SIDELINES

The beat rolls on for Florida State's immensely successful "Say No to Drugs" program, which enters its eighth year in 1994. In November, student athletes representing each of Florida State University's 16 teams will blitz Tallahassee and the surrounding area. Last year, nearly 200 Seminole student athletes, paired with FSU honor students, made approximately 83 presentations to more than 45,000 elementary, middle and high school students. The presentations brought both the "Say No to Drugs" and "Stay in School" messages to the kids. The day always provides a learning experience - both to the youngsters and to the FSU participants.

1994 FOOTBALL BOWL COALITION

The Orange, Sugar, Cotton and Fiesta bowls (Tier One) have joined with the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Big East Football Conference and the University of Notre Dame in a partnership to provide the opportunity for the champions of the ACC and the Big East Football conferences and Notre Dame to appear in one of the aforementioned bowl games each year.

In addition, the ACC and the Big East Football champions are guaranteed a spot in the Orange, Sugar, or Cotton Bowl each year.

The current commitments of the conference champions of the Big Eight to the Orange Bowl, Southeastern to the Sugar Bowl and Southwest to the Cotton Bowl remain intact, leaving two additional berths open in the four Tier One coalition bowls.

These two spots will be filled from a pool of "at-large" teams which will include the next best team (as selected by the Tier One coalition bowls) from the following five conferences — Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Eight, PAC-10 (whose champion remains committed to the Rose Bowl) and Southwest.

The three at-large teams NOT selected to the Tier One coalition bowls will then be available for selection to the Tier Two bowls (Gator and John Hancock) of the coalition.

The team selection date for all the bowls involved in the coalition (Tier One and Two) will be following the completion of the regular season.

The selection process is as follows:

1 Whenever Notre Dame, the ACC and the Big East Football champions occupy the number one and two rankings in the combined final regular season polls of the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN Coaches, they must play the national championship game in the Fiesta Bowl.

2 Whenever the number one or two team in the combined final regular season polls of the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN Coaches comes from among the ACC champion, the Big East Football champion or Notre Dame, and the host conference champion from among the Sugar, Cotton or Orange Bowl is ranked number one or two, these teams must play one another in the bowl of the host conference champion.

3 Barring the above circumstances, the Orange, Sugar and Cotton bowls will select first in order of the final combined rankings of their respective host conference champions. Following that selection, the Fiesta Bowl will have two selections from the remaining pool of five teams.

4 Once these selections have been completed, the remaining three "at-large" teams will be available to the Tier Two bowls. The Gator Bowl selects one team first, and then the two remaining teams will be assigned to the John Hancock Bowl.

5 The ACC and Big East Football champions and Notre Dame have the right to pass a Tier One selection for a higher payout, to avoid a rematch of a regular season game or to avoid playing in a particular bowl game for a third consecutive year.

6 A team may pass a selection to a Tier Two bowl only to avoid a rematch of a regular season game or to avoid playing in a particular bowl game for a third consecutive year.

Florida State's offense was diverse enough in 1993 to either go through...

or around most of its opponents en route to a 12-1 record and the national championship.
