HODGES HELPS USA WOMEN'S PAN AMERICAN GAMES TEAM BATTLE TO SILVER MEDAL

Capturing the women's basketball shiny silver hardware at the 2003 Pan American Games was a bright-eyed USA team that began training only two weeks prior to the event. It was a team made up young college players who faced more powerful and experienced teams from Cuba and Brazil, both composed of former Olympians.

Considering all those factors, the USA Women's Pan Am Team's impressive 5-2 record and capturing of the silver medal was a remarkable journey. The XIV Pan American Games were held in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, and women's basketball saw six countries compete in the tournament held from August 2-9. The USA beat all but one — Cuba. Cuba (6-1) claimed the gold, the USA got silver, while Brazil (5-2) captured the bronze.

Florida State's Roneeka Hodges posted competition highs in points (11), rebounds (3) and steals (3) to help the USA team defeat Argentina. In the game, Hodges continued her competition-long, defensive efforts adding one block and one defensive board for the USA team in 16 minutes against Argentina.

"I'm a defender first, but whatever is needed I will step up and do," Hodges said.

The 5-11 guard shot five-for-six from the charity stripe and was perfect from behind the arc in two attempts. The New Orleans native was one of five players to score in double figures for the USA team as well as one of three to post three steals in the game.

The FSU newcomer played in six of seven games and averaged 3.3 points, 1.9 rebounds in 13.2 minutes per game.
