HEAD COACH BOBBY BOWDEN

Bobby Bowden means a great many things to the game of college football. His remarkable success, engaging personality and love of people have made him the game's top ambassador. His unprecedented 11 straight finishes among the Associated Press Top Four and record 11 consecutive years of winning 10 or more games make him college football's most successful coach. His ability to be one of the most competitive coaches ever in the game, and also one of the most well thought of, makes him truly unique.

Certainly his legions of All-Americans, record success and coast-to-coast popularity attest to one fact. Bobby Bowden is a legend in the world of college football.

In trying to discover what makes a legend, Bowden himself suggest it may come from the very drive that inspires a person.

"I just love to coach," said Bowden matter-of-factly. "That may sound simple, but I think sometimes people like the things that go around coaching and not the actual job. I have always gotten my greatest pleasure out of breaking down film, learning about opponents and yourself, then implementing a game plan to take advantage of your strengths and their weaknesses. I love to take a group of young men in the late summer and mold them into a team."

Bowden's love of the X's and O's of coaching has been beautifully illustrated for 22 remarkable years in Tallahassee, but his interest in the "coaching" aspect probably came much earlier in life.

In 1943, a 13-year old Robert Cleckler Bowden was bed ridden for six months suffering from rheumatic fever.

An outstanding young athlete who literally grew up in the shadow of Legion Field, Bowden was subjected to a frustrating 18 months of confinement with a full year of recuperation following his hospital stay.

"The world's not like it used to be," Bowden is quick to point out. "I mean it was a year of staying in your room with no television, no video games, no computer, just me and my radio." Most of what a young Bobby Bowden listened to on his radio were news accounts of a terrible war being fought far away. He would listen for hours on end for reports from battles fought in tiny German towns. He would listen to the sounds of planes taking off from airports he had never seen with names he had never heard.

"I basically listened to a play-by-play of World War II for a year," said Bowden. "I would imagine what every place looked like. What the terrain of the battlefield was like, what the army units looked like and how the sounds and smells of the war must have been. I had a pretty good map in my head of where things were in Europe and I even began to learn which generals were leading which units.

"I've never lost my fascination for World War II and I read as much about it as I can. The similarities between leading troops in battle and coaching a team are well documented. You face similar tasks of motivation, preparation, teamwork, discipline. Most of it really relates.

"I'm sure my interest in coaching, in the real X's and O's coaching, probably stems a lot from listening to those accounts of the war and trying to imagine the movements of the battles. I still believe that winning is the greatest feeling there is in coaching, but I probably get the most satisfaction out of putting in the strategies and watching them play out."

Now, 56 years after recreating the war with just a radio and his imagination, Bobby Bowden prepares his 23rd edition of the Seminoles for the 1998 season. And much like the fabled generals of the past, Bowden must guide his charges through 12 opponents determined to earn their medal against the Seminoles.

However, the opponents face a daunting challenge considering the fact that the Seminoles' 11-1 record and third place finish in the Associated Press poll last year preserved a stack of records that will likely never be equaled.

Never before in college football history has a school finished in the AP's Top Four for 11 consecutive seasons. No program has ever come close to FSU's 11 straight seasons of 10 or more wins, or its record 11 straight bowl wins.

Florida State is the second winningest program in the '90s and has been ranked preseason number one four times in the last 10 years. With the addition of an incredible recruiting class and the prospect of entering the season yet again ranked among the nation's best, it's easy to see why Bowden is so eager for fall drills to get started. It also means the Seminoles are poised to make another run at a national title in 1998.

Bowden is a man so closely tied with the phenomenal success of his program that he, as much as Renegade and the war chant, is Florida State football. Gracious in both victory and defeat, Bowden is a man at peace with himself, a man with rock-solid character and firm coaching principles that date back more than 45 years. It's not enough that his coaching numbers have reached legendary proportions. Bowden also gives Florida State University a proud moral leader, a family man of the first order, a caring disciplinarian, and a calming voice in the face of the turbulence surrounding college football.

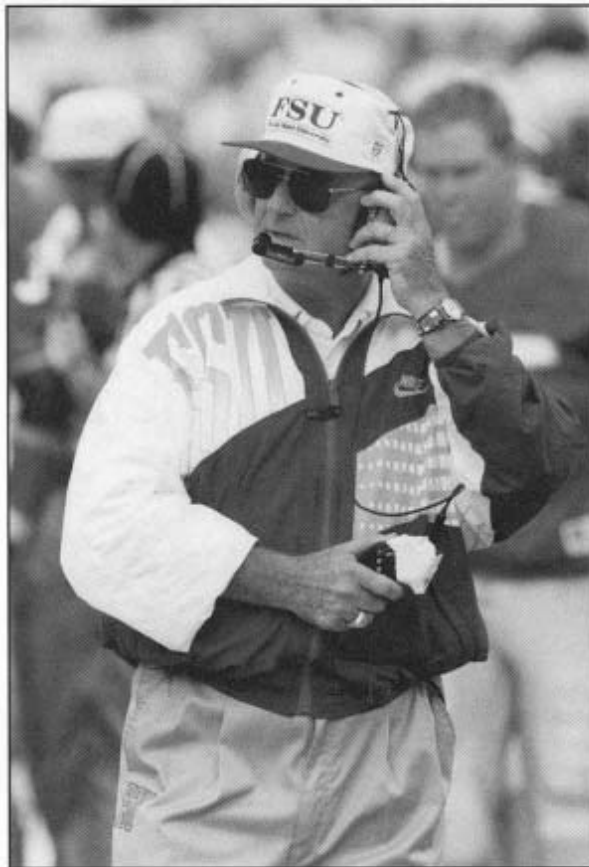

1998 Coaching Staff

Perhaps the best tribute to the man is that he is not afraid to change with the times, adapting brilliantly to new ways of winning games, as well as dealing with young student-athletes. From a sense of discipline and control, to a bold switch to the Fast Break offense, Bowden constantly finds ways to make his program even better.

