THE MISSION OF THE FLORIDA STATE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL PROGRAM is to build people and win basketball games. One without the other is not enough. The foundation of the program is now set and it is strong. The 2006-07 Seminoles are at Florida State to play for those who came before them and to set the standard for those who will follow. This year's team theme is...

strength 2 strength

The first strength is, in essence, the foundation that has been laid. Those who came before this year's team had great courage and determination to fight an uphill battle. It is important to honor that history and the strength that was provided by those players.

In 2006-07, it's time for FSU to add to that strength and move to the next strength which is a place of separation for the program. It is a move from the top 30 to the top 10, from the NCAA Tournament Second Round to the Sweet 16 and beyond. Florida State is already the elite academically, having finished first or second on the ACC Academic Honor Roll the past seven years. The program is also strong in its service to the community. The mission of this year's squad is to enter into the nation's elite for which is a strength the Seminoles are destined.

How the Seminoles make that move is in the 2. It's representative of Phase 2 and all that is vital to the program's progress. Selflessness, Personal Responsibility and Championship Mentality will be more important than ever before.

In the summer of 2004, Seminole Productions moved to a new 6,000 square foot communication center in the new Coyle Moore Athletics Center. This state-of-the-art facility includes a brand new studio, two control rooms, 10 Avid digital editing and graphics suites, private offices, a green room, a new computer editing and graphics classroom, a student producer area and much more. There are also fiber optic video camera connections to all areas of the Coyle Moore Athletics Center, Doak Campbell Stadium, Donald L. Tucker Civic Center, FSU Basketball Training Center and Dick Howser Stadium with connections to WFSU-TV's uplink. This has created the ability to do live, multi-camera productions or uplink feeds. With a simple camera connection, Seminole Productions can send the signal through fiber to WFSU's satellite uplink and bang, Coach Bowden's wit and charm is instantly seen all over the world.

FSU athletics aren't the only ones reaping the benefits of this new state-of-the-art communication center. Students in the College of Communication media production program also have plenty of hands-on access to some of the finest equipment around. Since Seminole Productions' mission is one of teaching, students studying in the art of television design, production and performance work alongside the SP staff gaining real experience with real deadlines in a professional environment while gaining class credit as well as professional experience. This new facility also ensures that FSU continues to attract the best and brightest students of media production from all across the globe.

Seminole Productions continually gets recognized for excellence. The staff once again raised the bar in the field of visual communications by gathering eight more awards in two national video competitions in 2005-06. With these latest recognitions, Seminole Productions staff members continue an almost unheard of streak of national recognitions with over 30 since 2003.

The most recent recognitions come from two of the most respected competitions in the industry, the Aurora and Telly Awards. These international competitions are designed to recognize excellence in the film and video industries on an international level. Entries have come from across the US and abroad including Canada, Hong Kong, Denmark, Mexico, and more.

The Aurora Awards competition recognized Seminole Productions staff for their Seminole Pride video presentation, the 2005 Gameday Football Headshots, and the Environmental Results program produced for the Florida Department of Environmental Protection. Staff members recognized with Aurora Awards include Jim Garbarino, Jerry Tootle, Chris Hahn, and Jim Shaw. Previous winners of this award include Disney I.D.E.A.S., The History Channel, A&E Network and Fox Sports Net. The Aurora statue itself was commissioned specifically for the competition by a nationally renowned sculptor. The statues are cast in the same foundry that creates the Emmy, Oscar and Clio statues.

Seminole Productions was also recognized for excellence by the Telly Awards and brought home five statues in that competition. Telly's were awarded to the staff of Seminole Productions for the Football Stadium Team opens prior to the Miami and Maryland games, the Women's Basketball open, the Bobby Bowden Show and the Environmental Results Program. The Seminole Productions staff members awarded Telly awards include Jim Garbarino (2), Jerry Tootle, Jeff Levine, and student Phil Jackson (2).

Earlier this year in competition against universities across North America, Seminole Productions took home the Golden Matrix Award (GMA) for having the Best Overall Video Display for Universities. The Golden Matrix Award means that the content appearing on the Seminole Vision screens at all FSU home football, baseball, and basketball games, was judged to be the best in the nation for Universities. The Golden Matrix Awards are voted on by In-Game Entertainment and Video Display professionals across North America and includes league members from the NFL, MLB, NHL, NBA, and Universities as well as representatives from Stadiums and Arenas. Finalists for the GMA award for universities included The University of Nebraska, Ohio State University, University of Illinois, Texas A&M, Purdue and Baylor.

The Seminole Productions Staff

With an experienced, award-winning staff and creative and talented students, Seminole Productions is looked at as a leader in sports production, graphics and corporate video. Creating the perfect blend of high-tech wizardry with good ole' Seminole sports action is a big part of what Seminole Productions is all about.

