Seminole SPIRIT

THE SYMBOL: SEMINOLES

Florida State played only two football games in 1947 before students demanded the school to acquire a symbol. While details conflict, most believe the account of a poll of the student body is accurate. The Florida Flambeau reported that Seminoles won by 110 votes over the Statesmen. The other top contenders (in order) were Rebels, Tarpons, Fighting Warriors and Crackers.

In the 1950s, a pair of students dressed in Native American costumes joined the cheerleaders on the field, which eventually evolved into the majestic symbol of Osceola and Renegade that FSU now enjoys. Today, the Seminole Tribe participates in many campus activities. Florida State University is proud of its longstanding cooperative relationship with the Seminole Tribe of Florida. The Seminole people have suffered many hardships and injustices, but they have remained brave, dignified and proud. The Seminoles are unconquered. They symbolize what Florida State hopes will be the traits of all of its graduates, including student-athletes.

OSCEOLA AND RENEGADE

Perhaps the most spectacular tradition in all of college football occurs in Doak Campbell Stadium when Osceola charges down the field riding an Appaloosa horse named Renegade and plants a flaming spear at midfield to begin every home game.

The tradition was born on Sept. 16, 1978 against Oklahoma State when a student led the team from the tunnel riding a horse. Since the beginning of the FSU tradition, three different horses and 10 different riders have actually appeared at a game. However, there have been a total of 16 horses trained in the Renegade program. The original Osceola and Renegade were Jim Kidder and Reo. In 2003, local businessman Bill Durham, who had trained the riders and horses for 20 years, passed the honor and responsibility to his son Allen, who was a former rider in the 1990s. The clothing and rigging that Osceola and Renegade use were designed and approved by the Seminole Indian Tribe of Florida.

FLORIDA STATE FIGHT SONG

*YOU GOT TO FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT, FOR FSU
YOU GOT TO SCALP 'EM SEM-I-NOLES
YOU GOT TO WIN, WIN, WIN, WIN
WIN THIS GAME AND ROLL ON DOWN AND MAKE THOSE GOALS.
FOR FSU IS ON THE WAR PATH NOW
AND AT THE BATTLE'S END SHE'S GREAT;
SO FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT TO VICTORY
OUR SEM-I-NOLES FROM FLORIDA STATE.*

GARNET AND GOLD

Florida State's school colors of garnet and gold date back to the Florida State College championship football teams of 1904 and 1905. In those championship seasons, FSC donned purple and gold uniforms. When Florida State College became Florida Female College in 1905, the football team was forced to attend the University of Florida. The following year the FFC student body selected crimson as the official school color of 1905. The administration in 1905 took crimson and combined it with the recognizable purple of the championship football teams to achieve the color garnet. The now-famous garnet and gold colors were first used on an FSU uniform in a 14-6 football loss to Stetson on October 18, 1947.

WAR CHANT

Florida State's "war chant" appears to have begun with a random occurrence that took place during a 1984 football game against Auburn, but in the 1960's, the Marching Chiefs band would chant the melody of a popular FSU cheer. In a sense, that chant was the long-version of FSU's current "war chant." During a thrilling game with Auburn in 1984, the Marching Chiefs began to perform the dormant melody. Some students behind the band joined in and continued the "war chant" portion after the band had ceased. Most agree the chant came from the fraternity section, but many spirited Seminole fans added the hand motion to symbolize the brandishing of a tomahawk. The chant continued among the student body during the 1985 season, and by the 1986 season, it was a stadium-wide phenomenon. Of course, the Marching Chiefs refined the chant, plus put their own special brand of accompaniment to the "war chant," for the sound we hear today.

FLORIDA'S SEMINOLES: THE UNCONQUERED PEOPLE

As a people, few have prevailed over more trying circumstances than the Seminole Indians of Florida. Over the course of almost two centuries, Florida's Seminoles endured three wars with the U.S. government, resisted numerous efforts to relocate them to federal reservations in the West, and ultimately made their home in one of the world's most inhospitable environments, the Florida Everglades. That they have not only survived, but thrived — all while maintaining their fierce independence and rich culture — is a tribute to their courage and perseverance.

Having persevered through two centuries of adversity, the Seminole Indians of Florida have earned the right to call themselves "the unconquered people." Their indomitable spirit is one that Florida State University proudly seeks to emulate in all of its endeavors.

THE UNCONQUERED STATUE

Dedicated on Oct. 10, 2003, Fritz White's bronze statue "Unconquered" was designed to capture the indomitable spirit of the Seminole people and those who have adopted that spirit as a symbol for their university. The massive structure, including its granite-covered pedestal base, stands approximately 31 feet in the air and depicts a spear-brandishing Seminole astride a rearing horse. At sunset the night before each home game, the spear is ignited and burns until sunrise on the next morning after the game. George Langford's endowment of the project for up to $1 million helped make the statue a reality. Fifty-one artists were then considered before White eventually saw the statue dedicated 10 years after the concept was inspired by attorney and FSU graduate Stephen Reilly.