Like few coaches before him, Bowden has created something of a monster that sits squarely on his shoulders. He has coached his Florida State teams so very close to perfection that the fans expect nothing less. He has won 118 games over the last 11 seasons, and has won at least 10 games in each of those years.

In the fickle world of sports, some forget what it is all about. Sure, Bobby Bowden is proud of his national championship, his place among the all-time greats, and a chance at another national title. But as Bowden well understands at this stage of his career, there are things more important in life. That's what makes him "our" Bobby Bowden.

One of Bowden's greatest coaching achievements revolves around bowl games and his team's success in the post season. Bowden guided the Seminoles to an unheard of 11 consecutive bowl wins which ended at the 1997 Sugar Bowl. He also set an NCAA record with his 14 straight bowls without a loss. His 16-4-1 record and .786 bowl winning percentage rank first all-time. Only Joe Paterno (18) has won more bowl games.

The list of coaches who have won more games than Bowden is also getting smaller. Only four names remain ahead of him on the all-time Division I-A coaching list: Bryant, Stagg, Warner, Paterno. Indeed, Florida State's eighth head coach has inked his name on the list of legends over 32 seasons at Samford, West Virginia and FSU. When Bowden first arrived in Tallahassee in 1976, he described his relationship with the school as a marriage and was determined to let "no man put it asunder." True to his word, he completed his 22nd season at FSU with an impressive win over Ohio State in the Sugar Bowl last January.

What Bobby Bowden means to Florida State University off the playing field cannot be measured. Respect, sincerity, class, honesty, charisma, charm and humor. Those are the words that describe and define this man even better than wins, losses, or coaching records.

By now it's been well-chronicled how the Birmingham native left the snow and ice of West Virginia to come to Florida State and save the program. Three seasons after he walked on campus, he had taken one of the worst football teams in the country to within one game of a national championship.

Bowden's record at Florida State is 208-51-4. That includes a 110-16-2 record in Tallahassee and a 98-35-2 mark away from home. He has built those numbers against some of the nation's toughest schedules, earning respect for his team, attracting top players to his program and establishing his reputation as a competitor in the process.

Bowden also achieved impressive numbers in his previous coaching stops (31-6 at Samford University in Birmingham between 1959 and 1962, and 42-26 at West Virginia from 1970-75), but what he has done at FSU is simply phenomenal. Fourteen times in 22 years, his Seminoles have won 10 or more games in a season. Florida State had been to eight bowls in the 29 years before him. Last year, the Seminoles played their 19th bowl game since his arrival, including a string of 16 in a row and 12 "New Year's Day" trips. He is, by far, the winningest coach ever at Florida State as his win total is greater than the previous seven Seminole head coaches combined.

1998 Coaching Staff

In his 22 years, the Seminoles have become a mainstay in the Associated Press Top 20. FSU has been ranked in all but two of the last 175 polls. Over the last 11 years, Florida State has spent 43 weeks as the nation's number one team, and nearly every poll among the Top Five. The Tribe has spent 54 straight weeks in the Top 10 and 141 straight in the Top 15.

Florida State is the only school to finish among the Associated Press Top Four for 11 consecutive seasons. The Seminoles' 11-1 record last season and third place ranking in the polls, kept alive the staggering streak. The 'Noles have finished 1st (1993), 2nd twice (1987, 92), 3rd four times (1988, 89, 96, 97), and 4th four times (1990, 91, 94, 95) since 1987. No team in college football history can match the run.

Over the past six years, the coach and his teams have adjusted to life as a conference member with Florida State's addition to the Atlantic Coast Conference. Over six seasons, FSU is 47-1 and has claimed six ACC championships and set the league record for consecutive victories. Bowden picked up ACC Coach of the Year titles in 1993 and 1997.

Above all Bowden's coaching accomplishments, however, are his credentials as a man. Friendly and outgoing, he is a devoted Christian and family man. He loves people. His personality and charm are bigger than life. He has become somewhat of a folk hero in the South. A coveted speaker, Bowden is constantly in demand. His busy coaching schedule curtails many speaking engagements, but any free evening will find him on the speaking circuit. His off-season travel schedule would exhaust anyone. Every free Sunday morning will find him in the pulpit of a church somewhere in the South.

Bowden was an outstanding football player at Woodlawn

High School in Birmingham, Ala., and went on to Alabama as a freshman quarterback, fulfilling a lifelong dream to play for the Crimson Tide. During one semester in Tuscaloosa, he found his sweetheart, Ann Estock, and she was enough to lure him back to Birmingham. He soon married Ann and transferred to Howard College (now Samford University) in Birmingham.

As one writer put it while attending an FSU press conference: "You can't swing a golf club in the south without hitting a football coach named Bowden." Indeed, Bobby Bowden can claim another record which will likely never be broken. He and son Terry at Auburn were already the only father-son coaching combo in the history of Division I-A football. Tulane's hiring of Tommy as its new head coach last year makes it three top

CHUCK AMATO

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH • LINEBACKERS
ALMA MATER: NC STATE '69 • 17TH SEASON AT FSU

Chuck Amato enters his 13th season as assistant head coach to Bobby Bowden in 1998. A 17-year veteran of the coaching staff at Florida State, Amato begins his third season coaching the Seminole linebackers after coming from the University of Arizona to coach the defensive line in. The transition to that spot has been smooth as Amato has coached three-time Butkus Award semifinalist Daryl Bush, and three NFL Draft picks (Henri Crockett, Vernon Crawford, and Sam Cowart).

