2002: Got off to a rough start to the 2002 season after falling ill just before reporting for preseason workouts. Beal was unable to do any strenuous activity for more than six weeks and almost a full month into the season...didn't fully return to her starting spot in the center of the Seminole defense until almost two months into the season... started her first game of the year against Wake Forest and appeared in the final 14 matches of the season...in a third of the starts she had as a freshman, Beal tripled her point production from 2001 and recorded the first multi-point game of her career... tied for fourth on the team in assists despite being at less than full strength for three-quarters of the season ...recorded all three of her points in FSU's final four regular season games...in the four games after she returned to the starting lineup, FSU recorded its third shutout of the season, allowed just four goals and limited opponents to the second-fewest shots over any three-game stretch during the regular season... in her nine starts, FSU recorded three shutouts. The Seminole defense recorded just two shutouts in the previous 14 games before her return... one of just two Seminoles to start all five NCAA Tournament games since she joined the team in 2001...in five NCAA games in 2001 and 2002, Beal and the FSU defense have allowed just three goals in 450 minutes and re-corded two shutouts ...in the 2001 and 2002 regular seasons, opponents averaged 13 shots and seven shots on goal combined during the two seasons. In five postseason games, the FSU defense cut those totals to 8.2 shots per game and

2.8 shots on goal per game...has also been a part of a defense that has allowed a team to score two goals on just one occasion in five NCAA Tournament matches... (vs. Jacksonville) in just her second start of the year, Beal recorded the first multi-point and multi-assist game of her career. She helped stake FSU to a 1-0 lead over a Dolphin team that was unbeaten in 15 straight games. Beal recorded her first assist by sending junior Summer Corum endline. Corum looked up and found Jez Ratliff making a run at the back post. The Oklahoma native sent her header shot back to the other side of the net easily beating the keeper. With under 10:00 remaining in the half, Beal made a run down the center of the pitch and split the JU defense with a pass down the seam right onto Cindy Schofield's foot. The striker took a couple of steps and then drove a shot to the far post putting the Seminoles up 3-1... (vs. George Mason) playing in front of a home town crowd, Beal was at it again, spurring the FSU offense from her center back position. With GMU just one goal behind, FSU went back on the attack in search of a cushion. In the 90th minute they got it, this time off a Beal free kick. The

Virginia native sent a perfect service down the center of the pitch to Schofield in the box. The senior pushed the header past the keeper staking FSU to a 3-1 lead. 2001: Beal wasted little time in 2001 showing why she was named a Parade All-American in high school and spent two seasons with the U-16 National team...stepped in and immediately became the starting center back for an FSU team that played more games against the NCAA Tournament field than any other school, faced seven Hermann Award Finalists and played every team in the 2001 College Cup...she became the first defender in Florida State history to be named a first-team freshman All-American and just the second FSU player to ever garner such an honor... also named to Soccer Buzz's All-Southeast Region third-team and All-Freshman team... third Seminole ever named to the All-ACC freshman team and just FSU's second-ever defender named to the All-ACC Tournament

Team...started all 23 matches in which she appeared and missed her only start due to a concussion suffered before the North Carolina game...recorded one assist, which was a game-winner, and took five shots during her freshman campaign...recorded her only point of the season against South Florida in a key win. With the score dead-locked at 0-0 in the second half, the freshman stepped up in recording the first assist and game-winning assist of her career when she lofted a deep pass into Schofield behind a USF defense that gave FSU the 1-0 win.

The freshman not only scored a goal that put the Seminoles in the lead at 3-2 but she made a big impact all over the field. Lewis took one of the most impressive free kicks in recent memory in the 37th minute of the match. She lined up for the kick on the left side of the pitch and about 28 yards from goal. She drove a low, line drive to the back post that caught the inside of the post and bounced back into play. It was an amazing strike that just missed being the first goal of her Seminole career. After the 49ers staged a two-goal comeback in the second half, Lewis got the two points that eluded her on her free kick. Freshman Leah Gallegos made a great run into the box on the left side. She turned to goal and ripped a shot off the crossbar. The ricochet ended up at the feet of Lewis. The freshman one-timed the rebound to give FSU the 3-2 edge... (vs. NC State) Lewis bested that effort in a key conference road game in Raleigh, NC. The midfielder scored two goals, her first since the Charlotte game, and recorded the first multi-goal game of her young career. In the 27th minute, Florida State broke out to a 1-0 lead. Jez Ratliff made a great run down the right wing. She found Lewis at the top of the box just to the right of the goal. Lewis settled the ball, took one touch and fired a low drive to the near post beating Gretchen Lear. In the 67th minute Jenny Garcia collected the ball in the middle of the pitch and laid the pass off to Lewis standing about 25 yards away just to the right of goal.
