2002-03 WOMEN'S OUTLOOK

The Lady Seminoles had the best ACC season in school history in 2001-02. With the loss of major seniors such as Christy Cech, Candice Nethercott and Keryn Krynauw, it would be hard to believe that the 2002-03 squad could have the tools to match the success of last season. Not so, according to head coach Neil Harper. Harper explains that with the maturation and development of a talented group of returnees and the signing of three junior transfers, this season could produce even better results for the Lady Seminoles.

Emma Dutton enters her junior year after competing in three events at the 2002 NCAA Championships. Expect Dutton to not only return to the NCAA Championships in 2003, but also compete for All-America honors. Sophomore Emily Breen was a delightful contributor for the Lady Seminoles and had the talent to help out the squad in a variety of events. Fellow sophomore Lisa How will benefit from a year under her belt and an excellent summer of training and conditioning.

Rachel Dong, Andree-Anne LeRoy and Katie Byrnes are junior transfers from Washington State and possess the ability to compete at the NCAA Championships this season. Both Dong and LeRoy enjoyed a trip to the national championships last year, while Byrnes reached preliminary qualifying marks. The trio brings a multidimensional attack to the Lady Seminoles, allowing Harper to use their talents in a number of events.

Sprints

Harper will lean on senior Elizabeth Parkinson and sophomore Jennie Lyes to lead the Lady Seminoles in the sprint relays. Dutton will contribute in the 50-yard freestyle. Dong will provide important depth to a sprint squad that lost Cech, the school record holder in the 50- and 100-frees and a two-time All-American, to graduation. Breen can contribute in the short sprints and will be effective in the 200-free as well. Sophomore Christy Pesce will benefit from working with a strong group and should show improvement by the end of the year. Juniors Amy Lo and Loren Hansen have also shown improvement in the 200-free since the end of last season.

Distance

The distance group has gradually improved each year. All the main contributors in the distance squad return in 2002-03, which should mark one of the best showings for the Lady Seminoles at the ACC meet in the distance events. Leading the way in the distance group is sophomore Angie Leach. Lo, Hansen, junior Jennifer Smith and sophomore Golda Marcus will join Leach in the distance events. Last season Leach and Lo scored at the ACC meet and will show improvement by moving up in the conference ranks in 2002-03.

Fly

The butterfly should be a solid event for the Lady Seminoles this season. Dong will lead the way with the goal of returning to the NCAA Championships in the 100-yard fly. Breen and junior Tonya Rasor will contribute in the 100-fly for the Seminoles. In the 200-fly, Harper will lean on How, who has become the team's mainstay in the event. Harper believes that How is much more focused this year and will not only make an impact at the ACC Championships, but could also qualify and score at the NCAA meet. Hansen was a surprise in the 200-fly and looks to become a force in that event on a regular basis.

Backstroke

The backstroke event could go from being just average for the Lady Seminoles last season to being one of their stronger events in 2002-03. Breen will lead the group and will be very beneficial to the team, particularly in the 100-yard back. LeRoy, Byrnes and sophomore Laura Kenney will join team captains, and seniors, Margaret Colley and Betsy Nagy to add additional help in the 200-back. Harper will find that he has a group of six or seven swimmers to pick from to compete in the back events, this should result in a stronger and very competitive group of competitors at the ACC Championships.

Breaststroke

The 100-yard breaststroke may be the best individual event for the Lady Seminoles in 2002-03. Dutton and Dong will lead the way for FSU in the 100-breast and both should look towards a return trip to the NCAA Championships at season's end. The 200-breast will be a challenging event, which will see consistency from Dutton and Dong. Junior Jennifer Henshaw, who is returning after a year off due to injury, and How are proven competitors in the 200-breast.

