FLORIDA STATE

FSU Volleyball History

Since its beginning in 1968 with a group of physical education students and a volunteer coach, Florida State volleyball, which is considered FSU's first women's intercollegiate sport, shed its club team roots to become one of the nation's premiere programs.

In its infancy, it was not uncommon for the group of aspiring athletes and teachers to pay their own way to tournaments and share warm-up suits with the other women's club teams. The club struggled to become established in those early years as team members were faced with having to find a new volunteer head coach each of the program's first five years.

After Florida State made its first ever appearance at the AIAW National Tournament in 1971, Dr. Billie Jones assumed the coaching duties on a permanent basis for the next six seasons. Under Jones' direction, the Seminoles amassed a record of 107-22, and volleyball at Florida State became a mainstay.

Success continued for the program as it returned to the AIAW National Tournament in 1973, '74 and '75, while competing for state and regional championships along the way. Popularity for the sport began to grow. In just a few short years, Florida State volleyball became recognized as one of the sport's up-and-coming programs.

Former head coach Dr. Cecile Reynaud, who served as head coach from 1976-2001, continued to build on the foundation laid by her predecessors. Under Reynaud's guidance, FSU qualified for the AIAW National Tournament three more times. After its AIAW appearance in 1981, Florida State joined the NCAA and began competing as a member of the Metro Conference in 1982.

Before FSU joined the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1992, the Seminoles dominated the Metro Conference, capturing six league titles. Florida State seized its first ACC Championship in 1998. Overall, in 13 years of ACC play, Florida State has an ACC regular season co-championship to its credit and has played in five ACC Tournament title matches.

Since Florida State became an NCAA volleyball member in 1982, the Seminoles have qualified for the National Championship Tournament 12 times, including five times in the '90's.

Several of FSU's volleyball alumni have gone on to play professionally. Whether it be in Europe or the sandy shores of California, Florida State's top athletes often choose to continue playing the game they love. In recent years, three former FSU volleyball players have been on tour with the professional beach circuit.

Perhaps the most famous of the FSU volleyball alumni is world-class model Gabrielle Reece. After enjoying a standout career at Florida State, Reece went on to captain Team Nike on the pro beach circuit. She has had a fitness column in ELLE Magazine and appeared on MTV Sports. Reece co-authored her first book Big Girl in the Middle and has been featured on Lifetime Television's Intimate Portrait.

In the 36 years since its inception, Florida State volleyball has prided itself in giving athletes the opportunity to reach their full potential both on the court and in the classroom. Pride, tradition and success are all part of what is known as Seminole volleyball.

Hall of Fame

The Florida State Athletics Hall of Fame enjoys a rich tradition as its first and largest class (15) was inducted in 1977. At least four individuals have been selected each year since, with the exception of 1996 when no class was inducted as Florida State celebrated its 50th Year Anniversary of Athletics. There are a total of 196 members in the Florida State Athletics Hall of Fame including the 2004 class to be inducted on September 17th.

Margie Wessel Scott - 1988 Inductee

Named team MVP the last three years of her college career, Margie Wessel led the Lady Seminole volleyball team to a 127-60 record during her four years at Florida State. Twice during her career, the Seminoles advanced to the AIAW National Tournament. The Miami native was co-captain of the Florida State squad as a senior and was named to the AIAW Region III all-star team in 1979 and 1980.

Gabrielle Reece - 1997 Inductee

A Lady Seminole from 1987-90, Gabrielle Reece quickly established herself as a force on the volleyball court. She holds the FSU career and single-season records for solo blocks (240 and 69) as well as the career record for total blocks (747). She garnered AVCA All-Region honors in 1989 and was a Metro All-Conference selection in 1989 and 1990. As a junior, Reece was named to the Metro All Tournament Team after helping to lead Florida State to the Metro Conference Championship. Reece did not go unnoticed nationally either. She was pegged the 1989 Dodge National Athletic Awards Most Inspiring Collegiate Athlete and was among Rolling Stone Magazine's Wonder Women of Sport that same year. Reece went on to play professional volleyball as the captain of Team Nike for the Bud Light four-woman beach volleyball tour. In addition to her playing career, Reece is also a supermodel and television celebrity. She added "author" to her resumé, when she co-authored her first book, "Big Girl in the Middle," which was released in the summer of 1997.

