Florida State's Seminoles kick off the 1956 campaign with a new opponent tonight, and advance publicity on Ohio University indicates that it may be a rougher opener than they bargained for.

No midwestern coach is likely to take a team coached by Carroll Widdoes any too lightly. Past experience has shown them that a Widdoes team is never going to be a pushover.

Widdoes was named national "Coach of the Year" in 1944 when as coach of Ohio State, he led the Buckeyes to an undefeated season. Since he came to Ohio University in 1949, the Bobcats have recorded 38 wins, 23 losses and four ties.

In the Seminole camp, ever optimistic Tom Nugent guides his ambition Seminoles into their second year of major-college competition with the toughest schedule in FSU's history.

The Ohio Bobcats will field an almost all-letterman team from end to end with four lettermen backs behind them. They have one of the best passers in the midwest in Don McBride and two hard running backs in Vern Smith and Don Wirtz.

Nugent readily admits that his first team is improved over last year, but just as readily says that depth and experience is lacking at nearly every position behind the starters.

Ohio is tough, but it's just a starter in a schedule which includes such powers as Georgia, Miami, Mississippi Southern and Auburn.

The President

DR. DOAK S. CAMPBELL

"We're happy to have you back, George," the genial visitor to Spring football practice told Florida State's George Boyer.

Dr. Doak S. Campbell, Florida State president, still remembered Boyer, an outstanding center as a freshman and sophomore, had just returned to FSU after having served with the armed forces.

One of the Seminoles' top fans, Dr. Campbell is now in his 15th year as president of Florida State. When he assumed the post in 1941 the former Florida State College for Women had less than 2,000 students with a faculty numbering less than 200.

He has watched the co-educational university grow to an enrollment of more than 8,000 and a faculty of more than 600.

An avid football enthusiast, indeed, Dr. Campbell has also devoted a great deal of time to studies in higher education. He has conducted and published numerous surveys of higher institutions in the southern states.

In 1937 he was chosen consultant to President Roosevelt's Advisory Committee on Education. He is a past president of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He has also served as a member of the Board of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce for 14 years.

Before coming to Tallahassee, Dr. Campbell was associated with George Peabody College for 14 years.

Following his graduation from Ouachita College in Arkadelphia, Ark., in 1911, he served as superintendent of the Columbus (Ark.) State High School, then as state secretary for the Baptist Young Peoples Union and Religious Education Association. In 1916 Dr. Campbell became vice president and four years later president of Central College.

President Campbell is recognized as one of America's leading curriculum authorities and his book "Curriculum Development," under joint authorship with Dr. H. L. Caswell, has been the most widely used work on curriculum.

At FSU there is much evidence of his leadership. In addition to the tremendous enrollment increases, capital investments at the university have jumped from $5,500,000 in 1946 to approximately $24,200,000 exclusive of land. Perhaps the most significant step, however, has been development from four major academic divisions in 1947 to 16 today. In addition, Florida State's 19,000-seat stadium is named for Dr. Campbell.

THE SEMINOLE FOOTBALL NETWORK

Florida State University's football contests are carried to every part of the state this year by the ever-growing voice of the Seminole Football Network.

Entering its fourth year, the network now boasts a total of 12 stations located throughout Florida. (See the listings below.)

Again, the veteran trio of Bill Snyder, Ben Letson and Jim Kirk are handling the mikeside duties for the network. They've been greatly responsible for the growth and success of the broadcasts.

Snyder, of WPDQ in Jacksonville, is the play-by-play man. He began his professional career by working the games of the old professional baseball club, the St. Louis Browns.

Kirk does the color. As sports director of station WMOP in Ocala, he's been with the network from its beginning.

Letson, owner and manager of WCNH in Quincy, engineers the broadcasts.

THE MARCHING CHIEFS

HOMECOMING, 1955

Manley Whitcomb will direct Florida State's Marching Chiefs, hailed by Atlanta newspapers as the best university marching group in the south, in at least seven halftime performances this year.

Shows are planned for all home games—Ohio University, Virginia Tech, Wake Forest, Furman and Mississippi Southern—and it's likely the band will perform at Philadelphia October 27 and Miami November 2.

FSU has in Whitcomb one of the nation's foremost masters of band music. He came to Florida State in 1953 following a record 17 years at Ohio State where he led the famous Buckeye band to national recognition.

Since coming to FSU Whitcomb has developed the 128-piece Marching Chiefs into one of the most outstanding musical organizations of its kind in the nation.

At Ohio State he directed the university band in its famous westward jaunt to the Rose Bowl in 1950. Whitcomb has appeared as lecturer, guest conductor, clinician and adjudicator in 12 states. He saw service as a combat infantryman in World War II and was twice awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat in France.

The Marching Chiefs, which includes 180 personnel, is truly an all-southern band due to its appearances throughout the south and its predominantly all-southern personnel. The Marching Chiefs have appeared in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas with a possibility of adding Pennsylvania to the list this year.

Whitcomb, also a music professor, received Bachelor of Music and Masters degrees from Northwestern University. He's a native of Mellon, Wisconsin.

Band Day at Florida State, planned October 6 this year, is one of the highlights of the Marching Chiefs' spectacular shows because it brings together some of the finest high school bands in Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Band Day was first inaugurated at FSU in 1951 and it has grown from some 13 bands to over 30. This will be the sixth annual edition of the event and promises to top all the rest.

ABOUT OHIO UNIVERSITY

By

DICK BITTERS

Director of Press Relations, Ohio University

One of the many pleasantries of an intercollegiate athletic program is the opportunity to come to better know the institutions represented by the respective rival teams.

This is particularly true today when the inter-sectional Florida State-Ohio clash provides a common ground for two similarly sized state-supported universities to learn more about each other — academically as well as athletically.

It is the hope of Ohio University's administration and student body that the return meeting of the two football teams in Athens, Ohio, next year will be looked to with as much anticipation as the trip to Tallahassee was today.

Just as the trip here serves to introduce all facets of university life at Florida State, so too it is hoped next year's visit will acquaint Seminole followers more directly with Ohio U.

In the meantime, however, this brief verbal introduction is offered: Considering first things first, Ohio University takes pride in the distinction she holds as "the oldest institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory." Founded in 1804, Ohio University commemorated her sesquicentennial anniversary two years ago.

One of five state-supported universities in Ohio today, she is second in size to Ohio State University at Columbus. Some 7000 students are enrolled in the freshman, five-degree, and graduate colleges. The five degree granting colleges include Arts and Sciences, Applied Science, Commerce, Education, and Fine Arts.

The current enrollment includes approximately 4600 men and 2400 women. Last year Ohio U. counted students from each of the state's 88 counties, from 35 different states, and 24 foreign countries among its campus enrollment.

Situated geographically in the southeastern section of the state, Ohio University is located in Athens which has a non-student population of 11,000.