Individual Medley

The 200- and 400-yard individual medleys will provide several opportunities for the Lady Seminoles to go to the NCAA Championships. Dutton and LeRoy competed at NCAA's last season and will strive to do so again in the 200-IM. Harper predicts great races between the two in the 200-IM as they push each other for the school record. LeRoy will also contribute in the 400-IM. Leading the Lady Seminoles in the 400-IM will be How, who holds the school record. Kenney, who according to Harper is now more focused and ready to compete, will look to retake her 400-IM school record, which How broke late last season. Expect Hansen and Henshaw to shake things up in the 400-IM as they also contribute for the Lady Seminoles.

Relays

In Harper's assumption, the freestyle relays will be a strong point for the Lady Seminoles in 2002-03. There is a solid group to choose from for the 4x50 and 4x100-free relays. The competition between Dutton, Dong, Lyes, Parkinson, Breen and LeRoy for spots on the squads will be fierce. The 4x200 will be much better this season. The improvement from Leach and Lo and the addition of LeRoy should make the 4x200-free squad a competitive one at the ACC Championships.

The outlook for the medley relays is exciting. Returning from last year's ACC Championship title winning 4x100-medley relay are Dutton and Breen. Harper plans on using Dong in the fly and will wait to see which sprinter will step up to help out the squad. Look for the Lady Seminoles to be favorites in the 4x50 and 4x100-medley relays at the ACC Championships.

2002-03 MEN'S OUTLOOK

With another top four finish in the ACC under their belts, head coach Neil Harper and his men's swim team are ready to make a move up the conference ladder in 2002-03. The Seminoles return their core group from last year, including an experienced and talented senior class. Harper expects to send a larger representation to the NCAA Championships this season now that he has added some missing pieces to the puzzle. The addition of Joel Roycik and Chris Vythoukas, two impressive freshmen recruits, gives Harper one of his deepest rosters in terms of talent and will strengthen the relay squads. A top three finish at the ACC Championships will not be out of the question for the Seminoles in 2003.

Sprints

The 2002-03 edition may be one of the best sprint squads FSU has ever had. The sprint roster goes six to seven deep, all of which have improved over the summer and can contribute to the team. Leading the way are three talented seniors, Nnamnse Ammons, Matt Carmen and Joey Marshburn. Ammons turned in NCAA-B cut times in both the 50- and 100-yard frees last season, while Carmen reached the B-cut in the 100 and Marshburn in the 50. All three seniors placed in the top six at the ACC Championships in the 100-free and plan to improve their placing in 2003. Junior Michael Paulus competed in the consolation finals at the ACC meet in both the 50- and 100-frees. This season's goal for Paulus will be to break into the top eight at the ACC's. Fellow junior Wickus Nienaber, an accomplished breaststroker, is a proven sprinter in the 50-free and turned in the Seminole's top finish at ACC's, placing sixth. Roycik, who won two state titles in the 50-free and set the Florida high school record, will push the veteran core.

Distance

Harper believes that the distance freestyle events will no longer be a weak link for the Seminoles. Junior transfer Fernando Jacome joins three returning distance specialists in Alan Ribeiro, Ted Bradley and Andrew Skaggs. Jacome, a former JUCO All-American, will help the Seminoles in scoring at major meets, especially the ACC Championships. Ribeiro, Bradley and Skaggs are all sophomores with a year of experience. Harper believes the time the three sophomores have already spent in the pool will pay off in competition.

Butterfly

Senior Devin Crock will be the team leader in the butterfly this season. Crock's strength lies in the 100-yard fly, which he won at the 2001 ACC Championship and placed second in 2002. Crock will enter the 2003 conference meet as the heavy favorite to win the 100-fly. After turning in NCAA-B cut marks in 2002, Crock hopes to qualify for the national championships in 2003. Sophomore Michael Averett placed an impressive ninth in the 100-fly at ACC's and will add depth the squad. Roycik joins the Seminoles as a two-time Florida state high school champion in the 100-fly. Vythoukas was an accomplished butterflyer in high school as well. Junior Matt Wheeler is the Tribe's 200-fly specialist. Harper is confident that good training can help Wheeler immensely in 2002-03.

