

This is FSU Soccer

ONE OF THE NATION'S BEST PROGRAMS

Florida State soccer has come a long way since the program played its first game in 1995. In just 11 years, the FSU soccer program has become one of the premiere destinations for the United States and the world's best women's soccer players. FSU has blossomed into one of a handful of collegiate powers this decade.

With its trip to the College Cup in 2005, Florida State is one of just two schools to play in soccer's version of the final four twice in the last three seasons. This decade the Seminoles have been to six straight NCAA Tournaments, four sweet 16's, two College Cups and two ACC Tournament finals. Only 5% of the 301 schools competing in Division I soccer have been to the last six NCAA Tournaments and FSU is one of those schools.

ACC POWERHOUSE

FSU has not only become a player on the national stage but the program has grown into one of the most successful teams in the nation's best soccer conference. Florida State and North Carolina are the only ACC teams to play in a College Cup since 1992. Over the last five seasons only one school in the ACC has more overall wins than the Seminoles and in the last three seasons only one team has won more ACC games than Florida State. The Seminoles are also making their impact felt in the top of the ACC standings. Last season FSU finished second in the conference, marking the fifth straight year in the top four of the ACC. Once again Florida State and North Carolina are the only two schools to each finish in the top four of the ACC in each of the last five seasons.

The Seminoles success in the NCAA Tournament is also among the best in the ACC. On top of going to more College Cups than anyone in the conference besides North Carolina, FSU has the second-best all-time NCAA Tournament winning percentage among ACC schools and the second-most round of 16 appearances since 2000. Playing at Florida State is not just about being in the ACC, it is about excelling in the ACC.

Florida State Head Coach Mark Krikorian came into to Tallahassee in 2005 and in his first season he led FSU to its best record in school history, its longest winning streak, its longest ACC winning streak, its most wins and most goals as well. Krikorian became one of just five coaches to lead his team to a College Cup in his first year on the job and he is the only Division I coach ever to take a team to the College Cup after that squad did not win an NCAA Tournament game the year before. For his efforts Krikorian was named the National Coach of the Year by Soccer America and Soccer Buzz and FSU's first-ever ACC Women's Soccer Coach of the Year. The awards were nothing new for Krikorian who has been named coach of the year 15 times in his career on top of winning two National Championships at Franklin Pierce.

PLAYING ON THE BIGGEST STAGE

Every year FSU soccer has reached new heights and the program has now taken its place among the elite in the nation. But being a Seminole and playing at FSU means so much more than just on the field accomplishments.

Being a member of the Florida State soccer team means you get to play in some of the most electric atmospheres in the nation. In 2005 FSU played in front 6,701 fans in College Station, TX at the College Cup. On three other occasions the Seminoles took the field in front of more than 2,500 fans and when FSU played in the Seminole Soccer Complex, the Tallahassee community continually filled the stadium with an energy unlike any in the nation. Florida State played in front of more than 900 fans per game, a new school record and the Seminoles have now ranked among the nation's attendance leaders for six consecutive years.

ONCE IN A LIFETIME OPPORTUNITIES

Being a Seminole means you are presented with once in a lifetime opportunities. In the summer of 2004 the Seminole soccer team spent two weeks traveling through Australia where they played three games versus the Australian Olympic team. The squad visited Sydney, Canberra, the Gold Coast, Brisbane and South Standbroke Island. The Seminoles surfed the Gold Coast, visited the Sydney Opera House and the Sydney Harbour Bridge. They got up close and personal with koala bears, kangaroos, wallabies and all types of exotic birds at Currumbin Wildlife Sanctuary. The team also explored the waterfalls of Springbrook National Park and even paid a visit to the Australia rain forest.

Playing soccer at Florida State also means making memories on the field that will last a lifetime and sharing those memories with players and staff in a family atmosphere. It means calling up a teammate 10 years later and remembering the penalty kick win over North Carolina at Chapel Hill that sent the team to its second College Cup. Going over those last 20 seconds when a golden goal sent you and your teammates to the Elite Eight for the first time ever. Or remembering what it felt like as you counted off the last five seconds at Percy Beard Stadium. Knowing you had just gone on the road to Gainesville, defeated a highly ranked Gator team and made history by taking FSU to its first College Cup. It's the excitement the players felt in the pits of their collective stomachs as they left the locker room to take the field in the national semifinal in 2003 and 2005. Games that were televised to millions of homes on ESPN.

