Tallahassee - Florida With A Southern Accent

This beautiful setting, coupled with the charm and southern hospitality of its people, makes Tallahassee one of the state's most diverse cities

As a whole, the Sunshine State has become one of the nation's most diversified regions. One of the most popular attractions for tourists around the world, Florida's 8,426 miles of coastline virtually surround a state that is one of the world leaders in agriculture, industry and finance.

World famous Walt Disney World and surrounding theme parks are but a few hours drive, with the Kennedy Space Center not far away. The central-Florida region is the top tourist attraction in the entire country.

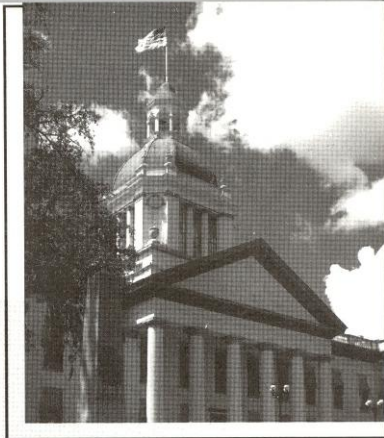

The famous Florida Keys stretch almost to Cuba and add spice to the fast-paced lifestyle that can be found in the southern most portion of the state.

Historic north Florida features legendary cities on both coasts. St. Augustine on the east, is the nation's oldest city and Pensacola, on the west coast, has been under the flags of five different nation's.

The state's sports scene is second to none. With Florida State leading the way among great college action, the NBA (Orlando Magic, Miami Heat), NFL (Miami Dolphins, Tampa Bay Buccaneers), Major League Baseball (Florida Marlins) and NHL (Tampa Bay Lightning, Florida Panthers) all vie for fans attention. Plus minor league hockey comes to Tallahassee this fall as the ECHL's Tallahassee Tiger Sharks make their debut.

With a median age of 27 years old, Tallahassee sports a young, affluent, well-educated and culturally diverse population.

Whether a student, professional, or retiree, Tallahassee and the state of Florida has something for everyone to enjoy.

With its deep-rooted history, rolling hills, canopy roads of moss-draped oaks and proximity to the Gulf's beaches, Tallahassee truly is Florida – With A Southern Accent.

Best known as Florida's capital, Tallahassee is a thriving city with natural treasures. More than 192,000 people live in Tallahassee and in the surrounding Leon County area. Residents enjoy subtropical summers, colorful foliage in the the spring and autumn, and tempered winters.

Travel in any direction from the city and find action-packed recreation. Fishing on Lake Jackson; canoeing, water skiing and sailing at the University's Reservation; sunning on nearby Gulf of Mexico beaches; while Wakulla Springs and St. Marks' natural beauty are all a special part of the area's appeal.

From its beginning as "The Seminary West of the Suwannee" in 1857, Florida State University has grown to stretch across 347 acres of rolling oak and pine-covered hills to comprise a campus which has educated millions of students over the last century.

Florida State University has boasted a heritage of service and scholarship since the beginning when the legislature passed an act authorizing two state colleges – one east (now University of Florida) and one west of the meandering Suwannee River.

Starting with a 130-member coed enrollment in 1857, the Seminary survived the Civil War, reconstruction, radical social changes, and a variety of name changes to emerge in 1909 as the Florida State College for Women.

It was helped back into coed status in 1947 by a legislature anxious to open up the state's educational resources to thousands of degree-seeking ex-GI's from World War II. It also was granted a new name "Florida State University." The University's expanse and complexity today contrast vividly with its beginning. Sixteen schools and colleges within the University serve more than 29,000 students who are enrolled in the 276 graduate and undergraduate degree programs and live and work among 1,500 faculty and 3,000 staff members. About 5,000 degrees are awarded every year.

In the past several years, the University has joined an elite group of universities in the United States which produce more than 200 doctoral graduates annually. Emphasis on graduate research and study at the University continues to grow, and today more than 4,000 graduate students pursue a variety of degrees.

