

MARK KRIKORIAN

HEAD COACH St. Anselm College '83 Fourth Season at FSU • 15th College Season

Florida State head coach Mark Krikorian took over the Seminole women's soccer program in 2005 and has proven to the nation that FSU soccer will be one to be reckoned with on an annual basis. In his first three years in Tallahassee, Krikorian guided the Seminoles to three straight College Cup appearances and the school's first appearance in the national championship game in 2007. He has registered at least 18 wins in each of his three seasons while finishing no lower than second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the nation's premier soccer conference.

Not only has Krikorian accomplished things that had never been done at Florida State, but he has also achieved what has yet to be accomplished by head coaches on the national level. Since the NCAA expanded to 64 teams in 2001, Krikorian is the first coach to take over a program and lead that team to three consecutive College Cups. He is also the first coach to advance through 13 rounds of the NCAA Tournament in his first three seasons at a school and is the first FSU coach to ever lead the program to a spot in the national finals. In three years, Krikorian has led the Seminoles to a 12-3-1 mark in NCAA Tournament play while claiming an overall winning percentage of .769.

The 2007 season marked the seventh straight year Krikorian led a team to the NCAA Women's Soccer Tournament and the fourth time he guided a Division I squad to the quarterfinals. He took Hartford to the NCAA Tournament from 1997-2000 including trips to the quarterfinals and two appearances in the round of 16. Krikorian has a lifetime winning percentage of .700 in the Division I Women's Soccer Tournament and also captured two Division II National Championships with Franklin Pierce. FSU's run to the 2007 national title game against Southern California represented Krikorian's third all-time appearance in an NCAA soccer championship game.

In just three seasons as FSU's field general, Krikorian's players have won more than 70 conference, regional and national honors including seven All-ACC first team selections, which ties for the conference lead. Last year, Florida State once again made school history as three athletes were honored at the national level for their outstanding season. Mami Yamaguchi became the most decorated soccer player to come out of Tallahassee claiming the MAC Hermann Trophy, presented to the top female player in NCAA Division I soccer. After rewriting the Seminole single-season record books and finishing the season as the national leader in points (66), Yamaguchi added NSCAA Player of the Year and ACC Offensive Player of the Year to her list of accolades while becoming FSU's first consensus first team All-American. Freshmen Amanda DaCosta and Sanna Talonen were named National Freshman of the Year by Soccer Buzz and Soccer America, respectively, the first recipients of such an award in the 13-year history of the program. In all, three players have been named semifinalist for the Hermann Trophy under his watch, while four players were finalists for national player of the year recognition. A total of seven players received All-America accolades last season as well.

The Seminoles have flourished both offensively and defensively under Krikorian's guidance. In 2005, Florida State finished with a +43 goal differential, 11 points better than the previous school record, en route to establishing single season records for goals (65) and points (188). Those records were shattered two years later as the 2007 squad became the highest scoring team in school history. The Seminoles tallied 233 points on 81 goals and 71 assists, good for a +55 goal differential. FSU went on to set school records for points per (8.63), goals per game (3.00), assists per game (2.63) and shots on goal (202). The offensive production also made ACC history marking the first time that a school other than North Carolina led the league in every major offensive category.

Defensively, Krikorian's teams have been just as good registering sub-1.00 goals against average in each of his three seasons for the first time in school history including a school record 0.67 GAA in 2006. Goals have certainly been hard to come by for opponents since Krikorian's arrival as the Seminoles have posted a shutout in almost half of their total games he has coached – 37 shutouts in 78 games (47.4%). In 2007, FSU recorded the second most shutouts in school history with 12 and have now reached double-digits in that category in each of the last three seasons. The Seminoles went on to post a school record 14 shutouts in 2006. In the quarterfinals of the 2007 NCAA Tournament, the Seminoles set a program first blanking Texas for the team's third shutout of the postseason. The previous school record for postseason shutouts was two set in 2006. Prior to Krikorian coming to Tallahassee, the most shutouts recorded in a season were nine set twice in 2003 and 2004.

