oldest son Steve is on the faculty at Flagler College in St. Augustine, Fla. The four boys, daughters Robyn Hines and Ginger Madden, and their families, make up the Bowden clan, which numbers 24 and includes 10 grandchildren.

For the first time in his career, Bowden and his squad face the challenge of winning a conference title with the Seminoles' entrance into the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1992.

SEMINOLE SIDELINE

Bobby Bowden is one of college football's most popular coaches. During the football season, he receives approximately 65 pieces of fan mail a day. Toward the end of the season, that number increases to nearly 90 letters a day. Sue Hall, Bowden's administrative assistant, is beginning her 14th year at Florida State. In those 13 years, Hall says not one day has passed when she did not receive a request for an autographed photo of Coach Bowden.

The Birmingham, Ala. native has led his Florida State teams into bowl battles 13 times in 16 seasons, and hasn't lost a bowl game since the 1980 season.

Bowden keeps a close eye on all his players, but especially the quarterbacks.

Coaching Accomplishments

- Established the Florida State football program as one of the nation's best with a 143-44-3 record in 16 seasons at FSU
- Ranks second among active coaches in career victories with 216 in 26 seasons as a head coach
- Career record of 216-76-3 gives him the fourth-best winning percentage among active coaches with a .737 mark
- Has almost as many wins (143) in just 16 seasons at Florida State as the seven previous head coaches compiled in 29 years prior to Bowden's arrival (150)
- Only the third coach in modern history to put together five straight 10-win seasons (1987-91), joining Alabama's Paul "Bear" Bryant and Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson with that distinction
- Led Florida State to five consecutive Top Four finishes (1987-91), only the fourth school ever to accomplish the feat
- The 1992 Cotton Bowl victory over Texas A&M tied the record for most consecutive bowl victories with seven in seven seasons and extended FSU's unbeaten streak in bowl games to 10 (since 1980)
- Guided Florida State to 13 bowl appearances in 16 years, including 10 straight
- Six of the 13 bowls have been New Year's Day events, including the 1980-81 Orange Bowls, 1988 and 1990 Fiesta Bowls, the 1989 Sugar Bowl and the 1992 Cotton Bowl
- All-time Bowl winning percentage of .767 (11-3-1) ranks second among coaches with at least 10 appearances

ASSISTANT Coaches

Chuck Amato ASSISTANT HEAD COACH DEFENSIVE LINE (N.C. STATE '69) 11TH SEASON AT FSU

■ The 1992 season marks Chuck Amato's 11th at Florida State. He has been Bobby Bowden's assistant head coach for the past seven years and came to FSU in 1982 as the defensive line coach after two seasons as linebackers coach and defensive coordinator at the University of Arizona.

Since joining the Florida State staff, the Eaton, Pa. native has seen the Tribe defense return to national prominence. Last year's defensive line, featuring the second-best single season sacker in FSU history — Carl Simpson — helped the Seminoles finish the season ranked third in the nation in rushing defense.

Among Amato's top former pupils are All-America noseguard Odell Haggins and NFL performers Alphonso Carreker, a 1984 first-round draft pick, and Eric Hayes.

Prior to his stint at Arizona, Amato did all of his coaching at his alma mater, North Carolina State University. He started his coaching career while still a student at N.C. State, as a student assistant coach in 1968. He remained at the school for the next 12 years, eventually working his way up to defensive coordinator. Amato was hired as a full-time coach in 1971 and in 1974 was promoted to defensive coordinator, a position he held for the next six seasons.

Amato worked for three different head coaches at N.C. State — Al Michaels, Lou Holtz and the late Bo Rein.

A three-year letterman in football and wrestling, Amato earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from N.C. State. On the mat, he claimed a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference titles in his weight class and went undefeated in dual matches.

He and his wife, Peggy, are the parents of twin daughters — Lugina and Selena.