Student life at Florida State University also offers young people ample opportunity to acquire leadership skills and to apply their classroom learning in student government, residence hall government, Greek social organizations, honors programs, departmental organizations and more than 200 other registered student organizations active on campus. The FSU Artist Series, the Distinguished Lecture Series and outstanding music, theater and dance production provide enjoyable evenings for the entire community.

Being a student at Florida State University means stepping into a tradition of more than 130 years of higher education. From its Flying High Circus to its Supercomputer Computations Research, Florida State provides a panorama of excitement, blending the educational and social sides of campus life.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Florida State University is committed to the academic success of its student-athletes. Under the direction of Dr. Roger Grooters, the FSU athletic department's Academic Support Program is in place to meet the personal, academic and professional needs of each student-athlete.

Grooters and his staff aid student-athletes with admission, class scheduling, registration, and the normal progression towards a degree. Unveiled this fall is a new state-of-the-art academic center as part of the new University Center. The center will provide study hall and tutoring rooms, as well as a resource area with study carols, computers and basic reference materials.

Regular class attendance is required in order to play volleyball at Florida State and attendance is closely monitored during the playing and practice seasons. Throughout the school year, nightly study halls and tutoring sessions help the student-athlete stay on course. Student-athletes have unlimited access to mentors who provide one-on-one tutoring. The academic support staff works closely with the faculty members at Florida State as well as with the athletic department's own office of Student Services.

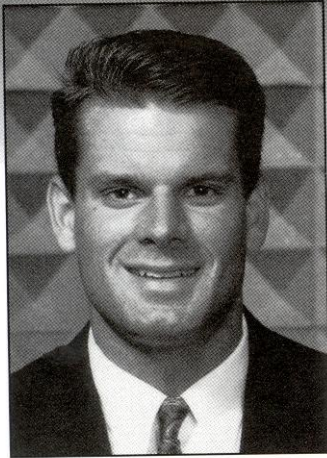

For everyone in the Florida State athletic department—from coaches and academic support personnel to student services staff and administration—giving each student-athlete every opportunity to earn a degree is the primary goal. And every year, that goal is becoming reality for more and more Florida State student-athletes.

STRENGTH TRAINING & CONDITIONING

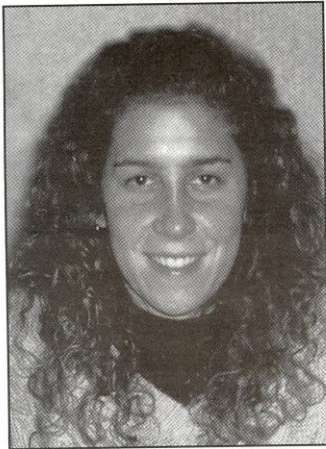

Ron Miller
Strength & Conditioning Coach

Strength training and conditioning is an important part of an athlete's performance on the court. At Florida State, a supervised program is developed for volleyball, emphasizing the objectives of not building bodies, but strengthening and conditioning them. Strength coach Ron Miller individually customizes programs for each of the athletes beginning with pre-conditioning before the season gets underway. The workouts are modeled after the National Strength and Conditioning Association's volleyball training program.

Miller works with the players in sport specific training which includes conditioning the major muscles groups used in volleyball. FSU takes pride in customizing the programs to help student-athletes reach their maximum potential.