Since joining the Florida State staff, the Eaton, PA, native has seen the Tribe defense lead the program to unprecedented national prominence. Florida State's defense has ranked among the Top 10 in the nation against the run five of the last six years.

Amato's linebacker corps in 1998 will be hard-pressed to equal the performance of last year's unit which featured a four-year starter in Bush and a consensus All-American in Cowart.

The only returning starter is Lamont Green who should contend for top honors in 1998. Behind Green is a great deal of talent, but very little experience.

Over 10 years of coaching the defensive line at FSU, Amato proved he could produce some of the nation's top players. Most recently, Derrick Alexander was selected in the first round of the 1995 draft and he turned into one of the NFL's top young defensive linemen with the Minnesota Vikings. A number of Amato protégés are starting in the NFL including: Dan Footman (Baltimore), and Carl Simpson (Chicago). In addition, Amato coached All-American noseguard Odell Haggins, who is now in his fifth season as an assistant coach at FSU, along with retired Denver Bronco great Alphonso Carreker.

Prior to his stint at Arizona, Amato coached at his alma mater, NC State, where he was a three-year letterman in football and wrestling. He earned both his bachelor's and master's degrees from NC State and started his coaching career there by serving as a student assistant in 1968. He was named to a full-time position in 1972 and remained with the Wolfpack for the next 12 years coaching the secondary and then inside linebackers. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1974 and held the position for six years.

He and his wife, Peggy, are the parents of twin daughters — LuGina and Selena.

MICKEY ANDREWS

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR • DEFENSIVE BACKS
ALMA MATER: ALABAMA '64 • 15TH SEASON AT FSU

Florida State's rise to its current position as the most consistently successful program in the history of college football directly correlates with Mickey Andrews' arrival to tutor the Seminole defense. FSU's offense has long been national championship caliber, but it has been Andrews' ability to catch the Tribe defense up with the offense that has made the Seminole program the powerhouse that it is today.

"I've got the finest defensive coordinator in the nation and I just let him coach," said Bowden. "I've got confidence in the defensive staff's ability to get it done. They scare me sometimes with all the young players they are running in and out of there, but I've never really cared much for sticking my nose in the defensive huddle."

Bowden's confidence in Andrews was backed up in 1996 when Andrews was named the recipient of the first-ever Frank Broyles Award. The award, presented by the Major Sports Association of Little Rock, AR, for the first time last year, is given to the nation's top assistant coach. Andrews directed the nation's top rated rushing defense in 1996 and 1997 and his units have been among the top five nationally against the run for five of the last six seasons.

Under Andrews' direction, Florida State has become the top producer of All-America and NFL caliber cornerbacks in the nation. He has coached two players — Deion Sanders (1988) and Terrell Buckley (1991) — who have won the Jim Thorpe Trophy, given annually to college football's top defensive back. LeRoy Butler joined those two as a consensus All-America pick in 1989. Clifton Abraham was an All-American in 1994 and Corey Sawyer in 1993. Which means the Seminoles had an All-American at cornerback each year from 1987-94.

Andrews' defenses feature an attacking style up front that puts pressure on the opposing offense. He is also a big believer in creating depth and uses as many as 40 players a game. In 1991, Athlon's Magazine named him the Assistant Coach of the Year and he is on top of every list of the country's top defensive coaches.

Andrews came to Florida State from the Arizona Wranglers of the old USFL, where he spent one season as defensive coordinator after having spent the previous 17 years coaching in the collegiate ranks.

Andrews' coaching resume includes stints at Eastern Kentucky, Livingston, North Alabama and two of the teams that appear on the Seminoles' 1998 schedule. He was Clemson's defensive coordinator from 1977-80 and was an assistant at Florida in 1981-82.

From 1972-76, Andrews was the head coach and athletic director at North Alabama. He was the head coach at Livingston University from 1970-72 where he won the NAIA national championship.

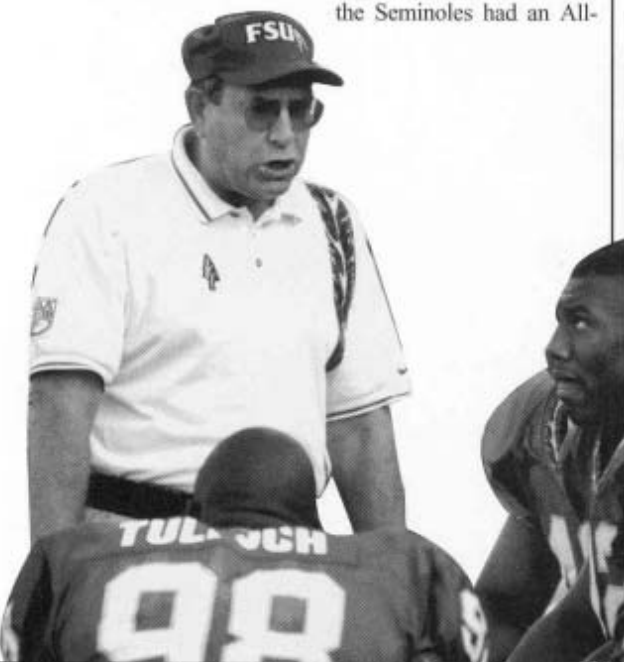

A star on the football field and the baseball diamond for Alabama from 1961-64, Andrews earned second team All-America honors as a wide receiver and defensive back. During his career, the Crimson Tide won a pair of national championships (1961, '64) and played in three New Year's Day bowl games.

In addition to his football honors, Andrews was an All-SEC choice in baseball. In 1964, he received the Hugo Friedman Award as the Tide's best all-around athlete.

Andrews and his wife, Diane, have two children — Ronnie and Shannon, and three grandchildren.