His first year on the job was nothing short of magnificent leading the Seminoles to their first 20win season and second College Cup in 2005. In his second year at the helm, the Seminoles continued their dominance in 2006 reaching the College Cup for the third time in the program's 12th year. In all three seasons, Krikorian has earned at least three NCAA Tournament wins and reached the Tournament semifinals, a feat that had only occurred once in program history. It shouldn't be surprising when examining Krikorian's past. He won two National Championships following undefeated seasons at Franklin Pierce. He then built Hartford into a national power before coming to FSU. Krikorian has never posted a winning percentage below .700 at any of his collegiate head coaching positions. With that kind of success it is easy to see why he is one of the most successful coaches of all-time. Krikorian currently ranks 20th on the all-time list for winningest coaches across all divisions and is the eighth winningest active head coach in Division I. The Seminole coach is one of only two members of that top 20 that coached in two divisions of the NCAA.

After what Krikorian has done in three seasons at Florida State, it would be hard not to argue that he is one of the best coaches in Division I. What the Seminole head coach is doing when it comes to consecutive victories is unprecedented in FSU soccer history. Krikorian's teams have the two best win streaks to open a season at seven (2005) and six (2006) games. In 2005, he led FSU to nine and seven game streaks. With a 6-0 start in 2006, the three longest win streaks in school history have all come under Krikorian's guidance. Three seasons ago, he became just the second coach in ACC history to lead his team to seven consecutive wins in conference play. The Seminole boss led FSU to a school record 24-game home unbeaten streak (22-0-2), a feat covering three seasons. Krikorian also had a successful start to his FSU coaching career. In his first 30 games, Krikorian posted a .850 winning percentage, 300 points better than any previous coach. With a 2-1 victory over Stetson in 2006, he became the fastest FSU coach to earn 30 wins, reaching it in just 38 matches. He also established a new record two seasons ago when his 2006 squad had just one loss after 15 matches. No previous FSU team had ever played more than 10 games without suffering multiple losses.

Krikorian hasn't just produced wins; he has secured big wins as well. In the first 10 years and 206 games of FSU soccer history, the Seminoles recorded seven wins over top 10 teams. In 78 games under Krikorian, Florida State has recorded eight top 10 victories. In addition to the win streaks, wins over top teams and trips to the College Cup, Krikorian led FSU to its highest ranking ever in all four college soccer polls including the first No. 1 ranking in school history. After downing Portland 2-1 to kickoff the 2006 season, the Seminoles jumped to the top spot in the nation in the Soccer America top 25 poll, a spot they held for four consecutive weeks. Following its run to the national championship game in 2007, the Seminoles finished the season ranked as high as number two in a pair of national polls.

In Krikorian's first year at the helm of the Seminole program, FSU established new records for overall wins, winning percentage, fewest losses, most ACC wins, the best ACC winning percentage and longest winning streak both in and out of the conference. Krikorian's 2005 squad was the first in school history to reach 20 wins and they matched the highest finish ever by an FSU team in ACC play as they tied for second. He led Florida State to a school-record seven wins over NSCAA top 25 teams and for the first time in program history, FSU spent a month ranked among the nation's top 10 teams in every soccer poll.

Krikorian took a Seminole team that was eliminated in the first round of the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and led them to the College Cup the very next season. He is just the sixth coach in the history of DI Women's soccer to lead his team to the national semifinals in his first season at a school. FSU is now one of six schools who have gone to the College Cup under the direction of two different coaches.

For his efforts, Krikorian was honored both regionally and nationally in his first season. He was named the first ACC Coach of the Year in Seminole soccer history, the 2005 Soccer America National Coach of the Year, the 2005 Soccer Buzz National Coach of the Year, Soccer Buzz's Southeast Region Coach of the Year and the NSCAA's South Region Coach of the Year.