SUPPORTING OUR ATHLETES

Playing soccer at Florida State also means that you get to have all those experiences while surrounded by a support staff that is in place to help you succeed in every way. Whether it is the Academic Support department providing an environment which facilitates the academic success of each student-athlete or the strength and conditioning staff whose goal is to maximize the on-field performance of each student-athlete while reducing the risk of injury. Florida State's Student Services and the N.O.L.E.S. Program (New Opportunities For Leadership, Education and Service) is dedicated to the total growth of the student-athlete and focuses on personal growth issues such as values clarification, goal setting, fiscal planning, decision-making and personal responsibility.

NATION'S BEST FACILITIES

One of the reasons those support groups can provide FSU's student-athletes with everything they need to succeed is the new Moore Athletic Center, which opened in the fall of 2004. The 176,000 square foot home of the Florida State Athletic Department houses all of FSU's support services under one roof allowing Seminole athletes a central location where they can get the help they need to thrive in all aspects of college life.

The Roger Holler Champions Training Complex is a 15,000 square foot training room with custom-built FSU equipment, platforms and weights. Academic Support's new offices include 32 computer labs for student-athletes, 10 private tutorial rooms and a five-station "Learning Center" for student-athletes with learning deficiencies and/or disabilities. The Don Fauls Athletic Training Room is 15,000 square feet and is used by all 19 Seminole varsity teams. Some of the features of the state-of-the-art training room are an in-house pharmacy, a 4,000 square foot rehabilitation room, an 8' x 40' in-ground workout pool, a 9' x 16' in-ground warm and cold whirlpool and nine extremity whirlpools.

With the unprecedented success on the field, brand new multi-million dollar facilities and unmatched levels of support, there has never been a better time to play soccer at Florida State University.

Seminole Soccer Complex

In 1995, Florida State introduced women's soccer as its 17th varsity sport. As a new state-of-the-art complex was in the planning stages, the team played its first three seasons on a renovated intramural field while Tully Gym housed the Seminole locker room. By the spring of 1998, Florida State's dream of a new complex started to become a reality, as ground was broken for the new facility and construction began. Although the new facility was not completed, the Seminoles began playing on their new field in the fall of 1998. The 1999 season marked the first full season in the new Seminole Soccer Complex, which is regarded as one of the nation's best with its new top-playing surface.

"I have had a chance to travel around the US for years and I don't believe I have seen a better facility in the country than the one we have here at Florida State," said head coach Mark Krikorian. "It is part of what attracted me to come here and it is a reflection on the commitment the athletic department has to excellence and to this soccer program. The playing surface is beautiful and plays like some of the greatest stadiums anywhere. It is an intimate setting with gorgeous locker rooms and amazing offices for the coaches. If there is a better athletic facility in the country, I haven't seen it as of yet."

The state-of-the-art Seminole Soccer Complex includes ticket and concession buildings and a spacious press box, including press seating, radio/television booths and high-speed Internet access. The two-level Mary Ann Stiles & Barry Smith Team Building houses the coaches' offices which overlook the soccer field, a reception area, a combined workroom, large team and coaches locker rooms, visiting team locker rooms and training and equipment rooms.

Although the Seminole Soccer Complex is still one of the newest facilities on the Florida State campus, FSU's commitment to the success of the soccer program continues to show with the latest upgrade to the facility. Florida State will unveil a brand new video scoreboard for the 2006 season. The board uses the same technology that is used at most outdoor professional stadiums. The ProStar is capable of displaying video clips, live video, animation, player headshots, graphics and statistics in 4.3 trillion colors.

The Seminole Soccer Complex, which is adjacent to the FSU Softball Complex, is located between Dick Howser Baseball Stadium and Mike Long Track on Chieftan Way. The facility can be accessed from both Chieftan Way and Stadium Drive.

COACHING EXCELLENCE...

When it comes to legendary head coaches, it is hard to argue anyone has been as fortunate. The Seminoles have had three coaches who have established records that rank them with the greatest coaches ever to roam an NCAA sideline.

