In 1991, the Lady Seminoles enjoyed their 16th consecutive winning season since Cecile Reynaud took over as head coach in 1976. The 16-15 record may not have been as sparkling as the "average 25 plus" wins, but Reynaud is still pleased with the outcome.

"There were at least four matches that we lost by only two points," said Reynaud. "If we would have picked up those matches, we would have had our 20 wins. We had a young team that played as well as they could have."

Youth abounded on the team in 1991. It had been six years since freshmen made up such a large portion of the squad. The team had graduated the "guaranteed" kills from national stand-outs Maggie Philgence and Gabrielle Reece and entered the unknown territory of the ACC.

"We were lacking the killer instinct and the skill to put it away. There is a big difference between being a freshman and a sophomore. I think we'll have a lot more confidence (in '92)."

The Lady Seminoles started out strong at the beginning of the season finishing second at the UC-Irvine Anteater's Invitational. They opened the tournament with a win over Loyola Marymount that took two and half hours and five games. It was also the only five game match the Lady Seminoles would win the rest of the season. After defeating Idaho the next day, FSU lost to host UC-Irvine by two points in the fifth game. The team returned home to host the Florida Four Tournament and placed second again behind long-standing rival Florida.

The debut in the Atlantic Coast Conference was a new experience for the Tribe. The last ACC team on the schedule was Duke three years ago.

"We had not seen most of these teams in a while," said Reynaud. "but I was pleased with all our ACC matches except for the one at UNC. It is an exciting conference with outstanding coaches and I think we saw that we are in reach of where we want to be. I was very pleased with the way we played at the tournament at the end of the season."

For the first time in five years, the Lady Seminoles ended their season at the conference tournament. After losing to North Carolina in three straight games in October, FSU opened their first ACC Tournament by defeating the Tar Heels in a quick 15-7, 15-6, 15-7 match. But the host-team Virginia had its sights set on making the final round for the first time ever and concluded the season for the Lady Seminoles after four games.

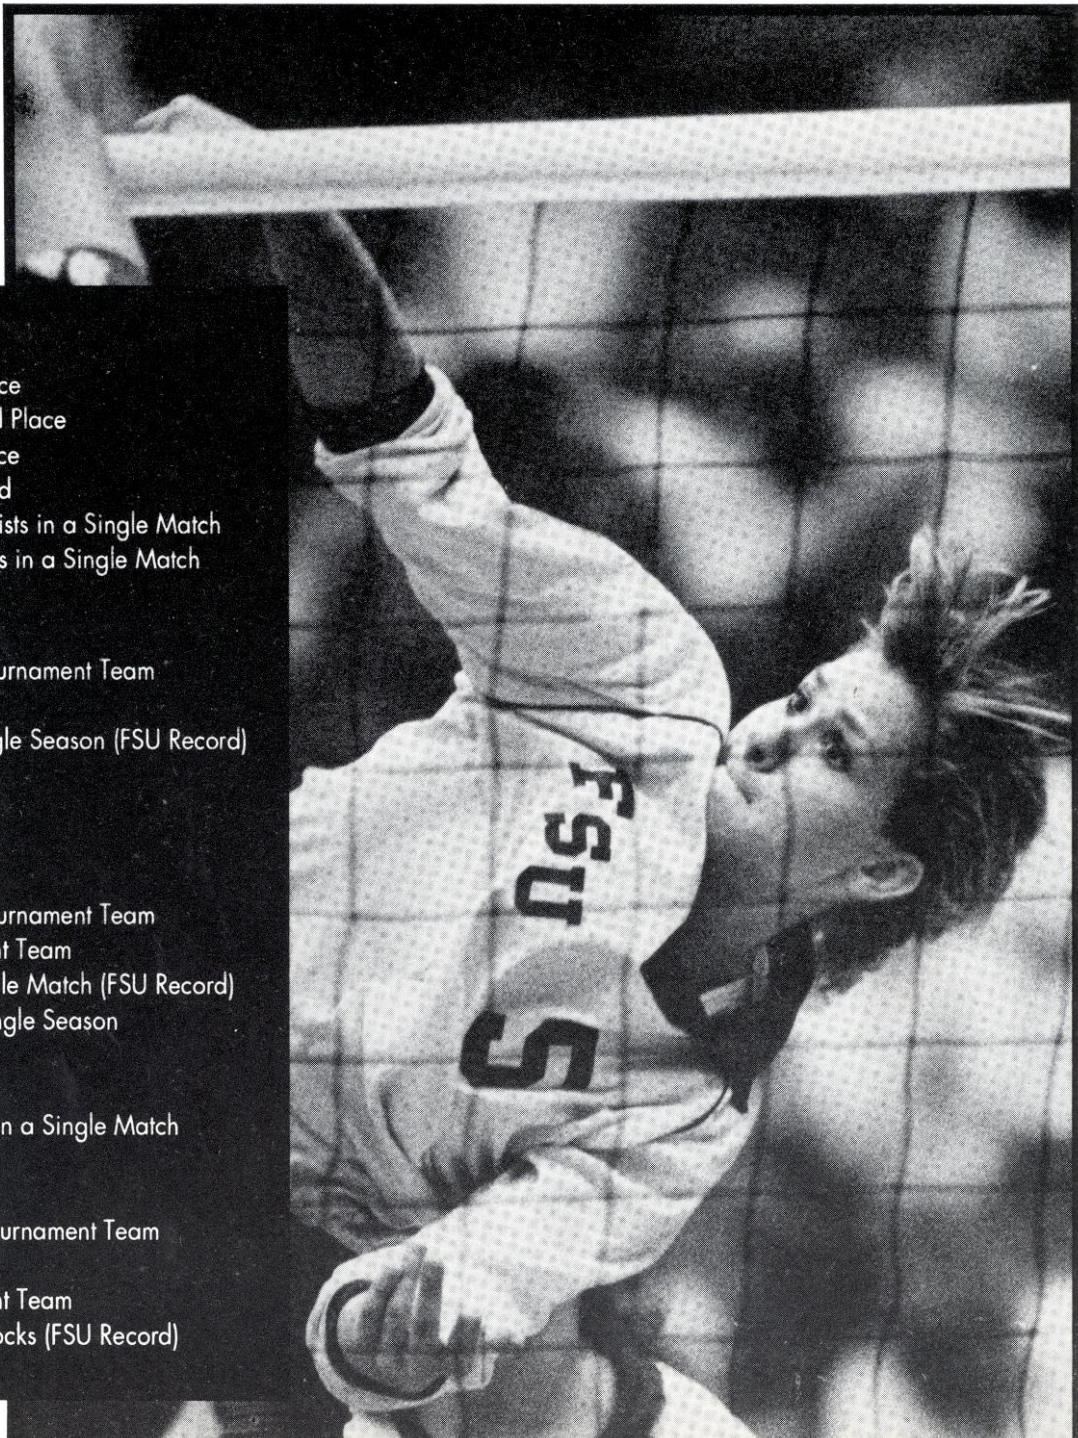

"The school spirit at FSU is incredible. I love the support given to each student on every field and court."