Mickey Andrews DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR DEFENSIVE BACKS (ALABAMA '64) NINTH SEASON AT FSU

■ Widely recognized as one of the top defensive coaches in the nation, Mickey Andrews has returned the Seminole defense to the top of the national rankings in recent years. As Florida State's defensive coordinator for the past eight seasons, Andrews' defenses have become more and more successful every year.

Andrews' abilities as a defensive coach have not gone unnoticed. In 1991, Athlon's Southeastern Football Magazine named him its Assistant Coach of the Year, and he is annually listed among the nation's top aides.

Under Andrews' direction, Florida State is quickly becoming a showcase for the top cornerbacks in the nation. A record two of his pupils — Deion Sanders and Terrell Buckley — have won the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the nation's top defensive back. Buckley picked up the honor last year, following in the path of Sanders, who won the trophy in 1988. LeRoy Butler joined those two as a consensus All-America pick at cornerback in 1989 to give the Seminoles four consensus All-America cornerbacks in the last five years.

Andrews came to Florida State from the Arizona Wranglers of the old United States Football League, where he spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator. But he was no stranger to the college game, having previously spent 17 years coaching in the collegiate ranks.

Andrews has made coaching stops at Eastern Kentucky, Livingston, North Alabama, Clemson and Florida during his career.

MICKEY ANDREWS

CHUCK AMATO

Last year's Florida State defense, led by coordinator Mickey Andrews, was one of FSU's most successful ever in terms of national rankings. They finished the season ranked 10th overall and third in rushing defense.

ES

He has worked for two of FSU's 1992 opponents, as defensive coordinator at Florida in 1981-82, and in the same post at Clemson from 1977-80.

From 1972-76, Andrews was the head coach and athletic director at North Alabama. He also spent three years guiding the Livingston University program from 1970-72.

During his tenure, Livingston went 24-7 and won the NAIA national championship.

Andrews starred in football and baseball for Alabama from 1961-64, earning second team All-America mention as a wide receiver and defensive back. During his career, the Crimson Tide won a pair of national championships (1961, '64) and played in three New Year's Day bowl games.

In addition to his football honors, Andrews was an all-Southeastern Conference choice in baseball. In 1964, he received the Hugo Friedman Award as the Tide's best all-around athlete.

Andrews and his wife, Diane, have two children — Ronnie and Shannon.

Wally Burnham INSIDE LINEBACKERS (SAMFORD '63) EIGHTH SEASON AT FSU

■ In his eighth season as the inside linebackers coach at Florida State, Wally Burnham will lead one of the most talented groups on the Seminole team in 1992.

Prior to last year, Burnham's star pupil at Florida State was Paul McGowan, the 1987 Butkus Award winner as the nation's top linebacker. But over the past two seasons, 1991 consensus All-American Marvin Jones has made his claim as one of FSU's best ever.

Like defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews, Burnham came to FSU from the Arizona Wranglers of the United States Football League, where he coached in 1983 and '84. Prior to that, Burnham was defensive coordinator at Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas.

Burnham also made coaching stops at Memphis State, Richmond, East Tennessee State and North Alabama. He was defensive coordinator at East Tennessee State from 1977-79, while his stint at North Alabama consisted of five years as defensive line coach under then-head coach Andrews.

Burnham, like Bobby Bowden, played college football at both Alabama and Samford. He played for the late Bear Bryant during the 1960 and '61 seasons at Alabama before transferring to Samford, where he was a Little All-American at linebacker his senior year.

Following graduation, he began his coaching career in the high school ranks in Alabama before getting his first college job in 1971 at North Alabama.

A native of Pell City, Ala., Burnham and his wife, Barbara, have three children — Patrick, Allison and Shane.

