Florida State hired Florida native Willie Taggart to be its 10th full-time head football coach on Dec. 5, 2017. Taggart is considered one of the best offensive minds in the country and has already proven to be a relentless and effective recruiter.

Hired with less than three weeks before the first Early Signing Period, Taggart secured the 11th-ranked recruiting class in the nation in 2018. That season, he began a rebuild of the culture that included 25 student-athletes making their collegiate debut and 19 starting as a Seminole for the first time. Freshman All-American Jaiden Woodbey, who became only the ninth true freshman in the last 20 years to start a season opener at FSU, led a group of 15 true freshmen that earned playing time in 2018. Wide receiver Tamorrion Terry broke the FSU freshman record with 744 receiving yards, topping a record that had stood since 1976, and tied the program freshman record with two 100-yard receiving games. His eight receiving touchdowns ranked third in the ACC and were one shy of FSU's freshman record.

Five Seminoles earned All-ACC acclaim, led by first-team selection and Bednarik Award semifinalist Brian Burns. Burns was taken 16th overall during the first round of the 2019 NFL Draft, leading a group of six former Taggart pupils selected and marking the fifth straight year at least three former Taggart players were drafted.

During the 2018 season, FSU was recognized 11 times with a conference player of the week honor, including five awards following the victory vs. No. 22 Boston College that marked only the third time in program history with five weekly conference recognitions. The Seminoles passed for 3,241 yards, the most by an offense under a first-year head coach in program history, and the team's average of 270.1 passing yards per game ranked third in the ACC and 28th in the NCAA. Quarterback Deondre Francois returned from a season-ending injury in 2017 to start 11 games and moved into the program's top-10 lists for career passing yards, completions, total offense and 300-yard passing games. FSU produced two different 350-yard passers in the same regular season for the first time in program history after Francois topped the 350-yard mark in wins vs. Wake Forest and Northern Illinois and James Blackman, starting for an injured Francois, threw for 421 yards, the most ever by a Willie Taggart-coached team, at North Carolina State.

Taggart returned to the Sunshine State, where he was the head coach at the University of South Florida from 2013-16, after one season as head coach at the University of Oregon. He began his head coaching career at his alma mater, Western Kentucky University, from 2010-12 after serving as an assistant from 1999-2006. Between his tenures at Western Kentucky, he was an assistant coach at Stanford from 2007-09.

Taggart has led remarkable turnarounds at each of his three previous head coaching positions. In the season prior to his hire, the programs Taggart inherited were a combined 7-29, and the best team he took over before arriving at FSU was a 4-8 Oregon squad. His overall record is 52-57, including a 30-19 mark since the start of the 2015 season. From 2015-17, his offenses had the fourth-highest points-per-game average among FBS head coaches behind only Mike Gundy, Kliff Kingsbury and Urban Meyer.

Taggart jumped out to a hot start at Oregon, leading the Ducks to a 77-21 win in his first game in Eugene. The point total tied for the highest in the NCAA in 2017, was Oregon's highest since 1916 and included a school-record nine rushing touchdowns. The offensive fireworks continued as Oregon scored 42 first-half points in each of the first three games of the season, marking the first time in school history the program scored at least 42 points in one half in three straight games. The Ducks began the season 5-1 and completed the regular season with another offensive explosion, defeating rival Oregon State 69-10 for the team's seventh 40-point offensive output of the season.

Oregon ranked in the top 30 in the NCAA in 15 different statistical categories, including boasting the 12th-best rushing offense in the country rushing for 251.0 yards per game and the 18th-highest scoring offense averaging 36.0 points per game. On defense, the Ducks ranked 24th in the country in third-down defense allowing a .333 conversion percentage and 27th in fourth-down defense at .417. The defense had one of the best performances of the season against Arizona's Khalil Tate, who ranked seventh in the NCAA with an average of 128.3 rushing yards per game, holding him to only 32 yards rushing in a 48-28 victory.

Showcased by Taggart's Gulf Coast Offense, running back Royce Freeman rushed for 1,475 yards and ranked 10th in the country with an average of 122.9 rushing yards per game in 2017. His rushing total allowed him to break the program record for career rushing yards with 5,621 yards, the sixth-highest total in NCAA history, before being a third-round draft pick by the Denver Broncos in the 2018 NFL Draft.

Taggart returned home to the Tampa Bay area prior to the 2013 season to take over a South Florida team that won three games in 2012 and turned the Bulls into one of the most exciting programs in the country by 2016. In his final year at the helm in Tampa, Taggart led South Florida to a 10-2 record and No. 25 ranking in the final regular season poll, the team's first ranking since 2011 and only the second time in program history the Bulls were ranked at the end of the regular season. His offense averaged 43.6 points per game, ranking seventh in the country, and was fifth in the nation averaging 291.8 rushing yards per game. The 2016 season also marked the first time since 2010 the Bulls qualified for back-to-back bowl games.

With Taggart serving as the primary play caller, his offense broke 33 program records in 2016, including scoring, total touchdowns, total yards, rushing yards, yards per play, yards per rush and points per game. Quarterback Quinton Flowers was named the American Athletic Conference Offensive Player of the Year after becoming the first USF player to post 2,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards rushing in the same season, highlighting a program-record 10 all-conference selections.

WILLIE TAGGART HEAD COACH

Taggart helped build the offensive juggernaut with the top-ranked recruiting classes in the AAC in both 2014 and 2015. He also oversaw a vast improvement in the classroom while at USF, which improved its Graduation Success Rate in each of his four seasons and boasted a program-record 38 academic all-conference honorees in 2015.

His first head coaching job was one of the most difficult reclamation projects in the country, taking over his alma mater that had lost 20 games in a row. He quickly led Western Kentucky to its first two winning seasons since transitioning from FCS to FBS and in 2012 saw the program reach its first bowl game. The Hilltoppers had a 12-2 stretch from Oct. 2011 through Oct. 2012 with their only two losses coming to No.1-ranked LSU and top-ranked Alabama. Taggart again made a splash in recruiting as he signed the top class in the Sun Belt in 2010 and 2011.

Prior to being named head coach at WKU, Taggart was the running backs coach at Stanford, where he helped tutor 2009 Doak Walker Award winner, Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year and consensus first-team All-American Toby Gerhart. That year, Gerhart's average of 144.7 rushing yards per game helped the Cardinal rank second in the Pac-10 and 11th in the nation with 224.3 yards per game on the ground and break the school's single-season rushing record that had stood for 60 years with 2,481 total yards. The team also led the Pac-10 in total offense with an average of 441.4 yards per game.

Taggart's time as an assistant at Western Kentucky started in 1999 as wide receivers coach before shifting to coach quarterbacks in 2000, a position group he continued to coach for the rest of his time at WKU. He added co-offensive coordinator duties for the 2001 and 2002 seasons and served as assistant head coach for his final four years.

Taggart helped direct an offense that set school records with 432 points, 5,749 yards of total offense and 263 first downs on the way to the 2002 NCAA Division I-AA national championship. That season, the Hilltoppers ranked second in the nation in pass efficiency and sixth in rushing yards per game. The offense saved its best performances for the playoffs, where it averaged 38.8 points per game in the four postseason wins.

Under Taggart's guidance from 2003-06, quarterback Justin Haddix set school records with 8,890 yards of total offense, a 57.1 completion percentage, 50 touchdowns and a 137.28 pass efficiency rating. Haddix also ranked second in program history with 541 completions and 7,929 passing yards.

Taggart transitioned to coaching after authoring a playing career that ranks among the best in WKU history. He was the program's starting quarterback all four years and broke 11 school records, highlighted by his 47 rushing touchdowns, and left school holding the NCAA Division I record for rushing yards by a quarterback. He also ranked second in program history with 286 points, a 127.71 pass efficiency rating and 3,997 rushing yards and tied for third with 17 100-yard rushing games and for fourth with 30 touchdown passes.

He earned his bachelor's degree in social sciences from Western Kentucky in 1998. In 2009 he was inducted into the WKU Athletic Hall of Fame, and in 2018 he had the distinction of being honored as one of three captains on Western Kentucky's All-Century Team, a group of the 29 best student-athletes in the first 100 years of WKU football.

Taggart was recruited to Western Kentucky following a prep career at Bradenton's Manatee High School. There, he led the Hurricanes to a 5A state title as a junior and was a first-team all-state and all-conference selection as a senior after directing Manatee to the state championship game for the second straight year.

Taggart and his wife, Taneshia, have two sons, Willie Jr. and Jackson, and one daughter, Morgan.