Backstroke

Harper understands that the backstroke will be an untested event for his team this season. He will look for freshmen Brent Campbell and Jared Heine to gain valuable experience and help the Seminoles score at meets. Both freshmen are eager to perform and have an opportunity to help out the team. Crock is able to flip over and compete in the backstroke and may end up being the go-to guy if need be. Vythoukas is another member of the team who can assist in the back events.

Breaststroke

The breaststroke will be one of the strongest events for the Seminoles in 2002-03. Senior Justin Betts was the Seminoles' only swimmer to compete at the NCAA Championships in 2002 and will be the leader of the group. Two very talented juniors in Tal Stricker and Nienaber join Betts in the breaststroke. According to Harper, on any given day any three of them can step up and win. Betts' strength will be the 100-yard breast while Stricker will set the pace in the 200-breast, which he holds the school record in. Nienaber will push both of his teammates for the top spot in each event. All three have potential to qualify and score at the 2003 NCAA Championships. Harper is excited about this group and looks for them to be big time scorers for the Seminoles this season.

Individual Medley

The 200-yard IM will rank right up there with the sprint frees and breaststrokes as the squad's top events. Betts is strong in the 200-IM and returns after setting the school record and competing at NCAA Championships in 2002. Stricker swam NCAA-B cut marks in the 200-IM last season and will team up with Betts to score major points. The Seminoles are untested in the 400-IM. Harper will need Wheeler to have a strong season and expects Betts to contribute at this distance too.

Relays

The relay squads will definitely be a strong point for the Seminoles in 2002-03. All three freestyle relays will be fast. The 4x50-yard free relay squad will be impressive and should enter the ACC Championships as a favorite. Ammons, Carmen, Marshburn and Nienaber swam the 4x50 last season and placed second at the ACC meet. The similar scenario goes for the 4x100 relay which included Paulus. The Seminoles also placed second in the event at last year's ACC meet and will look to be the favorites in 2003. The addition of Roycik will only elevate the 4x50 and 4x100 free relay teams. Roycik's presence will help ignite an exciting competition between all the sprinters for spots on the relay squads. The 4x200 free relay will see improvement almost immediately with the addition of Jacome. Averett is proven in 200-free and, along with Ribeiro and Bradley, will assist in the squad's success this season.

The medley relays will be another source of success for the Seminoles in 2002-03. The 200-medley returns all the members of last season's squad including Crock, Betts, Marshburn and Ammons, that won the ACC title. If the foursome can swim error free this year, the 200-medley squad can look forward to a trip to the NCAA Championships. The success of the 400-medley depends on whether or not a newcomer can contribute in the backstroke in order to move Crock to the butterfly. In the end, the Seminoles will be able to count on the medley relays not to let them down.

2002-03 DIVING OUTLOOK

With another successful season in the record books, the FSU diving team will focus on remaining the Atlantic Coast Conference power and improving its All-America status in 2002-03. This year's squad remains relatively young with three freshmen, four sophomores and a junior with a lot of promise for this year and the future.

Three-time ACC champion and 2002 All-American junior Chelsie Lerew leads the way for the women and is accompanied by sophomore standouts Tiffany Manning and Courtney McClow. Manning was the 2002 ACC Freshman of the Year and an All-American, while McClow won the ACC title on the one-meter.

Sophomore Louie Gagnet, who won two ACC titles and just missed All-America honors last year, will have some company this season after being the lone member of the men's squad in 2001-02. Head coach Patrick Jeffrey brought in four talented recruits for the men's team that will help bolster their scoring at the ACC Championships.

"I'm very excited about this year," stated head coach Patrick Jeffrey. "I have gotten to the point where I think the quality of kids I have and their work ethic, their disposition, their willingness to train and their desire to be great, is at an all time high. I'm enjoying myself at practice. These kids are enjoying themselves at practice and we're having a great time. I think that will show in their performances this year."

Women's Team

FSU will be the only team in the conference returning All-ACC members in 2002-03. Matter of fact, in the last two seasons, 10 of the last 12 women's diving All-ACC members have been Lady Seminoles. Coach Jeffrey plans on continuing that domination in 2002-03 with his three returnees.