PREVENTION CARE & TREATMENT

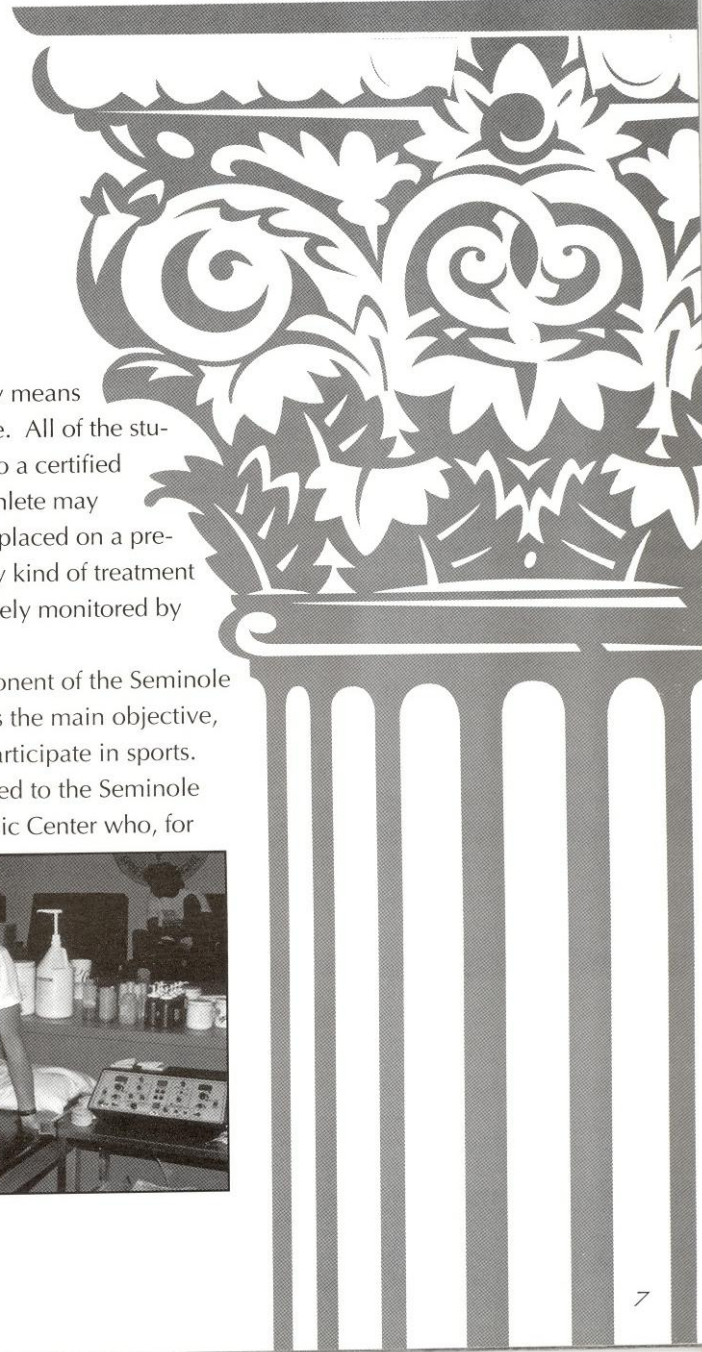

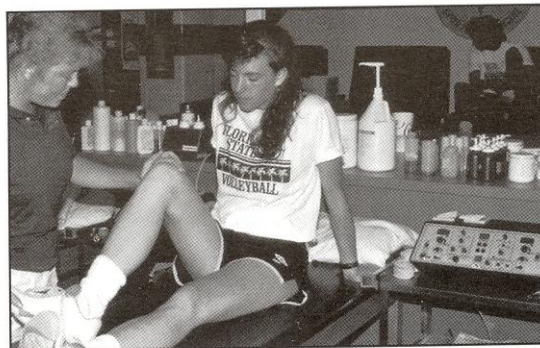

Shelly Lichter
Volleyball Trainer

Being an athlete at Florida State University means receiving the best care and treatment possible. All of the student-athletes undergo pre-season screening so a certified trainer can detect any potential injuries an athlete may incur. If a problem is detected, the athlete is placed on a prevention care program which may include any kind of treatment from icing to exercising. The program is closely monitored by Volleyball Trainer Shelly Lichter.

Rehabilitation is another important component of the Seminole training room. Though preventing injuries is the main objective, they are unavoidable for the athletes who participate in sports. More serious injuries and illnesses are referred to the Seminole team physicians at the Tallahassee Orthopedic Center who, for many years, have worked in conjunction with the FSU training room in successfully rehabilitating numerous athletes after an injury.

Body fat measurements, nutrition counseling, and drug testing are all responsibilities of the athletic training team which is dedicated to providing the best care possible for all FSU student-athletes.

FSU VOLLEYBALL COACHES

- 1968 - Martha Pat Moore
- 1969 - Dr. Judy Butcher
- 1970 - Dr. Billie Jones
- 1971 - Dr. Linda Warren
- 1972 -1975 Dr. Billie Jones (107-22)
- 1976 -1993 Cecile Reynaud (499-206)

Since its beginning in 1968 with a group of physical education students and a volunteer coach, Florida State volleyball has shed its club team roots to become one of the nation's premiere programs.