WILLIE TAGGART MILESTONE WINS

1: OCT. 23, 2010

Willie Taggart earned his first win as a collegiate head coach with a 54-21 victory at Louisiana-Lafayette. The win, in his seventh game as a head coach, broke a 26-game losing streak for Western Kentucky and was the Hilltoppers' first conference win as an FBS program. The 54 points scored were the most for WKU since 2007 and still rank as the sixth-highest point total in a road game against an FBS opponent.

25: OCT. 17, 2015

One week after defeating Syracuse at home, Willie Taggart took his USF Bulls on the road and earned the program's first American Athletic Conference East Division victory with a 28-20 triumph at UConn. South Florida took a 7-3 lead into halftime and scored 21 points in the second half behind the strength of 312 yards of total offense, including 209 on the ground, to put away the Huskies.

50: SEPT. 29, 2018

Willie Taggart's 50th career victory was also his first ACC win as Florida State's head coach, and it was an exciting come-from-behind, 28-24 win for the Seminoles at Louisville. After trailing 21-7 at halftime, FSU outscored the Cardinals 21-3 in the second half and scored the game-winning points on a 58-yard touchdown pass with 73 seconds remaining. The Seminoles' big-play offense was on display throughout the day, with an average of 38.8 yards per play on their four touchdown passes.

Harlon Barnett enters his second season as Florida State's defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach in 2019.

In 2018, he directed a defense that ranked second in the ACC and 20th in the NCAA holding opponents to only 3.52 yards per rush. The run defense held nine of 12 opponents under their season yards-per-carry average, kept three teams from reaching 100 yards on the ground and allowed only 16 rushing touchdowns, the fourth-lowest total in the conference. The Seminoles ranked second in the ACC and 17th in the NCAA in fourth-down defense and also ranked fifth in the conference in rushing defense, third-down defense and passes intercepted.

Brian Burns, Demarcus Christmas and Marvin Wilson earned All-ACC recognition, and Burns was also a semifinalist for the Bednarik Award. Burns, who declared for the NFL Draft after ascending to fifth on FSU's all-time career sacks list, became the third first-round pick coached by Barnett after being selected 16th overall by the Carolina Panthers.

Barnett also oversaw the development of Jaiden Woodbey, who became only the ninth true freshman to start a season opener for FSU in the last 20 seasons and was named a Freshman All-American after starting all 12 games and collecting 58 tackles, 4.5 for loss with 1.0 sack, seven pass breakups and one forced fumble. Sophomore Stanford Samuels III led the team with four interceptions, the second-highest single-season total by a Seminole since 2008 and the fourth-highest total in the ACC in 2018, and fellow sophomore Hamsah Nasirildeen posted a team-high 91 tackles.

Barnett joined the Garnet and Gold following an 11-year run coaching defensive backs at his alma mater, Michigan State. He was promoted to associate head coach while retaining co-defensive coordinator responsibilities in 2017 after serving as assistant head coach and co-defensive coordinator for the 2015 and 2016 seasons. During his time in East Lansing, the Spartans were 100-45 with three Big Ten championships and were selected for the College Football Playoff in 2015.

At Michigan State, he coached three All-Americans, one Thorpe Award winner, eight different first-team All-Big Ten performers and a total of 27 all-conference recognitions. He also tutored back-to-back Big Ten Defensive Back of the Year winners after Darqueze Dennard won the award in 2013 and Kurtis Drummond claimed it in 2014. Seven of his defensive backs were selected in the NFL Draft, including Dennard taken 24th overall in 2014 by the Cincinnati Bengals and Trae Waynes picked 11th overall in 2015 by the Minnesota Vikings to become the highest-drafted Spartan in the modern era of the NFL Draft.

In 2017, Barnett directed a unit that led the Big Ten and ranked second in the NCAA in rushing defense, allowing only 95.3 yards per game on the ground. The team also ranked seventh in the NCAA in total defense by holding opponents to 297.6 yards per game, 18th in third-down defense with a conversion percentage of only .328, 19th in the country in scoring defense, allowing an average of 20.0 points per game, and had the nation's 17th-best passing efficiency defense rating. He was nominated for the Broyles Award, which is given annually to college football's top assistant coach.

Sophomore safety David Dowell earned first-team All-Big Ten recognition, and freshman cornerback Josiah Scott was a third-team all-conference selection, first-team Freshman All-American and a member of the Big Ten's All-Freshman Team. Under Barnett's tutelage, Dowell became only the second Spartan sophomore defensive back to earn first-team All-Big Ten honors and first since 1983, and Scott made 12 starts in 2017, the most by a true freshman position player in head coach Mark Dantonio's 11 seasons at MSU.

In his first season coordinating the defense, Michigan State won 12 games and the Big Ten championship on its way to the College Football Playoff semifinal at the Cotton Bowl. The Spartans forced 28 turnovers, the ninth-highest total in FBS, while also ranking in the top-25 in rush defense, sacks and scoring defense. Six times that season MSU held its opponent to less than 100 yards rushing. In 2014, he led Drummond and Waynes to All-America honors as Drummond became just the fifth All-American safety from Michigan State.

The Spartans had a historic stretch of defensive dominance from 2011-14 when Michigan State was the only FBS team to rank in the top-10 in total defense each of the four years and became only the second Big Ten team to lead the conference in rushing defense four straight years since the conference started recognizing statistical champions in 1985. The rush defense ranked in the top-two of the NCAA for three of Barnett's final five seasons, including an NCAA-best 88.5 yards per game in 2014.

The 2013 defensive backfield was highly acclaimed as all four starting defensive backs received All-Big Ten honors, including three first-team selections. That year, Dennard won the Thorpe Award as the nation's best defensive back and became the first cornerback in program history to earn unanimous first-team All-America honors.

In 2012, Michigan State ranked third in the nation and first in the Big Ten with a pass efficiency defense rating of 98.8. The Spartans also led the conference with 14 interceptions, ranked second in the Big Ten with 77 passes defended and tied for third with 63 pass breakups. Dennard and Johnny Adams both earned first-team All-Big Ten recognition as the Spartans swept the cornerback spots.

In 2010 and 2011 all four of Barnett's starters were named to the All-Big Ten Team as MSU grabbed 35 interceptions over those two seasons. The 2010 squad helped lead Michigan State to its first conference championship since 1990 by ranking in the top-25 in pass breakups, passes defended and interceptions. In 2011, the Spartans led the Big Ten and tied for 12th in FBS with 18 interceptions while also ranking 11th in pass defense and 18th in pass efficiency defense.

In his first season at Michigan State, Barnett's secondary ranked fourth in the Big Ten in pass defense and collected 12 interceptions, which were the most for the Spartans since 2003. His 2008 defensive backfield, led by first-team All-Big Ten selection and Thorpe Award finalist Otis Wiley, recorded 14 interceptions and broke up 50 passes.

Barnett moved to East Lansing with Dantonio after spending three seasons on his staff at Cincinnati and coaching four defensive backs to all-conference honors. In his first season, Barnett directed a secondary that ranked first in Conference USA and 26th in FBS by allowing only 194.2 passing yards per game. In 2006, Cincinnati had the Big East's third-ranked pass efficiency defense with a rating of 109.3 that ranked 23rd in the nation.

Barnett began his collegiate career as a graduate assistant on LSU's coaching staff in 2003, where he reunited with his former position coach at MSU Nick Saban. That year, the Tigers won the BCS National Championship, the program's first national title since 1958, after defeating Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl to complete a 13-1 season. The Cincinnati native started coaching in his hometown, serving two seasons as secondary coach and three more as defensive coordinator at Princeton High School.

Barnett authored an impressive career on the gridiron at Michigan State, compiling 154 tackles, six interceptions and 13 pass breakups. He was a three-year starter for the Spartans and earned first-team All-America honors in 1989 when he helped Michigan State rank No. 1 in the Big Ten in rushing defense and total defense. As a sophomore, he helped the Spartans win the Big Ten title and claim their first Rose Bowl victory in 32 years.

His seven-year NFL career began when he was selected in the fourth round of the 1990 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns. After three seasons in Cleveland, Barnett played the next two seasons with the New England Patriots before two seasons with the Minnesota Vikings.

Barnett earned his bachelor's degree in communication from Michigan State in 1990. He and his wife Tammy have two children, Todd and Tori.

KENDAL BRILES OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

Experience: 1st season at FSU/
12th as collegiate coach

Hometown: Stephenville, Texas

Alma Mater: Houston, 2005

Family: wife Sarah;
sons Jaytn and Kru; daughter Kinley

Kendal Briles is in his first season as Florida State's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach after being announced on Dec. 23, 2018.