Florida State is the only NCAA school with three coaches in the top five for all-time victories in their respective sport and in the top five in wins and winning percentage among active coaches. Bobby Bowden (football), JoAnne Graf (softball) and Mike Martin (baseball) have combined for 3,149 wins and each coach appears in the top four for active winning percentage, active wins or all-time victories.

The caliber of coaches at Florida State is second to none and year after year, these coaches are recognized for excellence nationally, regionally and at the conference level. For the second straight season, Bob Braman was recognized for his stellar year in both cross country (2004 & 2005 NCAA South Region Coach of the Year) and both indoor and outdoor track and field when he was named the 2005 & 2006 ACC Coach of the Year as well as region Coach of the Year honors for both sports. He capped off the banner season with National Coach of the Year honors after leading the Seminoles to the 2006 Men's Track and Field Outdoor National Championship. Neil Harper earned Women's Swimming ACC Coach of the Year honors in 2006 while first year soccer coach Mark Krikorian made an immediate impact at FSU earning ACC Coach of the Year honors as well as National Coach of the Year honors by both Soccer America and Soccer Buzz.

IN THE COMMUNITY...

Seminole student-athletes are committed to making a positive impact on the community, serving almost 5,000 hours of community service during the 2005-06 school year. They also helped to raise thousands of dollars in direct support to charities.

FSU student-athletes have volunteered their time working with students from every elementary and middle school in Leon County as well as schools in nearby Wakulla and Gadsden counties. In addition, the Seminoles have participated in projects such as Habitat for Humanity, Relay for Life, Special Olympics, and Tallahassee Sports Ability, just to name a few.

POSTGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS...

In November 2005, two-time All-American shot putter Garrett Johnson became just the second FSU student and first FSU student-athlete to be selected a Rhodes Scholar when he was chosen as one of 32 college students from throughout the United States to study at the University of Oxford and one of less than 100 from around the world who will join the prestigious academic program in October of 2006. The program's criteria is based on academic success, leadership potential, personal integrity and physical vigor.

Florida State student-athletes have earned over $350,000 in post-graduate scholarships over the past 12 years. They have also received 29 post-graduate scholarships from the ACC since 1993 including David Castillo (football), Andrew Diakos (track & field) and LaKendra McCollum (track & field), who were among the 36 Atlantic Coast Conference scholar-athletes to be named recipients of the ACC Weaver James Corrigan Postgraduate Scholarship in 2005-06. In addition, Garrett Johnson (track & field) earned the ACC Scholar Award.

In 1996, Seminole Daryl Bush was the first ever recipient of the State Farm National Scholar Athlete of the Year award, now given annually.

Florida State boasts two NACDA Post-Graduate Award winners in the last six years. The scholarship, which was originated in 2001, grants $10,000 scholarships to its recipients.

IN THE CLASSROOM...

Florida State named a record 194 student-athletes to the 2006 Atlantic Coast Conference Honor Roll in 2005-06. At the conclusion of the school year, eight of Florida State's athletic teams had a 3.0 or better cumulative grade point average. In the spring 2006 semester, 202 Seminoles achieved a minimum 3.0 semester GPA while the average team semester GPA was a 2.941.

Since joining the ACC in 1991, FSU has had seven National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame National Scholar Athlete Award winners — a figure that ranks nationally in the past 14 years.

In 2001, former Seminole quarterback Chris Weinke was the recipient of the first ever ACC Scholar Award which is given annually to an excellent athlete and top scholar who plans to pursue a professional athletic career. Since then, football's Chris Hope (2002), baseball's Matt Lynch (2003) and track & field's Garrett Johnson (2006) have also earned the distinction.

Florida State had six student-athletes garner National Academic All-American honors in 2005-06 when football senior David Castillo, softball senior Natasha Jacob and track and field's Garrett Johnson, Tom Lancashire, Javier Garcia-Tunon and Lacy Janson earned such status. It marked the first time that six FSU student-athletes earned the honor in the same academic year.

