FSU HEAD COACH BOBBY BOWDEN

When speaking of legendary football coach Bobby Bowden, you face a rather difficult decision. Do you first speak of Bowden, "the man?" Or do you lead with Bowden, "the coach?" If you ask Bowden, he'll quickly tell you his innumerable coaching records aren't important. And that, more than anything, speaks volumes about Bowden, "the man."

Florida State's coach, now 63 years young, has a quality seldom found in men or women of any profession. He has it all. Piece together the ingredients needed to create the perfect football coach, and there you have Bobby Bowden. It's not enough that his coaching numbers have reached legendary proportions. Bowden also gives his University a proud moral leader, a family man of the first order, a caring disciplinarian, and a calming voice in the face of the turbulence surrounding college football.

Bowden is a man at peace with himself, a man with a rock-solid character and firm coaching principles that date back more than 35 years. Perhaps the best tribute to the man is that he is not afraid to change with the times — adapting brilliantly to new ways of winning games, as well as of dealing with young student athletes. From his internal control, to a bold switch to the no-back, shotgun or Fast Break offenses, Bowden proves you're only as old as you feel.

"I'm still having fun. I still wins over Miami, Florida, Michigan, Nebraska, Penn State, Clemson and others.

Yet some say he can't win "the big one." He has not lost a bowl game in 11 consecutive

The only coach in Division I history with six straight 10-win seasons, Bobby Bowden enters his 18th year as the FSU head coach, and 28th year as a collegiate head man, in 1993.

love it," he says. "I plan to coach as long as I feel good, and as long as my school will have me."

Like other coaches before him, Bowden has created something of a monster that perches squarely on his back. He has coached his Florida State teams so very close to perfection that his fans expect the moon. He has won 64 games in the last six seasons, including monumental appearances, and some say he can't win "the big one." He has led FSU to six straight Top Four national finishes, and some keep saying he can't win "the big one." Bobby Bowden is the only coach in NCAA Division I history to win 10 or more games in six consecutive seasons, and some say he can't win "the big one."

Isn't it amazing that this man has 227 career coaching victories in 27 incredible seasons, and none of them was a "big one?" My eye! In every way, the Seminoles win "the big one" — the one that truly counts — every day Bobby Bowden reports to work at Florida State.

In this fickle world of big-time sports, some forget what it is all about. Sure, Bobby Bowden craves a national championship. There is a good chance he'll win one along the way. But as Bowden well understands at this stage of his career, there are things more important in life, and that's what makes him "our" Bobby Bowden.

He has time for charity and to give to his church. He has never walked past an admiring child without a wink and a smile. He greets total strangers as his best friends. He listens and he cares. He is not a friend to his players — he is a father figure in the traditional sense. Some, still young and thinking they know more than they do, criticize Bowden's "distance" from his players. Those older and wiser recognize how his watchful eye nudged them through their time at FSU and made them better people to this day. They call him to say thanks, and dozens come back frequently to visit.

Many were present at last season's Orange Bowl showdown with Nebraska, where the Seminole coach continued a bowl string unmatched in college football history. His Seminole teams have now won eight bowls in consecutive seasons — an NCAA record. The current 11-bowl streak without a loss began in 1983 and was marred only by a 17-17 tie with Georgia in the 1984 Citrus Bowl. Bowden's 12-3-1 record and .781 bowl winning percentage ranks first all-time. Only Bear Bryant (15) and Joe Paterno (14) have won more bowl games.

And the Seminoles have been a fixture in the big bowls of late. A fifth-year senior on the 1992 FSU team went to the Fiesta, Sugar, Blockbuster, Cotton and Orange bowls during his tenure.

won more games than Bowden is getting so short you might want to jot them down, on a matchbook cover. In 1991, he climbed to seventh on the all-time win list. By the end of 1993, he could break into the top five with a chance to pass or tie the likes of Bo Schembechler (234) and Woody Hayes (238). His 227 career victories rank second among active Division I coaches behind only Paterno.

Just how impressive is Bowden's 27-year coaching record? He's joined the list of legends of college football, included with names like Bryant, Stagg and Warner.

When Bowden first arrived in Tallahassee in 1976, he described his relationship with the school as "a marriage" and was determined to let "no man put it asunder." True to his word, he begins his 18th season at FSU in 1993.

What Bobby Bowden means to Florida State University off the playing field cannot be measured, even by the most sophisticated of supercomputers. Respect, sincerity, class, honesty, charisma, charm and humor. When they put that kind of data into the system, a giant replica of Bowden will appear.

As if his character isn't enough, his coaching style draws admirers nationwide. A wide-open, gambling style makes Bowden teams a treat to watch, a pleasure to play on and a delight to cover. Reverses, flea-flickers, laterals — you name it, here it comes!

A look at the record shows he's done it both ways. The flashy wins may get all the attention, but for every one of those, there are a dozen others spawned from sound fundamental football. This guy's not just a gambling magician, he can flat out coach!

In 1993, Bobby Bowden and his son, Terry, became the first father-son pair to lead major college programs in the same year with Terry's ascension to the top job at Auburn.

By now it's been well-chronicled how the Birmingham cracker left the snow and ice of West Virginia to come to Florida State and save the program. Three seasons after he walked on campus, he had taken one of the worst football teams in the country to within one game of a national championship.

