THIS IS FSU SOCCER

Florida State enters the 2005 season with a new coach at the helm but with all the same intangibles in place that make Seminole soccer one of the most popular programs for not only the nation's but the world's top players. For five straight seasons Florida State has participated in the NCAA Tournament and in every one of those seasons the Seminoles have finished ranked among the top 20 schools in the nation. Florida State has played for two ACC Championships in the last four years and came just two wins away from a National Championship in 2003 advancing to the College Cup for the first time ever.

FSU has not only become a player on the national stage but the program has grown into one of the most successful teams in the nation's best soccer conference. Only Florida State and North Carolina have played for two ACC Championships this decade and those two schools are the only ACC teams to play in a College Cup since 1992. Over the last four seasons only one school in the ACC has more overall wins than the Seminoles. The Seminoles are also making their impact felt in the top of the ACC standings. Last season FSU finished in the top four of the ACC for the fourth straight year. Outside of UNC, only two other women's soccer programs have accomplished that feat in conference history. Playing at Florida State is not just about being in the ACC, it is about excelling in the ACC.

With head coach Mark Krikorian taking over Florida State soccer this season and Erica Walsh assisting, FSU has two coaches with head coaching experience at the US National team level. Add in Mick Statham and the 2005 soccer staff has almost 40 years of combined coaching experience. They have been successful on every level of soccer with coach Krikorian not only winning two National Championships in college but also being named coach of the year in the WUSA, the top professional women's league in the world.

Every year FSU soccer has reached new heights and the program has now taken its place among the elite in the nation. But being a Seminole and playing at FSU means so much more than just on the field accomplishments.

Being a member of the Florida State soccer team means you get to play in some of the most electric atmospheres in the nation. In 2003 FSU played in front 8,267 fans in Cary, NC at the College Cup. On three other occasions the Seminoles took the field in front of more than 3,000 fans and when the Tribe played in the Seminole Soccer Complex, the Tallahassee community continually filled the stadium with an energy unlike any in the nation. Florida State played in front of at least 1,000 fans six times at home in 2004 for the second straight season and the Seminoles have now ranked among the nation's attendance leaders for five consecutive years.

Being a Seminole means you are presented with once in a lifetime opportunities. In the summer of 2004 the Seminole soccer team spent two weeks traveling through Australia where they played three games versus the Australian Olympic team. The squad visited Sydney, Canberra, the Gold Coast, Brisbane and South Standbroke Island. The Tribe surfed the Gold Coast, visited the Sydney Opera House and the Sydney Harbour Bridge. They got up close and personal with koala bears, kangaroos, wallabies and all types of exotic birds at Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary. The team also explored the waterfalls of Springbrook National Park and even paid a visit to the Australian rain forest.

Playing soccer at Florida State also means making memories on the field that will last a lifetime and sharing those memories with players and staff in a family atmosphere. It means calling up a teammate 10 years later and remembering the last 30 seconds of a double overtime win in West Virginia. Going over those last 20 seconds when a golden goal sent you and your teammates to the Elite Eight for the first time ever. Or remembering what it felt like as you counted off the last five seconds at Percy Beard Stadium. Knowing you had just gone on the road to Gainesville, defeated a highly ranked Gator team and made history by taking FSU to its first College Cup. It's the excitement the players felt in the pits of their collective stomachs as they left the locker room to take the field in the national semifinal. A game was televised to millions of homes on ESPN2.

Playing soccer at Florida State also means that you get to have all those experiences while surrounded by a support staff that is in place to help you succeed in every way. Whether it is the Academic Support department providing an environment which facilitates the academic success of each student-athlete or the strength and conditioning staff whose goal is to maximize the on-field performance of each student-athlete while reducing the risk of injury. Florida State's Student Services and the N.O.L.E.S. Program (New Opportunities For Leadership, Education and Service) is dedicated to the total growth of the student-athlete and focuses on personal growth issues such as values clarification, goal setting, fiscal planning, decision-making and personal responsibility.