JEFF BOWDEN

WIDE RECEIVERS • ALMA MATER: FLORIDA STATE '83
5TH SEASON AT FSU

The old expression about the apple not falling far from the tree certainly applies to the youngest son in the Bowden clan. Since Bobby Bowden heads the nation's most prominent, and well branched, family tree in coaching it should have come as no surprise that he chose one of his sons to join his staff in 1994.

Jeff Bowden begins his fifth year on the staff with a very young, but very talented receiving corps. His work in his first four years with the Seminoles has been extremely successful. Under Bowden's direction last year, E.G. Green earned second team AP All-America status and he finished with more receiving touchdowns (29) over his career than any previous FSU receiver. Two years ago, Green teamed with Andre Cooper (now with the Denver Broncos) to become the first tandem in FSU and ACC history to each have over 1,000 receiving yards. Four years ago, Kez McCorvey finished a career that made him the second most prolific receiver in school history.

1998 may hold the biggest trophy bonanza yet as junior Peter Warrick is considered to be one of the nation's top returning offensive players. In addition, Bowden can send out lightning fast La-vernaues Coles and Germaine Stringer, tough veteran Ron Dugans, and talented newcomers Marvin Minnis and Robert Morgan.

Bowden's transition to Florida State was a smooth one five years ago when he left a Southern Mississippi program where he had served as receivers coach for three years.

He played in three bowl games on Seminole teams coached by his father and moved immediately into coaching at Salem College in West Virginia upon graduation from FSU. He was the receivers coach for two seasons under older brother Terry (now the head coach at Auburn) and was promoted to offensive coordinator the third year.

After a year at FSU as a graduate assistant, Jeff joined Terry at Samford University in Birmingham, AL. He was the Bulldogs offensive coordinator in 1987 and added the title of assistant head coach for the 1988-90 seasons. He is credited with guiding the career of Division III All-America quarterback Jimbo Fisher at Samford.

He moved from Samford to Southern Mississippi and coached the receivers for three years before coming to Tallahassee.

Jeff is married to the former Cindi Smith and they have five children, Haley, Hunter, T.J., Robert and Julia Elizabeth.

JIM GLADDEN

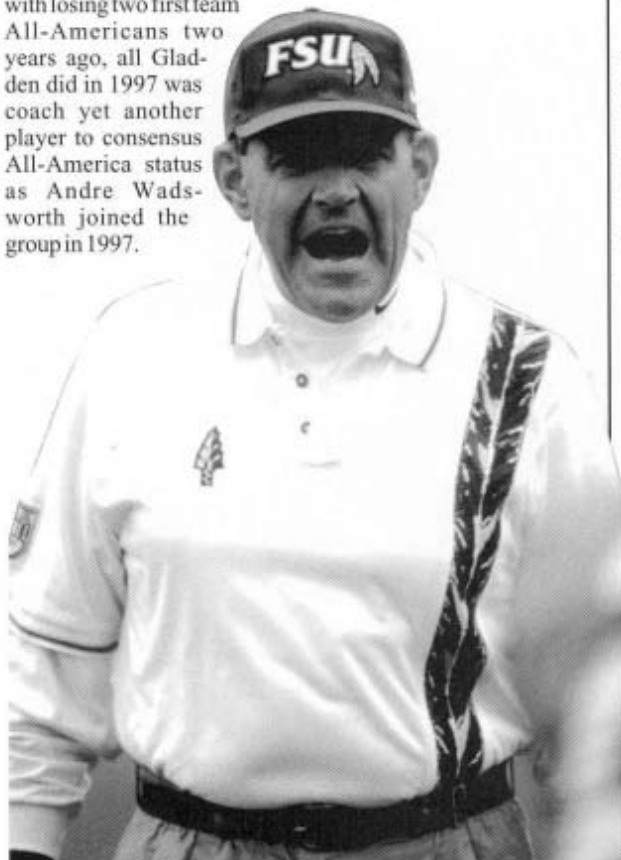

DEFENSIVE ENDS • ALMA MATER: WILLIAM JEWEL '62
24TH SEASON AT FSU

Jim Gladden is the senior member of Florida State's coaching staff and his 24 years with the program is longer even than Bobby Bowden. He was elevated to a full-time coach by Bowden when he came to Tallahassee in 1976 after serving as a graduate assistant on the 1975 FSU team that finished 3-8 and was coached by Darrell Mudra. Gladden, Bowden and Florida State have had 21 straight winning seasons and have set NCAA records for bowl games won and consecutive top four finishes.

After coaching outside linebackers at FSU for 20 years, Gladden moved to defensive ends in 1996. He made a smashing debut as he coached Reinard Wilson and Peter Boulware to All-America status in 1996. Wilson had 13.5 sacks in 1996 and was FSU's leading tackler with 105. He finished his career as the program's all-time leader in sacks with 35.5 and was the 14th overall selection in last April's NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals. Boulware set a school record for sacks in a season and led the nation with 19. He was the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year, finished with 34 sacks in his career and was the fourth pick in the NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens. Boulware went on to win the NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year honors following last season. Faced with losing two first team

All-Americans two years ago, all Gladden did in 1997 was coach yet another player to consensus All-America status as Andre Wadsworth joined the group in 1997.

Over his 23-year stint at FSU, Gladden has produced some of the Seminoles top talent including former Oakland Raider star Willie Jones, former Washington Redskin Sterling Palmer and All-Pro outside linebacker Derrick Brooks of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Add to that list Wilson of the Bengals, Boulware with Ravens and Wadsworth and Greg Spires with whichever team is lucky enough to get them and you find one impressive group.