Bowden's Florida State record is 154-45-3. That includes an 82-15-1 record in Tallahassee and a 72-30-2 mark away from home. He has built those numbers against some of the nation's toughest schedules. His road record alone includes a 2-0 mark at Ohio State, 1-0 at Notre Dame, 2-0 at Clemson, 5-2 against Nebraska and 2-0 at Syracuse, to name just a few.

The Coach has been a man of his word, too. At his first FSU press conference in 1976, he said his biggest priority was to play arch-rival Florida on an even keel. The Gators, you see, had owned Florida State, leading the series 15-2-1 at the time. In 17 meetings since his arrival, Bowden is 9-8 vs. the intra-state school.

Bowden achieved some impressive numbers in his previous coaching stops (31-6 at Samford University in Birmingham between 1959 and 1962, and 42-26 at West Virginia from 1970-75), but what he has done at Florida State is simply phenomenal. Nine times in 17 years, his Seminoles have won 10 or more games in a season. Florida State had been to just eight bowls in 29 years before him. Since his arrival, FSU has been to 14 bowl games, including a string of 11 in a row and seven New Year's Day trips.

When Bowden earned his 150th win as the FSU head coach last year, he matched the win total of all seven Florida State coaches that preceded him.

In his 17 years, the Seminoles have been a mainstay in the AP Top Twenty. An incredible 110 times under Bowden, the Seminoles have been in the Top 10 on a given week. What about a Top 20 finish? Thirteen times in 17 seasons!

Last year, Florida State became only the third school ever to post six consecutive Top Five finishes. The Seminoles' Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska and No. 2 ranking in 1992 kept alive a streak that saw second (1987), third (1988 and '89), and fourth (1990 and '91) place finishes in succession. Only Miami and Oklahoma can match such a run.

Above all Bowden's coaching accomplishments, though, are his credentials as a man. Friendly and outgoing, he is a devoted Christian and family man. The Coach loves people. His personality and charm are bigger than life. He has become somewhat of a folk hero in the Deep South.

A polished speaker, Bowden is constantly in demand. His busy coaching schedule curtails many speaking engagements, but any free evening will find him on the after-dinner circuit. Every free Sunday morning will find him in the pulpit of a church somewhere in the South.

Outside of football, Bowden has an intense interest in World War II history and reads countless books and articles on the subject. He traced his ancestry to parts of Germany and has visited the country several times.

Bowden was an outstanding football player at Woodlawn High School in Birmingham, Ala. and went on to Alabama as a freshman quarterback, fulfilling a life-long dream to play for the Crimson Tide. During one semester in Tuscaloosa, he found his childhood sweetheart, Ann Estock, and she was enough to lure him back to Birmingham. He soon married Ann and transferred to Howard College (now Samford University) in Birmingham.

Bowden was a Little All-American and began his collegiate head coaching career there in 1959. His son Terry was the head coach at Samford until being named head coach at Auburn University last December. Terry's ascension to the Auburn job makes the Bowdens the first father-son pair to lead major college programs, let alone to coach them at the same time.

But they aren't the only coaches in the family. The youngest Bowden son, Jeff, is an assistant coach at Southern Mississippi, and Tommy Bowden is the offensive coordinator at Auburn. Oldest son Steve is on the faculty at Flagler College in St. Augustine, Fla. The four boys, daughters Robyn Hines and Ginger Madden, and their families make up the Bowden clan, which includes 14 grandchildren.

13 MEMORABLE VICTORIES

FLORIDA STATE HEAD COACH BOBBY BOWDEN LISTED HIS TOP 13 WINS AT FSU, AND THE REASONS THEY MADE THE LIST, FOR FT. LAUDERDALE SUN-SENTINEL SPORTSWRITER CRAIG BARNES.

1. 18-14 victory over Nebraska, Oct. 4, 1980 in Lincoln, Neb.

Paul Piurowski forced a fumble by Nebraska quarterback Jeff Quinn at the Florida State three-yard line with 10 seconds left, and Garry Futch recovered. The Seminoles rallied from a 14-3 deficit as Bill Capece kicked four field goals.

"It's the biggest because of who we played and where we played, and who we were at the time. We had no national reputation."

2. 51-31 victory over Michigan, Sept. 28, 1991 in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Terrell Buckley's 40-yard interception return on the first play set the tone for Michigan's worst home loss in history, before 106,145 fans. Before the day ended, quarterback Casey Weldon had thrown for three touchdowns, and tailback Amp Lee had run for two scores and 122 yards as No. 1 routed No. 3.

"It was Michigan's 100-year tradition versus Florida State's 45-year history. It was the setting, 106,000 people, and North vs. South. I don't know if we've ever won a game with as much hype and pressure. This was a big one for us."

3. 24-21 victory over Clemson, Sept. 17, 1988 in Clemson, S.C.

With 1:30 remaining and the score tied 21-21, Bowden called for the "Puntrooskie" and LeRoy Butler raced 78 yards to set up the winning 19-yard field goal by Richie Andrews with 32 seconds left. Deion Sanders' 76-yard punt return in the third quarter was also memorable because he guaranteed the Clemson bench he would do it just before the kick.