Dr. Billie Jones - 1998 Inductee

As head coach of the Lady Seminole volleyball (1970, 1972-75) and softball (1971, 1972-74) programs, Dr. Billie Jones played a major role in paving the way for the success of women's athletics at Florida State University. Dr. Jones earned her Ph.D. from Florida State in 1972 and began serving as an Associate Professor in the Department of Movement Science and Physical Education in addition to her coaching duties. Under Dr.

Jones' direction, the volleyball program compiled a remarkable 107-22 record and made appearances at the AIAW National Championship Tournament in 1973, 1974 and 1975 while competing for state and regional championships along the way. Dr. Jones also coached the 1971 softball team to the state championship and the 1974 squad to a runner-up finish. Dr. Jones devoted her time to teaching full-time in 1975, but continued to be instrumental in the advancement of women's athletics at Florida State. She was recognized for service and dedication to FSU's women's athletics when she was given the Herb Morgan Award in 1982. In 1985, Dr. Jones became a Service Professor in the Department of Movement Science and Physical Education and in 1989, she was honored with the distinction of Professor Emerita. Among her many accomplishments, Dr. Jones has also co-authored four books on coaching and fitness. A scholarship by an anonymous donor, given in the name of Dr. Jones, is awarded annually in the College of Education to a female student who intends to coach.

Maggie Philgence - 1998 Inductee

A member of the Florida State volleyball team from 1987-90, Maggie Philgence made a name for herself not only at FSU, but at the conference and national levels as well. Philgence broke six school records during her senior season, three of which still stand, and earned All-Metro Conference and AVCA All-South Region team honors. A powerful hitter, she still ranks among FSU's Top 10 in 14 statistical categories and remains the FSU leader in career kills (2,110) and kill attempts (4,793) as well as single-season kills with 579 in 1990. Upon graduation, Philgence was drafted to the South Team for the Olympic Festival in Los Angeles and helped lead her team to a gold medal. She went on to play professionally with the international league in France.

AMANDA SANTOS: THE FIRST EVER

Senior Amanda Santos had nothing short of a storybook season in 2004 as she was named Florida State's first ever AVCA All-American when she was tabbed an honorable mention selection. Furthermore, Santos earned All-East Region and All-ACC first team. At one point in the season, she was ranked third in the country in hitting percentage and she finished her career ranked No. 3 all-time on the Florida State career list with a .325 hitting percentage. Santos, the younger sister of current Seminole Andreza Santos, will serve as a student assistant to Todd Kress this season.

FLORIDA STATE

Endowed Scholarships

Established in 1986 under the direction of William M. Parker of Clearwater, the Seminole Boosters Endowed Scholarship Program is the final step toward perpetual funding of all scholarships for student-athletes at Florida State. Florida State attracts student-athletes from coast to coast as well as internationally. These young people work very hard and represent the University with an enormous amount of pride. Seven scholarships have been established for volleyball:

E N D O W E D S C H O L A R S H I P S

Cecile Reynaud Scholarship

Recognized in America and internationally for her pioneering leadership in the teaching and coaching of championship volleyball, Coach Cecile Reynaud, who served 26 years at the helm of the FSU volleyball program, has been honored by her former students through the establishment of an endowed scholarship in her name.

Jane Gray Parrish Scholarship

An athlete who participated in volleyball, basketball, and softball, FSU Alumna Jane Parrish has established this endowed scholarship for volleyball. Jane wanted to give back, in the hope that students receiving this scholarship would have a great experience, as she did.

