Rules of the Game

SIGNIFICANT RULE CHANGES FOR 2001

SCORING AND RESULTS OF THE GAME: Rally scoring will be used in all games of the match -no matter which team serves, the team that wins the rally scores a point. In a five-game match, Games 1 through 4 are won when one team reaches 30 points and leads by two points; a deciding game (Game 5) is won when a team reaches 15 points and leads by two points.

THE SERVICE: 1) A served ball that contacts the net and continues to the opponent's side of the net will remain in play. 2) The server is only allowed one toss for service after the service beckon from the first referee (a server used to be allowed one "re-toss"). 3) The server now has eight seconds to contact the service after the service beckon (the old rule allowed only five seconds).

ADJACENT COURTS: It is now illegal for a player to enter an adjacent court before, after, or while playing the ball. The free space around an adjacent court is a playable area.

THE BALL: Volleyballs no longer have to be white! If a colored volleyball is used, at least one-third of the surface of the ball must be white or light. All volleyballs used in a match must have the same specifications.

COACHING BEHAVIORS: When the ball is out of play, the coach is allowed to address the referee for the purpose of quickly clarifying a ruling, or confirming the number of substitutions or time outs their team has used. However, coaches should not enter the substitution zone (the area between the attack line and the center line) when instructing players on the court, and should not enter or remain in the substitution zone while the ball is in play.

EXPERIMENTAL RULE: Some conferences will now be using an Experimental Rule which allows a player to retrieve a ball that has crossed over or outside the net antennas to the opponent's out-of-bounds area, and bring it back to their teammates for continued play. The return path of the ball must also be over or outside the antennas, and the player who is retrieving the ball must not touch the opponent's court.

TERMS

LINE SHOT: A ball spiked along an opponent's sideline, closest to the hitter and outside the block.

ROOF: To block a spike, usually straight down for a point.

PANCAKE: A one-hand floor defensive technique where the hand is extended and slid along the floor palm down while the player dives or extension rolls, so that the ball bounces off the back of the hand.

POWER ALLEY: A cross-court hit traveling away from the spiker to the farthest point of the court.

Official Signals

Raising Palm Up: Held, thrown, lifted or carried ball; ball held up against the net. Contact must be very brief. The ball must be struck in such a way that there is no more than momentary contact with any one part of the body.

Raising Two Fingers: Double Hit. A player commits a violation when the ball makes two successive contacts with any part of the body — unless the first of those contacts was either a legal block or the attempt to make the first team hit of a ball coming from the opponents.

Four Fingers: Ball contacted more than three times in returning the ball to the opponent's area. A legal block does not count as one of the three allowed hits. However, a ball touching the ceiling on the defending team's side of the net counts as one of the three allowed hits.

Brushing Hand Over Fingertips: Ball was touched before landing out of bounds. Also used to signal that ball was touched in attempted block and may be hit three more times without penalty.

Illegal Attacker: Back row player hits ball to opposing side from within the attack area (in front of three-meter attack line) and from above the height of the net. Also illegal attack of serve: hitting the ball before it has clearly passed the plane of the net.

Sweeping Motion Under Net: Touching the floor across the center line with a part of the body other than the feet. A foot or feet may cross if some part of the encroaching foot or feet remains on or above the line.

Line Foul: The server was in contact with the end line or the court at the instant she contacted the ball.

Wrong Server Or Player Out Of Position: When the ball is contacted for the serve, placement of players must conform to the service order on the score sheet. In both front- and back-row, outside players must be closer to their respective sidelines than the center player. No back-row player may be as near to the net as the corresponding front-row player.

Moving Palm Over The Top Of The Net: Player reached over net in a way not permitted by the rules. Other than in blocking, players may not make initial contact with the ball on the opponents side of the net. However, after contacting the ball in an attack hit, a player may follow through over the net, providing she doesn't touch the net. Touching the net is never permissible and is signaled by the official's touching the net on the side of the offender.