"This game was important because it established an identity for our program. It showed the rest of the nation what we would do to win, and we weren't afraid to gamble. As long as people talk about Florida State football, they will remember this game."

4. 19-13 victory over Notre Dame, Oct. 10, 1981 in South Bend, Ind.

Quarterback Rick Stockstill threw touchdown passes of 17 and five yards to Mike Whiting, and Ricky Williams ran for 135 yards on 15 carries.

"There's nothing like playing Notre Dame, and we were fortunate enough to beat them. I look forward to playing them again in 1993 and 1994, but in 1981, I thought it might be the only chance I'd ever have."

5. 36-27 victory over Ohio State,
Oct. 3, 1981 in Columbus, Ohio.

Quarterback Rick Stockstill passed for 299 yards, including touchdown passes of 13 yards to Tony Johnson and five yards to Sam Childers. Jessie Hester had a 35-yard punt return, and Kelly Lowrey ran five yards on a faked field goal for a touchdown.

"It was our first adventure into the Big 10, and we were playing before nearly 90,000 people. I wasn't sure how our kids would react. I had no idea we would win two straight [1982 was 34-17] there, and Art Schlichter had such a great game [31-of-52 for 458 yards]."

6. 36-22 victory over Pittsburgh,
Oct. 11, 1980 in Tallahassee.

Placekicker Bill Capece kicked five field goals, and quarterback Rick Stockstill threw touchdown passes of 23 yards to Hardis Johnson, four yards to Sam Childers and 13 yards to Kurt Unglaub.

"With [Dan] Marino and Hugh Green, they were probably the best team I've ever lined a team up against. I'll never forget the electricity in the stadium that night. It's something we have sustained ever since."

7. 37-9 victory over Florida,
Dec. 3, 1977 in Gainesville.

Quarterback Wally Woodham threw a touchdown pass of 35 yards to Kurt Unglaub, and quarterback Jimmy Jordan threw touchdown passes of four and 20 yards to Roger Overby.

"It was my first victory over Florida, but more importantly, it broke a nine-game losing streak for Florida State against them and started a four-game winning streak."

8. 28-14 victory over Florida,
Nov. 28, 1987 in Gainesville.

Florida State rallied from a 14-3 deficit thanks to three Derek Schmidt field goals and a pair of one-yard touchdown runs by Dayne Williams. Sammie Smith rushed for 116 yards on 17 carries.

"In a sense, every victory over Florida is a big one, but this one was especially big because we had lost six straight. For a while, it looked as if it was going to be seven."

9. 34-6 victory over Auburn,
Nov. 7, 1987 in Auburn, Ala.

Quarterback Danny McManus threw three touchdown passes, two to wide receiver Herb Gainer and one to tight end Pat Carter. Carter made seven catches for 79 yards. The defense allowed Auburn just 227 yards, including 40 rushing.

"It was important because we had never won over there, and it's still our only win in their stadium. For me personally, it was important because I grew up in Alabama and have so many friends there."

10. 31-28 victory over Nebraska,
Jan. 1, 1988 at Tempe Ariz. in the Fiesta Bowl.

Quarterback Danny McManus completed a 15-yard pass to Ronald Lewis on fourth down for the winning touchdown with 3:07 left. It ended an 11-play, 97-yard drive as McManus completed a record-setting performance, passing for 28-of-51 for 375 yards and three touchdowns. The Seminoles finished No. 2 at 11-1, losing only to Miami 26-25.

"How we won was important, but the fact that it meant a No. 2 finish counted as well. It was a dramatic end to a great season for what could easily be the best team I've ever coached at Florida State."

11. 24-19 victory over Louisiana State,
Oct. 27, 1979 in Baton Rouge, La.

Quarterback Jimmy Jordan threw touchdown passes of three yards to Sam Platt, 53 yards to Hardis Johnson and 40 yards to Jackie Flowers.

"It was the time we played over there, and it was on national television. It put us in position to go to the Orange Bowl. It was also important because the day after the game, I decided not to accept the LSU job. I decided I could get it done at Florida State."

12. 24-10 victory over Miami,
Oct. 28, 1989 in Tallahassee.

LeRoy Butler intercepted Gino Torretta on the first play, and on the second, Dexter Carter ran 37 yards for a touchdown to set the tone. Miami had six turnovers. Carter gained 142 yards on 21 carries. Linebacker Kirk Carruthers had 16 tackles, two interceptions, a fumble recovery and a fumble caused.

"We've been in some of the greatest football games ever with Miami, and as good as they've been, you remember anytime you beat them. This one ended a four-game losing streak."

13. 13-3 victory over Virginia,
Oct. 31, 1992 in Charlottesville, Va.

Tiger McMillon rushed for 138 yards on 25 carries on a cold and rainy night and the Seminole defense stepped up, holding the Cavaliers to 195 yards of total offense in the game.

"It's ironic my 150th victory at Florida State would also be the 300th in the school's history, as well as clinching our first Atlantic Coast Conference championship. We've had some meaningful victories as an independent, but this was a big one in the school's history because it guaranteed the first conference championship."

FLORIDA STATE ASSISTANT COACHES

Chuck Amato

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH
DEFENSIVE LINE
(N. CAROLINA STATE '69)
12TH SEASON AT FSU

Chuck Amato enters his eighth season as Florida State's assistant head coach in 1993. A 12-year veteran of the coaching staff, Amato came to FSU in 1982 as the defensive line coach after two seasons as linebacker coach and defensive coordinator at the University of Arizona.

