2001 ACC Championship Finalists

Florida State celebrates its first-ever berth in the ACC Championship final

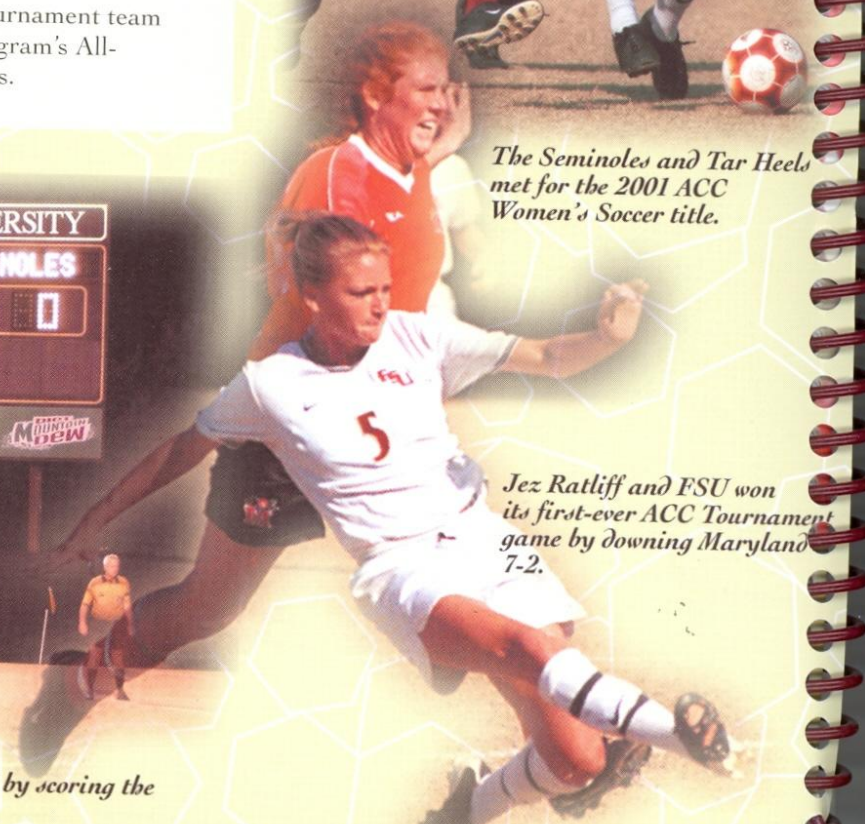

Last season was a record-breaking year in many ways for FSU highlighted by the team's magical run in the ACC Tournament. The Seminoles took advantage of their highest seeding in program history as they not only won their first-ever ACC Tournament game in 2001 but they also played for the school's first conference title. On their way to the finals, third-seeded Florida State scored seven goals in a quarterfinal win over Maryland and then advanced past Virginia in a shootout after an epic 150-minute battle ended in a scoreless draw. Three Seminoles were named to the ACC's All-Tournament team and the championship match was broadcast live throughout the Southeastern United States.

- No ACC team besides North Carolina has ever scored more goals in an ACC Tournament game than FSU's seven in an opening round 7-2 win over Maryland.
- Before their 7-2 quarterfinal loss to FSU, the Terrapins had allowed just 12 goals all year, just seven goals in ACC play and had allowed more than two goals in a game just once all season.
- Florida State and second-seed Virginia played an epic 150-minute game that moved into a shootout tied at 0-0. Ali Mims saved three penalty kicks to send the Seminoles to their first-ever ACC Championship final versus North Carolina.
- For the second consecutive year, Florida State advanced to at least the second round of the ACC Championships. The Seminoles are the only team besides North Carolina to make it into the semifinals the last two seasons.
- Florida State scored more goals in the 2001 ACC Championships than in its previous six tournament appearances combined.
- The Seminoles placed three players on the ACC All-Tournament team for the first time in school history and all five of the program's All-Tournament selections have come in the last two seasons.

The Seminoles and Tar Heels met for the 2001 ACC Women's Soccer title.

Jez Ratliff and FSU won its first-ever ACC Tournament game by downing Maryland 7-2.

Ablee Fontes sends FSU to its first-ever ACC Championship final by scoring the final PK versus Virginia.

2002 ACC SOCCER Championships Hosted By FSU

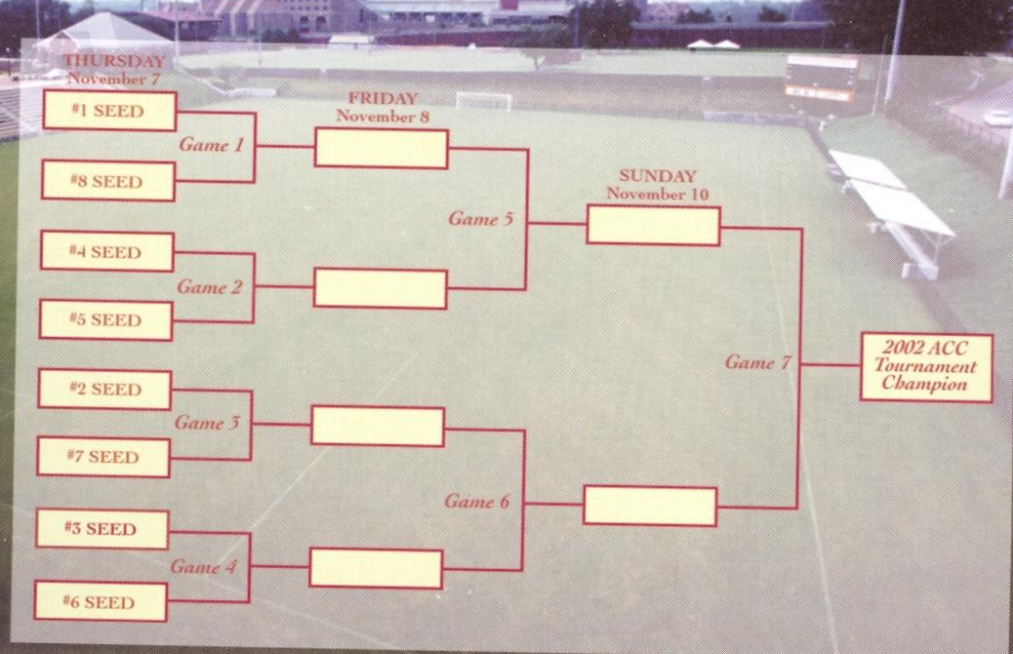

For the first time in conference history, Florida State University has been selected to host the 2002 ACC Women's Soccer Championships. The tournament, which runs from Thursday, November 7 to Sunday, November 10, will be played at the Seminole Soccer Complex on the FSU campus. This marks just the second time in conference history that the prestigious championship will be played in the state of Florida and just the fourth time in 14 years that it will be staged outside of the Carolinas.

"We are very excited about the opportunity to host the premier women's conference tournament in America," said head coach Patrick Baker. "We have seen first-hand what a wonderful job the other ACC schools have done in a hosting role and we want to keep up that great tradition. I am also really excited for the fans in Tallahassee, North Florida and South Georgia who get to come out and see some of the nation's best players taking part in a wonderful event."

The three-year old Seminole Soccer Complex is the newest women's soccer stadium in the ACC and seats 1,500 fans. Florida State has hosted an NCAA Tournament game at the complex but this will mark the first time the complex has played host to one of the most respected conference tournament's in women's college soccer.

"Our administration built this complex with the vision of hosting events like this," said Baker. "We want to host more and to be able to host a tournament of this caliber is something this complex was built for and something we as a university are prepared for."