In addition to his position coaching duties, Gladden is one of the nation's best when out on the recruiting trail. Whichever area the affable coach has been assigned has produced some of the top talent on the FSU squad. A keen evaluator and champion recruiter, Gladden's one of the nation's best at culling the talent for the Tribe.

Gladden also coaches the punt block unit for FSU. Last year, the Seminoles blocked five and in 1984, the Seminoles blocked a school record eight punts during the regular season and added a crucial block in the Citrus Bowl to give FSU a 17-17 tie with Georgia. Since 1976, Florida State has blocked 69 kicks, but the numbers are deceiving since the Tribe shifted its effort to returning punts with the likes of Deion Sanders and Terrell Buckley back on the receiving end.

Gladden was an all-conference selection as a player at William Jewel College in Missouri where he graduate in 1962. Over the next 15 years, Gladden coached in the high school ranks. He spent four years in Kansas City and St. Louis as an assistant high school coach before moving into head coaching positions in Tennessee and Kentucky, where he was the high school coach of the year in 1970. After two years as head coach at Hernando High in Brooksville, FL, Gladden came to FSU.

Born in Springfield, MO, Gladden and his wife, Patty, have three children — Cathy, Julie and John.

ODELL HAGGINS

DEFENSIVE LINE • ALMA MATER: FLORIDA STATE '93
5TH SEASON AT FSU

Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden was faced with a rare vacancy on his coaching staff in 1994 when Brad Scott was named head coach at South Carolina and took fellow FSU assistants John Eason and Wally Burnham with him. When the decision came as to who would be hired to complete the "new" FSU coaching staff, Bowden turned to one of his own and selected former FSU All-American defensive lineman Odell Haggins.

"Odell was one of the best players and finest leaders we've ever had at Florida State," said Bowden. "He was dependable and accountable and he has the qualities you look for in a coach. His name just kept popping into my head and once I made the decision I knew it was right."

The decision has indeed been right for Florida State and the fifth-year coach has proven it by producing an outstanding defensive line in 1996, his first year at the position. Haggins' troops have made the Seminoles one of the toughest teams in all of college football to run against. Last year, Haggins worked around the absence of probable starters beautifully and found great young players who should come into their own this year.

"I'm really enjoying coaching the defensive line," said Haggins. "I feel like I've come home. I know what it takes to be successful at the position and I know how important the defensive line is in the overall scheme. I've learned techniques that will work at the NFL level and those same principles should make you a better college player."

A native of Bartow, Fla., Haggins was a four year letter-winner and popular team leader for the Seminoles from 1986-89. He earned Kodak, Walter Camp and UPI All-America honors as a senior in 1989 and was a second team Associated Press selection as a junior in 1988. The 1987 FSU team finished the season ranked second in the nation and the Seminoles were third in the country in his junior and senior seasons.

Any Florida State fan can remember his trademark of crossing his arms over his head after a big play as a symbol of his role in FSU's "Say No to Drugs" campaign.

Following his standout collegiate career, Haggins was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers and played two years, earning a Super Bowl ring in 1990. He spent the 1991 season with the Buffalo Bills.

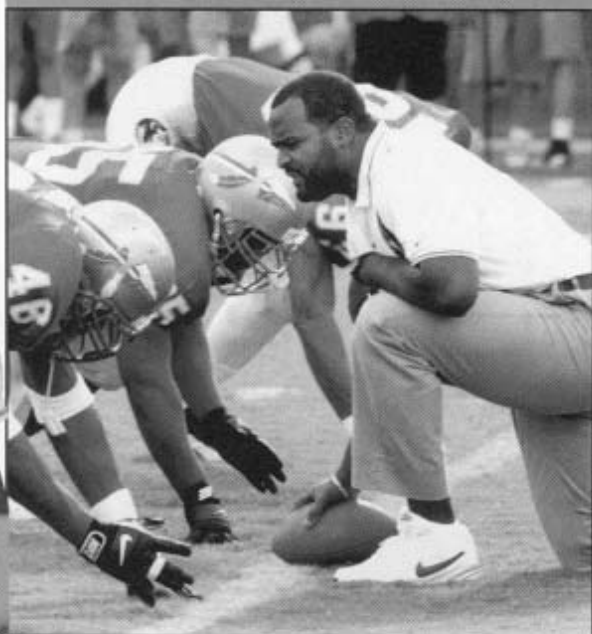

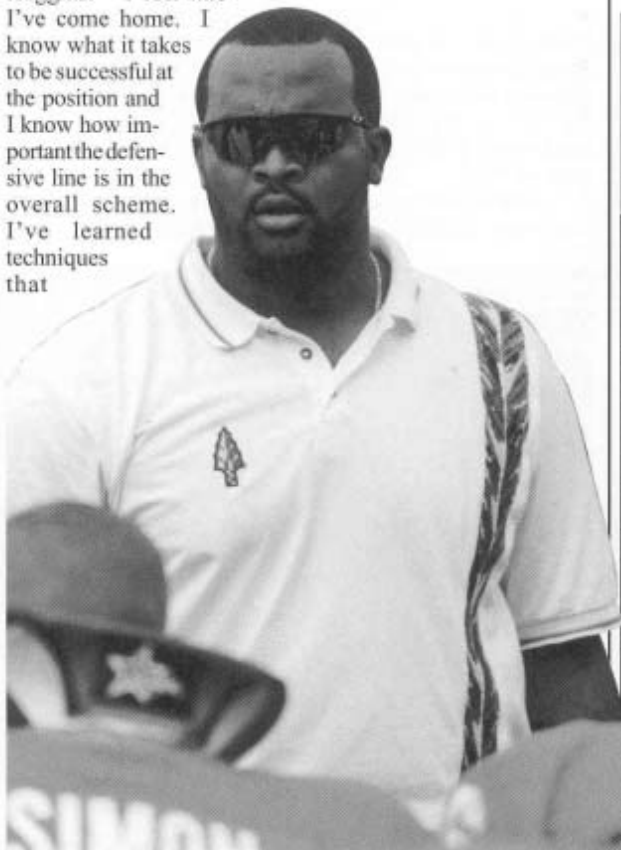

Haggins earned a degree in criminology from Florida State and was working with the state attorney's office in Jacksonville before joining the FSU staff. He worked with the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders while with the state attorney and continues to make working with young people a priority.