In its infancy it was not uncommon for the group of aspiring athletes and teachers to pay their own way to tournaments and share warm-up suits with the other women's club teams. The club struggled to become established in those early years as team members were faced with having to find a new volunteer head coach each of the program's first five years.

After Florida State made its first ever appearance at the AIAW National Tournament in 1971, Dr. Billie Jones assumed the coaching duties on a permanent basis for the next six seasons. Under Jones' direction the Seminoles amassed a 107-22 record, and volleyball at Florida State became a mainstay.

Success continued for the program as it returned to the AIAW National Tournament in 1973, '74 and '75, while competing for state and regional championships along the way. Popularity for the sport began to grow. Former FSU basketball head coach Hugh Durham and his wife Melinda were two of the team's biggest supporters, often attending home matches. In just a few short years, Florida State volleyball became recognized as one of the sport's up-and-coming programs.

Current head coach Cecile Reynaud continued to build on the foundation laid by her predecessors. Under Reynaud's guidance FSU qualified for the AIAW National Tournament three more times. After their third successive AIAW appearance in 1981, Florida State joined the NCAA and began competing in the Metro Conference in '82.

Before FSU joined the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1992, they had captured six Metro Conference titles. In three years of ACC play the Seminoles have an ACC regular season co-championship to their credit.

Since Florida State became a NCAA volleyball member in 1982, the Seminoles have qualified for the National Championship Tournament eight times, including six appearances in the last seven years.

Perhaps the most famous of the FSU volleyball alumni is Nike spokeswoman and world-class model Gabrielle Reece. After enjoying a standout career at Florida State, Reece has gone on to become a force in the Pro Beach Circuit. She also has a regular fitness column in Elle Magazine and appears on MTV Sports.

In the 26 years since its inception, Florida State volleyball has prided itself in giving athletes the opportunity to reach their full potential both on the court and in the classroom. Pride, tradition and success are all part of what is known as Seminole Volleyball.

Not one to shy away from a challenge, head coach Cecile Reynaud and her 1994 Seminole volleyball team are faced with perhaps their biggest in the program's history.

Not only does the team have to replace three starters from last year's squad, they also play what is arguably their toughest schedule ever.

The Tribe returns Deanna Bosschaert, Adria Ciraco, Catie Lotarski and Luiza Ramos for their senior years. The four-some will form the nucleus for this year's club, as they are the team's only upperclassmen. They are joined by sophomores Val Broussard, Patty Diamond and Sonia Preocanin, while the remainder of the roster is dotted with freshmen.

"We have a strong, balanced team this year," commented Reynaud. "The young players will be called upon early. Do not be surprised to see a couple of freshmen in the starting lineup."

Perhaps the biggest challenges facing Reynaud and her coaching staff will be establishing a starting lineup and finding a balance between youth and experience.

With an average height of 5-11 the Seminoles look to be strong at the net. Despite the loss of four year starter Vicki Zinkl, FSU will again, rely heavily on the blocking skills of its middle hitters. Sophomore Val Broussard is the Seminoles' only middle with collegiate playing experience. At 5-11, Broussard totalled 102 blocks as a freshman. Heidi Sorensen (5-11) used a red-shirt year to learn the Florida State system and will contend for a playing time. A pair of freshmen, Susan Hawks (6-2) and Susan Johnson (6-1), have coaches anxiously awaiting their arrivals in Tallahassee as each one possesses the tools for a bright volleyball future.

Leading the attack from the outside hitter's spot are Deanna Bosschaert and Luiza Ramos. Both are three year starters at the position and have already amassed over 1,000 kills each. Ramos, who also has 1,263 career digs, is a strong all-around player that should contend for All-American honors. Bosschaert brings a contagious enthusiasm to the game and with Ramos gives the Seminoles a 1-2 punch offensively and defensively.

Adria Ciraco has developed into a defensive specialist often called upon for her digging and passing skills from the back row. Catie Lotarski gained valuable experience last season when a rash of injuries forced her into a starting role. Both players will be looked to impart their volleyball knowledge to FSU's younger players.