Briles came to FSU having served as an offensive coordinator at Baylor during the 2015 and 2016 seasons, Florida Atlantic in 2017 and Houston in 2018. He took over play-calling responsibilities prior to the Cotton Bowl at the end of the 2014 season, and in his first game the Bears passed for 601 yards, an NCAA bowl record, and scored 41 points on a Michigan State defense that entered the game allowing an average of 19.9 points per game. Beginning with that game, his offenses have averaged 41.8 points per game over the last four years.

Briles coordinated one of the most explosive offenses in the nation in 2018. Under his direction, Houston averaged 43.9 points per game, ranking fifth in the nation, and 512.3 yards of total offense, the seventh-highest total in FBS. The Cougars were one of three teams to rank in the top-25 in passing and rushing offense, averaging 295.5 passing yards and 216.8 rushing yards per game to rank 16th and 24th, respectively. The offense scored at least 30 points in each of the first 12 games, including an NCAA-best 10 games of at least 40 points, and scored in 47 of 52 quarters in 2018. Houston opened the season with a program-record eight straight games of 40 points or more. The Cougars had 42 scoring drives of less than two minutes, which more than doubled their 2017 total of 18. Houston also ranked fifth in the country with 92 plays of 20-plus yards, and its 44 plays covering at least 30 yards were seventh in FBS.

Junior quarterback D'Eriq King flourished under Briles' direction, putting together one of the best seasons in the nation. King, who was injured in the team's 11th game, needed only 10 games to break the American Athletic Conference's single-season touchdown responsibility record with 50. His average of 27.5 points responsible for per game led the nation and was four points higher than the next-closest competitor, Heisman Trophy finalist Dwayne Haskins. King also led the AAC in total offense, passing touchdowns, passing efficiency and completion percentage. His 36 passing touchdowns ranked fifth in the nation, while his pass efficiency rating of 167.0 and his 332.4 yards of total offense per game ranked seventh. King, who was a semifinalist for the Maxwell Award and Davey O'Brien Award, had at least two passing touchdowns and one rushing score in all 10 games he finished in 2018, the longest streak by an FBS player in more than 20 years, and against USF became only the 13th player in FBS history to pass for 400 yards and rush for 100 yards in the same game.

At FAU, Briles directed an offense that ranked sixth in the country with an average of 285.3 rushing yards per game, eighth with an average of 40.6 points per game and ninth with 498.4 yards of total offense per game. He helped lead an Owls team that won three games the year before to an 11-3 record, the program's first Conference USA championship and a victory in the Boca Raton Bowl. Running back Devin Singletary became FAU's first Associated Press All-American and was named C-USA MVP after leading the nation with a program- and conference-record 32 rushing touchdowns, the third-highest total in FBS history, and 33 total touchdowns. Singletary also ranked fourth in the country with 1,920 rushing yards, the fifth-highest total all-time in C-USA, and was picked by the Bears in the third round of the 2019 NFL Draft. Quarterback Jason Driskel led C-USA in completion percentage, with the sixth-best percentage in FBS, and passing efficiency.

Briles spent the first nine years of his coaching career at Baylor helping elevate the program to historic heights, including back-to-back Big 12 championships, behind a record-setting offense. He served as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for his final two seasons following three years as passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach and four seasons coaching inside receivers. He also was the recruiting coordinator from 2012-14 after coordinating the offense's recruiting efforts from 2008-11 and was named the Big 12's Recruiter of the Year in 2013 and 2014.

In 2015, Briles was a finalist for the Broyles Award after his first season coordinating Baylor's offense resulted in the Bears leading the NCAA with 48.1 points per game and 616.2 yards of total offense, the third-highest single-season average in NCAA history, while also ranking second with 326.7 rushing yards per game. That year, guard Spencer Drago was a unanimous All-American and receiver Corey Coleman won the Biletnikoff Award as those two highlighted nine offensive players on the All-Big 12 teams. Baylor ended the season by rolling up an NCAA bowl-record 645 rushing yards and a Russell Athletic Bowl-record 756 yards of total offense to defeat No. 10 North Carolina. The 2016 team led the Big 12 in rushing offense and tackles for loss allowed and advanced to a bowl game for a school-record eighth straight season. In 2013, he helped Baylor average 618.8 yards of total offense per game, the second-highest season average in NCAA history.

During his seven years as the Bears' wide receivers coach, he tutored four All-Americans and five eventual NFL receivers, including Terrance Williams and Kendall Wright. Williams, who was a third-round pick by the Dallas Cowboys in the 2013 NFL Draft, broke the Baylor single-season receiving record and led the nation with 1,832 yards on his way to being only the sixth unanimous All-American in program history. Wright, the 20th overall selection in the 2012 NFL Draft, was an All-American in 2011 and broke every major school receiving record.

As a quarterback in high school, Briles was named the Texas 4A Offensive Player of the Year in each of his final two seasons, during which he piled up 9,322 yards of total offense and accounted for 98 touchdowns. Briles began his collegiate playing career at Texas, where he redshirted in 2001 before appearing in seven games at safety and intercepting two passes as a redshirt freshman. He transferred to Houston and moved to wide receiver, grabbing 70 receptions for 680 yards and one touchdown. He earned his bachelor's degree in sport management from Houston in 2005 and was inducted into the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame in 2014.

Briles and his wife, Sarah, have two sons, Jaytn and Kru, and one daughter, Kinley.

David Kelly was officially added to the Florida State program on Jan. 19, 2018, bringing more than 30 years of experience to his position. After also coaching the Seminoles' wide receivers in 2018, Kelly is focusing on his role as recruiting coordinator in 2019.

He was on head coach Willie Taggart's staffs at Oregon and South Florida, serving as assistant athletic director for football recruiting operations and director of player personnel, respectively. He has coached wide receivers at some of the top programs in the country, including LSU, Georgia Tech, Stanford and UCF, and coached running backs at Georgia following a successful run as head coach at Dunwoody High School in Georgia.

In 2018, Kelly tutored a young group of dynamic playmakers that helped Florida State pass for 3,241 yards, the most by an offense under a first-year head coach in program history, and rank third in the ACC and 28th in the NCAA with an average of 270.1 passing yards per game. The receivers group, which featured three freshmen and one sophomore among the top contributors, combined for 186 receptions for 2,604 yards and 15 touchdowns.

Senior Nyqwan Murray and freshman Tamorrion Terry both earned All-ACC acclaim after tying for the team lead with 744 receiving yards. Terry's total broke the Florida State freshman record that had stood for 41 years, and he also tied the program's freshman record with two 100-yard receiving games. His team-high eight touchdowns tied for fourth among all ACC receivers and were one shy of FSU's freshman record. Murray led the Seminoles with 54 receptions and ranked seventh in the ACC with an average of 4.5 catches per game. Murray and Terry each also made game-winning touchdown grabs in the final two minutes, with Murray taking a 58-yard catch-and-run for the final points in a 28-24 win at Louisville with 1:13 remaining and Terry hauling in a 74-yard bomb with 1:49 left in a 22-21 victory vs. No. 22 Boston College.

The receivers consistently showed big-play prowess as the group averaged 14.0 yards per reception and tied for the ACC lead with three 70-yard passing plays. Terry ranked fifth in the country with an average of 21.3 yards per reception and averaged 39.1 yards on his eight touchdown catches. Terry was the first Seminole since Peter Warrick in 1998, and the second freshman in program history, with two 70-yard touchdown catches in a season, and fellow freshman Keyshawn Helton added a 73-yard score against Clemson. Prior to the 2018 season featuring three 70-yard touchdown grabs by freshmen, there had only been five 70-yard touchdown catches made by a freshman in FSU's history.

In the previous two seasons, Kelly played a vital role in the recruiting operations at Oregon and South Florida. He is a highly respected coach and recruiter with experience at the high school level, ACC, SEC, Pac-12, Conference USA and, most recently, in the Canadian Football League with the Edmonton Eskimos. He was named one of the top 25 college football recruiters in the nation by ESPN in 2010 and by Rivals in 2009.

He previously was at UCF, where he served as the assistant head coach and wide receivers coach from 2007-11 after spending 2006 as the program's director of high school relations. In 2010, the Knights won 11 games, captured the Conference USA championship and defeated Georgia in the Liberty Bowl for the first bowl win in program history. In his first season as a coach at UCF, he helped the Knights compile a 10-4 record and win the conference championship.

Kelly's group developed depth every season as the offense counted on contributions from multiple wide receivers. In 2007, true freshman Kamar Aiken caught a team-high five touchdowns and was one of three receivers with at least 20 catches. Aiken made nine touchdown catches in 2009, the most by a UCF receiver since 2005, as part of a 44-catch campaign, and Rocky Ross made 41 receptions. Ross also received Academic All-America honors that season for his work in the classroom.

