THE FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

A UNIVERSITY ON THE BRINK OF JOINING THE WORLD'S ACADEMIC ELITE.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY, nearing its golden anniversary as a coeducational graduate research institution, is poised on the brink of joining the nation's academic elite. Located on the oldest continuous site of higher education in Florida and building rapidly on the framework of a highly regarded liberal arts college for women, the university has emerged over the past 47 years as an institution of national and international esteem. Its stature is evidenced by a number of additions to its record of excellence since the 1990s began:

- ◆ In 1990, the National Science Foundation established the $100 million National High Magnetic Field Laboratory at Florida State, which is partnered in research with the Los Alamos National Laboratory and University of Florida. A Nobel laureate in physics and a top Russian physicist were among the first scholars drawn to the FSU faculty by the magnet lab. The new facility was completed and became operational in 1993.
- ◆ At the forefront of supercomputing since obtaining its first high-speed computer in 1985, FSU took yet another step in ultrafast and parallel computing in 1990 when it acquired two supercomputers, the Thinking Machine Corp. Connection Machine and the Cray Y-MP.
- ◆ In 1990, Florida State ranked second in popularity nationwide among high school seniors, based on the number of students who request that their Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores be sent to an institution. FSU was the only institution listed among the top 10 choices of both black and white college-bound students.

Located on the oldest continuous site for higher education in the state, Florida State's Tallahassee campus measures 418 acres.

Students at FSU choose from 273 graduate and undergraduate degree programs.

- ◆ FSU's high-tech program in structural biology in 1991 received the university's largest single foundation grant, $4 million, to position it among the leaders it in the field worldwide.
- ◆ The Appleton Museum of Art in Ocala, its vast and varied art collection and an eminent scholar chair were donated to FSU and Central Florida Community College in 1990. Valued at $42 million, the gift is the largest ever received at Florida State.
- ◆ Now the professional training ground for film production, one of Florida's fastest growing industries, FSU graduated the first class of graduate film students from its School of Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts in 1991 and its first undergraduate class in 1993. The school offers a bachelor's degree program in Tallahassee and a master of fine arts program in Sarasota. Its students are already producing award-winning films at national and international levels.
- ◆ To instill an awareness and understanding of the world's cultural diversity, FSU undergraduate students, beginning with the 1991 freshman class, are required to complete at least two courses that focus on diverse traditions beyond Western civilization. The multi-cultural study requirement complements a long-established liberal studies program for undergraduates at Florida State.

- ◆ Florida's Office of Campus Volunteers, which matches college students with agencies in need of community service volunteers, is located at Florida State. It opened in 1990.
- ◆ The Dr. Bobby E. Leach Center, a state-of-the-art student recreation facility including an indoor pool, saunas, basketball and racquet-sport courts, was completed in 1991.
- ◆ Construction of the $82 million University Center got under way at Doak Campbell Stadium in 1991, and its first tenants will move in to the east side in 1994. When completed, the University Center will provide 550,000 square feet of classroom and office space and a centralized location for student services. The project includes two eight-story buildings and three four-story buildings, enclosure of the south end zone and expansion of Moore Athletic Center.
- ◆ Capping more than a decade of national prominence in intercollegiate athletics, Florida State's athletic teams, nicknamed "Seminoles," joined the Atlantic Coast Conference as its ninth member in 1990. Florida State's football team won the National Championship for the 1993 season and its quarterback, Charlie Ward, won the school's first Heisman Trophy.
- ◆ FSU ranked 20th in the nation for 1990-91 in the number of black Ph.D. students it graduates. Over the five years from 1986 to 1990 FSU ranked eighth nationally by granting doctorates to 70 African-Americans.

As this list attests, Florida State has begun the 1990s with exceptional strength, energy and vision for the future. And, under the leadership of the university's 12th president, Talbot "Sandy" D'Alemberte, who took office in January 1994, FSU will continue to build on the foundation of its long history of excellence in scholarship, research and service.

A senior member of the 10-member State University System, FSU was founded as an institution of higher learning in 1851 by legislative act and began in Tallahassee with its first students in 1857.