Sophomore Sonia Preocanin is coming off an outstanding spring. She brings a strong block to the lineup and should contend for a starting spot after being used sparingly as a redshirt-freshman. A "smart hitter" who is adept at avoiding the block when attacking Laura Arnold comes in for her freshman year looking to "step right in" at the outside hitter position.

The setting responsibilities

fall on the shoulders of sophomore Patty Diamond. After spending her first year "learning the ropes," Diamond looks to continue the tradition of fine setters at Florida State. She will be pressed for playing time by freshman Maureen McCarthy who brings impressive prep credentials to FSU.

"This may be the most athletic team I have had," praised Reynaud. "It is going to give us the opportunity to run different types of offenses and will enable us to get to a lot of balls. The athleticism will also be evident in our net play."

The team athleticism and poise will be tested early. The Seminoles' 1994 schedule features 10 teams that qualified for NCAA post-season play last year. After kicking the year off at home against Southern Illinois and Iowa, Florida State plays host to the Volleyball Monthly Invitational, featuring NCAA runner-up Penn St., National Invitational champion LSU, and traditional powerhouse UCLA, which held the nation's top ranking for eight weeks during the '93 season.

FSU plays a home-and-home series with intra-state rival Florida. A Final-Four participant last season, the Gators were blanked 15-0 in Tallahassee last year en route to a five game FSU victory, as the two teams split the series, winning one match each.

The Tribe travels to Minneapolis, MN for the Minnesota Tournament. The four team field consists of DePaul, Fresno State and Minnesota. Both DePaul and Minnesota qualified for last year's NCAA Tournament, with the Seminoles defeating the Blue Demons in the opening round.

Florida State begins Atlantic Coast Conference play September 23rd when it travels to Durham, NC to take on the Duke Blue Devils in a rematch of last year's conference tournament championship match. The Seminoles look to break the Blue Devils hold on both the regular season and conference championships in 1994.