Lerew has been working with the training staff and strength and conditioning staff during the off-season to properly prepare for this year. Jeffrey expects Lerew to once again place high at the ACC Championships and make it to the finals at NCAA's. He wants to make sure that Lerew avoids any chance of running into injuries, which hampered her at the end of last season, and has credited the training staff on doing a great job in bringing her back into shape. Lerew takes on a leadership role this season as the women's team captain. Jeffrey has always been confident in her leadership abilities and believes that Lerew will be a role model for Manning and McClow.

Manning enters the new year as the squad's top platform diver and will focus on competing in the finals at the NCAA Championships. Jeffrey expects another strong season from Manning in 2002-03 and looks to see her not only final at the ACC Championships, but also vie for a title.

McClow continues to improve each day at practice, which is good news for the Lady Seminoles. Look for McClow to have a strong showing at the ACC Championships and defend her one-meter title. Jeffrey believes that McClow has a great shot at qualifying for the NCAA Championships.

Men's Team

After two seasons of having only one diver on his men's squad, coach Jeffrey will finally be able to score more points at the ACC Championships with the addition of one transfer and three freshmen.

Gagnet, the 2002 ACC Meet Most Valuable Diver, returns to headline the group. Gagnet's road to being the best in the ACC, let alone on the team, has become more challenging with the arrival of Sam Hood, Stuart de la Rossa, Pete Crane and Jason Beinlich. All five divers will push each other through healthy competition at practice to become the best performers they can be. According to Jeffrey, all five divers have a chance of competing in the finals at the ACC Championships.

Gagnet's impressive season last year gives the other members of the team a goal of their own to strive towards in 2002-03. Gagnet will be the favorite at the ACC Championships on both the one- and three-meter boards. His main goal, however, will be to return to the NCAA Championships and earn All-America honors.

Hood of Philadelphia, Pa., a sophomore transfer from LaSalle University, was named the team captain due to his incredible work ethic. The addition of Hood gives the Seminoles another quality platform diver, and Jeffrey believes that Hood has a good chance of qualifying for the NCAA Championships on the platform.

Crane, a native of Fairport, N.Y., has great physical ability for the sport and has been very consistent in addition to being a great presence on the team. Jeffrey believes Crane will be solid at the ACC Championships after proving to be a strong diver on the one-meter.

De la Rossa joins the team from Erdenhiem, Pa., where he was a state champion. De la Rossa gives the Seminoles another impact performer on the one-meter, and Jeffrey thinks that he should be a force at the ACC meet.

Rounding out the group is Beinlich, out of Ridley, Pa., who brings a lot of talent to the group. Beinlich did a great job in his training and overall learning of his dives during the preseason. Jeffrey also plans to get some platform work in for Beinlich at the end of the year.

2002-03 Seminole Diving Team

2002-2003 COACHES' BIOS

COACH NEIL HARPER

Head Coach - 4th year - (Louisiana State, 1988)

The 2001-02 season was one to remember for Florida State's men's and women's swimming and diving head coach Neil Harper. In only his third year at the helm, Harper brought the Lady Seminoles to national prominence with a top 25 finish at the 2002 NCAA Women's Swimming and Diving Championships (24th) and a top 25 ranking in the final College Swim Coaches Association of America poll (22nd).

In the classroom, Harper's teams had a landmark season academically in 2001-02. Both the women's and men's teams were named Academic All-America teams by the College Swim Coaches Association of America. The women's team GPA of 3.29 was third best in the ACC, while the men's GPA of 2.81 was fourth best in the conference. In addition, Christy Cech and Justin Betts were among the nation's elite competitors to be named Academic All-Americans by the CSCAA. For the conference, the Seminoles set a school record with 32 members being named to the 2001-02 ACC Academic Honor Roll.