JIMMY HEGGINS

OFFENSIVE LINE • ALMA MATER: FLORIDA STATE '78
13TH SEASON AT FSU

Jimmy Heggins begins his fifth season as offensive line coach at Florida State and his 13th overall on the FSU staff. Heggins coached the tight ends and tutored the noseguards prior to taking over the offensive line duties in 1994.

Heggins was an outstanding noseguard on Bobby Bowden's FSU teams in the mid '70s. He returned to his alma mater in 1986 as a full-time coach after a year at Southwestern Louisiana where he coached USL's defensive ends. Prior to his stint with the Ragin' Cajuns, Heggins was running backs coach at Eastern Michigan for two years and at Western Illinois for a year.

Florida State has produced a number of NFL caliber offensive lineman and for the second straight season will have an offensive tackle selected in the first round of the draft. Seattle selected Walter Jones two years ago and he started for the Seahawks most of last year. Tra Thomas was selected with the 11th pick of this spring's draft by Philadelphia. In fact, the 1996 offensive line produced three NFL players with Clay Shiver starting at center for the Dallas Cowboys in 1997 and Todd Fordham signing with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

In addition to his offensive line proteges, Coach Heggins has a pair of tight ends he coach playing in the NFL with Reggie Johnson with Kansas City and Lonnie Johnson with Buffalo.

In 1998, Heggins must replace departing starters Thomas and first-team AFCA All-America center Kevin Long. He will rely on returning starters at both guards and split tackle, but must find a new center and tight tackle.

A native of Salisbury, N.C., Heggins began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at East Carolina in 1980. He filled the same role at FSU in 1981 and '82.

Heggins came to Tallahassee to begin his playing career in 1974 as a running back after gaining 1,670 yards and earning all-state honors in North Carolina in 1973. A fullback his first two seasons with the Seminoles, he made the switch to noseguard in 1976 (Bowden's first year) and was named the squad's outstanding defensive player following the season. As a senior, he led Florida State to a 10-2 record and a win over Texas Tech in the Tangerine Bowl.

Heggins and his wife, the former Winifred Parker, have two daughters — Andrea and Lauren.

JOHN LILLY

TIGHT ENDS • RECRUITING COORDINATOR
ALMA MATER: GUILFORD COLLEGE '90 • 4TH SEASON AT FSU

John Lilly begins his fourth season with the Florida State football program after being promoted to a full-time assistant coach in January of 1998. Lilly was charged with recruiting responsibilities after Ronnie Cottrell left for the University of Alabama in December of 1997. His outstanding efforts made a smooth transition as the Seminoles once again landed one of the nation's top five recruiting classes.

On the field, Lilly will make the switch from defense to offense as FSU's new tight ends coach. He will be coaching a relatively inexperienced group of young talent after the graduation of All-ACC tight end Melvin Pearsall.

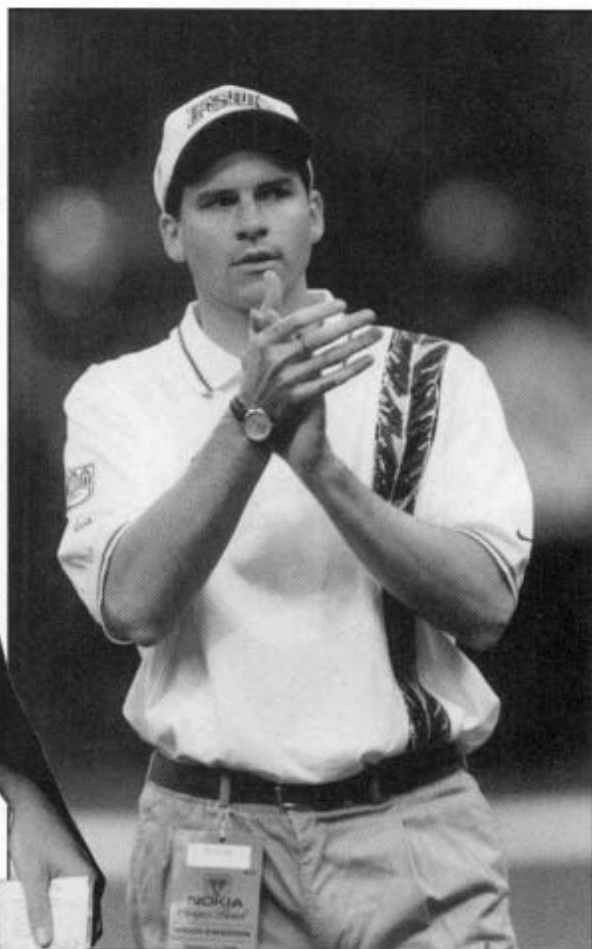

Lilly spent the 1996 and 1997 seasons as a defensive graduate assistant. During that time, he assisted Mickey Andrews with the defensive backs. In 1995, Lilly was a cinematographer for the defense.

A 1990 graduate of Guilford College, Lilly was a dean's list student all four years while playing quarterback, wide receiver and special teams for the Quakers from 1986-89. He was named the "ideal Guilford football player" as a senior and was a team captain at the North Carolina school.

A native of Beckley, W.V., Lilly graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School where he played quarterback for one of West Virginia's top high school programs.