Claude R. Flory Scholarship

Drs. Claude and Daisy Flory, retired FSU faculty whose names are synonymous with the highest standards of both the character and accomplishment of Seminole athletics, established a fully endowed scholarship for volleyball in the name of Claude Flory.

Barbara June Reynaud Scholarship

Barbara June Reynaud has supported her daughter's education and volleyball hopes and dreams throughout the years. Attending every home match possible and often traveling to support the team, Barbara June was there for Cecile and her athletes. In recognition and celebration of Cecile Reynaud's 25 years of coaching volleyball at FSU the many friends of Cecile have honored her and her greatest fan by establishing an endowed scholarship in volleyball in the name of Barbara June Reynaud.

Lucy McDaniel Scholarship

A 1959 graduate of Florida State, Lucy McDaniel is known for her outstanding service and leadership to education and women's athletics, not only in the state of Florida, but in the Southeast region as well. A former collegiate volleyball coach herself, she established a fully endowed scholarship for volleyball.

Dr. Billie Jones & Dr. Janet Wells Scholarship

Friends and admirers of Dr. Janet Wells and Dr. Billie Jones, especially those that benefited from the pioneering leadership of these distinguished FSU faculty members, have established a volleyball scholarship to honor their significant contributions to the progress of women's athletics and to their long service as mentors to student athletes.

Nan Mitchem Scholarship

A scholarship was established for volleyball in the name of Nancy Cooper (Nan) Mitchem, a 1967 graduate of FSU. Nan was a member of the Varsity "F" Club, a lifetime member of the Alumni Association and a Golden Chief and Tribal Chief with the Seminole Boosters. Her enthusiasm for FSU and positive attitude about life was a great example to all who knew her.

Famous Alumni

Gabrielle Reece

The most famous alumni of Florida State volleyball, Gabrielle Reece went on to pursue a career in the sport that she loves. Captaining Team Nike for the Bud Light four-woman tour is just the beginning of what she has accomplished. On the court, Reece led Team Nike to the Tour championship and has twice been named WBVL Offensive Player of the Year while leading the league in kills four times.

After a stint on a popular MTV sports television show as co-host with Dan Cortese, Reece had her own syndicated show "The Extremist" which aired on CBS. She has also written articles for "Sports for Women" and had a monthly column in Conde Naste and was featured on Lifetime Television's Intimate Portrait.

A role model for all athletes, Reece served as a feature commentator for the 1998 Goodwill Games held in New York. She also co-authored her first book entitled Big Girl in the Middle in 1997.

Along with her television and volleyball careers, Reece finds time to be a supermodel. Named one of the 50 most beautiful women in the world by ELLE magazine, Reece also serves as the spokesperson for Coppertone skin products. Currently Reece is trying to qualify for the LPGA Tour.

Despite her hectic work and travel schedule, Reece is devoted to helping Florida State athletics. Reece returned to Tallahassee to unveil Florida State's logo for the 30th anniversary of women's athletics. On a previous visit, she worked with the volleyball team in spring practice and offered words of advice to the team on success in the world of sports.

Reece was selected to the Florida State Athletics Hall of Fame in 1997.

BARBARA HARRIS

After a playing career spanning from 1974-77, Harris has had a successful career in the magazine industry as Editor-in-Chief at Shape. Harris returned to campus in 1999 when she was honored as a "Grad Made Good" during Homecoming Ceremonies.

EXCERPT FROM SHAPE MAGAZINE, August 2000

Attention to detail. Unwavering concentration. Not just hoping, but expecting to succeed. These are key to getting superior results from working out. Take Olympic track-and-field athlete Marion Jones, a competitor I — and the rest of the world — have admired for years. Next month, at the Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia, all eyes will be on her: an athlete with an obsessive attention to detail, who trains with fierce concentration. Jones, the fastest female runner in the world, isn't just a gold medal hopeful, she's intent on winning. "I know I'm capable of this," she recently told the New York Times Magazine. Not satisfied with merely being the fastest woman alive, Jones wants to be the fastest female athlete on the planet.