John Eason RECEIVERS (FLORIDA A&M '69) 11TH SEASON AT FSU

■ Wide receivers coach John Eason has guided some of the most talented athletes ever to wear the Garnet and Gold during his 10 seasons at Florida State. A list of his receiver proteges includes current pros Jessie Hester (Indianapolis Colts), Hassan Jones (Minnesota Vikings), Ronald Lewis (San Francisco 49ers), Terry Anthony (Tampa Bay Buccaneers) and Lawrence Dawsey (Tampa Bay Buccaneers).

Dawsey, Eason's first Associated Press All-American, carried the skills and work habits learned at FSU on to the pros, where he was an All-Rookie selection last year. Of all the wide receiver greats at FSU, Dawsey became only the third to earn first team AP All-America honors, joining Hall of Famers Fred Biletnikoff and Ron Sellers.

A native of Ocala, Fla., Eason came to FSU from Tallahassee's Lincoln High School, where he was assistant principal for student affairs for two years. Prior to moving into that administrative post, he was the offensive coordinator at Leon High from 1973-79.

A receiver and punter for Florida A&M University from 1963-67, Eason earned All-America honors his junior and senior years. He was named Most Valuable Player of the Rattler squad his final two seasons and was invited to play in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game following his senior year.

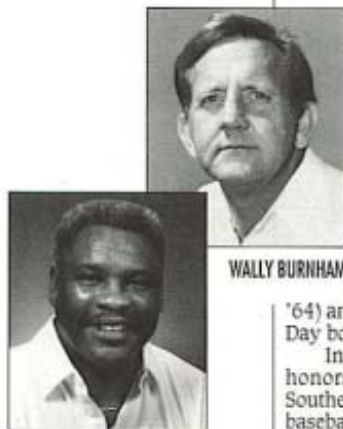

Eason played two years of professional football with the Oakland Raiders after his collegiate playing days ended. He began his coaching career at Vanguard High School in Ocala, where he coached until 1971. He returned to pro football in 1972 to play for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

Eason holds a doctorate in Educational Administration from Florida State and received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Florida A & M. In addition to his coaching duties at FSU, Eason serves as an assistant to the athletic director with administrative duties in the areas of student affairs and academics.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have a daughter, Amanda.

Jim Gladden

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS (WILLIAM JEWELL '62) 18TH SEASON AT FSU

■ The veteran of the Florida State coaching staff, outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden began his stint at FSU before Bobby Bowden came to the school. After serving as a graduate assistant coach at Florida State in 1975, Gladden was hired as a full-time coach in 1976 upon Bowden's arrival.

Through his 17 seasons with the Seminoles, Gladden has been the outside linebackers coach. His most famous former pupils are Willie Jones, a second round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders, and Howard Dinkins, the Atlanta Falcons' third round pick in 1992.

In addition to working with the outside linebackers, Gladden is one of the best Seminole assistant coaches when it comes to recruiting. Whatever recruiting area he has been assigned has produced some of the top talent on the Florida State squad. Recently, his work in Texas yielded three potential starters on the '92 FSU defense.

Another of Gladden's responsibilities are the punt return and punt block units. In 1984, the Seminoles blocked a school record eight punts during the regular season and added a crucial block in the Citrus Bowl to give FSU a tie in the game. Since 1976, Florida State has blocked 55 kicks.

Gladden graduated from William Jewell College in 1962. As a member of the football team there, he was chosen to the all-conference team.

Over the next 15 years, Gladden coached in the high school ranks. He spent four years in Kansas City and St. Louis before moving to Kentucky, where he was the high school coach of the year in 1970.

After two years as head coach at Hernando High in Brooksville, Fla., Gladden came to Florida State.

Born in Springfield, Mo., Gladden and his wife, Patricia, have two children — Julie and John.

Jimmy Heggins

OFFENSIVE LINE/ TIGHT ENDS (FLORIDA STATE '78) SEVENTH SEASON AT FSU

■ In addition to his duties as the Seminole tight ends coach, former FSU player Jimmy Heggins will assist offensive coordinator Brad Scott in coaching the Florida State offensive line in 1992.