At the 2002 NAAs, the women sent five athletes and together they amassed seven top-25 finishes in their individual events, including a first-team All-America honoree in Tiffany Manning and two All-America honorable mention recipients. Manning, the Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Year, captured seventh place on the platform event, while fellow diver Chelsie Lerew finished 14th on the one meter. Meanwhile, Christy Cech placed ninth in the 50-yard freestyle, winning the consolation final, to earn her second straight All-America honor.

The 2002 ACC Women's Championship turned out to be the best in school history. Harper led his women's squad to its best showing at the conference meet with a third place finish, its highest since placing third in 1995, and a school record 577 team points. Cech brought home titles in the 100-free and 400-yard medley relay to lead the way for swimmers. In diving action, the Lady Seminoles swept both events with the one-meter title going to Courtney McClow and the three-meter title going to Lerew. Lerew was later named the Most Valuable Diver of the meet.

In dual meet action, Harper led the Lady Seminoles to a school record 14 wins. The 14 victories were the most for the women since a 10-win season in 1990. Three of the women's victories came against Alabama, South Carolina and LSU, which were all nationally ranked at the time of competition. Not to be outdone, the men went 10-3 on the season and finished 29th in the national poll.

Harper has coached the last three summers at the biggest international swimming events. In 2000 he was a member of the South African Olympic Coaching Staff in Sydney, Australia. In 2001 he traveled to Fukuoka, Japan to coach Wickus Nienaber in the FINA World Championships. This past summer he coached Nienaber in the 2002 Commonwealth Games in Manchester, England and was joined at the meet by former Seminole All-Americans Stephen Parry and Brett Petersen and newcomer Chris Vythoukas.

Harper returned to Tallahassee in May of 1999 after two years as the Head Women's Swimming Coach at Ohio State. In two seasons at OSU, Harper's team posted a mark of 15-12 and qualified six Buckeyes to the NCAA Championships. In both years, his teams were NCAA all-academic teams and more than 20 of his athletes were named to the Big Ten Conference All-Academic Team.

From 1994-97, Harper served as the top assistant at Florida State where he coordinated recruiting, served as the strength and conditioning coordinator and coached the stroke/IM group. During that time, Stephen Parry became FSU's first ever NCAA Swimming Champion in the 200 Butterfly. FSU produced its first three All-American women in over 10 years as Harper coached Anne Blachford (200 IM), Helen Jepson (200 Fly) and Samantha White (100 Breast) to NCAA success.

Harper graduated from Louisiana State University where he served as an assistant coach from 1988-94. During that time, he helped coach 21 swimmers to NCAA All-America honors and seven Southeastern Conference champions. As an LSU Tiger, Harper was a seven-event NCAA All-American and four-event SEC champion. As a senior, he captained the LSU team to its first SEC team championship.

Andy Robins

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH, 8TH YEAR
(WILLIAM & MARY 1983)

The 2002 season came to a satisfying finish for Andy Robins. Not only did his star pupil Christy Cech earn All-America honors for the second straight year, but also Robins was promoted to associate head coach. Heading into his eighth season as a Tribe assistant, Robins has become a staple for Garnet and Gold swimming.

Robins' primary focus on deck is working with the sprint group. As in seasons before, Robins was once again able to bring out the best in his swimmers for the 2002 season. Under his tutelage, Cech earned a conference title in the 100-yard freestyle and finished second in the 50-free in 2002. In addition, the 400-yard free relay squad placed third to help the Lady Seminoles earn their best finish at the conference meet in school history. Cech later went on to win the 50-free consolation final at the 2002 NCAA Championships to earn All-America honorable mention accolades.

On the men's side, Robins helped the 200- and 400-sprint relays earn second-place finishes at the 2002 ACC Championships. In the individual sprints, three Seminoles finished in the top 10 in the 100-free and two finished top 10 in the 50-free. With three talented seniors leading the way in 2002-03, Robins' sprinters will be looking to fight for conference titles.

While at FSU, Robins has been instrumental in the development and success of several All-Americans including Cech, Stephen Parry, Nelson Mora and current assistant coach Anne Blachford. In addition to his on-deck coaching duties, Robins' responsibilities include recruiting, organizing team workout information; performance data and home meet management.