One of the reasons those support groups can provide FSU's student-athletes with everything they need to succeed is the new Moore Athletic Center, which opened in the fall of 2004. The 176,000 square foot home of the Florida State Athletic Department houses all of FSU's support services under one roof allowing Seminole athletes a central location where they can get the help they need to thrive in all aspects of college life.

The Roger Holler Champions Training Complex is a 15,000 square foot training room with custom-built FSU equipment, platforms and weights. Academic Support's new offices include 32 computer labs for student-athletes, 10 private tutorial rooms and a five-station "Learning Center" for student-athletes with learning deficiencies and/or disabilities. The Don Fauls Athletic Training Room is 15,000 square feet and is used by all 19 Seminole varsity teams. Some of the features of the state-of-the-art training room are an in-house pharmacy, a 4,000 square foot rehabilitation room, an 8' x 40' in-ground workout pool, a 9' x 16' in-ground warm and cold whirlpool and nine extremity whirlpools.

With the unprecedented success on the field, brand new multi-million dollar facilities and unmatched levels of support, there has never been a better time to play soccer at Florida State University.

SEMINOLE SOCCER COMPLEX

In 1995, Florida State introduced women's soccer as its 17th varsity sport. As a new state-of-the-art complex was in the planning stages, the team played its first three seasons on a renovated intramural field while Tully Gym housed the Seminole locker room. By the spring of 1998, Florida State's dream of a new complex started to become a reality, as ground was broken for the new facility and construction began. Although the new facility was not completed, the Seminoles began playing on their new field in the fall of 1998. The 1999 season marked the first full season in the new Seminole Soccer Complex, which is regarded as one of the nation's best with its new top-playing surface.

"I have had a chance to travel around the US for years and I don't believe I have seen a better facility in the country than the one we have here at Florida State," said head coach Mark Krikorian. "It is part of what attracted me to come here and it is a reflection on the commitment the athletic department has to excellence and to this soccer program. The playing surface is beautiful and plays like some of the greatest stadiums anywhere. It is an intimate setting with gorgeous locker rooms and amazing offices for the coaches. If there is a better athletic facility in the country, I haven't seen it as of yet."

The state-of-the-art Seminole Soccer Complex includes ticket and concession buildings and a spacious press box, including press seating, radio/television booths and high-speed Internet access. The two-level Mary Ann Stiles & Barry Smith Team Building houses the coaches' offices which overlook the soccer field, a reception area, a combined workroom, large team and coaches locker rooms, visiting team locker rooms and training and equipment rooms.

The Seminole Soccer Complex, which also houses the FSU Softball Complex, is located between Dick Howser Baseball Stadium and Mike Long Track on Chieftan Way. The facility can be accessed from both Chieftan Way and Stadium Drive.

ACC SOCCER IN 2004

- ⚽ The ACC sent eight teams to the NCAA Tournament in 2004. If you include new addition Boston College, nine of the conference's 11 teams played in the NCAA's.
- ⚽ The ACC led the entire nation with eight teams in the NCAA Tournament. No other conference in America had more than five teams advance.
- ⚽ North Carolina was the tournament's top seed for the 15th time in the 23-year history of the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships.
- ⚽ North Carolina earned its 23rd consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament, Clemson and Virginia earned their 10th straight appearance, Wake Forest earned its eighth straight appearance while Maryland was invited for the ninth time in 10 years and Florida State went to the NCAA's for the fifth consecutive time. Virginia Tech made it to the tournament in its first season as an ACC school.
- ⚽ At least four ACC teams finished the season in the top 25 of all four major college soccer polls.

- ⚽ Four ACC players were named first team All-Americans by SoccerBuzz. That is more than any other conference in the country.

ACC SOCCER LEGACY

- ⚽ 18 NCAA Division I Championships
- ⚽ 22 NCAA title match appearances
- ⚽ 25 NCAA Final Four Appearances
- ⚽ Seven gold medal winning Olympians

- ⚽ Five members of Soccer America's All-Decade team
- ⚽ Eight current or former ACC players were members of the 1999 U.S. Women's World Cup Championship Team
- ⚽ 90 First Team All-Americans
- ⚽ Nine National Rookie of the Year Awards
- ⚽ 125-67-8 record in the NCAA Tournament

SOCCER ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

From Miami to Minneapolis, and from Warsaw to Walla Walla, young men and women come to Florida State University to embrace its educational excellence, and to compete as a Seminole. Many would not have the opportunity to receive that college education without their athletic scholarship. These young people work hard, and proudly represent Florida State as a winner on the national stage, attracting the attention to our University that winners bring.