Heggins has been the Tribe tight ends coach the past two years after four years coaching the Seminole noseguards. He was an outstanding noseguard for current boss Bobby Bowden in the mid-70's.

Heggins' students at tight end included Reggie Johnson, a second round draft pick of the Denver Broncos, as well as 1992 starter Lonnie Johnson. During his time as noseguard coach, Heggins was instrumental in the transformation of Odell Haggins from linebacker to one of the top noseguards in the country.

Heggins returned to his alma mater in 1986 as a full-time coach after a year at Southwestern Louisiana, where he tutored USL's defensive ends. Prior to that, he was running backs coach at Eastern Michigan for two seasons and at Western Illinois for one year.

The Salisbury, N.C. native began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at East Carolina in 1980. He filled the same role at FSU in 1981 and '82.

Heggins originally came to Tallahassee in 1974 as a freshman running back. He was an all-state back in North Carolina as a senior after gaining 1,670 yards. A fullback his first two years at FSU, Heggins made the switch to noseguard in 1976. At the end of that season, he was named the squad's out-standing defensive player. A year later, he helped Florida State to a 10-2 record and the Tangerine Bowl championship.

Heggins and his wife, the former Winifred Parker, have two daughters, Andrea and Lauren.

QUARTERBACKS
(MIAMI '82)
THIRD SEASON AT FSU
SEVENTH OVERALL

■ One of the top young coaches in the nation, Mark Richt enters his third season as the full-time quarterbacks coach, but has actually logged six seasons in that duty at Florida State. Richt has been a mainstay on the Seminole coaching staff for six of the last seven years, missing only the 1989 season, when he was the offensive coordinator at East Carolina University under current Georgia Tech Head Coach Bill Lewis.

MARK RICHT

From 1985-88, Richt coached the Florida State quarterbacks as a graduate assistant and then as a volunteer assistant coach. He left for East Carolina, only to return a year later when there was an opening on the Seminole staff.

Florida State's most effective field generals ever directed the Seminole offense under Richt. Last year, Casey Weldon made his mark on FSU history by finishing second in balloting for the 1991 Heisman Trophy. He spent almost his entire career learning from Richt and was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles in 1992. Current Chicago Bears quarterback Peter Tom Willis, Danny McManus and Chip Ferguson are just a few of Richt's former pupils who guided their respective Florida State teams to the top of the national rankings.

Richt was well-schooled in the passing game before coming to FSU as a graduate assistant coach in 1985. The Boca Raton, Fla., native was a quarterback at the University of Miami under former Hurricane coach Howard Schnellenberger. He was the backup quarterback to Buffalo Bills star Jim Kelly during his three seasons at UM.

Richt is married to the former Kathy Francis of Tallahassee. The couple has a two-year-old son, Jonathan.

Brad Scott
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR
OFFENSIVE LINE
(MISSOURI-ROLLA '76)
EIGHTH SEASON AT FSU

■ Offensive coordinator Brad Scott begins his third year in that role in 1992 and enters his eighth season overall at Florida State. In addition to his coordinator duties, Scott coaches the Seminole offensive line, with assistance from Jimmy Heggins and graduate assistant Tom Wheeler.

Since Scott assumed offensive coordinator duties in 1990, the Seminoles are 21-4 with a pair of bowl victories. In addition, the Florida State offense has continued to be one of the nation's most productive units. The unsung heroes of that unit are Scott's offensive linemen.

Scott established himself as a master recruiter in five years as the Seminoles' recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach before becoming offensive coordinator and line coach. Three of his five recruiting classes ranked among the nation's top five. The recruiting successes of Scott's years formed the nucleus of the Florida State teams that accumulated a string of five straight top four finishes. The Arcadia, Fla. native is credited with laying the groundwork for FSU's continuing recruiting triumphs over the past two years.

An effective tight ends and now offensive line coach, Scott developed Pat Carter, a former second round draft pick still with the Los Angeles Rams, all-star offensive linemen Michael Tanks, a finalist for the Outland Trophy in 1989, and Kevin Mancini.

