ACADEMIC SUPPORT

AND STUDENT SERVICES

ATHLETIC ACADEMIC SUPPORT MISSION STATEMENT

The Primary focus of the Athletic Academic Unit is to provide an environment which facilitates the academic success of the student-athlete. Student success is encouraged through competent academic counseling, study skills development, and additional academic assistance through the tutorial program.

An Overview of an Academic Support Program on the Rise

Academic, personal and professional support are essential to college success. At Florida State University, we have developed an outstanding support program which enables student-athletes to reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is "to offer an academic support program integrated with the total university that will assist all student-athletes with the transition into college and provide continued support in all phases of academic and professional development culminating with graduation, job placement or graduate school."

To accomplish this goal we have developed an academic environment which facilitates the academic success of student-athletes. Student success is encouraged through competent academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement, and academic assistance through tutorial programs.

Our program operates on a "proactive" rather than "reactive" approach. At Florida State, our academic staff does not wait for academic crises to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on all student-athletes to assess their needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete through constant communication with our faculty.

Our academic support staff includes a director, four counselors, and three graduate interns forming a group of professionals serving the needs of all our student-athletes. The director, Mark Meloney, brings 11 years of advising experience at FSU to the position. Over the past four years, Meloney has played an integral role in the development of a comprehensive program of student-athlete support, which in 1996 won an "Award of Excellence" from Athletic Management Magazine.

In 1994, the academic programs moved to the state-of-the-art University Center and are located on the sixth floor of the $126 million facility. It includes private study carrels, a tutorial study area and a computer lab outfitted with 16 new IBM computers and laser printers. In addition, athletic sky boxes are utilized for group and individualized tutorial instruction.

MARK MELENEY

Director, Athletic Academic Support Prog

Mark Meloney became Florida State's Director of Athletic Academic Support Programs in August after serving as Acting Director since October 1996.

Meloney, who oversees a staff of seven, is responsible for maintaining FSU's highly acclaimed program which has placed the Seminole football team among the nation's best with a graduation rate of over 70 percent in three of the last four years.

Meloney, 36, graduated from Florida State in 1986 with a degree in Management and earned a Master's in Athletic Administration from FSU in 1997. He has worked in various capacities within FSU's academic support structure the past 10 years.

"Mark demonstrated to everyone associated with athletics and academics that he is well-suited to provide the necessary leadership to maintain high levels of performance by our student-athletes in the classroom," FSU Director of Athletics Dave Hart said. "He clearly understands the importance, and priority, placed on our student-athletes being students first."

Meloney and his wife Sarah are the parents of a four-year-old daughter, Montana Shea.

Academic Support Tutorial Program

The Athletic Department at Florida State University has made a commitment to providing our student-athletes with one of the finest and most comprehensive tutorial programs in the nation. The tutorial program is just one of several key support programs that are available to all student-athletes as they progress towards their ultimate goal of obtaining a college degree.

The academic support program has a cadre of about 80 to 90 tutors each semester who are committed to providing a proactive and individualized approach to insure academic success. The tutors are usually seniors or graduate level students who have outstanding academic backgrounds. Through an orientation session provided each semester by the Tutorial Coordinator, they acquaint themselves with the purposes, objectives and responsibilities involved with tutoring student-athletes.

Tutorial assistance is available for all academic coursework that is offered by the University and it is the responsibility of the Tutorial Coordinator to arrange all tutorial sessions for student-athletes within the first two weeks of the semester. Student-athletes may request a tutor, or one may be assigned to them, depending upon the circumstances.

Mentor Program

Academic Mentors are academic role models who have demonstrated the ability to teach and give guidance in areas of academic developmental skills.

Each semester, mentors begin the process by sitting down with their assigned student-athletes and assist them in identifying their academic responsibilities. A calendar is developed which becomes a visual blueprint of each course's academic requirements. This tool introduces the student-athlete to the concept of time management. Students learn to plan projects days and weeks in advance. Such planning aids them in developing strong study habits.