Florida State has more all-time ACC Academic Honor Roll selections (2,208) than all-time All-ACC honorees (1,692). Since 1970, 32 FSU student-athletes have earned National Academic All-American honors and 2006 marked the second straight year three or more FSU student-athletes earned the honor in the same season.

In 2006, eight Seminole student athletes earned the prestigious Arthur Ashe Junior Sports Scholar Award and football's David Castillo was named the Arthur Ashe Junior National Male Scholar Athlete of the Year. The Arthur Ashe Jr. Sports Scholar Awards were established in 1992 and serve to honor minority student athletes who exhibit academic excellence and community activism, as well as athletic prowess.

Football's Chris Hope received the 2002 NACDA Postgraduate Scholarship.

TOP ATHLETES...

When you consider the top athletes who don the Garnet and Gold, it's easy to see why Florida State has enjoyed such success over the years. Of the 36 national awards for athletic achievements Florida State student-athletes have earned, seven have been for the top athlete in the nation award in their respective sports. Florida State boasts two Heisman Trophy winners, three Golden Spikes winners, a USA Softball National Player of the Year and a Honda Award winner for softball.

From football, to diving, to tennis, to track and field, several of Florida State's student-athletes achieve All-America status each year. FSU boasts 709 first team All-America selections as well as several regional and national award winners. Over the years, FSU has enjoyed 1,692 All-ACC selections. Even more impressive is that 25 student-athletes have been crowned individual national champions in their respective sports.

This Is Florida State

From its pre-Civil War beginnings as the Seminary West of the Suwannee to a nearly four-decade stint as the Florida State College for Women to its return to coeducational status as a university, Florida State University has developed into an internationally acclaimed research institution with excellence in teaching, research and public service.

The university enrolls almost 40,000 undergraduate, graduate and professional students. Of these, 24.5 percent are minorities. Students are from all 50 states and the District of Columbia, as well as 137 foreign countries.

Florida State offers an impressive breadth of academic degree programs. Students may take courses of study leading to a baccalaureate degree in 94 programs, a master's degree in 107 degree programs, a doctorate in 73 degree programs, a specialist certification in 28 degree programs and a professional designation in two degree programs. Courses are offered through 16 schools and colleges — Arts and Sciences; Business; Communication; Criminology and Criminal Justice; Education; Engineering; Human Sciences; Information; Law; Medicine; Motion Picture, Television and Recording Arts; Music; Nursing; Social Sciences; Social Work; and Visual Arts, Theatre and Dance.

Students have the opportunity to work and study alongside members of the prestigious National Academy of Sciences, members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, winners of the Pulitzer Prize and a Nobel laureate. Florida State faculty also lead several scholarly fields in citations of published work.

Several members of the Florida State faculty were recognized with major awards in the 2005-2006 academic year, including two new members elected to the prestigious National Academy of Sciences; four Fulbright fellowships; two new fellows of the American Physical Society; the 2006 Medalist Award from the Florida Academy of Sciences; a Sloan Research Fellowship; and one professor, the legendary ballerina Suzanne Farrell, rewarded with Kennedy Center Honors.

Florida State has many academic programs that consistently rank among those at the nation's top 25 public universities, including programs in business, chemistry, creative writing, criminology, ecology and evolutionary biology, information, law, meteorology, oceanography, physics, political science, psychology, public policy, sociology and statistics.

The university had many noteworthy achievements during the 2005-2006 academic year. Among them:

- Florida State launched the Pathways to Excellence Initiative, which takes advantage of the university's unique strengths with significant new investments in research and graduate education. It is designed to target and hire 200 top faculty members who are national and international leaders in their respective fields to complement FSU's highly respected faculty, and to bring added value to the university's world-class research groups and centers through substantial investments in new facilities and enhancements to graduate education, particularly Ph.D. programs.
- The FSU CONNECT Campaign, launched in October 2001, officially concluded, having raised more than $630 million to support the university.
- Sarasota philanthropist Dr. Helga Wall-Apelt's multi-tiered gift devoted to Asian art is the largest yet received by the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art and the largest single gift to FSU, expected to exceed a total value of $50 million.
- U.S. News & World Report ranked the College of Information master's program 10th in the nation; the College of Arts and Sciences' nuclear physics program was 13th, as was its analytical chemistry program; and the College of Law's environmental law program was 14th, as was the higher education administration program in the College of Education. In addition, Hispanic Business magazine again ranked the law school among the Top 10 in the nation for Hispanics.