SUN SPORTS

Since 1988, Sun Sports Network, previously known as Sunshine Sports, has been the exclusive regional sports network home of FSU athletics in Florida. Available in over 6.4 million homes statewide via cable and satellite, Sun Sports Network provides more coverage of FSU athletics than any other Florida television outlet. FSU was the first local sports team to sign an agreement with Sun Sports prior to the network's 1988 launch and is one of its cornerstone properties.

Sun Sports Network's extensive coverage of FSU sports is available to fans not just in Florida, but across the U.S., enabling alumni from coast-to-coast to follow their team year-round. In addition to distribution on cable and satellite in Florida, Sun Sports Network is also available nationwide on satellite, from DirecTV and DISH Network. Much of Sun Sports' FSU programming is also available to digital cable subscribers nationwide via Fox Sports Digital Nets, a programming service offered to cable systems throughout the U.S.

Each year, Sun Sports Network airs and produces numerous FSU games/programs, including its own production of every FSU regular season football game, which replay statewide on Sun Sports on Sunday evenings during "Prime Time 'Noles," and again on Monday afternoon. "The Bobby Bowden Show" can be seen statewide Sunday afternoons. Weekly highlights of FSU athletics air Saturdays with "Seminole Sports Magazine" and "Seminole Uprising," all on Sun Sports Network. In addition, the 'Noles are discussed on Sun Sports' popular "SportsTalk Live" show featuring media panelists from around the state each Monday night.

An agreement with the ACC provides Sun Sports Network with additional FSU games and events, including the conference's Sun Sports night ACC basketball package, "ACC Sunday Night Hoops" on regional sports networks nationwide (exclusively on Sun Sports in Florida). The network also airs "ACC All Access," Mondays at 6:30 p.m. and numerous other games/events for the ACC, giving FSU fans coverage of not only their home team, but FSU's conference opponents as well.

ACC SELECT

Seminole fans now have a new way to see the FSU sports they love thanks to a new broadband network called ACC Select. The ACC Select network will stream Seminole sports like baseball, women's soccer, women's basketball, men's and women's tennis, volleyball, track and softball that are not available through traditional broadcast and cable television distribution. Never before have such a large number of events been streamed in their entirety, giving fans the opportunity to see home and away games live or on-demand whenever and wherever they want. The Atlantic Coast Conference, in partnership with Raycom Sports and Lincoln Financial Sports, will offer online video streaming of Seminole and all 12 ACC conference school sports during the 2006-2007 school year. All ACC Championship events not currently televised will also be available on the network. The new network is made possible with the production and technical capabilities of Turner Broadcasting.

a schedule of events. Fans can watch events live or on-demand on a per-event basis ($3.99 per event) or with an all-event pass which will allow unlimited access to Seminole games and will also allow Seminole fans to check out the competition throughout the ACC. The all-event pass will premiere at a charter price of $5.99 per month.

ACC Select is a new broadband experience that delivers to ACC fans the teams they care about and the games not available anywhere else. With full-screen video delivered right to the computer, ACC Select will provide access to events whenever fans want—live or on-demand. THE SEMINOLES ON RADIO

Florida State fans can follow the Seminoles whether on the road or at home as WNLS-AM (1270) of Tallahassee will once again carry FSU women's basketball games this season. Every game will also be broadcast over the Internet by accessing www.seminoles.com, the official athletics website of Florida State University.

Ryan Pency

Play-by-play man Ryan Pency returns for his fourth season with the Seminoles in 2006-07 and will provide all of the action. Pency is a 2002 graduate of the University of Central Florida where he earned a degree in radio/TV with a minor in computer science. He went on to receive his master's degree in sport administration from Florida State in 2003 during which time he served as a graduate assistant in the Seminole ticket and business offices. In 2003, Pency became a full-time member of the Florida State athletics staff as an Information Technology Manager. Some of his duties at FSU include technical support for the department, website maintenance and editor of the Seminole Dispatch, FSU athletics weekly online newsletter. Pency, who is also coordinating the Internet video broadcast efforts for the Florida State athletics department, is the producer for the Seminole Radio Network football broadcasts.

Jamie Hovda

For the third straight season, Pency will be joined by color analyst Jamie Hovda. An assistant coach from 2002-2004 with the women's basketball program at Wake Forest, Hovda moved to Tallahassee in 2004 to pursue his Ph.D at Florida State. A native of Garner, Iowa, Hovda earned a bachelor's degree in sports medicine from Pepperdine University in 2000 and a master's degree in health and exercise science from Wake Forest in 2002. A former student-athlete himself, Hovda was a four-year member of Pepperdine's cross country team, serving as captain for two seasons and earning Academic All-Conference honors four straight years. Hovda, who recently enrolled at the Florida State School of Law, is married to the former Maggie Davis, who earned her medical degree at FSU in 2005.