Mentors are also responsible for providing assistance in the development of skills such as note taking, test preparation and communication with faculty. In essence, mentors become an extension of the academic counselor as they keep the academic performance of their student-athletes under close observation and report to the academic counselor each week.

Mentors typically spend two or three hours per week during the first few weeks of the semester helping the student-athletes get organized and about one or two hours a week with their assigned student-athlete thereafter keeping up with their progress.

Study Hall

In an effort to help ensure the academic success of the student-athletes, professionally supervised study sessions for each athletic team are required. The main focus of the study hall program is to help students develop consistent and appropriate study patterns by providing a structured setting to work on class assignments, and to provide tutorial assistance before academic problems arise.

Although the criteria for mandatory study hall is left to the discretion of the academic counselor for their respective sport, typically, all freshmen, first year transfers, and upperclassmen who have not achieved a satisfactory cumulative grade point average are required to attend study hall. Additionally, each coach is regularly notified of any absences, tardiness, or inappropriate use of time of student-athletes who are attending study hall.

Academic Honors & Awards

Florida State University student-athletes have achieved great success in obtaining recognition for academic excellence. More than $90,000 in postgraduate award monies have been granted to FSU's student-athletes over the past three years, as well as a number of other academic honors and awards.

Florida State had 132 student-athletes on the 1996 Atlantic Coast Conference Honor Roll and boasted an ACC Weaver James Postgraduate Award winner, numerous GTE District Academic All-Americans and four All-ACT Academic Team football players.

The Academic Support Program is committed to recognizing academic success of all student-athletes. The Academic Support Program puts on The Golden Torch Gala, an academic awards banquet each fall to recognize the ACT Honor Roll athletes, and the members of each of our 17 teams with the highest GPA's for the previous academic year. Team meetings are held each year, during which time student-athletes are notified of potential honors and awards and encouraged by their academic counselor to apply. Combining a strong GPA with athletic accomplishments and community service activities create a student-athlete capable of attaining unlimited academic honors, awards and postgraduate opportunities.

FLORIDA STATE STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

The Strong Shall Survive is the motto of the strength and conditioning staff at Florida State University. It is also this philosophy that has made Seminole athletes in all sports among the strongest, fastest and fittest anywhere. At Florida State, the strong not only survive, they win too!

Florida State has developed a supervised program for women's basketball, emphasizing the objectives of not only building bodies, but strengthening and conditioning them. Strength coach Ron Miller, a former ACC Senior Scholarship Athlete of the Year for the FSU men's basketball team, individually customizes programs for each of the athletes beginning with pre-conditioning before the season gets underway.

The Florida State women's basketball team achieves its goals in a state-of-the-art facility at the Coyle E. Moore Athletics Center, located in the same building as the coaches' offices, women's basketball lockerroom and team meeting room. The weight room is a spacious area encompassing over 7,000 square feet. The newly-renovated weight room is complete with a rubberized floor surface, drop-ceilings with enhanced lighting, stereo sound system, cooled water fountains and a mirrored area which includes exercise systems by Cybex Eagle as well as free weight equipment. A variety of bicycles, rowing machines and Stairmasters complete both the strength and conditioning and cardiovascular experience. The weight room used by the Seminole football team has banners commemorating FSU's bowl victories which hang from the rafters and inspirational slogans cover the walls.

Miller, who is a member of both the National Strength and Conditioning Association and Aerobics and Fitness Association of America, works with the players in sport specific training which includes conditioning the major muscle groups used in basketball. FSU takes pride in customizing the programs to help student-athletes reach their maximum potential. Miller married the former Cindy Milbuta in December, 1999.

FLORIDA STATE MEDICAL CARE & TREATMENT

An athlete can expect to receive the best care and treatment possible with the athletic training team at Florida State University. Prior to competition, all FSU student-athletes undergo screening in order to detect any potential injuries. If a problem is detected, the athlete may be placed on a prevention care system which may include any kind of treatment from icing to exercising. Assistant Athletic Trainer Angela Sehgal has handled the athletic training duties for Lady Seminole women's basketball team for seven years.