Before going to Orlando, Kelly was the associate head coach and wide receivers coach at Duke for two seasons. In 2002 and 2003 he coached at Stanford as the Cardinal's offensive coordinator and associate head coach.

He was the wide receivers coach at Georgia Tech in 2000 and 2001, where he developed the best wide receiver corps in the ACC to help the Yellow Jackets win 17 games and make two bowl appearances. While he was in Atlanta, he guided Kelly Campbell to first-team All-ACC honors in 2001. Campbell finished his career as the school's all-time leader in career receptions, receiving yards and touchdown receptions.

His first collegiate wide receivers job came at LSU, where he mentored the Tigers' receivers and tight ends from 1996-99. In each of his first two seasons LSU earned a share of the SEC Western Division crown. The team also appeared in the Peach Bowl twice and the Independence Bowl while he was in Baton Rouge.

Kelly's first full-time college coaching opportunity came as Georgia's running backs coach in 1994 and 1995. There, he coached Pro Football Hall of Famer Terrell Davis, Super Bowl MVP Hines Ward and Robert Edwards, among others. Davis was drafted by the Denver Broncos in the 1995 NFL Draft and became the organization's all-time leading rusher. He was named MVP of Super Bowl XXXII and helped the Broncos win back-to-back championships with a victory in Super Bowl XXXIII. Kelly attended Davis' NFL Hall of Fame enshrinement ceremony in August of 2017. Ward had a 14-year NFL career with the Pittsburgh Steelers and was named to the Steelers' All-Time Team. He won two Super Bowls with the Steelers and was named MVP of Super Bowl XL. Edwards was the 18th overall selection in the 1998 NFL Draft and played six seasons of professional football.

Kelly was the head coach at Dunwoody High School in Georgia for 10 seasons and earned a record of 80-36-1. In 1993, he capped his career with a 15-0 record and the Georgia 4A state championship. That year's team was ranked No. 3 in the final USA Today national poll, and Kelly was named Georgia's Coach of the Year by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

Kelly began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Furman after earning four letters. During his playing career, he saw time at wide receiver, running back and cornerback for the Paladins. He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Furman in 1979 and completed his master's degree in education at Furman in 1981. He and his wife, Belinda, have one daughter, Brittany, who is an aspiring model.

MARK SNYDER SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Experience: 2nd season at FSU/
31st as collegiate coach

Hometown: Ironton, Ohio

Alma Mater: Marshall, 1988

Family: wife Beth;
daughters Chelsea,
Lindsay and Shaylee

Mark Snyder was hired on head coach Willie Taggart's initial coaching staff and is in his second season at Florida State in 2019 having taken over special teams coordinator duties.

Snyder came to Tallahassee with 29 years of collegiate coaching experience, including 12 as either a head coach or defensive coordinator, and has been on staffs that have won four national championships. He spent the previous three seasons as special teams coordinator at Michigan State, where he also coached the defensive ends and linebackers. During his time in East Lansing, the Spartans won 25 games, including the 2015 Big Ten championship, and played in the College Football Playoff.

His first season in Tallahassee, during which he served as defensive ends coach, featured first-team All-ACC performer Brian Burns dominating offenses in the conference. Burns ranked first in the ACC with 15.5 tackles for loss and 10.0 sacks in conference play, and his season sacks-per-game average led the ACC and ranked eighth in the NCAA. Burns also ranked third in the conference in forced fumbles per game and fifth in tackles for loss per game, leading a group of defensive ends that totaled 24.0 tackles for loss, 14.0 sacks and 16 quarterback hurries in 2018. Burns became Snyder's sixth first-round selection after being taken 16th overall by the Carolina Panthers in the 2019 NFL Draft.

As a team, the Seminoles ranked second in the ACC and 20th in the NCAA holding opponents to only 3.52 yards per rush. The run defense held nine of 12 opponents under their season yards-per-carry average, kept three teams from reaching 100 yards on the ground and allowed only 16 rushing touchdowns, the fourth-lowest total in the conference. The Seminoles ranked second in the ACC and 17th in the NCAA in fourth-down defense and also ranked fifth in the conference in rushing defense, third-down defense and passes intercepted.

In 2017, Snyder's defensive line helped Michigan State lead the Big Ten and rank second in the NCAA in rushing defense, allowing only 95.3 yards per game on the ground. The team also ranked seventh in the NCAA in total defense by holding opponents to 297.6 yards per game, 18th in third-down defense with a conversion percentage of only .328, 19th in the country in scoring defense, allowing an average of 20.0 points per game, and had the nation's 17th-best passing efficiency defense rating.

Sophomore defensive end Kenny Willekes thrived under Snyder's tutelage in 2017. The former walk-on led the Spartans in tackles for loss with 14.5 and in sacks with 7.0, totals that also ranked sixth in the Big Ten. Willekes was a third-team All-Big Ten selection and a finalist for the Ted Hendricks Award. Sophomore defensive tackles Mike Panasiuk and Raequan Williams both earned honorable mention all-conference honors.

Kicker Matt Coghlin was named to the Big Ten All-Freshman Team and an honorable mention All-Big Ten performer after tying the MSU freshman record for field goals made with 15. He finished the season 15-of-19 on field goals, making his last eight in a row to end the season, and a perfect 38-of-38 on PAT attempts. Coghlin's makes included a game-winning 34-yard field goal as time expired to give MSU a 27-24 win over No. 7 Penn State. Punter Jake Hartbarger also garnered honorable mention All-Big Ten honors after averaging 42.0 yards per punt with a long of 62 yards and 12 punts of 50 yards or more.

During his first two seasons at Michigan State, he led four Spartan linebackers to All-Big Ten recognition, including two-time recipient Riley Bullough, who made a team-high 106 tackles as a junior before collecting 76 as a senior despite missing time due to an injury. Bullough was signed by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2017 and appeared in three games as a rookie.

In 2015, all three of Michigan State's starters earned All-Big Ten accolades, helping lead the team to the Big Ten championship and an appearance in the College Football Playoff semifinal at the Cotton Bowl. The linebackers helped pace a defense that ranked 11th in FBS in rushing defense, 25th in scoring defense and 26th in total defense.

The Spartans' special teams played a crucial role in the 2015 championship season and were directly responsible for two game-winning plays as time expired. At No. 12 Michigan, Jalen Watts-Jackson scooped up a fumble by the Wolverines' punter that he returned 38 yards for a touchdown to give the Spartans a 27-23 victory. The touchdown was later voted the No. 1 play during the 2015 season at the ESPN College Football Awards Show. At No. 2 Ohio State, kicker Michael Geiger made a 41-yard field goal to give the Spartans a 17-14 victory and snap the defending national champions' 23-game winning streak.

Snyder was Texas A&M's defensive coordinator from 2012-14. In 2014, he coached true freshman Myles Garrett, who broke school and SEC freshman records with 11.5 sacks and was a consensus first-team Freshman All-American and second-team All-SEC performer. Garrett went on to be picked No. 1 overall in the 2017 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns. In 2012, Snyder oversaw the development of consensus first-team All-American Damontre Moore, who recorded 85 tackles, including 21.0 for loss with 12.5 sacks, and was a third-round pick by the New York Giants in the 2013 NFL Draft. The Aggies finished the 2012 season with an 11-2 record and a win in the Cotton Bowl over Oklahoma behind a defense that ranked 26th in FBS by allowing an average of 21.8 points per game.

As the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at South Florida in 2010 and 2011, Snyder oversaw a top-25 rushing defense both seasons. In 2010 the Bulls allowed 125.6 rushing yards per game and were 22nd in the country before improving to 15th in the nation with an average of 107.3 yards per game on the ground in 2011. The 2011 team collected 99 tackles for loss, the second-highest total in the nation, and ranked fourth in the country with 39 sacks, while the 2010 team ranked 17th in total defense and 22nd in scoring defense. Snyder coached first-team All-Big East defensive tackle Terrell McClain, who was selected in the third round of the 2011 NFL Draft by the Carolina Panthers, as well as Super Bowl champions Jacquian Williams, who won Super Bowl XLVI with the New York Giants, and Kayvon Webster, who won Super Bowl 50 with the Denver Broncos.

Snyder was the head coach at Marshall for five seasons, during which he led the program's transition from the Mid-American Conference to Conference USA. He won 22 games, including a 6-6 mark and berth in the Little Caesars Pizza Bowl in 2009, and produced 40 all-conference selections, led by 2006 Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year Albert McClellan. Defensive end Vinny Curry was the Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year and won Super Bowl LII as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles. Running back Ahmad Bradshaw was a two-time all-conference performer before being selected in the seventh round of the 2007 NFL Draft by the New York Giants. He helped the Giants win Super Bowl XLII and Super Bowl XLVI while becoming only the eighth running back in NFL history to be the leading rusher in multiple Super Bowls.