Defense was the name of the game for the Seminoles in 2006, setting the school record for fewest goals allowed (18), shutouts (14) and GAA (0.67). FSU also tied the school mark for the fewest defeats in one season with four set in 2005.

On top of his impressive resume in coaching the top talent at the collegiate level, Krikorian has worked with the world's best players during his stops as the head coach of the U-19 National Team and his three years with the Philadelphia Charge. Florida State's head coach has coached soccer greats from all over the world including U.S. National team stars Brandi Chastain, Kristine Lilly, Tiffeny Milbrett, Heather Mitts and Lorie Fair, English National team player Kelly Smith, French National Marinette Pinchon and Brazilian National Team players Sissi and Katia.

Florida State players haven't only been recognized for their success on the field, but in the classroom as well. Over the last three years, Florida State earned regional academic awards eight times. Katrin Schmidt and Kirsten van de Ven were named first team Academic All-Americans by the NSCAA, marking the first distinction of its kind at FSU. Additionally, FSU soccer players have been named to the ACC All-Academic Team 13 times including six in 2007 to tie a league-high. Last year alone, 11 student-athletes made the Dean's List while three earned President's List honors with perfect 4.0 GPA's. The Seminoles finished the 2007-08 academic year with a team GPA of 3.225.

The FSU coach has been at the helm of a college team for a total of 14 seasons now and he has recorded 18+ wins eight times in that span. The 2005 season bettered his first year coaching at Franklin Pierce and Hartford for wins, fewest losses and highest winning percentage.

The 2008 season got off to a fabulous start as Soccer Buzz awarded Florida State with the nation's top recruiting class – the first of its kind in the program's 14-year history. The publication ranked six freshmen in the top 40 with five receiving PARADE All-American honors. The ranking is a year removed from the 2007 class that Soccer Buzz rated second nationally and first in the Southeast Region.

U.S. U-19 NATIONAL TEAM

Prior to taking over the Seminole soccer program, Krikorian came to Florida State fresh off leading the United States U-19 National Team to the bronze medal, while winning the FIFA Fair Play Award at the 2004 U-19 Women's World Cup. As the head coach for the U.S. U-19 National Team, Krikorian was responsible for all technical aspects of the program as the team prepared for the second-ever U-19 FIFA World Championship.

His U-19 squad cruised through Group C play finishing undefeated beating South Korea, Russia and European Champion Spain. They were the only team to win all three group matches in the tournament, as the U.S. outscored its opponents 8-1. Krikorian then led the U.S. past Australia in the quarterfinals before falling to eventual World Champion Germany in the tournament semifinals. The team responded by beating Brazil 3-0 to secure the bronze medal. The win kept the U.S.'s streak alive as the only country to secure a top-three finish in all nine FIFA World Championships for women.

The team not only left Thailand with bronze medals but they also were awarded the FIFA Fair Play Trophy. Individually, U.S. midfielder Angie Woznuk received the Silver Ball as the tournament's second Most Outstanding Player and the Bronze Shoe as the tournament's third-leading scorer. Overall, Krikorian's squad outscored the competition 13-4 in the World Championships.

WUSA

As the head coach of the Philadelphia Charge from 2000-2003, Krikorian had another opportunity to coach the top players in the world and he once again proved he could develop talent and guide players to great heights. Not only did he coach 2002 WUSA MVP and Offensive MVP Pichon, but he also tutored the league's top keeper in Melissa Moore, who led the league with a 1.00 GAA. He coached the Charge to two playoff berths in his three seasons and was named the league's coach of the year in 2002. Krikorian drafted and coached 10 WUSA All-Stars in just three years on the Charge bench.

In his first season with Philadelphia, Krikorian posted 11 wins in leading the Charge into the playoffs. The team finished the season ranked third in the regular season standings. The next year the Charge once again won 11 games and finished second in the standings, which was an amazing accomplishment considering Krikorian's top player was lost for the season when Kelly Smith went down with an injury. His squad still finished the regular season 11-4-6.