Robins has been actively coaching swimming since 1980. He has held various assistant and head coaching positions, especially in the local Tallahassee area. Beginning in 1985, Robins began coaching for the Area Tallahassee Aquatic Club and eventually became head coach for A.T.A.C. in 1993. Robins led A.T.A.C. to a top 10 finish at the spring 1996 Junior Nationals.

Other local swimming coaching positions Robins has held include coaching Leon High School in Tallahassee from 1986-1991. In 1987 he was recognized as the Tallahassee Democrat's High School Coach of the Year.

Robins also served as head coach of Florida's All-Star Team in 1990 and 1991, after previously holding the assistant coaching position for the team in 1989.

Robins served on the Florida Swimming Board of Directors, the House of Delegates, and the Technical Planning Committee from 1987-1998.

Patrick Jeffrey

DIVING COACH
3RD YEAR (OHIO STATE 1988)

In just three seasons, head diving coach Patrick Jeffrey has made the FSU diving team the envy of the Atlantic Coast Conference. As the most feared and respected diving program in the conference, the Seminoles have dominated the ACC championships by sweeping titles on the one- and three-meter in both men's and women's competition for two straight years.

ACC Freshman of the Year, Tiffany Manning, earned first-team All-America honors on the platform following her seventh-place finish at the 2002 NCAA Championships. Sophomore Chelsie Lerew and Manning both competed on the one- and three-meter boards, with Lerew earning All-America Honorable Mention on the one-meter.

At the ACC meet in 2002, Lerew brought home her second Most Valuable Diver award after winning the three-meter competition and placing second, behind freshman teammate Courtney McClow, on the one-meter. Manning and Michelle Sekeres joined Lerew and McClow as All-ACC members at season's end.

Freshman Louis Gagnet was the lone representative for the men's team, but Jeffrey made the most out of his only male diver. After winning the one and three-meter events at ACC's and earning the ACC Meet Most Valuable Diver award, Gagnet went on to compete at the NCAA's in three events. Gagnet turned in two top 20 finishes on the platform (17th) and three-meter (18th), while finishing 28th on the one-meter.

Jeffrey's 2000-2001 diving squad, which welcomed six newcomers, enjoyed an exceptional season, with four Seminoles earning All-ACC recognition. This year's team welcomes three new divers to a squad that dominated the ACC Championships in the one-meter and three-meter events, taking first place in both. His Lady Seminoles took the top three spots in the women's one-meter event.

Jeffrey is a five-time national champion diver and an Ohio State University graduate. As an accomplished diving star, Jeffrey brings a wealth of collegiate, national and international experience to the Seminoles. In his collegiate career at Ohio State, Jeffrey won the one-meter, three-meter and the 10-meter platform events at the 1988 NCAA Championships, becoming the only diver in NCAA history to win three events in a single year. He was also a finalist in the 10-meter platform event at both the 1988 Seoul Olympics and the 1996 Atlanta Olympic Games. Jeffrey is also a three-time U.S. Diving National Champion on the 10-meter platform, as well as a two-time champion in the three-meter springboard. In international competition, Jeffrey won bronze medals at the 1991 and 1995 Pan-Am games. He also competed on the 1989 and 1995 World Cup teams, and in the 1993 Goodwill Games.

Jeffrey's impressive coaching career includes stops as the 2000 U.S. Olympic Team Coach, the 1997 and 1999 USA National World Cup Team Coach, a Senior National Team Coach from 1997-00 and the Junior National Team Coach in 1998. Most recently he served as coach on the 2001 U.S. World Championship team in Fukuoka, Japan. His coaching has produced four individual Senior National Championships, three individual Junior National Championships and two Senior Men's Team third-place finishes.

Jeffrey graduated from Ohio State in 1988 with a degree in journalism and advertising. Jeffrey also received the NCAA Diver of the Year Award his final season.

JEFFREY'S COACHING EXPERIENCE:

- 1996-99 – FAU Atlantic Diving Team (Boca Raton, FL)
- 1996-Present – Senior National Team
- 1997 – U.S. World Cup Team (Mexico City)
- 1998 – Junior National Team (Moultrie, Ga.)

