SEASON PREVIEW

2017 FLORIDA STATE FOOTBALL

Spurred by a STIRRING FINISH TO LAST SEASON and driven by a roster loaded with both ELITE TALENT and BIG-GAME EXPERIENCE, the Florida State Seminoles enter the 2017 SEASON locked in on their GOAL OF RETURNING TO THE TOP of both the ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE and THE NATION.

Florida State RETURNS 20 STARTERS from a team that won seven of its last eight games, a run punctuated by a DRAMATIC ORANGE BOWL VICTORY OVER MICHIGAN that was one of the most exciting games of college football's postseason.

And despite the departures of key players on both offense and defense, the Seminoles have a WEALTH OF OPTIONS to fill those open roles thanks to the FSU coaching staff's DOMINANCE ON THE RECRUITING TRAIL over the last several years.

That TREND CONTINUED IN 2017, when coach Jimbo Fisher signed a wave of newcomers that RANKED AMONG THE BEST in the nation.

"We've been proud of things we have been able to ACCOMPLISH and do here," Fisher said. "And, at the same time, you've got to KEEP MOVING FORWARD."

The Seminoles have LEADERS on both offense and defense to help guide that FORWARD MARCH.

Quarterback Deondre Francois, the REIGNING ACC ROOKIE OF THE YEAR, is back under center after a year in which he threw for 3,350 yards and 20 touchdowns. And DO-EVERYTHING safety Derwin James is set to return to the lineup after missing most of the 2016 season with an injury.

Francois will pair with a DEEP OFFENSIVE LINE, emerging stars at receiver and running back and versatile tight ends to form one of the COUNTRY'S MOST DANGEROUS OFFENSES.

"He's a BIG-TIME PLAYER," Fisher said about Francois. "He's TOUGH, accurate and can throw the ball."

YOU'VE GOT TO KEEP MOVING FORWARD.

And James, who from play to play could line up with the defensive backs, linebackers or near the line of scrimmage, is set to pace a defense looking to build on a year in which it FINISHED AMONG THE NATION'S BEST in both sacks and interceptions.

"He is all over the field," senior linebacker Jacob Pugh said about James. "HE IS SUPERMAN."

The STAR POWER doesn't stop there. Jacques Patrick is the leading returning rusher in a deep Seminole backfield. Nyqwan Murray, Auden Tate and Keith Gavin are set to usher in a NEW WAVE OF SKILL AND SPEED at receiver. And Derrick Nnadi, Demarcus Christmas, Brian Burns and Josh Sweat make up what could be one of the MOST FEARED defensive lines in the COUNTRY.

At linebacker, FSU has both DEPTH AND EXPERIENCE. Seniors Pugh, Matthew Thomas and Ro'Derrick Hoskins lead the way, but a BRIGHT GROUP of sophomores is waiting in the wings.

And, as always, the Seminoles expect to field one of the STINGIEST SECONDARIES in the country. In addition to James, the Seminoles also boast Tarvarus McFadden, the NATION'S RETURNING LEADER IN INTERCEPTIONS and the recipient of the Jack Tatum Award. Those two will join veteran Nate Andrews, promising sophomore Levonta Taylor and a host of other former BLUE-CHIP PROSPECTS in patrolling the air for the Seminoles.

"That secondary group," Fisher said, "is really talented."

Having played in FIVE STRAIGHT BCS/NEW YEAR'S SIX BOWL GAMES, the Seminoles are well accustomed to the LIMELIGHT.

Once again, ALL EYES WILL BE ON FSU during the season's opening weekend, when the Seminoles meet the Alabama Crimson Tide at the CHICK-FIL-A KICKOFF game in Atlanta. That contest, the FIRST IN ATLANTA'S NEW MERCEDES-BENZ STADIUM, starts what will be a demanding but rewarding schedule. Following the home opener against ULM, FSU will play back-to-back home games against rival Miami and ACC Atlantic foe NC State before hitting the road for a pair of games at Wake Forest and Duke.

A REMATCH with reigning Heisman Trophy winner Lamar Jackson and the Louisville Cardinals is next, followed by alternating home and away games for the rest of the campaign: at Boston College, home against Syracuse, at defending national champion Clemson, home against Delaware State and finally at Florida to wrap up the regular season.