Snyder spent four seasons at Ohio State, helping the Buckeyes win the 2002 national championship and post a 40-11 record from 2001-04. That 2002 squad ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, allowing an average of 13.1 points per game, and third in rushing defense, giving up only 77.7 yards per game on the ground. In 2003, Ohio State ranked second in the country in rushing defense, 10th in total defense and 16th in scoring defense while putting together an 11-2 record and a No. 4 final ranking.

While in Columbus, Snyder oversaw the development of first-team All-American and three-time first-team All-Big Ten linebacker A.J. Hawk, who won the Lombardi Award and was the No. 5 overall pick by the Green Bay Packers in the 2006 NFL Draft. He also coached Bobby Carpenter, the 18th overall selection in the 2006 NFL Draft, Rob Reynolds, a fifth-round draft pick in 2004, Cie Grant, a third-round selection in 2003, and Matt Wilhelm, who was a first-team All-American before being picked in the fourth round of the 2003 NFL Draft.

Prior to his time at Ohio State, he was the defensive ends coach at Minnesota for four seasons. While there, he helped develop first-team All-American and first-team All-Big Ten performer Lamanzer Williams, who led the nation with 18 sacks in 1997. He also coached Karon Riley, who led the Big Ten with 16 sacks in 1999 and earned first-team All-Big Ten recognition in 2000.

Snyder spent six seasons on staff at Youngstown State, where he helped the Penguins win three I-AA national championships and play in four consecutive national title games. At Youngstown State, he coached outside linebackers, inside linebackers and the secondary while spending two seasons coordinating the Penguins' special teams and one season as defensive coordinator. His first college coaching experience came at Central Florida, where he was a graduate assistant in 1989 before being promoted to linebackers coach in 1990.

As a player, he was an honorable mention All-American and first-team All-Southern Conference free safety at Marshall. He led the SoCon with a school- and conference-record 10 interceptions in 1987, and he made 124 tackles during his senior season to help the program reach its first national championship game.

Snyder graduated from Marshall in 1988 with a bachelor's degree in sport management and marketing. He and his wife, Beth, have three daughters, Chelsea, Lindsay and Shaylee.

Odell Haggins enters his 26th season on Florida State's coaching staff in 2019, serving as FSU's associate head coach and coaching the defensive line after overseeing the defensive tackles since 1996.

Haggins was promoted to associate head coach in 2014 and has helped FSU post a 240-79-1 (.752) record with 13 ACC titles and two national championships in his time on staff. In recognition of his many accomplishments at Florida State, he was inducted in the Florida State Athletics Hall of Fame class of 2018.

During the 2018 season he added two more all-conference linemen to his resume as senior Demarcus Christmas and sophomore Marvin Wilson both earned All-ACC recognition. Wilson's 42 tackles including 3.5 sacks, the second-highest total on the team, while Christmas recorded 28 tackles with 3.0 for loss and two pass breakups before being drafted by the Seattle Seahawks. The duo helped plug the inside of FSU's defense as the Seminoles ranked second in the ACC and 20th in the NCAA holding opponents to only 3.52 yards per rush. The run defense held nine of 12 opponents under their season yards-per-carry average, kept three teams from reaching 100 yards on the ground and allowed only 16 rushing touchdowns, the fourth-lowest total in the conference.

Haggins was named Florida State's interim head coach on Dec. 1, 2017, and the next day led the Seminoles to a 42-10 victory over ULM that clinched bowl eligibility for an NCAA-record 36th straight year. He finished his time as interim head coach with a 2-0 record after leading FSU to a 42-13 win in the Independence Bowl that clinched a 41st consecutive winning season for the Seminoles. Haggins starred on Florida State's defensive line from 1986-89. He began his career as a tight ends/offensive line coach with the Seminoles in 1994 and took over the interior defensive line duties in 1996, where he has remained a fixture for more than 20 years.

Haggins has repeatedly developed future NFL pros while at Florida State. He has coached 19 defensive linemen that have been selected in the NFL Draft, including first-round selections Brodrick Bunkley in 2006, Travis Johnson in 2005, Corey Simon in 2000 and Andre Wadsworth in 1998. Wadsworth was the No. 3 overall pick and remained the highest-drafted player in FSU history until 2015 when Jameis Winston was selected No. 1 overall.

Named one of the six best defensive line coaches in college football by CBS Sports in 2008, Haggins has repeatedly turned out top-flight talent. In addition to the first-round selections, he has coached second-round picks Eddie Goldman and Timmy Jernigan, Pro Bowler Darnell Dockett, as well as Larry Smith, Andre Fluellen, Jerry Johnson, Julian Pittman and Letroy Guion.

Haggins has established himself as an outstanding recruiter, developer of talent and a role model to his players. He earned ACC Top Recruiter of the Year honors from ESPN in 2012. In 2014, Haggins was named one of the top 25 recruiters in the nation by Rivals.com for the fourth consecutive year. He captured the same top-25 mention on 247Sports in 2016.

The 2017 version of FSU's defensive line was a dominant force in the middle as senior Derrick Nnadi, who would be taken in the third round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs, and redshirt junior Demarcus Christmas teamed up to wreak havoc in opponents' backfields. Nnadi was a third-team All-ACC selection after setting career-high marks with 53 tackles and 10.0 tackles for loss, while Christmas also posted career highs of 36 tackles and 4.5 tackles for loss. In 2016, the Seminoles ranked first in the nation in sacks per game and were fifth in the ACC in rushing defense while Nnadi garnered first-team all-conference recognition.

Haggins' defensive line anchored one of the nation's best defenses in 2015. The Seminoles ranked ninth in the country in scoring defense and allowed only 10 rushing touchdowns, fifth-fewest in the country, while improving from 17 sacks in 2014 to 32 in 2015. Two defensive linemen captured all-conference honors as Nile Lawrence-Stample was a first-team selection and Nnadi was on the third team. In 2014, Goldman captured third-team All-America honors from the Associated Press and was a first-team All-ACC selection. The Seminoles advanced to the first-ever College Football Playoff, set an ACC and FSU record with a 29-game winning streak and captured the program's third straight ACC championship that season.

A staunch interior defense played a prominent role in helping Florida State to its third national championship in the 2013 season. Jernigan enjoyed another fine season as he earned All-America nods from several organizations including the Football Writers Association of America, Associated Press and USA TODAY. The high-powered run-stuffer in the trenches led a defensive front that surrendered just seven rushing touchdowns, the fewest in the nation. Florida State's defensive tackles paved the way for the nation's top scoring defense and the third-best total defense. The work of the front four was noticeable on several fronts, including allowing just 124.8 yards per game to opposing rushers. Opponents averaged just 3.3 yards per rush against the stout defensive front of the Seminoles, and FSU continued its strong pass rush, racking up 35 sacks.

The 2012 season saw three Seminole defensive tackles earn All-ACC honors with senior Everett Dawkins and sophomore Jernigan capturing second-team recognition while senior Anthony McCloud picked up honorable-mention accolades. In part due to suffocating pressure up front, the Seminoles ranked second in the nation in total defense in 2012, yielding just 254.14 yards per contest. FSU allowed opposing running backs just 2.75 yards per carry, which tied for fourth in the country. Jernigan was productive in his first season under Haggins' tutelage, becoming a Freshman All-American in 2011 with 100 tackles, including 16.5 for loss. FSU's run defense allowed opposing backs to average just 2.35 yards per carry, which led all 120 FBS programs, and the Seminoles ranked fourth nationally in total defense.

Haggins helped produce one of the best defensive lines in the nation in 2010 as the Seminoles ranked third in FBS in quarterback sacks per game and tied with Boise State for first nationally in total sacks with 48.

Haggins' 1999 defensive front included future NFL standouts Corey Simon and Jerry Johnson, who were instrumental in FSU's 12-0 run to the national championship. The Seminoles boasted the nation's top-ranked defense in 1998 and the No. 1 rushing defense in 1996 and 1997. The 2008 defense ranked first nationally in tackles for loss.

Haggins has won at every level as a player and a coach. He was on the front end of Florida State's dynasty years, starring at nose guard for the Seminoles. FSU posted a 39-8-1 record with Haggins on the defensive line, and he was part of four bowl-winning teams. He earned Kodak, Walter Camp and UPI All-America honors as a senior in 1989.