Since joining the Florida State staff, the Eaton, Pa. native has seen the Tribe defense lead the program to unprecedented national prominence. In the last two years, the Seminoles have finished the season ranked in the top 10 in the nation in rushing defense.

This season, Amato faces the task of replacing three stalwarts. Carl Simpson, who tied for second on FSU's all-time quarterback sack list, was drafted by Chicago in the second round. Seven picks later, defensive end Dan Footman went to the Cleveland Browns. Outside linebackers Reggie Freeman and Sterling Palmer, who spent much of their careers playing a rush position, also departed for the NFL.

Some of Amato's top former pupils include All-America noseguard Odell Haggins and 1984 first round draft pick Alphonso Carreker.

Prior to his stint at Arizona, Amato coached at his alma mater, North Carolina State University. He started his career while still a student at N.C. State, as a student assistant coach in 1966. He remained at the school for the next 12 years. In 1971, he earned a full-time position; three years later he was promoted to defensive coordinator, a post he held for the next six seasons.

Amato worked for three different head coaches at N.C. State — Al Michaels, Lou Holtz and the late Bo Rein.

A three-year letterman in football and wrestling, Amato earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from N. C. State. On the mat, he claimed a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference titles in his weight class and went undefeated in dual matches.

He and his wife, Peggy, are the parents of twin daughters — Lugina and Selena.

Mickey Andrews

DEFENSIVE BACKS
(ALABAMA '64)
10TH SEASON AT FSU

Florida State fans across the country breathed a collective sigh of relief when Mickey Andrews withdrew his name from consideration for the head coaching job at Houston this summer. Widely considered one of the top defensive coaches in the nation, Andrews has turned the Florida State defense into one of the top all-around units in college football over the past nine years.

Andrews' abilities as a defensive coach have not gone unnoticed. In 1991, Athlon's Southeastern Football Magazine named Andrews its Assistant Coach of the Year, and he is annually listed among the nation's top aides.

Under Andrews' direction, Florida State is becoming renowned nationwide for producing top cornerbacks. Two of his pupils — Deion Sanders and Terrell Buckley — have won the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the nation's top defensive back. LeRoy Butler joined those two as a consensus All-America pick at cornerback in 1989, giving the Seminoles four consensus All-Americans at the position in the last six years. Last year, Corey Sawyer nearly added his name to that list as he was a second team All-America selection. Sawyer and Clifton Abraham give the 1993 Seminoles perhaps its best pair of cornerbacks ever.

Andrews came to Florida State from the Arizona Wranglers of the old United States Football League, where he spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator. But he was no stranger to the college game, having previously spent 17 years coaching in the collegiate ranks.

Andrews' coaching resume includes stints at Eastern Kentucky, Livingston, North Alabama, Clemson and Florida. He has worked for two of FSU's 1993 opponents, as assistant coach at Florida in 1981-82, and as defensive coordinator at Clemson from 1977-80.

From 1972-76, Andrews was the head coach and athletic director at North Alabama. He also spent three years guiding the Livingston University program from 1970-72. During his tenure, Livingston went 24-7 and won the NAIA national championship.

Andrews starred in football and baseball for Alabama from 1961-64, earning second team All-America mention as a wide receiver and defensive back. During his career, the Crimson Tide won a pair of national championships (1961, '64) and played in three New Year's Day bowl games.

In addition to his football honors, Andrews was an all-Southeastern Conference choice in baseball. He received the Hugo Friedman Award in 1964 as the Tide's best all-around athlete.

Andrews and his wife, Diane, have two children — Ronnie and Shannon.

INSIDE LINEBACKERS
(SAMFORD '63)
NINTH SEASON AT FSU

Guiding the Florida State inside linebackers for the ninth consecutive season in 1993 is Wally Burnham. One of the primary concerns of the Pell City, Ala. native will be to find a replacement for consensus All-American Marvin Jones.

Jones became the highest draft pick in Florida State history when the New York Jets drafted him fourth overall. The Butkus and Lombardi award winner in 1992, Jones was guided by Burnham for three seasons at FSU.

Prior to Jones, Burnham's star pupil at Florida State was Paul McGowan, who earned the 1987 Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker.

Like defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews, Burnham came to FSU from the Arizona Wranglers of the United States Football League, where he coached in 1983 and '84. Prior to that, Burnham was defensive coordinator at Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas.

Burnham also has coached at Memphis State, Richmond, East Tennessee State and North Alabama during his 19-year career. He was defensive coordinator at East Tennessee State from 1977-79, while his stint at North Alabama consisted of five years as defensive line coach under then-head coach Andrews.

Burnham, like Bobby Bowden, played college football at both Alabama and Samford. He played for the late Bear Bryant during the 1960 and '61 seasons at Alabama before transferring to Samford, where he was a Little All-American linebacker his senior season.

Following graduation, he worked in the high school ranks in Alabama before getting his first college job in 1972 at North Alabama.

Burnham and his wife, Barbara, have three children — Patrick, Allison and Shane.