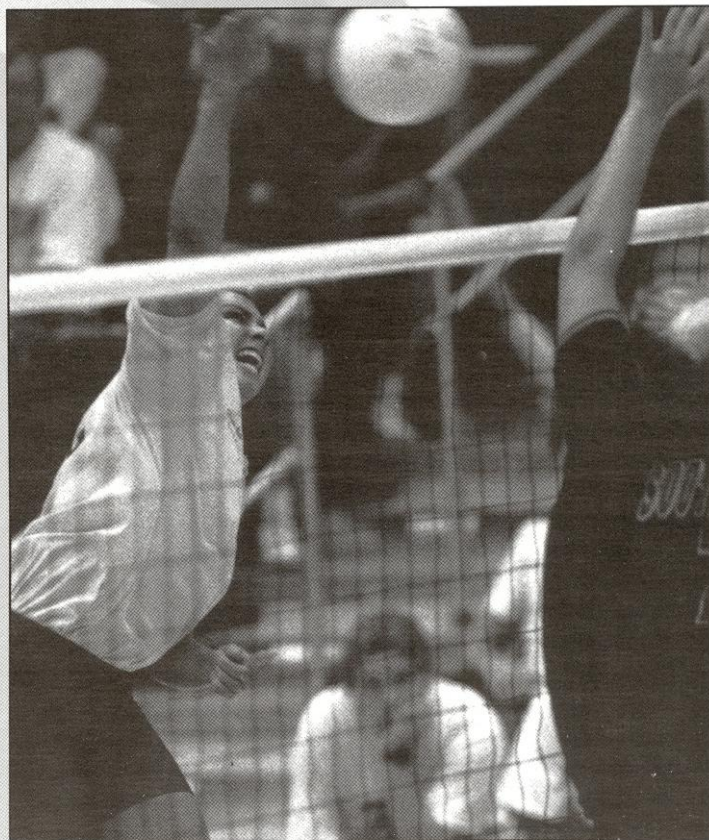

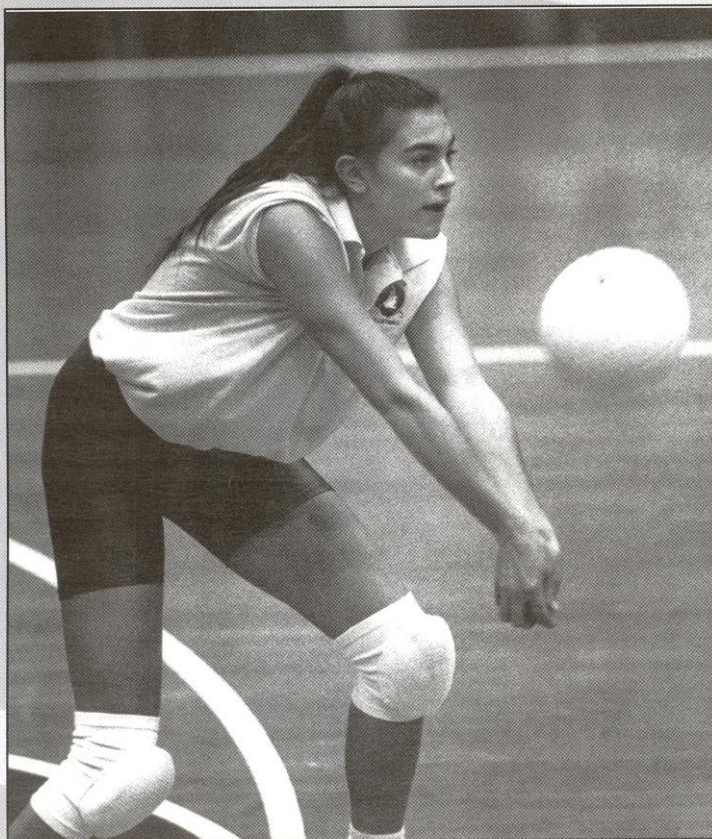

In addition to Florida, the Seminoles play an out of conference schedule that includes Florida Atlantic, Jacksonville, Notre Dame and Central Florida. All four teams make appearances in Tallahassee during the season.

After the ACC Tournament in Chapel Hill, NC, November 18-20, Florida State travels to the Georgia Holiday Classic for the Thanksgiving weekend to face South Florida, Memphis State and Georgia.

"We have put together a schedule that will either make or break us," added Reynaud. "This undoubtedly is the toughest schedule we have had in my 18 years here. We are in a position that if we are able to knock some teams off early we can put ourselves firmly in the Top-20."

If Florida State is to make a third consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament it will rely on the leadership of its seniors and hope that it's freshmen "grow-up" in a hurry. Under the guidance of Reynaud this is not only possible, but probable.

COACHES PROFILE

CECILE REYNAUD

19th Season: Career Record 499-206 (.707), Alma Mater: SW Missouri State, 1975

Head Coach Cecile Reynaud can boast of many accomplishments during her 18 year career at Florida State. But ask her to name any and chances are the modest coach would shy away from listing personal achievements. More than likely she would talk about the pride she feels as her players graduate and receive their degrees or of the lasting friendships that have developed. Once the coach begins to talk about past and present players it does not take long to realize that each one has a special place in her heart. Reynaud establishes a rapport with her players that lasts well beyond their playing days.

What is amazing in this era of self promotion is that the veteran coach would not mention that she is on the verge of an accomplishment achieved only 10 other times in NCAA history.

Cecile Reynaud enters the 1994 season needing just one victory to gain membership in the 500 career win club. En route to this coaching milestone, Reynaud has compiled impressive credentials at Florida State. During her tenure, FSU has yet to encounter a losing season. With a 499-206 career mark, Reynaud is undoubtedly one of the most successful coaches in volleyball today.

Reynaud has guided Florida State to NCAA post-season play eight times, including tournament berths six of the last seven years. In 1993, the Seminoles made their best showing ever in the NCAA Tournament advancing into the second round. During the year FSU appeared in the Top-25 poll nine times. The Tribe enjoyed one of its highest rankings in the history of the program when it held down the 17th spot midway through the year. In addition, the teams' 24-10 record marked Reynaud's 17th 20-win season at FSU.