UNIVERSITY OF HARTFORD

Krikorian had achieved an equal measure of success on the college level before jumping to the WUSA. He coached the University of Hartford for five seasons from 1996-2000 leading the squad to an Elite Eight and two Sweet Sixteen appearances during his four consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament. He recruited five National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) All-Americans, three academic All-Americans and his squads received the NSCAA Team Academic Award on four occasions. Overall, Krikorian's teams averaged 15 wins per season as he posted a 75-30-3 overall record while winning three conference championships. Three of his squads finished the year ranked in the NSCAA's top 15 and they were awarded the NSCAA Team Academic Award for four straight seasons.

Krikorian wasted little time in turning Hartford into a national power. After a 4-14 first season, Krikorian's Hawks won at least 17 and never lost more than five games, while advancing to the NCAA Tournament in each of his next four seasons.

Hartford immediately improved to 19-2-1 in just the second season under Krikorian including a win over national power Connecticut. Hartford also won just the second NCAA Tournament game in school history that year. In 1998, the success continued as the Hawks posted a 17-5 record while advancing to the Sweet 16. That year Krikorian led Hartford to wins over Texas A&M and Harvard in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament.

In 1999, only his third year at the helm of the Hawk program, Krikorian put together the best soccer season in school history. Hartford finished the regular season 15-4-2 and as conference champions for the third straight year. That regular season success was tame compared to the team's magical run through the NCAA Tournament. After opening with a home win over Princeton, Krikorian traveled to Gainesville to take on the defending National Champions. His Hawks dethroned the Gators on the road and then did the same thing a week later to Virginia in a 3-2 triple overtime win. The victory moved the Hawks into the Elite Eight for the first time in school history.

In his final season in Connecticut, Krikorian put together his most impressive regular season as his Hawks went 17-2. They defeated both Virginia and Florida again. The win over Florida was a decisive 3-0 victory. Krikorian also led the Hawks to the school's first-ever victory over Dartmouth in the seventh meeting between the programs.

FRANKLIN PIERCE COLLEGE

Krikorian came to Hartford after spending six years as the head coach at Franklin Pierce College in Rindge, NH (1990-1996) where he built one of the most dominant soccer programs in the college game. His teams won two National Championships, both during undefeated seasons, and appeared in two other final fours. His squad's had a remarkable 39-game winning streak and his 1995 National Championship team was 20-0. Krikorian's teams compiled a 93-19-3 record in six seasons. He recruited three National Players of the Year, eight All-Americans, five academic All-Americans and four national scoring champions. His team at Franklin Pierce also garnered the NSCAA Team Academic Award.

Before Krikorian arrived at Franklin Pierce, the school had an all-time record of 21-36-4 in five seasons winning just under 38% of their games. After he arrived on campus, the Ravens have had just one losing season in 14 years and have won five National Championships. Since Krikorian became the head coach and rejuvenated the program, Franklin Pierce has won almost 89% of their matches. Krikorian built the foundation for the Franklin Pierce dynasty in just six years on the job.

In 1990, his first year in New Hampshire, Krikorian went 10-6-2. The school's 10 victories were just four shy of tying the program's total from its first five years of existence. Two seasons later the Raven's were 20-1 and finished in the NCAA semifinals. After a 16-3 season in 1993 and another NCAA semifinal, Krikorian completed his reclamation of Franklin Pierce by going a perfect 19-0 and winning the school's first-ever NCAA women's soccer championship. What did Krikorian then do for an encore? In 1995 he repeated as National Champions, this time with a record of 20-0.

After departing for Hartford after the 1995 season, the Ravens went on to capture two more National Championships and five in a six-year span. Franklin Pierce and North Carolina are still the only two schools in the history of NCAA soccer to win four consecutive NCAA Championships.