RECEIVERS
(FLORIDA A&M '69)
12TH SEASON AT FSU

When Shannon Baker was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons last April, he became the sixth Florida State player to enter the NFL after learning the receiving ropes from FSU receivers coach John Eason. A list of Eason's receiver proteges includes current pros Jessie Hester (Indianapolis Colts), Hassan Jones (Minnesota Vikings), Ronald Lewis (Green Bay Packers) and Lawrence Dawsey (Tampa Bay Buccaneers).

Dawsey, Eason's first Associated Press All-American, was the star pupil of the 12-year coaching veteran. Of all the receiving greats at FSU, Dawsey became only the third to earn first team AP All-America honors in 1990.

This season, Eason has the distinction of coaching perhaps the best crop of receivers to ever don the Garnet and Gold. Included on the 1993 FSU receiver roster is 1992 ACC Rookie of the Year Tamarick Vanover, seniors Matt Frier and Kevin Knox, and a dazzling mix of talented players, some youthful, some experienced.

A native of Ocala, Fla., Eason came to FSU from Tallahassee's Lincoln High School, where he was assistant principal for student affairs for two years. He served as the offensive coordinator at Leon High School from 1973-79.

A receiver and punter for Florida A & M University from 1963-67, Eason earned All-America honors his junior and senior years. He was named Most Valuable Player of the Rattler squad his final two seasons and was invited to play in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game and the Coaches All-American Game following his senior year. He was inducted into the Florida A&M Sports Hall of Fame in 1984.

Eason played two years of professional football with the Oakland Raiders after his collegiate playing days ended. He began his coaching career at Vanguard High School in Ocala, where he coached until 1971. He returned to pro football in 1972 to play for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

Eason holds a doctorate in Educational Administration from Florida State and received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Florida A & M. In addition to his coaching duties at FSU, Eason serves as an assistant to the athletic director with administrative duties in the areas of academics and student affairs.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have a daughter, Amanda.

SEMINOLE SIDELINE

According to Lindy's Football Magazine, Florida State has replaced Clemson as the king of the hill in producing great defensive backs. With Seminole alumni LeRoy Butler, Dedrick Dodge, Martin Mayhew, Deion Sanders and Terrell Buckley robbing the secondary in the NFL, it is little wonder that Florida State has become known as "Cornerback U."

Jim Gladden
OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS
(WILLIAM JEWELL '62)
19TH SEASON AT FSU

Outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden has been an integral part of Florida State's rise to national prominence. When the 19-year veteran first came to FSU as a graduate assistant in 1975, the program was struggling, finishing 3-8 that year. Gladden was hired as a full-time coach upon Bowden's arrival in 1976 and the Seminoles have had only one losing season since.

Through his 18 seasons with the Seminoles, Gladden has been the outside linebackers coach. His most famous former pupils are Willie Jones, a second round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders and Howard Dinkins, the Atlanta Falcons' third round pick in 1992. Two Seminole OLBs — Reggie Freeman and Sterling Palmer — were selected in last year's NFL draft, in the second and fourth rounds respectively.

In addition to working with the outside linebackers, Gladden is one of the best Seminole assistant coaches when it comes to recruiting. Whatever recruiting area he has been assigned to has produced some of the top talent on the Florida State squad.

Another of Gladden's responsibilities are the punt return and punt block units. In 1984, the Seminoles blocked a school record eight punts during the regular season and added a crucial block in the Citrus Bowl to give FSU a tie in the game. Since 1976, Florida State has blocked 58 kicks.

Gladden graduated from William Jewell College in 1962. As a member of the football team there, he was chosen to the all-conference squad.

Over the next 15 years, Gladden coached in the high school ranks. He spent two years in Kansas City and St. Louis before moving to Kentucky, where he was the high school coach of the year in 1970. After two years as head coach at Hernando High in Brooksville, Fla., Gladden came to Florida State.

A native of Springfield, Mo., Gladden and his wife, Patricia, have two children — Julie and John.

OFFENSIVE LINE
(FLORIDA STATE '78)
EIGHTH SEASON AT FSU

In his eighth season on the Seminole coaching staff, Jimmy Heggins will guide the split side of the offensive line in 1993. This will mark the second year Heggins has led that side of the line, where one of his main duties will be to find a capable replacement for four-year starter Robert Stevenson at split tackle. During his coaching tenure at FSU, Heggins also has coached tight ends and noseguards.

Heggins, an outstanding noseguard under Bowden in the mid '70's, returned to his alma mater in 1986 as a full-time coach after a year at Southwestern Louisiana, where he tutored USL's defensive ends. Prior to that, he was running backs coach at Eastern Michigan for two seasons, and at Western Illinois for one year.

At Florida State, Heggins' students at tight end have included Reggie Johnson, a second round draft pick of the Denver Broncos, as well as 1993 starter Lonnie Johnson. During his time as noseguard coach, Heggins was instrumental in the transformation of Odell Haggins from a linebacker into one of the top noseguards in the country.

The Salisbury, N.C. native began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at East Carolina in 1980. He filled the same role at FSU in 1981 and '82.

Heggins originally came to Tallahassee in 1974 as a freshman running back. He was an all-state back in North Carolina as a senior after gaining 1,670 yards. A fullback his first two seasons at FSU, Heggins made the switch to noseguard in 1976. At the end of that season, he was named the squad's outstanding defensive player. A year later, he helped Florida State to a 10-2 record and the Tangerine Bowl championship.