Reynaud's successes are not limited to the volleyball court. During her tenure at FSU 97.4 percent of her athletes who played four years of volleyball have received their undergraduate degrees. Reynaud has served as a mentor to players that have gone on to enjoy careers as a world class model, television sports color commentator, olympian and of course professional volleyball, to name a few.

Her dedication and hard-work were recently rewarded when Florida State's director of intercollegiate athletics, Bob Goin, named Reynaud an interim assistant athletic director. In addition to her volleyball responsibilities, the new assistant AD is charged with overseeing all of FSU's non-revenue sports with the exception of women's basketball.

Since the 1982 season when FSU began NCAA competition, the Seminoles have tied for the regular season ACC title, captured six Metro Conference championships and made eight NCAA tournament appearances.

A two-time Metro Conference Coach of the Year, Reynaud was also honored as Coach of the Year by the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1992. She was also named Florida Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women Coach of the Year in 1991 and in 1989 she garnered AVCA South Region Coach of the Year accolades.

Presently, Reynaud is a member of the Volleyball Hall of Fame selection committee. She also serves on the AVCA ethics committee and is active on the USVBA Board of Directors and Executive Committee.

In 1983, she went to the international level and served as the assistant coach at the World University Games in Canada and in 1985 was head coach for the United States Junior National Team which toured Japan and China. She has been on the AVCA All-America Committee and was the Zone Coordinator for the 1986 and 1987 Olympic Festivals. She has continued to serve as the commissioner for the Olympic Festival since 1988.

Reynaud participated in the 1990 Goodwill Games as the technical secretary and is past-president of the American Volleyball Coaches Association.

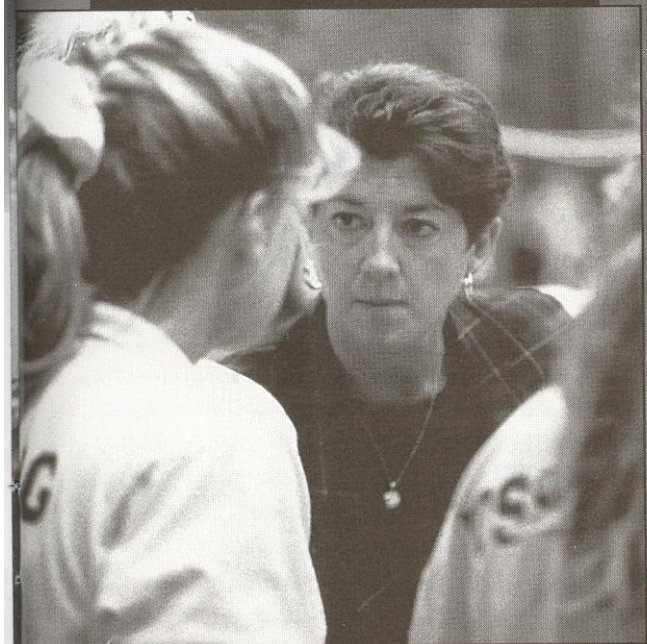

As an expert on the game, Reynaud has been a technical consultant for two Power Volleyball films and the third edition of the book "Power Volleyball." She has co-authored numerous articles pertaining to women's athletics and continues to be active on the speakers' circuit.

Reynaud has been an instructor at more than 35 camps across the country and hosts her own each year which attracts nearly 500 young volleyball players from across North America.

A 1975 graduate of Southwest Missouri State, Reynaud enjoyed an outstanding athletic career on the volleyball team and was twice named among the Outstanding College Athletes in America. In 1983, she was inducted into the school's Women's Athletic Hall of Fame.

Aside from the rigors of coaching, Reynaud has returned to the classroom at Florida State where she is in pursuit of a Ph.D in athletic administration.

Coaches Profile

SHELLY BIRKHOLZ

ASSISTANT COACH, 8TH SEASON, FLORIDA STATE, 1986

Shelly Birkholz returns for her eighth year as an assistant coach at Florida State. Three years ago, Birkholz returned to her position after a year's absence when she served as the Indiana women's coordinator for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Previously, Birkholz was the assistant from 1986 through the 1989 seasons during which the Lady Seminoles made three appearances in the NCAA tournament.