- The National High Magnetic Field Laboratory unveiled two world-record magnets that offer potential for scientific breakthroughs in a variety of fields. Standing 16 feet tall and weighing more than 15 tons, a 900-megahertz, superconducting NMR magnet was brought online following 13 years of design, development and testing. Science performed using this magnet will help scientists understand the workings of biological molecules, as well as the workings of the cell and the brain. In addition, a 35-tesla magnet, the highest-field "resistive" magnet in the world, was unveiled. It will be used primarily for physics and materials science research.
- An international reputation of excellence earned the Learning Systems Institute a $6.2 million grant from the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to develop national performance standards and a training curriculum for port security and other personnel to prevent, deter and respond to terrorist acts along the 95,000 miles of U.S. shoreline.
- Student-athlete Garrett Johnson, an outstanding graduate student studying public administration and one of the best shot putters in the world, won a Rhodes Scholarship — just one of many FSU students furthering their educations through prestigious academic awards.

Students at Florida State have the opportunity to conduct research in specialized interdisciplinary centers, such as the National High Magnetic Field Laboratory, the Institute of Molecular Biophysics, and the School of Computational Science; to participate in interdisciplinary work across campus, such as programs that integrate economics, geography, climate forecasting, law and other environmental courses and programs; and to work with faculty to forge new relationships between disciplines, including medicine, the physical sciences, engineering, business and law.

Students also are encouraged to participate in international education through the university's programs in England, Italy, Switzerland, France, Panama, China, Costa Rica, Spain, Russia, the Czech Republic, Greece, Croatia, Germany, Ireland and the Caribbean. The university's study sites in London, the Republic of Panama, Valencia, Spain, and Florence, Italy, are considered by many to be among the nation's best. In 2006, Florida State signed a cooperative agreement with the newly formed International Valencian University in Spain, becoming its North American partner — another example of Florida State's growing prominence in the international academic community.

Florida State's main campus is spread over 450.5 acres in Tallahassee. Within the state, the university maintains facilities in Panama City, at its Coastal and Marine Laboratory on the Gulf of Mexico, and at the Asolo Performing Arts Center in Sarasota. Also in Sarasota, Florida State operates the Ringling Center for the Cultural Arts, which includes the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, the largest museum/university complex in the nation.

Extensive credit and non-credit continuing education programs are offered statewide via Academic and Professional Program Services, housed in the Augustus B. Turnbull III Florida Conference Center on the edge of the Florida State campus. In addition, library holdings at Florida State include 2.8 million book titles and 9.1 million microforms. The university's library holdings rank among the top 30 public research universities in the United States.

The university's main library facility, the Robert M. Strozier Library, is linked by computer to other state university and national research libraries. Florida State also maintains science, music, library and information science, medicine, engineering and law libraries, as well as the Mildred and Claude Pepper Library, which houses the papers, photographs, audio recordings, video recordings and memorabilia of the longtime congressman from Florida. Library materials and services also are available at the university's Panama City campus, as well as at the international study centers, and a collection of art and related materials is on display at the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art in Sarasota. Collectively, the Florida State libraries are a member of the Association of Research Libraries, an association of the top research university libraries in the United States.

This is Tallahassee

Among low, rolling hills, down moss-draped canopy roads, within picturesque historical districts, and across seas of flowering azaleas lies a magical part of the Sunshine State — Tallahassee — Florida's capital city. With its intriguing combination of power-play politics and classic character splashed with a twist of beauty and charm, Tallahassee is a genteel Southern belle with good manners, old plantation homes and y'all-come hospitality — a side of Florida few expect to find.

With the Gulf of Mexico just 25 miles south and the Georgia border only 14 miles north, Tallahassee rests between the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains and the juncture of Florida's panhandle and peninsula in an area known as "The Big Bend." Nearer in miles to Atlanta than to Miami, Tallahassee more closely resembles its' Georgia neighbor than Florida in topography, climate and lifestyle.