Sehgal is a 1988 graduate of Anderson (Indiana) University where she earned a degree with honors with a double major of athletic training and physical education and a minor in biology. Sehgal, who herself played four years of collegiate basketball, is in her ninth year at Florida State. She served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at FSU from 1988-90 and following a brief stint as a head athletic trainer at a high school in Virginia, she returned to Florida State in 1991 to assume a full-time assistant athletic trainer position. Currently a doctoral student, Sehgal teaches undergraduate athletic training classes at FSU and is the chairperson for the University's Athletic Training Curriculum Committee. A certified trainer, Sehgal is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and is also a certified Red Cross CPR/First Aid instructor.

Though the prevention of injuries is the main objective, some injuries are unavoidable. Rehabilitation is another component of the Florida State training room. The FSU athletic training staff will work with the athlete and provide an intense rehabilitation schedule that will allow the athlete to successfully rehabilitate after an injury. Some injuries and illnesses may be referred to the Seminole team physicians at the Tallahassee Orthopedic Center, who, for many years, have worked in conjunction with the FSU athletic training staff in successfully rehabilitating athletes after an injury.

LOCKER ROOM

The Florida State women's basketball team utilizes a recently completed three-room locker room facility located in the Moore Athletic Center where the squad trains and practices. The locker room features a 15x25 lounge and study area, equipped with study carrels, couches and entertainment center, a 15x22 area equipped with individual wooden lockers, seating and meeting area and a 21x24 section which includes individual shower and dressing units.

DEVELOPMENT

THE N.O.L.E.S. PROGRAM: NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR LEADERSHIP, EDUCATION AND SERVICE

Developed by the Florida State University Department of Athletics, the NOLES program represents a commitment to the total growth and development of the student-athlete.

This program establishes an administrative commitment to academic and athletic excellence. Those efforts will be supported with programs and services in personal development, career development and community service.

Personal Development

Fostering the development of personal growth is a fundamental component of the NOLES program. These support programs ensure that the student-athlete will be provided opportunities to focus on personal growth issues such as values clarification, goal setting, fiscal planning, decision making and personal responsibility. Programming focuses on helping student-athletes develop a healthy lifestyle while they are at Florida State and habits that will benefit them for life.

Student Athletic Advisory Council

Career Development

Preparing for life after college sports is a major focus of the NOLES Career Development program. The program is designed to work cooperatively with the University's Career Services to acquaint students with the job search process, provide networking opportunities and ultimately assist with job placement. This program places a priority on the development of the total person, with the goal of developing individuals who will have rewarding careers and productive lifestyles after they leave Florida State.

Community Service

Serving the community is the focus of our Seminole Spirit program. Student-athletes are challenged to give service to our community and individuals who are in need. With a clearly defined program of service, student-athletes are given the opportunity to develop the foundation for a lifelong commitment to volunteerism. The Seminole Spirit Student-Athlete Speakers' Bureau enables student-athletes to improve their speaking skills, develop effective communication and impact the lives of others through their service as role models in our community.

Leadership Development

The Florida State University Department of Athletics is committed to developing programs of excellence that foster leadership development. The foundation of the leadership development program will be the two councils that represent the student-athletes at the University. The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) serves as the advisory board to the NOLES program and the athletics administration. The prestigious board, comprised of two representatives of each athletic team at FSU, also recommends programming and serves as a liaison between student-athletes and the athletics administration. The Advisory Council plans and implements various events for student-athletes and serves as the department's most visible ambassadors. The SAAC planned and hosted the annual Golden Nole banquet for the first time last year and have recently planned such events as orientation for incoming student-athletes and the back-to-school picnic.