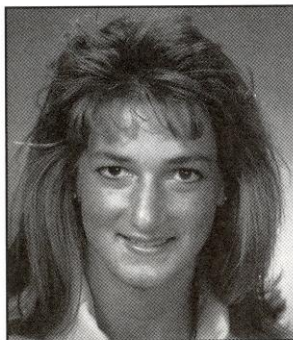

After a standout prep career at Hononegah High School in Roscoe, Illinois, Birkholz accepted a volleyball scholarship at FSU. Knee surgery side-lined her as a sophomore, however Birkholz continued to play an important role on the Lady Seminole team for the next two years.

Birkholz graduated from Florida State in 1986 with a degree in leisure services before she officially joined the coaching staff. She continued her education and earned her Master's degree in 1988.

She currently coordinates recruiting, monitors the academic progress of the players and provides Reynaud with input on daily practices and matches. She also assists and participates in the team's training and workout sessions which led to her selection and top two finish at the American Gladiators competition held in Tallahassee in the spring of '92.

As one of the organizers of the FSU huddle for FCA, Birkholz continues her speaking engagements around the state. In 1991, she served as an administrative assistant for the volleyball delegation at the Olympic Festival in Los Angeles. Birkholz also coached the Big Bend USVBA 18 and older team in 1992 and assists in the Cecile Reynaud Volleyball Camp each summer.

SHERRY COWLING

ASSISTANT COACH, 1ST SEASON, FLORIDA STATE, 1993

After playing her senior year for head coach Cecile Reynaud at Florida State, Sherri Cowling returns to her alma mater as a member of the volleyball coaching staff. Upon receiving her undergraduate degree in economics, Cowling spent the last year as a high school history teacher and volleyball coach.

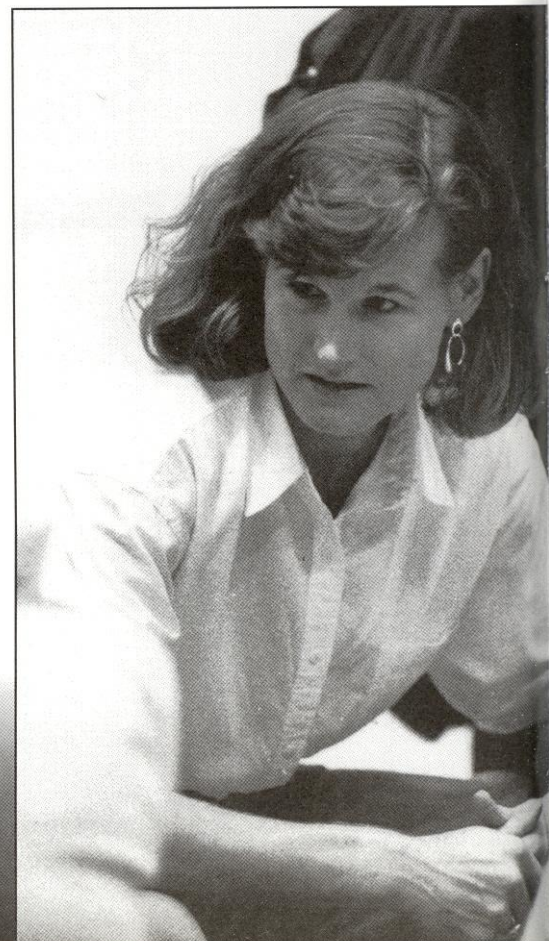

While at Florida State, Cowling established a new school record, since broken, when she registered 72 assists in a match vs. Duke. She was also honored by being named a GTE Academic All-American and to the American Volleyball Coaches Association All-South Region team.

In her only year of Atlantic Coast Conference competition she was voted to both the All-ACC and ACC All-Tournament squads. During the 1992 season Cowling was selected to the Gator Invitational, South Florida Invitational, and Hofstra Invitational All-Tournament teams.

Prior to her transfer to Florida State the Miami, FL native played three seasons at Syracuse University. Before joining the Florida State staff Cowling was active in youth volleyball as a coach with the Big Bend Junior Volleyball Club.

In addition to assisting with the day-to-day volleyball operation Cowling will work closely with FSU's setters as well as being involved in player recruitment.