HONORS & AWARDS

Krikorian's two national coach of the year awards in 2005 continued an impressive trend in which the Seminole boss has been honored at every stop of his career. He was named WUSA Coach of the Year in 2002 and received numerous honors and awards throughout his coaching career prior to moving to the professional ranks. He was named the NSCAA's Northeast Division I Coach of the Year in 1997, the NSCAA Division II National Coach of the Year in 1992 and 1995, the NSCAA Division II Northeast Region Coach of the Year in 1992 and 1995 and was a two-time New England Collegiate Conference Coach of the Year in 1994 and 1995. In 1990 and 1993 he was named the Division II New England Coach of the Year as well.

Krikorian was a standout player at St. Anselm College in Manchester, N.H. from 1981-1983. He was a twotime captain and team MVP. In 1983, he was a New England Indoor Soccer League (NEISL) All-Star and a first team All-New England selection.

PERSONAL

Krikorian graduated with a degree in history from St. Anselm College and he earned his master's degree in education from Keene (NH) State College in 1994. Krikorian also served as an assistant men's coach at the University of Maine at Farmington and was a Social Studies teacher at Mt. Abram High School in Maine and Raymond High School in New Hampshire. Krikorian was born in Malden, Mass. on March 28, 1960. He is married to the former Linda Mastrogiovanni. They have two children Alexandra (7) and Michael (5).

ERIC BELL

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH College of Wooster '92 3rd Season at FSU

Eric Bell enters his third season with the Seminole soccer program and first as associate head coach. He spent his first two years as an assistant coach earning a promotion to associate head coach in the spring of 2008. Bell has served as recruiting coordinator in each of his two seasons at Florida State and will continue to garner those responsibilities in his new capacity.

Since his arrival in Tallahassee, Bell has helped guide the Seminoles to back-to-back College Cup appearances including a berth in the school's first national championship game in 2007. In those two years, the Seminoles have compiled an overall record of 36-10-7 while finishing no lower than second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Bell has coached the 2007 MAC Hermann Trophy Winner, a pair of national Freshman of the Year, seven All-Americans and a handful of student-athletes who have competed internationally.

As recruiting coordinator, Bell made school history as the 2007 class earned its highest national ranking. The Seminoles were recognized by Soccer Buzz with the nation's second best recruiting class, while grabbing the top spot in the Southeast Region. At the time, both rankings were the highest garnered in program history. Of the 11 freshman, five ranked in the top 150 by Soccer Buzz while Erin McNulty and Sanna Talonen ranked among the nation's top international recruits.

The 2007 class made major contributions to the offensive success of last year's squad which went on to become the highest scoring team in school history as the Seminoles tallied 233 points on 81 goals and 71 assists. The mark shattered the previous record of 188 points (65 goals, 58 assists) set in 2005. Four freshman including Sanna Talonen, Amanda DaCosta, Marissa Kazbour and Rachel Lim finished among the top scorers on the team while Talonen and DaCosta were named National Freshman of the Year by Soccer America and Soccer Buzz, respectively. The freshmen class was responsible for 88 of the 233 points registered in 2007 contributing to 37 percent of the total scoring.

Defensively, Erin McNulty set a trio of freshman single-season records for wins (18), shutouts (8.0) and goals against average (0.94) as the Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada native started all 27 games in goal last season. In 2008, Bell once again made school history as Soccer Buzz awarded Florida State with the top recruiting class in the nation. The publication ranked six freshmen in the top 40 with five receiving PARADE All-American honors.

Prior to his arrival in Tallahassee, Bell spent four years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Illinois. In 2005, he was named NSCAA Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year while working at one of the top soccer programs in the Big Ten. For the past decade, Bell has been an assistant and head coach on both the men's and women's side of the college game. He is a member of the coaching staff for Region II of the Olympic Development Program.