Heggins and his wife, the former Winifred Parker, have two daughters — Andrea and Lauren.

QUARTERBACKS
(MIAMI '82)
FOURTH SEASON AT FSU
EIGHTH OVERALL

After directing two top six Heisman Trophy vote-getters in the past two seasons and sending three signal-callers to the NFL since 1989, quarterback coach Mark Richt is making his mark as one of the premier young coaches in the nation.

In seven seasons as FSU's quarterbacks coach, Richt has tutored top quarterbacks like Casey Weldon of the Philadelphia Eagles, runner-up in the 1991 Heisman balloting, Brad Johnson of the Minnesota Vikings and Peter Tom Willis of the Chicago Bears.

Current Seminole quarterback Charlie Ward has also benefitted from Richt's coaching as he finished sixth in the 1992 Heisman race and was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year last season. After a rocky start in 1992, Richt helped Ward become one of the top QBs in the nation who is already being touted as the "frontrunner" for this year's trophy.

Richt has logged seven total seasons as quarterbacks coach at Florida State, although 1993 is only his fourth straight in that role. In 1989, Richt left FSU to be the offensive coordinator at East Carolina University under current Georgia Tech Head Coach Bill Lewis. Richt previously served as a graduate and then volunteer assistant

SIDELINE

FSU outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden spent a week of his summer vacation in Germany lecturing on football — American football that is. A 19-year veteran of the FSU coaching staff, Gladden gave three lectures and a demonstration practice on aspects of the game to the American Football Coaches Association of Germany.

American football has been steadily increasing in popularity in Europe, with its roots going back 15 years. Gladden commented on the level of play in Germany: "They were better than I expected," he said. "However, they have a way to go before they can be comparable to our game."

SEMINOLE SIDELINE

One of the reasons for Florida State's astounding success over the past six years is the cohesiveness of the coaching staff. Only one assistant coach has left the staff in the last eight years. The other nine have over 80 years of experience among them. The newest members of the group, Mark Richt and Jimmy Heggins, have spent seven years on the sidelines at Florida State. The group's veteran, Jim Gladden, has been at FSU since 1975.

coach in charge of quarterbacks at FSU from 1985-88.

Richt was well-schooled in the passing game before coming to Tallahassee as a graduate assistant coach in 1985. The Boca Raton, Fla., native was a quarterback at the University of Miami under former Hurricane coach Howard Schnellenberger. He was the backup quarterback to Buffalo Bills star Jim Kelly during his three seasons at UM.

Richt is married to the former Kathy Francis of Tallahassee. The couple has a three-year-old son, Jonathan.

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR
OFFENSIVE LINE
(MISSOURI-ROLLA '76)
NINTH SEASON AT FSU

Entering his fourth season as offensive coordinator and his ninth year on the Florida State staff, Brad Scott will be responsible for the direction of the tight side of the offensive line as well as handling coordinator duties. The tight side of the line includes the tight ends, who will be coached by FSU graduate assistant coach Mark Salva under Scott's direction.

Scott was one of the Tribe coaches instrumental in the installation of the shotgun and one-back offensive sets to the Seminole repertoire during the 1992 season. These formations allowed the FSU offense to become one of the most dangerous and potent units in the nation by the end of the year. In the last four contests of 1992, the Tribe averaged almost 53 points a game.

Prior to taking over as offensive coordinator, Scott established himself as a master recruiter in five years as the Seminoles' recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach. Three of his five recruiting classes ranked among the nation's top five. The recruiting successes of Scott's years now comprise the nucleus of the Florida State team that has accumulated a string of six straight top four finishes since 1987. The Arcadia, Fla. native is credited with laying the groundwork for current recruiting successes.

An effective tight ends, and now offensive line, coach, Scott developed Pat Carter, a former second round draft pick still with the Los Angeles Rams, all-star center Michael Tanks, a finalist for the Outland Trophy in 1989, and Robert Stevenson, a 1992 All-ACC selection.

Like five of the current FSU assistant coaches, Scott put his time in at Florida State as a graduate assistant. He coached the Seminole tight ends and junior varsity squad as a GA in 1983-84 before getting promoted to full-time status a year later.

A football standout at Missouri-Rolla from 1972-76, Scott played for Bobby Bowden in the American Bowl All-Star Game following his senior season.

Upon graduation, Scott returned to Arcadia as an assistant coach at DeSoto County High School before moving to Hardee High School in Wauchula. He started his collegiate coaching career as the junior varsity coach at The Citadel in 1981 and '82 and spent the following season as the head football coach and athletic director back at DeSoto County High prior to coming to FSU.

Scott and his wife, Daryle, have two sons — Jon and Jeff.

RUNNING BACKS
(FLORIDA STATE '74)
17TH SEASON AT FSU

Billy Sexton has been a familiar sight on the sidelines of Florida State football games since 1973. The Tallahassee native started his career at FSU as a player for the Seminoles and went on to become a graduate assistant coach and then a full-time coach in 1977. Only outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden has logged more time on the Seminole coaching staff than Sexton.