Like the city itself, the story of how Tallahassee was chosen as the state capital is rich in history. In 1823, two explorers set out — one on horseback from St. Augustine and the other by boat from Pensacola — to establish a permanent, central location for the seat of government. The two met at a beautiful site that the Creek and Seminole Indians called "tallahassee" — derived from the words "talwa," meaning town, and "ahassee," meaning old. This historic meeting place remains Florida's capital today.

The New Capitol building rises at the center of Tallahassee's downtown as a sleek modern structure, juxtaposed next to the Old Capitol, built in the more classic domed style. A gallery atop the 22-story New Capitol provides a sweeping view of the hilly city and its tree-lined streets. From it, you can see all the way to Georgia, 20 miles away.

Around the capitol complex, a 10-block historic district spreads, preserving the town's gracious old homes along a linear park and holding a historic inn, bars and restaurants patronized by Senators and sophomores alike. With no shortage of culture, downtown also offers museums, theater and art galleries. Artists have turned the old warehouses of Downtown Industrial Park into the studios

Tallahassee has the mild, moist climate characteristics of the Gulf States and experiences a subtropical summer similar to the rest of Florida. In contrast to the Florida peninsula, however, the panhandle, of which Tallahassee is a part, experiences four seasons.

The Museum of Florida History, nearby, is highly acclaimed for its scan of the state's past, and The Mary Brogan Museum of Art & Science, along with changing art exhibits, brings learning to a kid's level with hands-on exhibits. The area surrounding Tallahassee reveals numerous other historic and archaeological treasures, such as De Soto State Archaeological and Historical Site, Lake Jackson State Archaeological Site, Mission San Luis, Natural Bridge Battlefield and San Marcos de Apalache. Visitors can explore prehistoric Florida at the Museum of Florida History, where they are greeted by a giant 12,000-year-old mastodon pulled from nearby Wakulla Springs.

On the shores of Wakulla Springs, alligators still laze under the watchful eyes of "snake birds" perched on twisted cypress trees. The site of many underwater scenes in "Tarzan" movies, it's one of the world's deepest freshwater springs. Glass-bottomed boat tours across these mystical waters are available.

Nearby small towns offer fascinating excursions to places such as Pebble Hill Plantation, Florida Caverns State Park, Monticello Opera House and St. George Island.

This Is The ACC

THE TRADITION

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 54th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 100 national championships, including 52 in women's competition and 48 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 71 times in women's action.

The conference made an immediate impact in women's soccer on the national college scene in the fall of 1987 when North Carolina captured the first of what would eventually be 13 national titles for the ACC. Since becoming a league sponsored sport, the Tar Heels have laid claim to 13 of the last 19 national championships, including eight consecutive titles between 1987 and 1994.

In 2005, the ACC Championship would pit the top two seeds in No. 1 North Carolina versus No. 2 Virginia, a rematch of last year's championship final, at the SAS Soccer Complex in Cary, N.C. The Tar Heels reclaimed the league crown with a 4-1 win over the Cavaliers for their 16th conference title.

The ACC led all conferences with seven teams selected to the 2005 NCAA Tournament, including ACC newcomer Boston College, Clemson, Duke, Florida State, North Carolina, Virginia and Wake Forest. It marked the fourth time in the last five years that at least seven teams from the ACC received a bid into the national tournament. Four schools, Duke, Florida State, North Carolina and Virginia, all earned national seeds, tying a league-high, set back in 2003. Florida State, North Carolina and Virginia each advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament, while the Seminoles made it to the semifinals of the Women's College Cup under first-year head coach Mark Krikorian. The Seminoles have appeared in the College Cup twice over the last three years, the most by any other team in the ACC and the second most in the nation.

Five teams finished in the top 25 of three major polls (Soccer America, Soccer Buzz and NSCAA). North Carolina, Florida State and Virginia each finished in the top 10 of all three polls, while the Eagles of Boston College finished the 2005 season ranked No. 10 by NSCAA. The Tar Heels' Heather O'Reilly was named a finalist for the Honda Award, while teammate Lori Chalupny, Virginia's Sarah Huffman and Florida State's Sel Kuralay earned Soccer America MVP accolades. Krikorian was named National Coach of the Year by Soccer

America and Soccer Buzz.