With Bell on staff at Illinois, the Fighting Illini had tremendous success on the field and on the recruiting trail. After going 9-11-1 in 2002, his first year with the Illini, the team went 16-4-2 the very next season en route to posting an overall record of 44-17-7 from 2003-2005. During that span, the Fighting Illini advanced to three straight NCAA Tournaments. In 2004, Illinois made school history advancing to the national quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament for the first time ever.

In his role as recruiting coordinator, Bell attracted some of the nation's top talent to Champaign. His 2005 recruiting class was ranked 23rd by SoccerBuzz and his 2006 class was ranked ninth with six signees among the top 200 in the nation. Bell recruited some of the nation's and the world's top players to Illinois in his four years. Freshman Emily Zurrer played for the Canadian U-20 National Team at the CONCACAF qualifying tournament in Mexico in 2006. The defender was named MVP of the 2004 CONCACAF qualifying tournament and three years ago she led Canada to the CONCACAF title and a berth in the 2004 World Championships. Freshman midfielder Marti Desjarlais, brought to Champaign during Bell's tenure as recruiting coordinator, was a three-time NSCAA high school All-American and the only high school All-American on the 2005 team to earn that honor for three straight years.

Bell comes from a strong academic background as well. As the head coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania his team compiled a GPA of 3.43 in 2000, the third-highest team GPA in Division II that year. Three years ago, senior Christen Karniski was named an NSCAA/adidas first team scholar All-American at Illinois. Florida State has also seen academic success under Bell posting an overall team GPA of 3.225 during the 2007-08 season. Katrin Schmidt and Kristen van de Ven became the school's first Academic All-Americans earning first team honors by the NSCAA in 2008.

Before coming to Illinois, Bell spent 2001 as an assistant coach for Minnesota's women's soccer team. He organized and directed the soccer booster club for the Golden Gopher program in addition to his regular coaching and recruiting duties. Bell was also involved with the Minnesota Youth Soccer Association as the ODP state team head coach in 2001. Prior to heading to Minnesota, Bell was the head coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania for the 2000 season.

From 1997-2000, Bell was an assistant coach for both the men's and women's soccer teams at Ashland University in Ohio. While there, he helped the women's team to three consecutive conference titles from 1997-99 and to the NCAA Division II national semifinals in 1998.

Bell is a United States Soccer Federation A Licensed coach and a member of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. He attended the College of Wooster where he earned a B.A. in 1992. As a player, he led his team to two NCAA Division III tournament appearances in 1989 and 1990 and to a North Coast Athletic Conference title in 1989. He was voted the team's best offensive player following the 1991 season. Bell and his wife, April, were married in May of 2001. They have two children, Malena, 6, and Cameron, 4.

PAUL ROGERS

ASSISTANT COACH Indianapolis '04 2nd Season at FSU

Paul Rogers is in his second season at Florida State where his primary responsibilities with the Seminoles include the training of the goalkeepers and team defense, as well as recruiting and scouting duties. Rogers joined the Seminole coaching staff in the summer of 2007 after spending two years as an assistant with the women's soccer program at the University of Louisville.

In his first season as the goalkeeper coach in Tallahassee, the Seminoles posted 12 shutouts and a 0.93 GAA in Florida State's run to its first appearance in the national championship game. The 12 shutouts were the second most recorded in school history while the goals against average ranked third all-time. The defensive effort was just as impressive as the Seminole backline allowed a goal or less in 18 games including a school record three shutouts in the NCAA Tournament.

Rogers played an integral role in the success of first-year goalkeeper Erin McNulty, who started all 27 games between the posts for the Seminoles in 2007. She went on to set freshman records for wins (18), shutouts (8) and GAA (0.94), while becoming the first Seminole keeper to record five wins in the NCAA Tournament. McNulty went on to receive Second Team and Fourth Team Freshman All-America accolades by Soccer America and Soccer Buzz, respectively. Most notably, McNulty was in net for the U-20 Canadian National Team that defeated the United States U-20 squad 1-0 in the finals of the CONCACAF Tournament in Puebla, Mexico in June of 2008. The win secured a spot for Team Canada in the upcoming U-20 World Cup which will be held in Chile in late November.