This year marks Sexton's 11th as the Tribe running backs coach; a slew of current pros have learned and refined their skills under the former FSU quarterback. Sexton's pro proteges increased with the 1992 draft when Amp Lee and Edgar Bennett were top draft choices. Also among Sexton's former pupils are All-American Greg Allen, who broke 26 school records during his FSU career, and former number one draft picks Sammie Smith (1989) and Dexter Carter (1990).

Since 1983, Sexton's running backs have been one of the most effective components of the FSU offense, averaging nearly six yards per carry and over 10 yards per catch over those nine seasons. Florida State's backs have earned a sure-handed reputation and are renowned for their pass-catching abilities.

Sexton joined the Florida State staff as a graduate assistant in 1976, Bobby Bowden's first year as the FSU mentor. He became a member of the full-time staff in 1977 and worked with the Seminole quarterbacks for five seasons until 1982, when he became the head junior varsity coach and handled scouting duties. The next season, he took over the running back position.

A standout at Leon High School in Tallahassee, Sexton played his first three years of college football at Alabama before transferring to Florida State. He was the Seminoles' starting quarterback for the opening half of the 1973 season.

Sexton earned a bachelor's degree in business from FSU and began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Leon before returning to Florida State as a coach.

He and his wife, Joy, have three children — Wyatt, Leslie and Taylor.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
11TH SEASON AT FSU

In the competitive environment of college football, games are often won due to strength and speed. A contributing factor to Florida State's success on the field is a year-round weight program run by strength and conditioning coach Dave Van Halanger. The 11-year veteran of the Seminole coaching staff has helped hundreds of FSU athletes get stronger, faster and more flexible.

Under Van Halanger's direction, the average student athlete gains 20-25 pounds, adds 100 pounds to his bench press and 200 pounds to his squat during his years at FSU. Each athlete can knock about two-tenths of a second off his 40 time and can jump four to five inches higher when he leaves Florida State, thanks in part to the work of Van Halanger and his staff.

In addition to weight training, Van Halanger works closely with the FSU trainers to keep players in shape as they recover from injury.

Van Halanger spent five years as the head strength coach at his alma mater, West Virginia, prior to his arrival at FSU in July of 1983. He is credited with starting West Virginia's first organized weight training program.

A four-year letterman under Bowden at West Virginia, Van Halanger was a co-captain of the 1975 West Virginia Peach Bowl team. An offensive tackle, he earned All-East honors his junior and senior seasons and was an honorable mention All-America selection as a senior. He played professionally with the Atlanta Falcons in 1976 before returning to WVU as a graduate assistant and head junior varsity coach. He became the full-time strength coach at WVU in 1978.

Van Halanger is currently in the second of a five-year term as the North Florida state director of the National Board of Ethics for the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He teaches several classes on strength training and conditioning to students and to the Tallahassee community. Van Halanger leads FSU's Fellowship of Christian Athletes group.

Some of Van Halanger's former assistants at Florida State currently hold positions as strength coaches with professional and collegiate teams across the country, including the Florida Marlins and Milwaukee Brewers, Ohio State University, Syracuse University and Samford University.

(TROY STATE '83)
FOURTH SEASON AT FSU

If recruiting is a prerequisite to winning and the lifeblood of any successful college football program, then Ronnie Cottrell is seeing to it that Florida State remains on top for a long time to come.

In 1993, Florida State's recruiting class was hailed by every recruiting expert as the top group in the entire country. One expert, Allen Wallace, reported that FSU's '93 class might be "the best group ever signed, there are no weaknesses top to bottom."

The class includes 17 USA

Today All-Americans, 13 Super Prep All-Americans and four Parade All-Americans. Over the last three years, Cottrell has signed a total of 14 Parade All-Americans.

Cottrell is in his fourth season as recruiting coordinator at Florida State. He was promoted to the job as the Seminoles' top recruiter after assisting Brad Scott with the 1990 recruiting class as a graduate assistant.

A native of Brewton, Ala., Cottrell came to FSU after two years as an assistant at Troy (Ala.) State while attending school there in 1981 and 1982. He also held high school head coaching jobs in Alabama, at Kinston, Flomaton and East Brewton high schools. In 1986 and '87, he led Flomaton High to a pair of perfect regular seasons, the first in school history.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

Mark Salva FLORIDA STATE '88

Former Seminole center Mark Salva begins his second stint on the Florida State coaching staff as a graduate assistant with responsibilities in all areas of the offense. Salva will be heavily involved in coaching the offensive line and tight ends along with Brad Scott and Jimmy Heggins.

A native of Winter Park, Fla., Salva started his coaching career as a student assistant under former line coach Wayne McDuffie in 1988. He spent 1989 as an assistant coach at Osceola High School in Seminole, Fla.

The next year, Salva returned to FSU and worked as a graduate assistant coach with the offensive line during the 1990 and '91 seasons. Last year, Salva remained on staff as a member of the FSU video crew.

Salva was a four-year letterwinner for the Seminoles from 1984-1987. A guard during his first three seasons, Salva was Florida State's starting center his senior year. He was a leader of the 1987 Florida State team that went 11-1 and finished the season with a Fiesta Bowl victory over Nebraska and a No. 2 national ranking. Following the season, he earned the Bob Crenshaw and the Don Powell awards.