- 2001 – U.S. World Championship Team (Fukuoka, Japan)

John Fedena

ASSISTANT COACH
2ND YEAR (DELAWARE 1998)

John Fedena enters his second season with the Seminoles after effectively impacting the distance group, and the team as a whole, in 2001-02. Following a graduate assistantship with the University of Georgia's women's swimming team, which he helped lead to the 2001 National Championship, Fedena brought nearly seven years of coaching experience to the Tribe.

Fedena coaches the distance group, which consists of a collection of proven talent. With the task of developing a competitive group of distance swimmers, Fedena was determined to tap into his group's raw talent. The results at the end of the 2002 season exceeded expectations.

Fedena showcased his ability to coach and developed another weapon for the Seminoles' assault on their competition.

Under Fedena's watch, the Lady Seminoles recorded three new marks in FSU's all-time top 10 list for the 1,650-yard freestyle and two top-10 marks for the 500-free. It was the first new top 10 times in the 1,650 since 2000 and the 500 since 1999. Fedena helped sophomore Angie Leach reach the third-fastest time in the 1,650 (16:56.43) and helped Amy Lo turn in the fourth-fastest time in the 500 (4:55.87). Leach's time not only won her the consolation final at the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference Championships, but it also qualified as a NCAA B-cut mark. At the 2002 ACC meet, the Lady Seminoles scored 20 points between the 500 and 1650 events, a vast improvement from the six points scored in 2001.

The New Castle, Del., native began his coaching career in 1996 with the Delaware Club swim team. His tenure ended four years later with his move to Athens, Ga. At Georgia, Fedena not only assisted the University of Georgia, but also coached the Athens Bulldogs club swim team. Fedena's experience does not end there, as he was an assistant and head coach for five years at the Middle Atlantic (Delaware), Bulldog (University of Georgia) and Wolverine (University of Michigan) swimming camps.

Fedena remains active in swimming competition, as evident by his 2001 Southern Sectional Championship qualifying in the 50- and 100-freestyle and 100-butterfly. In collegiate competition, Fedena was a two-year letterman at the University of Delaware, where he helped capture the 1997 men's team championship.

Anne Blachford

ASSISTANT COACH
2ND YEAR (FLORIDA STATE 2000)

Anne Blachford enters her second year as an assistant coach at Florida State in 2002-2003. Blachford joined the Seminole swimming staff after an impressive All-America career at FSU under head coach Neil Harper.

At practice, Blachford assists in the training and coaching of the stroke and IM groups, as well as rotating to assist with the sprint group. She helped coach three swimmers who qualified and competed at the 2002 NCAA Championships. Senior Candice Nethercott placed 17th in the 100-yard butterfly, while junior Justin Betts and sophomore Emma Dutton each swam in an impressive three events. Betts' top finish was 24th in the 100-yard breaststroke and placed 34th in the 200-breast and 40th in the 200-IM. Dutton came in 31st place in the 100-breast while placing 56th in the 100-free and 200-IM.

Among other successes, Blachford guided 10 swimmers who competed in the championship finals at the 2002 Women's ACC meet. Seven finished with NCAA-cut marks, including an NCAA A-cut mark by Nethercott in the 100-fly. Blachford helped the men record six finishes in championship finals at the men's ACC meet, while Betts swam a NCAA A-cut mark in the 100-breast.

Blachford's duties when she is not on deck include, recruiting, marketing and promotions of the team, team contact with boosters and alumni, events and awards coordinator, coordinating travel plans and itineraries, as well as developing workout programs. In 2000, Blachford received her bachelor's degree in sport management.

A four-year letter winner for the Lady Seminoles swim team, Blachford earned All-America honorable mention honors in 1997 for her performance in the 200-IM and again in 2000 for the 200, 400 and 800 freestyle relays. Blachford still owns the school record in the 200-IM at 2:01.60, which she set in 1997.