Florida State Athletics provides each of our men's and women's teams with the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA. In addition to the field competitors, scholarships are also provided to student trainers, managers and graduate assistants who are vital to an athletic program.

The last fifteen years have seen a three-fold rise in the cost of athletic scholarships at Florida State. Today, more than $300,000 is needed to permanently endow a Florida state athletic scholarship. Most of the top public universities with whom Florida State competes and to whom we are compared, have endowed all of their athletic scholarships.

Established in 1986 under the direction of William M. Parker of Clearwater, the Seminole Boosters Endowed Scholarship Program is the final step toward perpetual funding of all scholarships for student-athletes at Florida State. Those individuals who contribute to the endowment fund for athletic scholarships at Florida State University gain membership in the Seminole Heritage Foundation.

Thanks to the efforts of Les and Ruth Akers, Charles and Diane Morris and Hunter McIntosh an effort has now begun to ensure the endowment of the Florida State soccer program.

CHARLES & DIANE MORRIS SCHOLARSHIP — A 1970 West Point graduate, Colonel Charles A. Morris, Ed.D. FSU 1994, honorably served our nation over a distinguished 27-year Army career. Diane faithfully served FSU from 1990-94 as an honored academic advisor in the Department of Psychology while Chuck commanded the Army ROTC Seminole Battalion. They returned to FSU in 1997 and Chuck began work in the Department of Athletics. Chuck and Diane became fans of Florida State soccer and recognized the importance of providing scholarships for future generations of student-athletes. As an expression of their loyalty, commitment, and admiration for FSU, they have endowed the outside right forward position.

LES & RUTH AKERS SCHOLARSHIP — Successful businessman, tireless fundraiser for Seminole Athletics, and leader in all areas of FSU alumni involvement, Les Akers and his wife Ruth, holder of a graduate degree in music, have expressed their love for the University by endowing a scholarship for soccer.

HUNTER McINTOSH — After playing professional tennis for several years, former FSU student-athlete Hunter McIntosh decided to endow an athletic scholarship for soccer to show his support for women's athletics here at Florida State University. Throughout his lifetime, he never lost his love or commitment to Seminole Athletics. Hunter's feeling for Florida State University can be summed up in his own words of "Once a Nole, always a Nole".

COACHING EXCELLENCE...

When it comes to legendary head coaches, it is hard to argue anyone has been as fortunate. The Seminoles have had three coaches who have established records that rank them with the greatest coaches ever to roam an NCAA sideline.

Florida State is the only NCAA school with three coaches in the Top 10 for all-time victories in their respective sport and in the top five in wins and winning percentage among active coaches. Bobby Bowden (football), JoAnne Graf (softball) and Mike Martin (baseball) have combined for 3,053 wins and each coach appears in the top two for active winning percentage, active wins or all-time victories.

Coach Bobby Bowden

Coach Bob Braman

Coach Mike Martin

Coach Sue Semrau

The caliber of coaches at Florida State is second to none and year after year, these coaches are recognized for excellence nationally, regionally and at the conference level. Women's basketball's Sue Semrau earned her second ACC Coach of the Year award in 2005 while Bob Braman was recognized for his stellar year in cross country (2004 NCAA South Region Coach of the Year) and both indoor and outdoor track and field when he was named the ACC Coach of the Year as well as region Coach of the Year for both sports.

IN THE COMMUNITY...

Seminole student-athletes are committed to making a positive impact on the community, serving almost 4,500 hours of community service during the 2004-05 school year. They also helped to raise thousands of dollars in direct support to charities.

FSU student-athletes have volunteered their time working with students from every elementary and middle school in Leon County as well as schools in nearby Wakulla and Gadsden counties. In addition, the Seminoles have participated in projects such as Habitat for Humanity, Relay for Life, Special Olympics, just to name a few.

POSTGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS...

Florida State student-athletes have earned over $300,000 in post-graduate scholarships over the past 10 years. They have also received 21 post-graduate scholarships from the ACC since 1992.

In 1996, Seminole Daryl Bush was the first ever recipient of the State Farm National Scholar Athlete of the Year award, now given annually.

Florida State boasts two NACDA Post-Graduate Award winners in the last five years. The scholarship, which was originated in 2001, grants $10,000 scholarships to its recipients.

IN THE CLASSROOM...

At the conclusion of the 2004-05 school year, five of Florida State's athletic teams had a 3.0 or better cumulative grade point average. In the spring 2005 semester 177 Seminoles achieved a minimum 3.0 semester GPA while average team semester GPA was a 2.813.

Since joining the ACC in 1991, FSU has had six National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame National Scholar Athlete Award winners – more than all other ACC schools combined and a figure that ranks nationally in the past 12 years.

In 2001, former Seminole Chris Weinke was the recipient of the first ever ACC Scholar Award which is given annually to an excellent athlete and top scholar who is not going on to graduate school. Football's Chris Hope (2002) and baseball's Matt Lynch (2003) have also earned the distinction.

Florida State had three student-athletes garner National Academic All-American honors in 2005 when softball junior Natasha Jacob and track and field sophomores Garrett Johnson and Tom Lancashire earned such status. It marked the first time since 1970 that three FSU student-athletes earned the honor in the same season.

Florida State has more all-time ACC Academic Honor Roll selections (2,014) than all-time All-ACC honorees (1,612). On top of that number, FSU athletes have been named National Academic All-Americans 26 times and 24 Florida State athletes have received post-graduate scholarships.

TOP ATHLETES...

When you consider the top athletes who don the Garnet and Gold, it's easy to see why Florida State has enjoyed such success over the years. Of the 36 national awards for athletic achievements Florida State student-athletes have earned, seven have been for the top athlete in the nation award in their respective sports. Florida State boasts two Heisman Trophy winners, three Golden Spikes winners, a USA Softball National Player of the Year and a Honda Award winner for softball.

From football, to diving, to tennis, to track and field, several of Florida State's student-athletes achieve All-America status each year. FSU boasts 702 first team All-America selections as well as several regional and national award winners. Over the years, FSU has enjoyed 1,612 All-ACC selections. Even more impressive is that 21 student-athletes have been crowned individual national champions in their respective sports.

TOP TEAMS...

Great athletes make great teams and Florida State has a rich history when it comes to great teams on both the national and conference level and has earned 11 national championships over the years. In 1999, the Florida State Seminoles became the first football team to go wire-to-wire as the Associated Press' No. 1 team when the squad went 12-0 on its way to the program's second national championship. FSU teams have combined for 130 NCAA Tournament appearances and 32 ACC team titles. Florida State's team sports have earned 7,977 victories and eight of Florida State's team sports have an all-time winning record.

THIS IS FLORIDA STATE

From its pre-Civil War beginnings as the Seminary West of the Suwannee to a nearly four-decade stint as the Florida State College for Women to its return to coeducational status as a university, Florida State University has developed into an acclaimed research institution with excellence in teaching, research and public service.

The university enrolls nearly 39,000 undergraduate, graduate and professional students. Of these, 24.2 percent are minorities. Students are from all 50 states and the District of Columbia, as well as 132 foreign countries.

Florida State offers an impressive breadth of academic degree programs. Students may take courses of study leading to a baccalaureate degree in 94 programs, a master's degree in 107 degree programs, a doctorate in 73 degree programs, a specialist certification in 28 degree programs, and a professional designation in two degree programs. Courses are offered through 16 schools and colleges — Arts and Sciences; Business; Communication; Criminology and Criminal Justice; Education; Engineering; Human Sciences; Information; Law; Medicine; Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts; Music; Nursing; Social Sciences; Social Work; and Visual Arts, Dance and Theatre.