Salva's wife, Julie, is the co-director of the FSU Garnet and Gold Girls.

1987-90, Ragans will concentrate on assisting Mickey Andrews with coaching the defensive backs in 1993.

A native of Live Oak, Fla., Ragans was known as a punishing hitter from his strong safety position. As a senior, he recorded five quarterback sacks and caused five fumbles. He was also a valuable member of the FSU special teams, blocking three kicks that season. Ragans was a member of the second team All-South Independent squad in 1990 and played in the Hula Bowl following his final year.

After leaving Florida State, Ragans continued his football career, first signing as a free agent with the Seattle Seahawks before joining the Frankfurt Galaxy of the World Football League. After playing two years in Europe, Ragans returned to Live Oak to coach the defensive backs at Suwannee High School,

FOOTBALL TRAINERS & MANAGERS

Randy Oravetz HEAD TRAINER (FLORIDA STATE '79) 15TH SEASON AT FSU

One of the most important aspects of a top football program is the training room and Florida State's training operation is led by one of the best in Randy Oravetz. Entering his eighth year as the Florida State head trainer, Oravetz oversees the training room, injuries and rehabilitation for the Seminole football team and all FSU student athletes. Before being elevated to the head trainer's position in 1986, Oravetz served as the assistant trainer at FSU for seven years.

Oravetz leads a staff of three full-time assistants and a large group of student trainers. He is the primary liaison between the Florida State team doctors and the coaching staff. Oravetz is directly responsible for the everyday care and treatment of the FSU football players. He and his staff deal with both the treatment and the prevention of injuries.

Oravetz was a member of the student training corps for four years under legendary FSU athletic trainer Don Fauls before joining the full-time staff immediately following his graduation from Florida State in 1979. He began his career at the University of Tampa, where he was a student trainer for his hometown school before coming to FSU.

During his tenure as Fauls' assistant, Oravetz was the head trainer for the FSU baseball team for two seasons and also worked with the basketball, track, swimming, and tennis squads.

He and his wife, Linda, have two sons, Jonathan and Thomas.

Jimmie Callaway EQUIPMENT MANAGER 17TH SEASON AT FSU

A 17-year veteran of the FSU athletic staff, Jimmie Callaway enters his fourth season as the head equipment manager in 1993. Prior to taking charge of the FSU equipment room, Callaway held the post of assistant equipment manager for 13 years.

In addition to the huge task of ordering and directing the upkeep of the football equipment, he handles ground transportation arrangements for all of Florida State's athletic teams and assists in the coordination of security of the Moore Athletic Center on football game days.

During the season, Callaway supervises the everyday distribution of football gear and maintenance of the practice fields. He oversees team facilities in the Moore Athletic Center. When the Tribe goes on the road, he directs the transfer of all equipment and baggage to the site of the game. A large staff of student managers, supervised by Callaway, assists him in these duties.

A Tallahassee native, Callaway came to the athletic staff after 20 years with the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

He and his wife, Donna, have two daughters — Connie and Leanne, and one grandson, Cody.

Jack Marucci ASSISTANT TRAINER (WEST VIRGINIA '86) SIXTH SEASON AT FSU

When defensive end Dan Footman was drafted by the Cleveland Browns last April, it signified the end of one of the most remarkable comeback stories in Seminole history. With the direct assistance of FSU Assistant Trainer Jack Marucci, Footman recovered from one of the worst knee injuries team doctors had ever seen. In his sixth year as an assistant trainer, one of Marucci's many duties is to work with those players coming back from knee injuries. He also assists Randy Oravetz daily with the health and injury prevention of the Seminole football team.

Marucci came to Florida State in July of 1988 from the University of Alabama, where he was a graduate assistant trainer for two years while getting his master's degree. At Alabama, his responsibilities included head baseball trainer, part-time instructor, and supervisor of the student trainers. Marucci also travelled with the Crimson Tide football team in 1987 and '88.

Prior to going to Alabama, Marucci spent four years as a student assistant trainer at West Virginia University while earning his bachelor's degree in athletic training. During that time, he worked with all 17 intercollegiate teams and traveled with the football team.

In addition, Marucci has worked as an assistant trainer with the NFL's Cleveland Browns and Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

A 29-year-old native of Uniontown, Pa., Marucci is married to the former Leah Gaines.

Andy Barker ASSISTANT TRAINER (CLEMSON '88) SIXTH SEASON AT FSU

In 1993, Andy Barker begins his sixth season on the FSU staff and his fourth as an assistant athletic trainer. Barker previously served as a graduate assistant in the FSU training room for two years.

Barker, a 27-year-old bachelor, works closely with the Seminole football team. He also supervises the student training corps. Since his arrival, he has instituted a new insurance check system which has vastly improved the efficiency of the FSU training room.

A native of Clemson, S.C., Barker graduated from his hometown school in 1988 after five seasons with the Tigers as a student trainer. While at Clemson, Barker traveled to three bowl games and on all road trips with the Tiger football team. He was the trainer for Clemson's national championship soccer team in 1987 and served as the head student trainer for the Tiger baseball team in 1986.

Barker earned his master's degree from Florida State in 1990. He also served as the host athletic trainer for the Junior Pan-Am Gymnastics competition held in Tallahassee in 1990.