QUARTERBACKS

■ For the first time since 2014, Jameis Winston's last year in Tallahassee, the Seminoles have a returning starter under center. That would be Deondre Francois, the redshirt sophomore who is looking to build on an outstanding first season in which he threw for 3,350 yards and 20 touchdowns on the way to Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Year honors. Francois needed just one season to place himself among FSU's all-time greats: He already has the fifth-highest single-season passing total in school history, he led the Seminoles to their largest ever come-from-behind victory (a 45-34 triumph over Ole Miss in his hometown of Orlando) and he joined FSU standouts Tamarick Vanover, Travis Minor, Chris Rix and Winston as the only Seminoles to be named the ACC's Rookie of the Year. As Francois enters his second year at the helm, the national media has started to take notice: Sports Illustrated recently named him the No. 91 overall player in college football, and ESPN.com picked Francois as the most likely to be the new top quarterback in the ACC.

■ Backing Francois is J.J. Cosentino, a redshirt junior with five games' experience under his belt, as well as more than three years under coach Jimbo Fisher's tutelage – the most of any quarterback on FSU's roster.

■ Freshman Bailey Hockman enrolled at FSU in January and got a jump on his college career by participating in spring practice and the Garnet and Gold Spring Game. A rare left-handed quarterback to play for the Seminoles, Hockman, the son of a high school football coach, drew positive reviews for the way he quickly learned Fisher's offense. Fellow freshman James Blackman will arrive this fall.

RUNNING BACKS

■ Replacing Dalvin Cook, FSU's all-time leading rusher, is no easy feat. But the Seminoles have plenty of options in the backfield to help ease the transition.

■ Junior Jacques Patrick (350 yards, four touchdowns and 5.7 yards per carry in 2016) is the most experienced of the bunch and, at 6-2, 231 pounds, is particularly well suited to grind down opposing defenses and rack up yards as games wear on. Whereas he served primarily as a complementary piece during his two years with Cook, Patrick will now likely be asked to expand his role and lead a deep group of running backs.

■ In freshman Cam Akers, FSU has one of the most exciting young running backs in the country. The Clinton, Miss., native is among the most highly-regarded prospects to sign with the Seminoles in recent years, and he has the statistics to match: 2,105 rushing yards and 34 touchdowns as a high school senior, as well as 3,128 passing yards and 31 passing touchdowns as a quarterback. The buzz surrounding Akers is so loud that Sports Illustrated recently named him one of the top 100 players in all of college football for 2017 despite having yet to take his first snap. Akers is one of three freshmen running backs signed for 2017. Khalan Laborn and Zaquandre White are due to arrive this fall.

■ The Seminoles are blessed with depth and experience at one of the game's most physically demanding positions, as both fifth-year senior Ryan Green and redshirt junior Johnathan Vickers are back in the fold. Green carried six times for 36 yards in the spring game, and Vickers added 19 yards on five carries while impressing coaches enough to be named the team's most improved offensive player for the spring.

■ With track-star speed, sophomore Amir Rasul will look to carve a place for himself in the Seminoles' running back rotation. An injury kept Rasul out of spring camp, but that hasn't dampened Fisher's enthusiasm for Rasul, who ran for 46 yards on six carries a year ago.

■ At fullback, junior Colton Plante and sophomore Gabe Nabers will team up to offset the departure of the dependable Freddie Stevenson.

RECEIVERS

■ The 2017 season brings a new era for receivers at Florida State, as Nyquan Murray, Auden Tate and Keith Gavin lead a group looking to carry on the torch passed by three departed upperclassmen – Travis Rudolph, Jesus Wilson and Kermit Whitfield.

■ Murray (27-441 in 2016) is FSU's top returning target as well as one of the program's most elusive receivers in recent memory. Murray steadily improved as last season wore on and capped the year with an electric performance in FSU's win over Michigan in the Orange Bowl. The Orlando native caught two passes for 104 yards and two scores against the Wolverines. That includes a 92-yard catch-and-run that set a new Orange Bowl record, as well as the game-winning, 12-yard score with 36 seconds to play.

■ The towering Tate (6-foot-5) will team up with Murray to form what could be one of the ACC's scariest receiver tandems. Tate (25-409) emerged as one of Francois' favorite red-zone targets, as evidenced by his six touchdown catches. The Tampa native showed off some range, too: He led the Seminoles a year ago by averaging 16.4 yards per catch.

■ The Seminoles could have an emerging star in Gavin, a native of nearby Crawfordville, Fla., who announced his presence in a big way with a late, 66-yard kickoff return that set up FSU's game-winning touchdown at the Orange Bowl. While Gavin is still looking for his first collegiate catch, he has both the physical tools (6-3, 225) and prep pedigree (1,131 yards, 16 touchdowns as a senior at Wakulla High) to suggest big things ahead.

■ Rounding out the receiver rotation are redshirt sophomore George Campbell and junior Da'Vante Phillips, who are both looking to build on promising moments from their first two seasons. Campbell, a former prep All-American, is back after missing 2016 with an injury, while Phillips has built a reputation as a sharp route-runner and for having some of the best hands on the team. Freshmen D.J. Matthews and Tamorriion Terry will add depth this fall.