A ninth-round pick in the 1990 NFL Draft by the San Francisco 49ers, Haggins went on to play for the Buffalo Bills during their 1991 Super Bowl season. Following a three-year NFL career, he returned to Florida State, completed his degree and joined Bobby Bowden's staff following the Seminoles' 1993 national championship season.

Haggins and his wife, Robin, have one daughter, Amelia Grace.

RANDY CLEMENTS OFFENSIVE LINE

Experience: 1st season at FSU/
19th as collegiate coach

Hometown: Wichita Falls, Texas

Alma Mater: Stephen F. Austin, 1989

Family: Wife Polly;
daughter Jordan; son Jayson

Randy Clements is in his first season as FSU's offensive line coach after being announced on Feb. 21, 2019.

Clements has nearly three decades of experience coaching offensive line and has spent 10 years working alongside FSU offensive coordinator Kendal Briles. Clements spent the 2018 season as Houston's run game coordinator and offensive line coach, returning to the school where he coached the offensive line from 2003-07. He was the offensive line coach at Baylor from 2008-16, holding the co-offensive coordinator title from 2008-11 and serving as run game coordinator from 2012-16. During the 14 seasons from 2003-16, he tutored 16 different all-conference offensive linemen and five All-Americans while producing the Big 12's Offensive Lineman of the Year four straight seasons from 2012-15.

In 2018, operating behind Clements' offensive line, Houston averaged 43.9 points per game, ranking fifth in the nation, and 512.3 yards of total offense, the seventh-highest total in FBS. The Cougars were one of three teams to rank in the top-25 in passing and rushing offense, averaging 295.5 passing yards and 216.8 rushing yards per game to rank 16th and 24th, respectively. The offense scored at least 30 points in each of the first 12 games, including an NCAA-best 10 games of at least 40 points, and scored in 47 of 52 quarters in 2018. Houston opened the season with a program-record eight straight games of 40 points or more. The Cougars had 43 scoring drives of less than two minutes, which more than doubled their 2017 total of 18. Houston also ranked fifth in the country with 92 plays of 20-plus yards, and its 44 plays covering at least 30 yards were seventh in FBS.

The offensive line, led by All-AAC honorable mention guard Mason Denley, was a model of stability as it started the same combination in 12 of 13 games in 2018. That group helped quarterback D'Eriq King, who was a finalist for the Manning Award and semifinalist for the Maxwell Award and Davey O'Brien Award, put together one of the best seasons in the nation. King averaged 27.5 points responsible for per game to lead the nation by more than four points than the next-closest competitor, Heisman Trophy finalist Dwayne Haskins.

Prior to his time at Houston, Clements was the offensive line coach for Southeastern University in 2017. That year, the Fire won the Mid-South Conference Sun Division and advanced to the NAIA Football Championship Series behind an offense that scored 55.1 points per game. The points average led NAIA and was propped by the No. 2 rushing offense of 330.4 yards and the third-best total offense per game average of 557.4. Southeastern also converted 50.7 percent of its 3rd-down attempts and 66.7 of its 4th-down attempts to rank fifth in both categories while allowing only 1.2 sacks per game.

Clements helped elevate the Baylor program to historic heights, including back-to-back Big 12 championships, behind a record-setting offense. The 2013 team, which won the school's first Big 12 title, led the nation with an average of 618.8 yards per game and 52.4 points per game while also ranking 13th with 259.7 rushing yards per game. The 2014 team led the nation in points per game with 48.2 and total offense per game with 581.5 while winning the program's second straight conference title and breaking the NCAA bowl record with 601 passing yards in the Cotton Bowl against No. 7 Michigan State. The 2015 squad led the NCAA with 48.1 points per game and 616.2 yards of total offense while also ranking second with 326.7 rushing yards per game. Baylor ended the season by rolling up an NCAA bowl-record 645 rushing yards and a Russell Athletic Bowl-record 756 yards of total offense to defeat No. 10 North Carolina.

While at Baylor, he coached linemen who earned a combined 13 All-Big 12 accolades and six All-America recognitions, including three unanimous selections. Jason Smith was an All-American, first-team All-Big 12 selection and the team's co-MVP in 2008 after his first season under Clements resulted in a Baylor-record 96 knockdown blocks. Smith was picked No. 2 overall by the St. Louis Rams in the 2009 NFL Draft, the highest-drafted player in school history and the Bears' first pick in the first round since 1996. Cyril Richardson was the conference's 2012 and 2013 Offensive Lineman of the Year and added unanimous All-American and Outland Trophy finalist to his profile in 2013. The next year, Spencer Drango was the Big 12 Offensive Lineman of the Year and a consensus All-American before becoming a unanimous All-American, Academic All-American, NFF National Scholar-Athlete, Outland Trophy finalist and Offensive Lineman of the Year again in 2015. Richardson and Drango were drafted in 2014 and 2016, respectively, and Clements also tutored Danny Watkins, who was drafted 23rd overall in 2011 to become only the second offensive lineman in program history to be taken in the first round of the NFL Draft.

In his first stint at Houston, Clements' linemen earned eight All-Conference USA recognitions while blocking for three top-12 offenses in the nation, highlighted by the 2007 team averaging 513.2 yards per game to rank fourth nationally. After switching from tight end to left tackle, Sebastian Vollmer was developed into a second-round pick by New England in the 2009 NFL Draft and played his entire eight-year NFL career with the Patriots, appearing in four Super Bowls and winning two. Overall, Clements has coached 10 offensive linemen drafted into the NFL.

Clements began his coaching career as a student assistant working with the offensive line at Stephen F. Austin in 1986 and 1987. He played on the Lumberjacks' 1988 squad that posted a 10-2 record and advanced to the quarterfinal round of the I-AA playoffs. After earning his bachelor's degree in education from Stephen F. Austin in 1989, he coached offensive line at Stephenville High School in Texas from 1990-2002 and was the school's offensive coordinator for his final three years.

Clements and his wife, Polly, have two children, Jordan and Jayson.

Former Seminole and 1999 national champion Ron Dugans was hired as FSU's wide receivers coach on Jan. 20, 2019.

Dugans returns to Florida State after three years as wide receivers coach at Miami. In his first two seasons there he also served as passing game coordinator before being promoted to co-offensive coordinator for the 2018 season. Prior to his time in Coral Gables, he coached wide receivers on Taggart's staff at South Florida in 2014 and 2015 following four years as Louisville's wide receivers coach. Dugans began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at FSU in 2005 and 2006, after which he was a coaching assistant with the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL and then served as wide receivers coach at Georgia Southern for three seasons.

In 2018, Dugans co-coordinated an offense that converted at least 45 percent of its third-down conversions in seven games after only reaching that benchmark twice the year before. In 2017, he helped direct the Hurricanes to a 10-win season that culminated with an appearance in the Capital One Orange Bowl. Braxton Berrios had career-high totals with 52 receptions, 634 yards and nine touchdowns while earning All-ACC recognition, the Jim Tatum Award as the ACC's top student-athlete and being a finalist for the Campbell Trophy. In Dugans' first season at Miami, he guided Ahmmon Richards to Freshman All-America and All-ACC honors after breaking UM's freshman receiving record with 934 yards. Senior Stacy Coley also was named All-ACC after becoming only the eighth Hurricane to accumulate 2,000 career receiving yards behind a career-high 754 yards in 2016.

Dugans' receivers broke USF's single-season touchdown record in both of his seasons at South Florida under Taggart. In 2014, Andre Davis set the Bulls' record with seven receiving scores despite missing four games due to injury. The following year, Dugans tutored Rodney Adams to a career-high 822 yards and a school-record nine receiving touchdowns that still stands as USF finished 8-5 and played in the Miami Beach Bowl.

Dugans helped lead a program revitalization in his four seasons at Louisville. The Cardinals were 23-3 over the 2012 and 2013 seasons, including 11-2 with a victory over Florida in the Sugar Bowl in 2012 and a 12-1 mark in 2013 that culminated with a win over Miami in the Russell Athletic Bowl. He guided wide receiver DeVante Parker to first-team All-AAC honors in 2013 as the junior caught 55 passes for 885 yards and 12 touchdowns. Parker, who was also a 2012 first-team All-BIG EAST selection after posting 10 touchdown receptions, caught 28 touchdowns in his first three seasons. Three Cardinal receivers caught 40 or more passes in 2013, including senior Damian Copeland who had a career-best 58 receptions for 780 yards for his second straight 50-catch season.

Prior to his time at Louisville, Dugans coached the receivers at Georgia Southern. Under Dugans' guidance, Raja Andrews broke numerous single-season school records in 2008, including 64 receptions, 873 yards and five 100-yard receiving games, while finishing the year ranked 15th nationally in receptions per game and 20th in receiving yards. Dugans started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at FSU, working in the strength and conditioning program in 2005 before working with the offense in 2006. He also served as a coaching assistant in the NFL with the Cincinnati Bengals in 2007.