In this issue of Shape we salute such champions - and the gold medalist in you. Throughout these pages, we show you how to get to the next level in your fitness, and how to achieve the pinnacle of what you are capable of, a la Marion Jones. In "Got Muscle?" on page 142, 1996 gold-medal winning athletes Jennifer Azzi and Lisa Leslie display the rewards (more muscle tone of course) of effective training for the WNBA. We've incorporated some of their best moves into a single routine for you, a workout that's both a timesaver and challenging enough to yield results.

Today, thankfully, real beauty means putting on some muscle. So it's no accident that Gabrielle Reece is this month's cover model. A professional athlete, 6-foot-3-inch Gabby, 30, is redefining beauty standards by combining athleticism with femininity. Her beauty, though, is not just on the outside. When I met Gabby more than 10 years ago, she was a volleyball player under Cecile Reynaud (who also coached me at Florida State University; in fact, it was Cecile's call to me that landed Gabby on her first Shape cover in April 1990). I learned then that her true beauty came from being real and from being true to her goals. Years ago I asked her about her goals. Her definitive reply: "A volleyball player first, a model second." A volleyball player is who she is; modeling is something she does.

Beauty isn't something you look at, says author/fitness trainer Ray Kybartas in Fitness Is A Religion (Simon & Shuster, 1997). It's something you live. Just ask Gabrielle Reece, or Marion Jones, or Jennifer Azzi or Lisa Leslie. Beauty is more than a perfectly posed photo. It's something we can all poses by being true to who we are and what we want from life. Focus on your goals; pay attention to details. Expect yourself to achieve and you will. Never lose faith in the process. Be yourself first because that's real beauty. And it reaps real rewards.

KAREN PALGUT

A three-sport athlete at Florida State, Palgut lettered in volleyball (four), basketball (one) and softball (two) from 1982-86. After a successful collegiate career that saw her named to the All-Metro Tournament team three times, including the distinction of MVP, she competed in the 1982 Olympic Festival on the East team. Upon graduation, Palgut joined the U.S. Women's National Team for Handball and had a successful career. She participated in the Goodwill games, the Pan American Games (Gold Medal) and the 1988 and 1992 Olympics receiving a 7th and 6th place respectively.

MAGGIE PHILGENCE

In her senior season, Philgence was named to five all-tournament teams, selected Metro Conference Player of the Week twice, as well as being listed on the All-Metro Conference team and American Volleyball Coaches Association All-South Region team. Her statistics also ranked in the top around the nation. She has left her mark in the Florida State record books as well as with the NCAA. Philgence is ranked 17th in the NCAA for her career kills (2,110) and tops the FSU career charts. She also led the Metro in hitting percentage (.333) and kills per game (4.41) throughout her final season.

After breaking six school records during the 1990 season, Philgence was drafted to the South Team for the Olympic Festival in Los Angeles. Philgence helped lead her team to the championship game where the South defeated the West to claim the gold medal.

Upon graduation, Philgence traveled overseas to play professional volleyball with the international league in France. She was inducted into the FSU Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998.

A Special Gift — Lucy McDaniel

Lucy McDaniel with former Head Coach Dr. Cecile Reynaud.

Lucy McDaniel never imagined that she would become the first woman in the State of Florida to donate more than $1 million to women's athletics. McDaniel is among a growing band of pioneer philanthropists across the country who have realized the importance, if not necessity, of private support of women's intercollegiate athletics.

But pioneering is nothing new to the FSU graduate, who attended college before women competed intercollegiately. When she arrived at FSU in 1955 she was a national qualifier in swimming and gymnastics. FSU swim coach Bim Stults welcomed her to work out with the men's team and FSU's national championship gymnasts also invited her to train with them in Tully Gym, but she was denied that opportunity because the administration did not feel it appropriate for her to swim or work out with the men. So, McDaniel settled for synchronized swimming with the Tarpons, which is a combination of the two sports.