TULLY GYM

TALLAHASSEE-LEON COUNTY CIVIC CENTER

TULLY GYMNASIUM

The Florida State women's basketball program has played at the friendly confines of Tully Gymnasium since its first season in 1973-74 and will play its final season in the facility this year.

The facility, which was constructed in 1956, was named for the late Robert Henry (Bobby) Tully, a 1952 FSU graduate who played football. Active on campus, Tully was a member of the Gold Key, ODK, the Arnold Air Society and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He died in May 1954 after battling a long illness.

The 2,500 capacity gymnasium underwent a $250,000 renovation prior to the 1993-94 season. The gym floor was resurfaced and repainted. The bleachers were replaced on one side with pull out arena-style padded seating with armrests to create a movie theater experience while watching the Lady Seminoles.

Aside from exciting Lady Seminole Basketball, Tully Gymnasium is home to Florida State volleyball and also houses the University's physical education department.

TALLAHASSEE-LEON COUNTY CIVIC CENTER

Florida State basketball game, at the Leon County Civic Center, is as exciting as it gets. FSU fans are spoiled by more than just a great basketball team playing in the nation's finest conference, they also get to watch the game in surrounds that are as modern as any in the country. After playing a few games in the Civic Center this season, the Florida State women's basketball team will make the facility its home court in 1998-99.

12,500 seats are available for fans of FSU basketball who are treated to one of the most spectacular shows in college hoops. Two big screen video systems are mounted in the corners of the arena opposite the state-of-the-art scoreboards. When there is a break in the action, the big screens come alive with highlight tapes, animated games and other crowd pleasing bits. The screens place Florida State among only three teams in the country that play their home games in a facility with big screen capability.

The multipurpose facility, which opened its doors in 1981, covers over 22 acres in the heart of Tallahassee's thriving downtown district. The Civic Center is only two blocks from the Capitol building and is just across the street from FSU's Center for Professional Development and nationally-acclaimed Law School.

The complex covers over 18,000 square feet with 119 foot ceilings in the main arena. The Civic Center is actually three different areas combined under one roof. The main arena, where FSU hosts its home games, is also the center for East Coast Hockey League contests featuring the Tallahassee Tiger Sharks, some of the nation's top musical concerts as well as Broadway plays and even a circus. The Exhibition Hall, which joins the main arena via a spacial hallway, can seat 5,000 for an event or serve as an indoor display area. The complex also features a terrace which is popular for outdoor hosting.

So impressive is the facility and the general atmosphere of an FSU basketball game that the Civic Center and Florida State University served as host of the first round of the 1995 Men's NCAA Basketball Tournament.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Instead of getting easier with time, the 1996-97 women's basketball season seemed to get more difficult as the year progressed. With the challenge of adjusting to a new coaching staff and a new system, the undeniable strength of the Atlantic Coast Conference proved to be too much for the Lady Seminoles to handle as Florida State struggled throughout the season and finished the year with a 5-22 record.

The Lady Seminoles won their season-opener with a 68-59 victory at South Florida in the Dial Soap/Florida Four Challenge and found themselves above .500 with a 5-4 record, thanks to a three-game win streak just before Christmas. The win streak, however, would turn out to be the last victories the Tribe would record the rest of the season. FSU lost its final 18 games and went winless in the ACC. But the Tribe didn't go down without a fight. The Lady Seminoles played several league games close, losing seven ACC games by 11 points or less, including losses to three ranked teams by an average of just eight points.

Despite the disappointing team record, there were noteworthy individual accomplishments for several players. Freshman Latavia Coleman was perhaps the most notable bright spot on the team. Coleman's 11.5 points per game allowed her to become the first freshman to lead the team in scoring since Sue Galkantas, FSU's all-time leading scorer, did in 1981. Coleman's team-leading 6.1 rebounds marked the first time a freshman led the team in that category since Chantelle Dishman did in 1990 with a 7.0 rebounds per game average. Coleman was selected to the ACC All-Freshman team and also earned ACC Rookie of the Week honors during the season.