Dugans was a wide receiver at FSU from 1995-99, playing his first two seasons before taking a medical redshirt in 1997. He returned to start in 1998 and 1999, helping the Seminoles reach the BCS National Championship Game in both seasons. He caught six passes for 135 yards in the 1999 Fiesta Bowl against Tennessee and grabbed five receptions for 99 yards and two touchdowns in the 2000 Sugar Bowl win over Virginia Tech that gave FSU its second national championship and completed the first wire-to-wire season as the Associated Press' No. 1-ranked team. In his career, he made 105 receptions for 1,520 yards and seven touchdowns. He was selected by Cincinnati in the third round of the 2000 NFL Draft and played professionally for four seasons, compiling 89 catches for 797 yards and three touchdowns in 46 games.

A Tallahassee native, Dugans was a three-sport standout at Florida A&M University Developmental Research School. He played football, rushing for 730 yards and 10 touchdowns while adding 75 tackles and seven interceptions on defense as a senior, in addition to participating in basketball and track and field.

Dugans and his wife, Yasheka, have four children, Yasmin, Y'Allana, Yanni and Ron, Jr.

TELLY LOCKETTE TIGHT ENDS

Experience: 2nd season at FSU/
7th as collegiate coach

Hometown: Miami, Florida

Alma Mater: Idaho State, 1998

Family: wife Shikira; sons Jakari and Tellek;
daughter Skylar

Telly Lockette is in his second season as tight ends coach at Florida State in 2019 after joining the Seminoles in December of 2017.

Lockette returned to his home state and reunited with head coach Willie Taggart as the pair worked together at South Florida for two seasons. Lockette spent the previous three seasons coaching running backs at Oregon State after serving in the same capacity at USF in 2013 and 2014.

Prior to entering college coaching, he coached two of Miami's most successful high school programs as the head coach at Miami Central and the offensive coordinator at Miami Northwestern, his alma mater. The esteemed list of players he coached in high school includes FSU's all-time rushing leader Dalvin Cook and fellow former Seminole running back and two-time Pro Bowl selection Devonta Freeman.

In his first season at Florida State, Lockette directed a group that consisted of recruited tight ends as well as converted fullbacks from the previous staff's offensive scheme. Lockette directed sophomore Tre' McKitty to 26 receptions, which ranked fourth among the ACC's tight ends, for 256 yards and his first two collegiate touchdowns. The tight end group also played a crucial role in blocking for an offense that ranked third in the ACC in passing offense, averaging 270.1 yards per game, while totaling the most passing yards in school history under a first-year head coach. The offense also topped the 400-yard mark in total offense five times.

In 2016 at Oregon State, Lockette directed a rushing attack that broke the school's single-season record with an average of 5.2 yards per carry. That season, the Beavers ranked fourth in the Pac-12 and 28th in the country in yards per rush. While in Corvallis, Lockette oversaw the development of Ryan Nall, who had the 10th-highest rushing average in the Pac-12 in 2017 and in 2016 totaled 1,165 yards from scrimmage and 15 touchdowns. Lockette also coached Artavis Pierce to Pac-12 All-Freshman honors in 2016. Nall, Pierce and Damien Haskins all earned Pac-12 Academic Team recognition while under Lockette's tutelage.

At South Florida, Lockette helped Coach Taggart establish the foundation for the Bulls' ascent to contenders in the American Athletic Conference. Lockette tutored Marlon Mack, the 2014 AAC Freshman of the Year and first-team all-conference selection who led the conference in rushing while becoming South Florida's first 1,000-yard rusher since 2005. In his collegiate debut, Mack rushed for a USF- and AAC-record 275 yards. Mack would go on to earn first-team all-conference honors in each of his three seasons and break 14 school records before being picked in the fourth round of the 2017 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts.

At Miami Central, Lockette earned a 60-10 overall record and won two 6A state championships. The Rockets were ranked as the No. 1 high school team in the nation following their 2012 state title and were the country's No. 2 high school team after a state championship in 2010. Lockette, who also guided Miami Central to the 2011 state championship game, was the first coach in South Florida history to coach a team to three straight state title game appearances.

In addition to his state titles, Lockette had an undefeated record against teams in Dade and Broward Counties for a state-record three straight years. He also was tapped to coach in the Semper Fidelis All-American Bowl twice and was an assistant coach on the USA National Football Team. He was recognized as the Prep Coach of the Year by Nike, the Miami Dolphins and the Miami Herald and earned the Nike Sportsmanship Award.

His final season at Miami Northwestern featured an offense that averaged 43.3 points per game during a 15-0 season that culminated in the 6A state crown, the school's first since 1998. His explosive offense re-wrote the state record book, including breaking the record for points per game in a season. During his time as a high school coach, Lockette worked with more than 70 players who earned college scholarship offers.

Lockette was a standout linebacker at Idaho State during his collegiate playing days. He was a two-time All-American for the Bengals and was inducted into the Idaho State Athletics Hall of Fame in 2013.

Lockette earned a bachelor's degree in education from Idaho State in 1998. He and his wife, Shikira, have three children, Jakari, Tellek and Skylar.

Family: wife Nicole; daughter Anistyn

Donte' Pimpleton is in his second season as the Seminoles' running backs coach in 2019. Pimpleton, who was college teammates with head coach Willie Taggart, has joined his staff for the fourth time. Pimpleton first coached with Taggart at Western Kentucky, where Pimpleton oversaw the wide receivers, before he joined Coach Taggart again at South Florida and Oregon, coaching running backs at both programs.

Last year, his group accounted for 1,769 all-purpose yards and was led by Cam Akers' team-high 866 all-purpose yards and eight touchdowns. Akers was a big-play threat and steady contributor for the Seminoles as his three runs of 50-plus yards, including an 85-yard rush that tied for the seventh-longest run in program history, tied for fourth in the ACC and he led the team in rushing in 10 of 12 games.

Akers recorded his fifth career 100-yard rushing game in the win vs. No. 22 Boston College as FSU produced a 300-yard passer, 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver in the same game for the first time in more than two years. Senior Jacques Patrick moved into 16th on the program's all-time career rushing list in his one season under Pimpleton, rounding out his career with 1,790 yards to sit two spots ahead of Akers' 1,730 career yards.

In 2017 at Oregon, the Ducks ranked second in the Pac-12 and 13th in the NCAA with an average of 251.0 rushing yards per game, and the team's 40 rushing touchdowns tied for seventh in the nation. Oregon's rushing total was paced by six 300-yard games and 10 games of more than 200 yards on the ground. In the season opener, UO scored an FBS-high 77 points behind nine rushing touchdowns, the most in a game in 2017 by an FBS team.

Pimpleton coached Royce Freeman, a semifinalist for the Maxwell Award and the Doak Walker Award, to second-team All-Pac 12 honors after finishing with 1,475 yards on the ground for an average of 122.9 yards per game. His per-game average ranked 10th in the country, and his 16 rushing touchdowns tied for 14th in the nation. Freeman ended his career with a school-record 5,621 rushing yards, the sixth-highest total in NCAA history. He also broke UO career records with 60 rushing touchdowns, which ranked 10th in college football history, 31 100-yard rushing games, 6,435 all-purpose yards and 64 total touchdowns. Freeman was selected in the third round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos, marking the second straight year a Pimpleton-coached back was drafted.

At South Florida, Pimpleton helped the Bulls to a program-best record of 11-2 in 2016 while completely rewriting the program's rushing record book. USF set new school records with 3,709 rushing yards, 47 rushing touchdowns, an average of 6.50 yards per rush, an average of 285.7 rushing yards per game, 77 total touchdowns scored, 569 points scored, an average of 43.8 points per game, 300 total first downs and 164 rushing first downs. The Bulls ranked second in the nation in yards per rush, fifth in rushing yards per game and 11th in total offense.

His debut season at USF also made its mark on the record books as the team broke records for most rushing yards with 3,205, highest rushing average of 5.41 yards per carry and most rushing yards per game with 246.5. The team's 28 rushing touchdowns in 2015 ranked second in team history at the time. Pimpleton tutored Marlon Mack for two seasons, helping the school's all-time leading rusher earn first-team all-conference honors in each season and break 14 school records before being picked in the fourth round of the 2017 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts.