TIGHT ENDS

■ Set to enter his fourth year at Florida State, Ryan Izzo has established himself as one of the top returning tight ends in the Atlantic Coast Conference, as well as a potential candidate for the John Mackey Award. His 19 catches and 227 yards in 2016 are both third-most among FSU's receiving targets, and he also served a valuable role as both a run- and pass-blocker. Izzo wrapped up the year by earning the team's Mr. Dependable Award at its annual banquet.

■ One of the most physically gifted Seminoles, redshirt junior Mavin Saunders enjoyed a breakout year in 2016, when he caught 10 passes for 182 yards, including a diving reception on third down that kept a key drive alive during FSU's win at Miami. Both Saunders and Izzo spent time this spring lining up in different formations as Fisher looked to use their athleticism to exploit advantageous matchups against opposing defenses.

■ Sophomore Naseir Upshur, a former prep All-American, could see an expanded role in his second season. And two new freshmen – early-enrollee Tre' McKitty and Alex Marshall – will ensure that FSU has plenty of depth at the position.

OFFENSIVE LINE

■ With 15 scholarship offensive linemen already on the roster and another joining the mix this fall, the Seminoles should boast one of the deepest and most competitive offensive lines in the country.

■ It starts in the middle with Alec Eberle, a redshirt junior who has made 19 consecutive starts at center. With Eberle anchoring the interior, FSU finished third in the ACC in total offense while fielding one of the best rushing attacks in school history.

■ The Seminoles have two jobs to fill on the left side of the line, as both All-American tackle Roderick Johnson and stalwart guard Kareem Are have moved on. Offensive line coach Rick Trickett tried out a number of combinations throughout spring camp, with Josh Ball and Jauan Williams getting a lot of work at left tackle and Cole Minshew and Ethan Frith taking plenty of reps at left guard.

■ Sophomore Landon Dickerson made seven straight starts at right guard before suffering a season-ending injury. Upon his return, Dickerson could slide back into his old role at right guard, or Trickett could let Dickerson try his hand on the left side.

■ Rick Leonard finished the 2016 season as FSU's starter at right tackle, and he's looking to reprise that role this year. The former defensive end stands an intimidating 6-foot-7 and helped the Seminoles to three of their best offensive performances in their final three games of the season.

■ Trickett's devotion to cross-training and versatility means that the Seminoles will have a number of other options at virtually every position on the line. Baveon Johnson and Andrew Boselli have both shown flashes of potential at center. Brock Ruble and Derrick Kelly both have starting experience at tackle. And other players, including Corey Martinez, Mike Arnold, David Robbins, and Abdul Bello, could factor in as well.

■ Brady Scott, a 6-5, 285-pound freshman, will further bolster the Seminoles' line this fall.

JACOB PUGH

FSU DEFENSE

2017 SEASON PREVIEW

DEFENSIVE TACKLES

- In Derrick Nnadi and Demarcus Christmas, the Seminoles have one of the most physically imposing and experienced defensive tackle duos in the country. The two made a combined 24 starts a year ago and teamed up to make 13 tackles for loss. Nnadi (49 tackles, 11.5 TFLs, 6 sacks) earned first-team All-ACC honors and had perhaps his best outing in FSU's primetime matchup against Clemson. Christmas, meanwhile, established himself as one of FSU's top run-stuffers. In addition to 21 tackles and 2.5 TFLs, Christmas helped anchor a run defense that finished the season ranked 21st in the country.
- FSU has a wave of additional defensive tackles ready to step into expanded roles this fall. That includes rotation regular Walvenski Aime (17 tackles), Fredrick Jones (15 tackles, 1 TFL), the nephew of former FSU star Marvin Jones, and Darvin Taylor II, a redshirt sophomore who took home most improved defensive player honors in the spring.
- Redshirt freshman Cedric Wood and fourth-year junior Arthur Williams could work their way into the rotation and ensure that FSU's defensive tackles stay fresh, as could a highly-touted crop of freshmen that includes blue-chipper Marvin Wilson, as well as Ja'len Parks and Cory Durden.