Like five of the other FSU assistant coaches, Scott put his time in at Florida State as a graduate assistant coach. He coached the Florida State tight ends and junior varsity squad as a graduate assistant before getting promoted to full-time status a year later.

A football standout at Missouri-Rolla from 1972-76, Scott played for Bobby Bowden in the American Bowl All-Star Game following his senior season.

Upon graduation, Scott returned to Arcadia as an assistant coach at DeSoto County High School and then at Hardee High School in Wauchula. He started his collegiate coaching career as the junior varsity coach at The Citadel in 1981 and '82. He spent the following season as the head football coach and athletic director back at DeSoto County High prior to coming to FSU.

Scott and his wife, Daryle, have two sons, John and Jeff.

Billy Sexton
RUNNING BACKS
(FLORIDA STATE '74)
16TH SEASON AT FSU

■ Only outside linebacker coach Jim Gladden has logged more time on the Seminole coaching staff than Billy Sexton, one of two FSU graduates among the Florida State assistants. Sexton begins his 16th season as a full-time coach in 1992 and has been associated with Florida State football as either a player or coach since 1973.

This year marks Sexton's 10th as the Seminole running backs coach; a slew of current pros learned and refined their skills under the former FSU quarterback. Sexton's pro proteges increased with the 1992 draft when both of last year's starting running backs, Amp Lee and Edgar Bennett, were top draft choices. Also among Sexton's former pupils are All-American Greg Allen, who broke 26 school records during his FSU career, and former number one draft picks Sammie Smith (1989) and Dexter Carter (1990).

Since 1983, Sexton's running backs have become one of the most effective components of the FSU offense, averaging nearly six yards per carry and over 10 yards per catch over those nine seasons. Florida State's backs have earned a sure-handed reputation and are renowned for their pass-catching abilities.

Sexton joined the Florida State staff as a graduate assistant in 1976, Bobby Bowden's first year as the head coach. He became a member of the full-time staff in 1977 and worked with the Seminole quarterbacks for five seasons. After one year as the head junior varsity coach and scouting coordinator, he took over the running back position.

A standout at Leon High School in Tallahassee, Sexton played his first three years of college football at Alabama before transferring to Florida State. He was the Seminoles' starting quarterback for the opening half of the 1973 season.

Sexton earned a bachelor's degree in business from FSU and began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Leon before returning to Florida State.

Dave Van Halanger STRENGTH COACH (WEST VIRGINIA '76) 10TH SEASON AT FSU

■ Florida State strength coach Dave Van Halanger is an important member of the Seminole coaching staff. Now in his 10th season at Florida State, Van Halanger has helped hundreds of FSU athletes get stronger, faster and more flexible. A year-round strength program for Seminole football players, instituted by Van Halanger, has paid huge dividends over the years.

Under Van Halanger's direction, the average FSU student-athlete gains 20-25 pounds, adds 100 pounds to his bench press and 200 pounds to his squat during his years at Florida State. Each athlete can knock about two-tenths of a second off his 40 time and can jump four to five inches higher when he leaves.

Van Halanger spent five years as the head strength coach at his alma mater, West Virginia, prior to his arrival at FSU in July of 1983. He is credited with starting West Virginia's first organized weight training program.

A four-year letterman under Bowden at West Virginia, Van Halanger was a co-captain of the 1975 West Virginia Peach Bowl team.

An offensive tackle, he earned All-East honors his junior and senior seasons and was an honorable mention All-America selection his final year. He played professionally with the Atlanta Falcons in 1976 before returning to WVU as a graduate assistant and head junior varsity coach. He became the full-time strength coach at WVU in 1978.

Van Halanger is currently in the second year of a five-year term as the North Florida state director and a member of the National Board of Ethics for the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He teaches several classes on strength training and conditioning to students and to the Tallahassee community. Van Halanger leads FSU's Fellowship of Christian Athletes group.