Lilly joined the Florida State football family after coaching and teaching at Northwest Guilford Senior High in Greensboro, N.C., from 1991-94. He is currently pursuing his Master's Degree from Florida State in Educational Psychology where he is six hours shy of completing his coursework.

MARK RICHT

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR • QUARTERBACKS
ALMA MATER: MIAMI '82 • 13TH SEASON AT FSU

Florida State offensive coordinator Mark Richt begins his fifth season as the man in charge of the Seminole offense and his 12th overall as the quarterbacks coach at FSU. Richt's offenses have been among the most productive in college football history and he has become one of the most respected coaches in the country. This fall Richt will unveil a Florida State offense built around a new quarterback. The question throughout the state of Florida is who will be the man this season at FSU.

Richt's notoriety has been gained through an innovative and exciting offensive style and a long list of excellent quarterbacks. Naturally, Richt's most famous protégé is Ward, who is the most decorated player in the history of college football. Richt has sent four quarterbacks into the NFL since 1989. Current San Diego Charger Casey Weldon was the runner-up for the Heisman Trophy in 1991. His backup, Brad Johnson, is the starting quarterback for the Minnesota Vikings. Danny Kanell was the starter for the New York Giants during most of 1997, his second year in the NFL. Thad Busby will hope to take his place among the growing number of Seminole signal callers in the NFL. Richt pupil Danny McManus has had an outstanding career as the starting quarterback for Winnipeg in the Canadian Football League.

Richt has logged 12 years as quarterbacks coach at Florida State, and this season will mark his ninth straight in that role, since returning from a one year stint as the offensive coordinator at East Carolina in 1989. Richt had served as a graduate assistant and then volunteer quarterbacks coach for the Seminoles from 1985-88.

A native of Omaha, Neb., Richt came to Tallahassee with an astute knowledge of the passing game after playing the position for the Hurricanes under Howard Schnellenberger. Richt was the backup to former Buffalo Bills star Jim Kelly during his last three seasons at Miami.

Richt is married to the former Katharyn Francis, who is from Tallahassee. The couple has two children — Jonathan and David.

BILLY SEXTON

RUNNING BACKS • ALMA MATER: FLORIDA STATE '74
23RD SEASON AT FSU

Billy Sexton has been a familiar sight on the sidelines of Florida State football games since 1973. The Tallahassee native started his career at FSU as a player for the Seminoles and went on to become a graduate assistant coach and then a full-time coach in 1977. Only outside linebackers coach Jim Gladden has logged more time on the Seminole coaching staff than Sexton.

The 1998 season will be Sexton's 16th as the Seminoles running backs' coach, where a slew of pros have learned and refined their skills under the former FSU quarterback. Sexton's pro protégés increased when Warrick Dunn was drafted by Tampa Bay last year and earned NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors. Dunn became Florida State's all-time leading rusher last season and finished his career with 3,989 yards.

Sexton has seen nine of his pupils taken in the draft since 1988, including first rounders Dunn, William Floyd (San Francisco 49ers, 1994), Dexter Carter (San Francisco 49ers, 1990) and Sammie Smith (Miami Dolphins, 1989). Also among Sexton's former pupils are All-American Greg Allen, who broke 26 school records during his FSU career, and

Edgar Bennett, of the Super Bowl champion Green Bay Packers

Since 1983, Sexton's running backs have become one of the most effective components of the FSU offense, averaging nearly six yards per carry and over 10 yards per catch during those 14 seasons. Florida State's backs have earned a reputation for being sure-handed receivers.

Sexton joined the Florida State staff as a graduate assistant in 1976, Bobby Bowden's first year as the FSU mentor. He became a member of the full-time staff in 1977 and worked with the Seminole quarterbacks for five seasons until 1982, when he became the head junior varsity coach and handled scouting duties. He took over the running backs position the following year.

A standout at Leon High School in Tallahassee, Sexton played his first three years of college football at Alabama before transferring to Florida State. He was the Seminoles' starting quarterback for the opening half of the 1973 season.

Sexton earned a bachelor's degree in business from FSU and began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Leon before returning to Florida State as a coach.

He and his wife, Joy, have three children — Wyatt, Leslie and Taylor.

SEMINOLE STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

"THE STRONG SHALL SURVIVE"

It is the motto of Florida State Strength and Conditioning Coach Dave Van Halanger and his staff in the FSU weight room facility. It's also the philosophy that has made Seminole athletics in all sports among the strongest, fastest and fittest anywhere.

At Florida State, the strong not only survive, they win too! That is why the Seminole football team is dedicated to year-round conditioning and weight training as the only way to improve their physical gifts.

The newly-renovated Seminole weight room is complete with a rubberized floor surface, drop-ceilings with enhanced lighting, stereo sound system, cooled water fountains and a mirrored area which includes exercise systems by Cybex Eagle as well as free-weight equipment. A variety of exercise bicycles, rowing machines and Stairmasters complete both the strength conditioning and cardiovascular experience.

"To become a champion, you must first train like a champion."

Florida State athletes achieve their goals in a state-of-the-art facility at the Coyle E. Moore Athletics Center, located in the same building as the coaches' offices, football locker, film projection and meeting rooms. The weight room used by the Seminole football team is a spacious area encompassing over 7,000 square feet. Banners commemorating FSU's bowl victories hang from the rafters and inspirational slogans cover the walls. A variety of music blares from the stereo system and words of encouragement are supplied as superior athletes strive to reach their peak performances.

The words of encouragement and guidance come from Coach Van Halanger, and the rest of the Florida State Strength and Conditioning staff, who take a personal interest in each and every Seminole student-athlete. Van Halanger and staff work with each individual to tailor a custom weight program specific to their needs and goals. His office is conveniently located within the weight room, where he is close to the action at all times.