Following graduation, she coached at Palm Beach High and started a gymnastics program at Miami Senior while running over 100 summer clinics across the United States. After serving ten years at Stetson University, she joined the staff at Florida Technology University, before it became University of Central Florida. She taught and started the school's first intercollegiate teams in softball and volleyball where she rang up a perfect 55-0 record -- believed to be an NCAA record -- to win the Division II national title.

"I had watched man after man, couple after couple, donating a million or two million to Florida State but there was never, ever, one woman to come forward with a major gift to women's athletics," said McDaniel. "The Committee of Thirty is educating women and men that women's scholarships, equipment and travel cost the same as men's, and that our women athletes need the same private help. I felt strongly that if one woman stepped forward, surely others would follow, but I didn't think it would be me."

"I am starting my twenty-sixth year in college athletics and I have never heard of one individual making that large of a gift to one individual women's sport," head coach Cecile Reynaud said. "It has to be one of the first gifts like it in the country and hopefully, the beginning of many more gifts like it to women's teams. The time is right for women that have been fortunate to make those kind of gifts, and when they do, you will see women's programs make a big jump."

McDaniel first gave $100,000 to endow a volleyball scholarship at Florida State and later designated another $50,000 so the team could play a European tour in May of 2000. McDaniel wanted to do more, so she asked her accountant to run through her financial statements to see what she would be able to gift now and later in her will. When the accountant told her, she called Seminole Booster Planned Giving Director Joel Padgett to start the process.

The snag came when Padgett mentioned publicizing what is the largest gift in FSU women's athletics history by a woman. McDaniel, who has kept her wealth private, was uncomfortable with publicity or the idea that the volleyball court inside Tully Gym would be named "The Lucy McDaniel Arena".

A portion of McDaniel's $1 million-plus gift is a will gift. "There will be no fighting over my will now, because I have taken care of everything," McDaniel said. "I have taken care of my five nieces and nephews, and friends, and the rest will go to FSU."

McDaniel had kept her wealth and her plans to give to FSU a secret from her family and friends, so they were surprised to read about her gift in the Daytona Beach paper. By the time the story ran, McDaniel was on a plane bound for Germany and to meet volleyball team who had left a few days before.

The former volleyball coach spent fourteen days with the women, observing practices, matches, shopping and sightseeing in three different countries. "I had more fun with them than I would have if I went with a bunch of my friends," McDaniel said. "They are in high gear or dead stop. Playing matches, shopping, on walking tours and then dead asleep on the bus in between. It was a wonderful time and I don't think anyone ever got as much for $50,000 as I did."

McDaniel has a lifetime of memories of the tour. "When the kids knew that I was taking them, I got darling thank-you notes and when I got home I'd received seven or eight thank-you notes from the parents, which I was not expecting," she said. "I made myself a scrapbook of all the letters."

On November 2nd 2000 in a special ceremony, Florida State dedicated the Tully Gym volleyball floor to Lucy McDaniel, the first woman in the state of Florida to donate more than one million dollars to a women's athletics program. Beginning this season at volleyball matches, the facility will be known as the Lucy McDaniel Volleyball Arena at volleyball events in Tully Gymnasium, in honor of the wonderful gifts and support that McDaniel has provided to the Lady Seminole volleyball program and Florida State athletics.

"I'm truly grateful to Lucy for feeling that strongly about our program and I know when we announced it to our student athletes, they just don't get how much money that is and how historic of a gift it is to women's athletics," Reynaud said. "When she first told me she was going to do it, I was typing on my computer and I caught myself saying, ok, put your work down and listen to this. Listen to this because this is a historical conversation you are having. Nationally, people are going to be very impressed. We have now recognized her at national conventions for her leadership and generosity."