Some of Van Halanger's former assistants at Florida State currently hold positions as strength coaches with professional and collegiate teams across the country, including the Miami Marlins and Milwaukee Brewers, Ohio State University, Syracuse University and Samford University.

Van Halanger, a native of Turtle Creek, Pa., and his wife, Michele, have three children — Danielle, Julie and Matthew.

Ronnie Cottrell RECRUITING COORDINATOR (TROY STATE '83) FOURTH SEASON AT FSU

■ Charged with continuing Florida State's recruiting success after taking over as recruiting coordinator two years ago, Ronnie Cottrell has done just that.

That success continued this past February when the 1992 freshman class was ranked among the top groups nationally by recruiting experts. The 1992 group followed Cottrell's first class, which included the top offensive and defensive players in the nation. Since taking over recruiting duties, Cottrell has expanded Florida State's talent pipeline, helping the Tribe sign 10 Parade All-Americans over the last two years while coordinating FSU's efforts.

Cottrell is in his third season as recruiting coordinator at Florida State. He was promoted to the job as the Seminoles' top recruiter after assisting Brad Scott with the 1990 class as a graduate assistant.

A native of Brewton, Ala., Cottrell came to FSU after two years as an assistant at Troy (Ala.) State while attending school there in 1981 and 1982. He also held high school head coaching jobs in Alabama, at Kinston, Flomaton and East Brewton high schools. In 1986 and '87, he led Flomaton High to a pair of perfect regular seasons, the first in school history.

A 1983 graduate of Troy State, Cottrell has two children, Kevin and Meredith.

GRADUATE Assistants

Stan Shiver FLORIDA STATE '88

■ Former Seminole standout Stan Shiver begins his second year as a graduate assistant coach in 1992. A four-year starter in the FSU secondary from 1985-88, Shiver played professionally with the Green Bay Packers following the completion of his Florida State playing career.

Shiver's duties as a graduate assistant coach at Florida State this season include assisting his former mentor, defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews, with the defensive backs. Specifically, he will work with the Tribe safeties, while also directing the offensive scout team and helping the entire defensive coaching staff.

In 1988, Shiver was an honorable mention All-America selection as a senior, when he teamed with Deion Sanders in the secondary. During Shiver's years with the Seminoles, Florida State went 38-9-1 and won four bowl games. His junior and senior seasons produced a pair of 11-1 campaigns, as well as Fiesta and Sugar bowl championships in 1987 and '88, respectively. He was a 1985 freshman All-American and a member of the FSU Victor's Club all four years.

A 1988 graduate of Florida State, Shiver is a native of Tifton, Ga. His younger brother, Clay, is a redshirt freshman center on the 1992 FSU team.

Tom Wheeler FLORIDA STATE '83

■ Entering his second year as a graduate assistant coach, Tom Wheeler's primary duties in 1992 will include working with the Seminole tight ends, the position he played at Florida State in 1981 and '82. In addition, the lone graduate assistant coach on the offensive side will lead the defensive scout team and work with all the offensive coaches.

A two-year letterwinner for the Tribe, Wheeler assisted Wally Burnham in coaching FSU's outstanding inside linebackers last year.

Wheeler played tight end on Florida State's 1982 Gator Bowl championship team. After graduating from Florida State in 1983, he spent three years coaching in the high school ranks. In 1988, he was an assistant coach at Spruce Creek High School in Daytona Beach, Fla. where he was an all-state quarterback as a prep. He then coached quarterbacks and tight ends at Tallahassee's Lincoln High School.

A single native of Daytona Beach, Wheeler is the proud owner of a black labrador, Jackson.

Trainers & Managers

Randy Oravetz

HEAD TRAINER
(FLORIDA STATE '79)
14TH SEASON AT FSU

■ Randy Oravetz begins his seventh season as Florida State's head trainer in 1992. Prior to taking over his current post in 1986, Oravetz served as the top assistant trainer at FSU for seven years. As head trainer, he oversees the entire training room operation for all FSU student-athletes.