Roger's work at Florida State in his first season did not go unnoticed as he was tabbed to serve in the same role for the Canadian Women's National Team in February of 2008. He will be on the sideline this summer in an effort to lead Team Canada to Olympic Gold in Beijing. Rogers will return to his everyday duties at Florida State upon the completion of the Summer Olympics.

At Louisville, Rogers oversaw all recruiting matters as well as working with the development of the goalkeepers. In 2006, the Cardinals had their finest season in the 22-year history of the sport setting the school record for wins (13) and winning percentage (.725) as well as making their first appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Defense was the name of the game for Louisville in 2006 as the Cardinals allowed just 10 goals in 20 games giving up two or more goals in a game just once, that coming from the hands of national runner-up Notre Dame in South Bend (2-0). Rogers was a major contributor to the success of the Cardinal defense in 2006 working with Soccer Buzz fourth team All-American keeper Joanna Haig. Haig started 15 games in net for Louisville setting the single-season record for GAA at 0.49, while tying the single-season record for shutouts with eight. Overall, the Cardinals posted 11 shutouts and a GAA of 0.47. Before arriving in the Blue Grass state, Rogers spent a year as an assistant at Tulane University where he held the same responsibilities.

A native of Brighton, England, Rogers brings a great deal of goalkeeping experience to Tallahassee as he is the founder and director of Paul Rogers Goalkeeping. He also served as a camp director for 10 years at Soccerplus Goalkeeping School, the largest goalkeeping school in the United States. There, he worked with both U.S. and International goalkeepers and coaches as well as overseeing the operation of the camp and training of the staff members. COACHING STAFF

His coaching background also includes stints as a youth coach with Brighton and Hove Albion (English Pro team), a Region II goalkeeping coach, Indiana ODP coach and Kentucky ODP coach. He has earned a UEFA B License, USSF B License, UEFA Goalkeeper License, an English Football Association Certificate and NSCAA Goalkeeper's Licenses.

In addition, Rogers joined the USSF (United States Soccer Federation) goalkeeping instructional staff in 2006 where he teaches the Goalkeeping section of the USSF A, B, and C Licenses. He is also a part of the NSCAA goalkeeping staff where he instructs the State, Regional and National courses and helped present part of the NSCAA State License at the 2007 NSCAA Convention in Indianapolis.

As a player, Rogers had spells at numerous Pro and Semi-Pro clubs in England where he played at the goalkeeper position. Paul represented Great Britain in the World University Games in Daegu, South Korea, and also played professionally in the United States for the A-League Indiana Blast.

Rogers earned a bachelor's degree in sport administration in 2004 at the University of Indianapolis and is married to the former Lisa Harrison. Harrison played basketball at the University of Tennessee where she helped the Lady Volunteers to the 1991 National Championship. Harrison also played six years in the WNBA with the Phoenix Mercury.

LYDIA VANDENBERGH Volunteer Assistant Coach First Season at FSU Clemson '06

JEAN RETTIG Team Manager First Season at FSU Penn State '07

In her first season at Florida State, Lydia Vandenbergh joins the Seminole soccer program as a volunteer assistant coach after spending time as both a player and a coach. Vandenbergh brings valuable experience to Tallahassee spending four years as a student-athlete at Clemson University and nine years of playing experience in the W-League with the Asheville Splash (2000-04) and the Charlotte Eagles (2005-08).

Vandenbergh served two years (2006-07) as a coach for Matthews Soccer Club in Charlotte, N.C. She acted as co-director of Revelations Soccer in 2007, while working as an assistant coach at Charlotte Christian High School in 2008. From 2005 to 2008, Vandenbergh coached several camps and clinics affiliated with the Charlotte Eagles both here in the United States and oversees in Singapore, Thailand and Brazil.