Before becoming a member of the USF staff, Pimpleton spent two seasons at Kentucky Wesleyan. He was the Panthers' wide receivers coach in 2013 before being elevated to offensive coordinator in 2014. That season, he directed an offense that broke 10 school records as a team while 13 different individual records fell. The 2014 squad also tied the school record for wins, matching a mark that had stood since 1999. He tutored Keelan Cole, who led Division II in receiving yards, receiving yards per game and receiving touchdowns in 2014 and in 2017 helped the Jacksonville Jaguars win their first division title since 1999.

In 2010, Pimpleton joined Coach Taggart's first staff at Western Kentucky. He served two seasons as an offensive quality control assistant before being promoted to wide receivers coach in 2012 and helping the Hilltoppers reach the first bowl game in program history. His first collegiate coaching opportunity came in 2009 when he was hired as an offensive quality control assistant at Louisville.

Pimpleton began his coaching career in the high school ranks in his hometown of Louisville, Kentucky, serving as wide receivers and defensive backs coach for one season at Iroquois High School before handling both roles for two years at his alma mater, Fern Creek High School. Before joining the University of Louisville staff, he spent two seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Doss High School.

Pimpleton played quarterback and wide receiver at Western Kentucky following a prep career as an all-state quarterback at Louisville's Fern Creek High School. At WKU, he gained 1,425 rushing yards with 18 touchdowns and caught 13 passes for 165 yards and four touchdowns in a run-heavy offense. He helped lead the Hilltoppers to the 2000 Ohio Valley Conference championship and earned honorable mention All-Gateway Conference honors in 2001. Following his collegiate career, he played three seasons in the Arena Football League and two more seasons in the American Indoor Football League.

Pimpleton earned a bachelor's degree in business and communications from Western Kentucky in 2002. He and his wife, Nicole, have one daughter, Anistyn.

RAYMOND WOODIE LINEBACKERS

Experience: 2nd season at FSU/
10th as collegiate coach

Hometown: Palmetto, Florida

Alma Mater: Bethune-Cookman, 1996

Family: wife Stephanie;
sons Raymond and Kaden;
daughter Alanah

Raymond Woodie is in his second season coaching the Seminoles' linebackers in 2019 after joining head coach Willie Taggart's staff for the fourth time.

Woodie coached defensive ends and linebackers at Western Kentucky before serving as linebackers coach, assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at South Florida and then outside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator at Oregon. He is one of only three staff members to be with Coach Taggart in every season of his head-coaching career.

In 2018, Woodie took over a position that returned only seven total starts among the entire linebacker corps. The group was led by Dontavious Jackson, who ranked second on the team with 75 tackles and became the first Seminole since 2001 to have multiple games of at least 14 tackles in the same season. Jackson, redshirt freshman DeCalon Brooks, sophomore Leonard Warner and true freshman Jaiden Woodbey, who earned Freshman All-America honors while starting all 12 games at the STAR position, all flashed versatility, stuffing each section of the stat sheet with a combined 217 tackles, including 16.0 for loss, one interception, 14 pass breakups, 10 quarterback hurries, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

The Seminoles ranked second in the ACC and 20th in the NCAA holding opponents to only 3.52 yards per rush. The run defense held nine of 12 opponents under their season yards-per-carry average, kept three teams from reaching 100 yards on the ground and allowed only 16 rushing touchdowns, the fourth-lowest total in the conference. The Seminoles ranked second in the ACC and 17th in the NCAA in fourth-down defense and also ranked fifth in the conference in rushing defense, third-down defense and passes intercepted.

Woodie orchestrated a nearly perfect kicking game in 2017 as Oregon finished the season 63-of-63 on PAT attempts and 9-of-12 on field goals. Additionally, the team's average of 22.73 yards per kickoff return ranked third in the Pac-12. Long snapper Tanner Carew earned first-team All-America honors from Phil Steele and was invited to the Senior Bowl, and freshman Brenden Schouler was a first-team All-Pac-12 selection as an all-purpose/special teams player. Kicker Adrian Schneider broke Oregon's school record with 51 career made field goals.

On defense, Woodie's outside linebackers made major contributions to a unit that ranked 23rd in the country with 25 turnovers forced, 22nd with an average of 7.2 tackles for loss per game and 24th in rushing defense by allowing 128.5 yards per game on the ground. The team's total defense ranking soared from 126th in 2016 to 46th in 2017.

At South Florida, Woodie held the title of assistant head coach for two seasons and coordinated the Bulls' defense during their record-breaking 2016 season. That year, USF won a school-record 11 games while the defense forced 26 turnovers to rank 18th in the country and returned three for touchdowns, tied for the 19th-highest total in the nation.

He also oversaw the linebackers at South Florida, coaching two to all-conference recognition. In 2014, Nigel Harris led the country and broke a school record with six forced fumbles. Woodie tutored the Houston Texans' sixth-round selection in the 2015 NFL Draft, Reshard Cliett, and also helped DeDe Lattimore and Harris reach the NFL.

In 2015, he was responsible for the Bulls' special teams and coached the sixth-best kickoff return unit in the country as USF finished the year with a program-record average of 26.66 yards per return. Kickoff returner Rodney Adams was a second-team all-conference selection after leading the American Athletic Conference and ranking sixth in the NCAA with his average of 29.1 yards per return. Adams was selected in the fifth round of the 2017 NFL Draft by the Minnesota Vikings.

Woodie boasts an impressive resume on the recruiting trail and impacted Florida State immediately as he was ranked as the No. 2 recruiter in the ACC by 247Sports in 2018, despite having less than two months to recruit for the Seminoles after he was hired. Woodie earned AAC top recruiter recognition by Rivals in 2014 and was named the Sun Belt's Recruiter of the Year by Scout/FoxSports.com in 2012. He was also ranked as the No. 1 recruiter in the Pac-12 and No. 13 nationally by 247Sports during the 2017 season. He helped Coach Taggart sign the AAC's top classes in 2014 and 2015, directly recruiting nine of USF's 10 all-conference selections in 2016, and the highest-ranked classes in the Sun Belt in 2010 and 2011.

While at Western Kentucky, he recruited Venice, Florida, native Forrest Lamp and Lakeland, Florida, native Andrew Jackson to Bowling Green. Lamp was a second-round pick by the Los Angeles Chargers in the 2017 NFL Draft and Jackson was selected in the sixth round of the 2014 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts. They are two of seven Hilltoppers recruited by Woodie to play in the NFL.

Before entering college coaching with Taggart at Western Kentucky, Woodie was a high school head coach in South Florida for 13 seasons. He was the head coach at Palmetto High School from 2007-09 and led the Tigers to a district title in 2008. From 1997-2006, Woodie was the head coach at Bayshore High School following one season as the team's defensive coordinator and led the Bruins to the state playoffs seven times. When he took over as head coach he was only 23 years old, making him the youngest head coach in the state.

Woodie lettered as an outside linebacker and strong safety at Bethune-Cookman from 1992-95, where he earned GTE Academic All-America honors and was a I-AA All-American and first-team All-MEAC performer his final two seasons. As a junior, he broke the program's single-season record with 14.5 sacks. Following his collegiate career, Woodie spent one season playing for the CFL's British Columbia Lions.

A native of Palmetto, Florida, and graduate of Palmetto High School, Woodie graduated from Bethune-Cookman in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice and earned his master's degree in education from National Louis University.

Woodie and his wife, Stephanie, have three children, Raymond, who is a freshman defensive back for the Seminoles, Alanah and Kaden.

Irele Oderinde is in his second season at Florida State and his sixth overseeing a collegiate strength program in 2019.

Oderinde came to Tallahassee after spending the 2017 season as the football head strength and conditioning coach at Oregon. From 2014-16, he was the director of athletic performance at South Florida. In that role, he oversaw the strength and conditioning programs for all 19 USF sports and designed a year-round training program for the football team.

He joined the South Florida staff after one year as West Virginia's coordinator of strength and conditioning, where he specialized in exercise selection and skill development for the Mountaineers' linemen. From 2010-12, he was the assistant strength and conditioning coach at South Carolina leading year-round training for the Gamecocks' men's basketball and tennis teams.

Oderinde began his career at Western Kentucky, serving as an assistant strength and conditioning coach from 2005-07. In that time, he developed and implemented programs for the men's basketball team while assisting with football and softball. He then spent two years as the speed and skills development coach at Notre Dame.

Oderinde was a four-year letterman at Western Kentucky. From his nose tackle position, he helped lead the Hilltoppers to a 40-13 overall record, four straight NCAA Division I-AA playoff appearances for the first time in school history and the 2002 national championship. As a senior, he started 12 games and made 45 tackles, including 9.0 for loss with 1.0 sack.

Oderinde earned his bachelor's degree in recreation administration from Western Kentucky in 2003 and a master's in sport management from Western Kentucky in 2007. He is married to the former Amber Robey.