Our students have the opportunity to work and study alongside two Nobel laureates, five members of the prestigious National Academy of Sciences, seven members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and two winners of the Pulitzer Prize. Florida State faculty also lead several scholarly fields in citations of published work.

Several members of the Florida State faculty were recognized with major awards in 2005, including two Guggenheim Fellowships, a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship, a Leopold Leadership Fellowship, five Fulbright fellowships, an Alexander Von Humboldt award, a new member elected into the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, a new member elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a new member elected into the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Florida State has many academic programs that consistently rank among those at the nation's top 25 public universities, including programs in business, chemistry, creative writing, criminology, ecology and evolutionary biology, information, law, meteorology, oceanography, physics, political science, psychology, public policy, sociology and statistics.

The university had many noteworthy achievements in 2005. Among them:

- The College of Law ranked among the top 30 public law schools in the United States; the environmental law program ranked 14th nationally and is considered one of the strongest in the Southeast.
- The School of Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts was recognized by the Directors Guild of America for its distinguished contribution to American culture through film and television, joining fellow honorees Robert DeNiro, Jonathan Demme and other entertainment luminaries at the Fifth Annual DGA Honors. In addition, the school was honored with two Student Oscars and five Collegiate Television Academy Awards, more than those received by students from any other school in the history of the industry.
- The Askew School of Public Administration and Policy was identified as the fourth most productive in the country among public affairs schools, and ranked third most productive in terms of published works by graduate students.
- The risk management/insurance program was named one of the most highly recognized programs in the nation, ranked in the top 10 by U.S. News and World Report.

THE UNIVERSITY

- The College of Medicine, the first newly accredited allopathic medical school in more than 20 years, graduated its first class and matched all students to residencies.
- Several faculty members in the English department were recognized with awards, including the prestigious Mary McCarthy Prize in fiction, awarded to Paul Shephard; an O. Henry Award for Elizabeth Stuckey-French; the Gustave O. Arlt Award from the Council of Graduate Schools to Nancy Bradley Warren; and the National Magazine Award to Robert Olen Butler.

Florida State's arts programs — including dance, film, music and theater — rank among the finest in the world.

Students also have the opportunity to conduct research in specialized interdisciplinary centers, such as the National High Magnetic Field Laboratory, the Institute of Molecular Biophysics, and the School of Computational Science; to participate in interdisciplinary work across campus, such as efforts that integrate economics, geography, climate forecasting, law and other environmental courses and programs; and to work with faculty to forge new relationships among professions, including medicine, the physical sciences, engineering, business and law.

Students at Florida State are encouraged to participate in international education through the university's programs in England, Italy, Switzerland, France, Panama, China, Costa Rica, Spain, Russia, Vietnam, the Czech Republic, Greece, Croatia, Germany, Ireland and the Caribbean. The university's study sites in Valencia, Spain; Florence, Italy; London, England; and the Republic of Panama are considered by many to be among the nation's best.

Florida State's main campus is spread over 450.5 acres in Tallahassee. Within the state, the university maintains facilities in Panama City, its Marine Laboratory at Turkey Point on the Gulf of Mexico, and the Asolo Performing Arts Center in Sarasota. In addition, the Center for Professional Development and Public Service, housed in the Augustus B. Turnbull III Florida Conference Center on the edge of campus, provides extensive credit and non-credit continuing education programs statewide.

Florida State also operates the Ringling Center for the Cultural Arts in Sarasota, which includes the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, the largest museum/university complex in the nation.

Library holdings at Florida State include 2.7 million book titles and 9.1 million microforms. The university's library holdings rank among the top 30 public research universities in the United States, according to 2003-2004 data. The main library facility, the Robert M. Stroz Library, is linked by computer to other state university and national research libraries. Florida State also maintains science, music, library and information science, medicine, engineering and law libraries, as well as the Mildred and Claude Pepper Library, which houses the papers, photographs, audio recordings, video recordings and memorabilia of the longtime congressman from Florida. Library materials and services also are available at the university's Panama City campus, as well as at the international study centers, and a collection of art and related materials is on display at the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art in Sarasota. Collectively, the Florida State libraries are a member of the Association of Research Libraries, an association of the top research university libraries in the United States.