The 11 schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have garnered 102 first, second or third team NSCAA All-America distinctions, 47 National Player of the Year titles and 12 National Rookie of the Year honors. The ACC has also amassed 34 Academic All-Americans since 1986.

2005-06 IN REVIEW

The 2005-06 academic year concluded with the league pocketing an all-time high six national team titles and 15 individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 57 national team titles over the last 16 years. The ACC has won two or more NCAA titles in 24 of the past 26 years.

A HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

Soccer Endowed Scholarships

From Miami to Minneapolis, and from Warsaw to Walla Walla, young men and women come to Florida State University to embrace its educational excellence, and to compete as a Seminole. Many would not have the opportunity to receive that college education without their athletic scholarship. These young people work hard, and proudly represent Florida State as a winner on the national stage, attracting the attention to our University that winners bring.

Florida State Athletics provides each of our men's and women's teams with the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA. In addition to the field competitors, scholarships are also provided to student trainers, managers and graduate assistants who are vital to an athletic program.

The last fifteen years have seen a three-fold rise in the cost of athletic scholarships at Florida State. Today, more than $300,000 is needed to permanently endow a Florida state athletic scholarship. Most of the top public universities with whom Florida State competes and to whom we are compared, have endowed all of their athletic scholarships.

Established in 1986 under the direction of William M. Parker of Clearwater, the Seminole Boosters Endowed Scholarship Program is the final step toward perpetual funding of all scholarships for student-athletes at Florida State. Those individuals who contribute to the endowment fund for athletic scholarships at Florida State University gain membership in the Seminole Heritage Foundation.

Thanks to the efforts of Les and Ruth Akers, Charles and Diane Morris and Hunter McIntosh an effort has now begun to ensure the endowment of the Florida State soccer program.

CHARLES & DIANE MORRIS SCHOLARSHIP

A 1970 West Point graduate, Colonel Charles A. Morris, Ed.D. FSU 1994, honorably served our nation over a distinguished 27-year Army career. Diane faithfully served FSU from 1990-94 as an honored academic advisor in the Department of Psychology while Chuck commanded the Army ROTC Seminole Battalion. They returned to FSU in 1997 and Chuck began work in the Department of Athletics. Chuck and Diane became fans of Florida State soccer and recognized the importance of providing scholarships for future generations of student-athletes. As an expression of their loyalty, commitment, and admiration for FSU, they have endowed the outside right forward position.

LES & RUTH AKERS SCHOLARSHIP

Successful businessman, tireless fundraiser for Seminole Athletics, and leader in all areas of FSU alumni involvement, Les Akers and his wife Ruth, holder of a graduate degree in music, have expressed their love for the University by endowing a scholarship for soccer.

HUNTER MCINTOSH

After playing professional tennis for several years, former FSU student-athlete Hunter McIntosh decided to endow an athletic scholarship for soccer to show his support for women's athletics here at Florida State University. Throughout his lifetime, he never lost his love or commitment to Seminole Athletics. Hunter's feeling for Florida State University can be summed up in his own words of "Once a Nole, always a Nole".

Enthusiastic Tallahassee business leaders formed the first Seminole Boosters organization in the summer of 1951. Their purpose was to support an ambitious Seminole football program rapidly growing in popularity. A brand new stadium and increasing program costs motivated the Boosters to make fundraising their first priority, a priority that remains our primary purpose.

The Seminole Boosters experienced great success through Head Football Coach Bill Peterson's tenure (1960-1970). From 1971 through 1973 Boosters served as the reorganized National Seminole Club. In the winter following the winless 1973 season, local leaders again responded to the challenge of University President Dr Stan Marshall, and re-incorporated the Seminole Boosters. In March, 1975 Andy Miller became chief operating officer of the organization, the post he still holds.

Today, Seminole Boosters, Inc. is one of the leading collegiate athletic fundraising organizations in America. Contributors account for more than $10 million in annual funds, plus at least $10 million per year in capital gifts. The Seminole Boosters Scholarship Endowment has nearly $26 million under management, and the Boosters are involved with a wide range of enterprises including affinity programs, logos & licensing, gameday parking, concessions, the University Center Club, skybox management and the construction of athletic facilities.