He is assisted by five graduate assistants who help maintain the weight room, work with basketball and olympic-sport program athletes, and also assist with the football team. Van Halanger will be assisted by Mark Morrison, Steve Tamborra, Eric Johnson, Russ Barbarino and Don Acosta in 1998.

"DESIRE! DEDICATION! DETERMINATION!"

Florida State student-athletes begin the strength and conditioning process the minute they step on campus. In addition to the physical work, Van Halanger and his staff believe in a three-pronged approach.

"The mental aspect of conditioning, combined with a solid spiritual base, is vital for our athletes to perform at the peak of their physical potential," says Van Halanger.

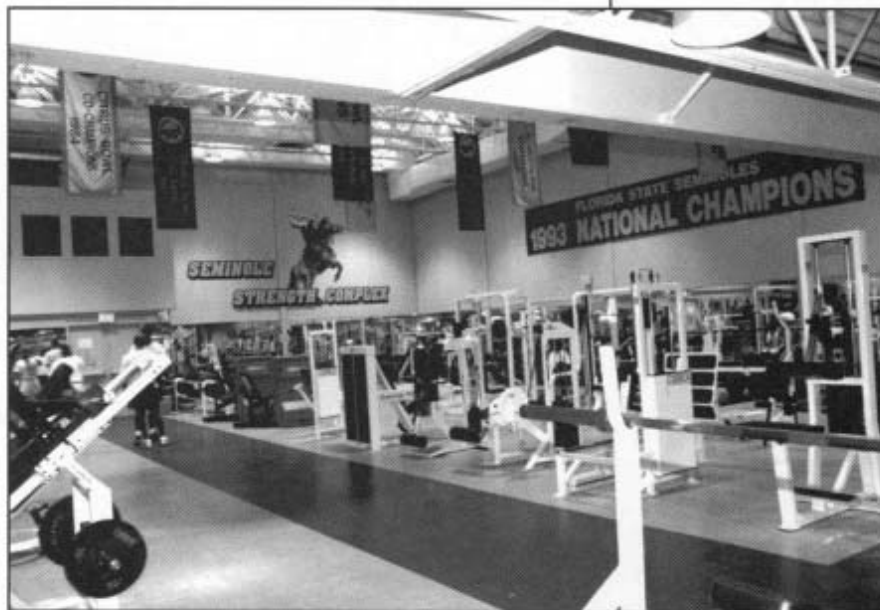

Since Van Halanger's arrival in Tallahassee 14 years ago, Florida State athletes have improved strength, speed, flexibility, quickness and explosiveness each year. They are always among the fittest in college football, which helps both endurance and injury prevention.

The 1998 Seminole football team follows the standard set by great Florida State teams of the past. Among athletes tested, the Seminole strength coaches recorded 31 players with 40-yard dash times of 4.5 seconds or better. Along with the team's outstanding speed, 24 players benched pressed over 400 pounds in spring testing with two over 500 pounds and Jerry Johnson on the verge of breaking Tra Thomas' 550-pound bench record. Junior Dan Kendra, one of the most dedicated athletes in the Seminole weight room, broke the leg press record in '96 with a mark of 1,335 pounds and continued his phenomenal efforts with an above 700-pound squat. More than twenty football players have also increased their vertical jumps to above 35 inches. Under the guidance of Van Halanger, expect to see the '98 team enhance already impressive weight room results.

"PERFORMANCE NOT PROMISES"

Superior strength and conditioning, just one more reason the Seminole football team has become a mainstay at the top.

DAVE VAN HALANGER

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

ALMA MATER: WEST VIRGINIA '76 • 16TH SEASON AT FSU

In the competitive environment of college football, games are often won because of strength and speed. Part of the reason for Florida State's success on the field is a year-round weight room program run by strength and conditioning coach Dave Van Halanger. The 16-year veteran of the Seminole coaching staff has helped thousands of FSU athletes get stronger, faster and more flexible.

Under Van Halanger's direction, the average student-athlete gains 20-25 pounds, adds 100 pounds to his bench press and 200 pounds to his squat during his years at FSU. Each athlete can knock about two-tenths of a second off his 40 time and can jump four to five inches higher when he leaves Florida State, thanks in part to the work of Van Halanger and his staff. He was named the 1993 Strength Coach of the Year by the NFL Coaches. This past spring, Van Halanger coached an FSU alumni squad to a win over the Hamburg, Germany Blue Devils.

In addition to work in the weight room, Van Halanger works closely with the FSU trainers to keep players in shape as they recover from injury.

Van Halanger spent five years as the head strength coach at his alma mater, West Virginia, prior to his arrival at FSU in July of 1983. He is credited with starting West Virginia's first organized weight training program.

A four-year letterman under Bowden at West Virginia, Van Halanger was co-captain of the 1975 West Virginia Peach Bowl team. An offensive tackle, he earned All-East honors his junior and senior seasons and was an honorable mention All-America selection as a senior. He played professionally with the Atlanta Falcons in 1976 before returning to WVU as a graduate assistant and head junior varsity coach. He became the full-time strength coach at WVU in 1978.

Van Halanger is currently serving a five-year term as a member of the National Board of Ethics for the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He teaches several classes on strength training and conditioning available to FSU students and the Tallahassee community. Van Halanger leads FSU's Fellowship of Christian Athletes group.

Many of Van Halanger's former assistants at Florida State currently hold positions as strength coaches with professional and collegiate teams across the country, including the Florida Marlins, St. Louis Cardinals, Milwaukee Brewers, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Syracuse, Samford and Maryland.

Van Halanger, a native of Turtle Creek, Pa., and his wife, Michele, have three children — Danielle, Julie and Matthew.