Southwood Golf Country & Club

SouthWood Golf Club opened its 18-hole golf course in 2003 to the delight of golfers in Tallahassee. The well-planned course was immediately one of the premier golf facilities in the Florida Panhandle and one of the nation's heralded new golf courses. SouthWood was the only club in Florida to be ranked as one of "America's Best New Courses" by Golf Digest. The SouthWood golf course was designed by PGA Tour Player, Fred Couples, with the aid of golf course renowned architect, Gene Bates. The golf course at Southwood is designed to please, yet test golfers of all skill levels.

Because of Couples and Bates' foresight in design and love of the sport, the course has received awards from numerous sources. Specifically, SouthWood golf course was nationally ranked as one of the top 35 new courses by Golf Magazine and was named one of the best new courses by Golf Digest. Locally, the course was given Tallahassee's best golf course award by readers of Tallahassee Magazine. With such consistent praise and great rankings, SouthWood will thrill any golfer that ventures onto the beautiful greens.

Said GolfFlorida.com upon SouthWood's opening: "the land seems handcrafted for a course, as the topography rises and falls elegantly, creating some tough, but scenic, holes." Said Couples: "SouthWood has the potential to become a premier course in the Southeast.

The site of 21 PGA Tour and four LPGA Tour tournaments, Killearn Country Club's three nine-hole layouts offer a challenging yet fun golf experience. The South/East Course is the longest and most challenging with rolling hills and tree-lined fairways. The North Course has a large lake coming into play on several holes, while the East Course is a little more forgiving with generous fairways and water on two holes.

Killearn's three nine-hole courses are played in three eighteen hole combinations. These courses are home to several championship events each year and have hosted the PGA Classic and the Sprint Central. The fairways vary from tree lined to open, the greens are fast and a lake comes into play which challenges players on each hole.

"If it's your dream to play where the pros tee it up, then Killearn is for you. Killearn hosted the Tallahassee Open 20 times and the LPGA's Centel Classic four times giving it quite a tournament history. Designed by William Amick, the original 18 (the south and the east nines) plays to 6,988 yards. Many pros came to fear the fourth hole on the south course, a 467-yard par 4. From the two back tees, players must lay up short of water that threatens the fairway, leaving a long iron to the green.

Golden Eagle Country Club combines gracious Southern Living and championship golf for those who expect the best. Golden Eagle's foremost attraction is its 18-hole golf course, designed by world renowned golf course architect Tom Fazio. The course sprawls 6,965 yards from the back tees. It was rated "the most challenging course in Florida" by the United States Golf Association just six months after opening in December 1986. Golfweek Magazine has ranked Golden Eagle among the top 50 real-estate development courses in the Southeast, citing its distinctive design and enhancement of the property's natural beauty as "a cut above the rest."

Golden Eagle features wide fairways and strategically placed Scottish bunkers to create a course that is challenging yet playable for both casual and serious golfers. It is readily evident that the course architect took full advantage of the natural topography of the fabulous acreage surrounding Golden Eagle. The golf course hosted the 1995 and 1996 Nike Tallahassee Open – a tournament on the Nationwide Tour.

Capital City Country Club

Capital City Country Club is the oldest and most prestigious private club in Tallahassee. Located in the beautiful and historic city of Tallahassee, Florida's capital, the club is nestled among rolling hills and ancient oak trees. The rolling, tree-lined 6,502 yard 18-hole golf course is as challenging as it is breathtaking. The course moves through the trees and across large elevation changes more commonly found outside of Florida. Bermuda grass fairways with Tift Dwarf Bermuda putting surfaces create challenges for golfers of all ability levels. The par 72 layout was designed in 1920 and was recently renovated in the early 1990's. Nine holes of the original design were carved out by famed golf course architect A.W. Tillinghast who designed such American classics as Winged Foot and Medinah.

Capital City Country Club provides the Florida State golf team with a championship style golf course that is crucial to the overall improvement of each player. The recent improvements and enhancements to the golf course and its facilities allow the Seminoles to practice and play on one of the most traditional courses in the southeast part of the United States. The characteristics of the golf course include many scenic vistas and numerous undulating fairways which makes playing each hole a wonderful challenge.

Season PREVIEW

Overall Outlook

With the same lofty goals it has each year, the Florida State Women's golf team begins the 2010 spring season with a veteran team. A large percentage of Florida State's starting line-up returns and a very talented group of new players will look to make their marks as Seminoles. Replacing a four-time All American will be difficult, but the team has a great deal of depth with any number of players being capable of challenging for an individual title. The Seminoles will win by committee as they look to place numerous players in top individual positions

With its veteran leadership and quality depth the Seminoles will be in position to win every event they play in this season. Each of the players in the line-up will play long off the tee all have the ability to make things happen.

Team Goals

Florida State's team goal is to win at least one tournament this spring and never finish out of the top five in the team standings. Individually, several individuals are capable of contending each and every week for individual titles."

The Players

Senior Lacey Agnew is the Seminoles' lone returning starter. She put a lot of work into her game over the summer both physically and mentally, and has come back this year determined to take on the leadership role on and off the golf course. Her biggest asset is her strength and often looks like she's playing a different golf course than the rest of the field. The work she has done over the summer on the finer points of the game will make her a winner this year.