DEFENSIVE ENDS

- Even without departed All-American DeMarcus Walker, the Seminoles appear to have a wealth of riches at defensive end. Sophomore Brian Burns and junior Josh Sweat headline the bunch, and for good reason: Burns emerged as one of the top freshman pass-rushers in the country last season, and his 9.5 sacks from a year ago are the ninth-most of any returning player in college football. And Sweat wasn't too far behind, having posted 41 tackles (11.5 for loss) and seven sacks.
- Jalen Wilkerson, Janarius Robinson and Adam Torres are among those next in line. Wilkerson, a converted tight end, drew steady praise during the spring and has a big frame that could serve as a strong complement to the sleeker Burns and Sweat.
- Freshman Joshua Kaindoh enrolled at FSU in January and wasted no time making a fast impression. He'll be joined this fall by promising freshman Tre Lawson.

LINEBACKERS

- No one generated more buzz during spring camp than Jacob Pugh, a senior who can line up at both defensive end and linebacker depending on the situation. A Tallahassee native, Pugh earned both the Defensive MVP and Hinesman (most dominant player) Awards during spring camp, with Fisher singing his praises on a regular basis. Pugh's versatility makes him an asset both in run and pass defense, as well as in the pass rush. He racked up 43 tackles, 4.5 sacks, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery a year ago.
- FSU has a pair of fifth-year seniors manning its traditional linebacker spots. Matthew Thomas, the team's top tackler in 2016, is back and looking to build on a season in which he posted 77 stops, 11 tackles for loss and a sack. That includes a career-best 15 tackles and 3.5 tackles for loss in the Orange Bowl. Fellow senior Ro'Derrick Hoskins, meanwhile, is set to enter his second full year as a starter. The steady Orlando native made 53 tackles while starting all 13 games a year ago.
- Three sophomores, Dontavious Jackson, Josh Brown and Emmett Rice are all ready for breakout years after showing promise as freshmen. Jackson and Rice each appeared in 12 of 13 games, while Brown served as a reliable contributor on special teams.
- Further reinforcements are available in the form of junior college transfer Adonis Thomas, redshirt junior Delvin Purifoy and freshmen Leonard Warner and DeCalon Brooks. If that last name sounds familiar, it should: Brooks is the son of FSU legend and Pro Football Hall-of-Famer Derrick Brooks.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

- Star power in the secondary has been one of the hallmarks of the Jimbo Fisher era, and 2017 will be no different. The biggest news is the return of safety Derwin James from an injury that cost him most of his sophomore season. Although listed as a safety, James can play virtually any position on the defense, and could line up anywhere on the field depending on the opposing offense. That versatility, along with a hard-hitting highlight reel, have helped James generate some early buzz as a candidate for the Heisman Trophy.
- As if that weren't enough, the Seminoles also boast the return of ball-hawking cornerback Tarvarus McFadden, whose eight interceptions last year tied for the most in the country and led to numerous All-America accolades and awards – he won the Jack Tatum Award (top defensive back) and was one of five finalists for the Bronko Nagurski Trophy, which is presented annually to the top defensive player in college football, regardless of position.
- Opposite McFadden, the Seminoles will have a new face taking over for the departed Marquez White. Candidates include Levonta Taylor, a former prep All-American, Kyle Meyers and Marcus Lewis. Lewis, a junior, is the most experienced of the three, having made five starts at the "star" position in 2016. And Meyers raised eyebrows with a 28-yard interception return for a touchdown during the spring game.
- Speaking of the "star," Lewis and Taylor are candidates there, as is senior Trey Marshall, who has split time there and at safety throughout his career. One of the hardest hitters on the team, Marshall's 58 tackles are second-most among FSU's returning defenders.
- At safety, FSU has plenty of seasoning in the form of fifth-year senior Nate Andrews, one of four remaining members of the 2013 national championship team. Other safety standouts include former receiver Ermon Lane, A.J. Westbrook, Calvin Brewton and Carlos Becker III.
- FSU continues to recruit the top defensive backs in the nation: Coveted DBs Stanford Samuels III and Cyrus Fagan are already on campus, and Hamsah Nasirildeen and Ontaria Wilson will be joining them shortly.

FSU SPECIALISTS

SPECIAL TEAMS

■ The Seminoles will enjoy some continuity on special teams this season, as sophomore kicker Ricky Aguayo, sophomore punter Logan Tyler and senior long-snapper Stephen Gabbard have all returned for another year. Aguayo made 19 of his 26 field goal attempts, and Tyler averaged more than 40 yards per punt – including seven punts of 50-plus yards and a long of 57 yards. Tyler's big leg also allows him to serve as a long field-goal specialist when needed. He attempted two field goals of more than 50 yards last year.

■ For the first time in four years, FSU will have a new kick returner after the departure of ace return man Kermit Whitfield. Some candidates include Levonta Taylor, Derwin James, Ryan Green, Amir Rasul and Keith Gavin. It was Gavin's big kick return in the Orange Bowl that helped propel the Seminoles to a dramatic victory.