In W-League action, Vandenbergh was a member of the 2006 Charlotte Eagles' squad that advanced to the league semifinals. Playing with the Eagles, Vandenbergh was named to the W-League Team of the Week during the tenth week of the season this past year.

She also spent two years in Brazil playing on the professional circuit. In 2006, Vandenbergh was a member of Santos Futebol Clube in Santos, Sao Paulo, while playing a year for Cotia Futsal Clube in Cotia, Sao Paulo in 2007.

At Clemson, Vandenbergh was a three-time member of the ACC Academic Honor Roll. She participated in the NCAA Tournament in each of her four seasons while leading the Tigers to three straight years of finishing the season ranked in the top 25 including a high of 14th in 2002. Vandenbergh appeared in 80 games over her career making 65 starts. She ended her college career starting 60 consecutive matches for the Tigers, a streak dating back to the beginning of her sophomore campaign in 2003.

Vandenbergh tallied 24 points on five goals and 14 assists over her four-year college career. Thirty-three percent of her career points resulted in game-winning sort the Tigers as she posted one game-winning goal and six game-winning assists. As a freshman, Vandenbergh guided Clemson to the 2002 ACC Championship game notching the game-winning assist in a 2-0 semifinal victory over Duke. Her first career point came at home against North Carolina assisting on a first half goal by Deliah Arrington.

In 2004, Vandenbergh had her most productive offensive season posting careerhighs in points (9), goals (2) and assists (5). A year later she would match her season-high in goals after just one game. Vandenbergh had a hand in three of the four goals scored against Kennesaw State as the Pisgah Forest, N.C., native tallied a career-high five points on two goals and an assist in a 4-0 victory over the Owls. She closed out her senior season with two more assists for seven points en route to being named team Most Valuable Player. She graduated from Clemson University in 2006 with a bachelor's degree in computer science. Jean Rettig is in her first season as team manager with the Seminole soccer program after spending the last five seasons as a student-athlete at Penn State University. For the past year, Rettig has served as an assistant coach with Central Penn United, a U-14 girls squad led by current Penn State assistant coach Mariel Wilner. She also had the opportunity to serve as head coach of a U-10 girls summer academy team which is affiliated with the Harrisburg City Islanders of the United Soccer League (USL-2) Second Division.

With the Nittany Lions, Rettig was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree (2004, 2005 and 2006) and was part of five Big Ten regular season championships (2003-07). Over her career, Rettig played in 62 games making 34 starts. She amassed 18 career points on four goals and 10 assists. The Harrisburg, Pa., native helped Penn State to a College Cup appearance in 2005 as well as the school's first ever No. 1 national ranking. In the 2005 NCAA Tournament, Rettig posted goals in her first two postseason games as PSU registered victories over Bucknell and West Virginia. That year the Nittany Lions would go on to set a team-record for the most postseason goals with 17.

Rettig began her college career at Penn State in 2003 seeing action in 11 games. She notched her first collegiate point assisting on a goal by Heather Tomko in a win over Minnesota back on October 17. The next two seasons were mirror images of each other as Rettig posted two goals and four assists as a sophomore and a junior. In 2004, she tallied a career-high three points on a goal and an assist as Penn State defeated Binghamton in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament. Rettig went on to tally a season-high seven shots in a win over Indiana that season while recording the game-winning assist against the Golden Gophers.

After starting the first three games in 2006, which included a game-tying assist against UCLA to open the season, Rettig sustained a season-ending injury at Texas. Her final two seasons as a Nittany Lion would be cut short due to injury. In 2007, she was named tri-captain at Penn State.

Over the last four years, Rettig has worked soccer camps at PSU while staying active in her hometown of Harrisburg organizing summer leagues for both college and high school players. She is one of four children. Her sister Molly played soccer at the University of Richmond while her younger brother Mike is a student at Penn State. In 2007, Rettig earned a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in business at Penn State.