Junior Wendy Hampton became FSU's all-time leader in three-point field goals with 94 and also set the single-season mark with 51. The emergence of sophomore Arleshia Davidson was also a welcomed surprise. Davidson scored in double figures in three games in the second half of the ACC season, including a career-high 14 points vs. Maryland, and elevated her numbers to averages of 9.0 points and 4.8 rebounds in the final six games of the season. Other players also had strong performances. Jen Robinson scored a career-high 19 points vs. both Florida and Virginia while Lysa Moorefield had a season-high 23 points vs. FAMU. Latrice McLin led all FSU players with a season-high 16 points vs. South Florida and Aletha Penn led all FSU scorers with a season-high 13 points at NC State.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

TRADITION

THE TRADITION

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 45th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 59 NCAA and AIAW championships, including 27 in men's competition and 32 in women's. In addition, 100 men and 24 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

ACC BASKETBALL

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA history. The men's and women's basketball programs have combined for 15 trips to the Final Four in the last 16 years, and 36 appearances overall. Following the North Carolina women's national championship season of 1994, the first-ever for the league, ACC teams have claimed eight titles while finishing second on ten occasions.

The league's women's basketball program ranks among the best in the country in terms of overall NCAA Tournament. With 63 appearances and 76 wins, the conference is listed second-best in total appearances and third in total wins.

On the men's side, North Carolina, the nation's all-time winningest team with 1,654 wins, has won NCAA championships in 1957, 1982 and 1993. N.C. State walked away with the coveted crown in 1974 and 1983, while Duke won back-to-back titles in 1991 and 1992.

Over the years, ACC basketball teams have gained global recognition through their NCAA Tournament exposure. About 150 regular season games, plus all of the men's conference tournament and the semifinals and finals of the women's tournaments will be televised. Conference teams will be seen on all three major networks, ESPN and Prime Network.

ACC Basketball is more than numbers though. The faces behind both programs account for 24 national player of the year honors and 17 national coach of the year awards, including Dawn Staley's player recognition in 1991 and 1992. Coaches distinctions include North Carolina's Sylvia Hatchell (1994), Maryland's Chris Well (1992), Virginia's Debbie Ryan (1991) and N.C. State's Kay Yow (1990). In women's play, the ACC has produced 19 first-team All-Americans, eight Olympians, including coaches and student-athletes. N.C. State's Kay Yow, assisted by Sylvia Hatchell of North Carolina headed up the 1988 gold medal-winning Olympic team. Maryland's Vicky Bullett was a member of both the 1988 and 1992 Olympic teams and Virginia's Dawn Staley was a member of the 1996 gold-medal winning Olympic squad in Atlanta.

The ACC also stands at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics in terms of academic accomplishments of its student-athletes. Since 1983, 201 women's basketball players have received ACC Academic Honor Roll recognition. The 1996-97 academic year included 43 selections. In addition ACC basketball players have earned first-team Academic All-America honors six times.

1996-97 IN REVIEW

The 1996-97 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and four individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 26 national team crowns in the last seven years.

The ACC's 1996-97 national champions were North Carolina in women's soccer and field hockey and Maryland in women's lacrosse. In addition the ACC had two other teams participate in national title games — Florida State in football and Maryland in men's lacrosse. Overall, the ACC posted a 54-48 (.529) mark in NCAA Tournament play.

The ACC placed at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 16 of the 24 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 1996-97 season include 84 teams competing at NCAA Championships, four bowl teams and 33 Top 10 showings.

Seven ACC teams, in six different sports representing five of the nine member institutions, earned a No. 1 ranking during the course of the past academic year.

The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the 11th-straight year in 1995-96 as 1,410 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

With the addition of women's lacrosse, the ACC conducted championship competition in 24 sports during the 1996-97 academic year — 12 for men and 12 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University, October 6-8. Conference championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse and softball.

A HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members — Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest — drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name become officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The only withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The conference operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.