Oravetz leads a staff of three full-time assistants and a large group of student trainers. He is the primary liaison between the Florida State team doctors and the coaching staff. Oravetz is directly responsible for the everyday care and treatment of the FSU football players, and he and his staff deal with both the treatment and prevention of injuries.

Oravetz was a member of the FSU student training corps for four years under legendary athletic trainer Don Fauls before joining the full-time staff immediately following his graduation from Florida State in 1979. He began his training career at the University of Tampa, where he was a student trainer for his hometown school before coming to FSU.

During his tenure as Fauls' assistant, Oravetz was the head trainer for the FSU baseball team for two seasons and worked with the basketball, track, swimming, and tennis squads.

He and his wife, Linda, have two sons, Jonathan and Thomas.

Jimmie Callaway

EQUIPMENT MANAGER
16TH SEASON AT FSU

■ In 1992, Jimmie Callaway enters his third season as the head equipment manager. A 16-year veteran of the equipment room, Callaway held the position of assistant equipment manager prior to taking charge of the area two years ago.

In addition to the huge task of ordering and directing the upkeep of the football equipment, he handles ground transportation arrangements for all Florida State athletic teams and assists in the coordination of security of the Moore Athletic Center on football game days.

Callaway also supervises the everyday distribution of football gear and maintenance of the practice fields. He oversees team facilities in the Moore Athletic Center. When the Tribe goes on the road, he directs the transfer of all equipment and baggage to the site of the game. A large staff of student managers, supervised by Callaway, assists him in these duties.

A Tallahassee native, Callaway came to the athletic staff after 20 years with the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

He and his wife, Donna, have two daughters — Connie and Leanne.

Jack Marucci

ASSISTANT TRAINER
(WEST VIRGINIA '86)
FIFTH SEASON AT FSU

■ Jack Marucci begins his fifth year as an assistant trainer at Florida State in 1992, working almost exclusively with the Seminole football team. Recently, Marucci's duties have included working with athletes during their rehabilitation from knee surgery. His success stories in that area include defensive end Dan Footman, who last year returned from the worst knee injury team doctors had ever seen.

Marucci came to Florida State in July of 1988 from the University of Alabama, where he was a graduate assistant trainer for two years while getting his master's degree. At Alabama, his responsibilities included head baseball trainer, part-time instructor and supervisor of the student trainers. Marucci also travelled with the Crimson Tide football team in 1987 and '88.

Prior to going to Alabama, Marucci spent four years as a student assistant trainer at West Virginia University while earning his bachelor's degree in athletic training. During that time, he worked with all 17 intercollegiate teams and traveled with the football team.

In addition, Marucci has worked as an assistant trainer with the NFL's Cleveland Browns and Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

A 28-year old native of Uniontown, Pa., Marucci is married to the former Leah Gaines.

Andy Barker

ASSISTANT TRAINER
(CLEMSON '88)
FIFTH SEASON AT FSU

■ Andy Barker returns for his third season as an assistant athletic trainer in 1992. Prior to joining the full-time staff, Barker was a graduate assistant in the FSU training room for two years.

Barker, a 27-year-old bachelor, works closely with the Seminole football team and supervises the FSU student training corps. He has instituted a new insurance check system which has vastly improved the efficiency of the FSU training room.

A native of Clemson, S.C., Barker graduated from his hometown school in 1988 after five seasons with the Tigers as a student trainer. While at Clemson, Barker traveled to three bowl games and on all road trips with the Tiger football team. He was the trainer for Clemson's national championship soccer team in 1987 and served as the head student trainer for the Tiger baseball team in 1986.

Barker earned his master's degree from Florida State in 1990. He served as the host athletic trainer for the 1990 Junior Pan-Am Gymnastics competition held in Tallahassee.
