FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY vs UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

OCTOBER 11, 1958 GATOR BOWL JACKSONVILLE

WALLIE BUTTS—Head Coach, University of Georgia

The President ...

DR. ROBERT M. STROZIER

Florida State University's President, Dr. Robert M. Strozier, is a football enthusiast who will be "playing" his second year for the Seminoles.

When Dr. Strozier came to Florida State in September, 1957, it was homecoming for the popular new president. Born in McRae, Ga., he was reared in Moultrie, Ga., and was graduated from Emory University. He earned his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago.

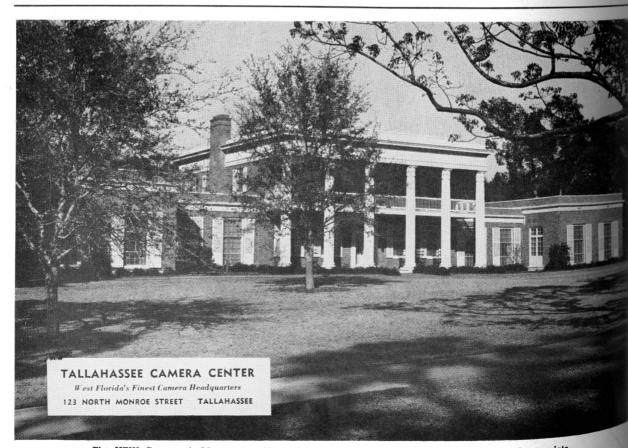

President Strozier began his professional career as professor of romance languages at Georgia State College for Men at Tifton. From 1933-1940 he served as professor of French and dean of men at West Georgia College.

In 1940 he went to the University of Georgia as associate dean of students and associate professor of romance languages. Later he served as director of the Army Special Training Program unit there.

In May, 1945, he joined the University of Chicago faculty as associate director of International House and in 1946 he became dean of students.

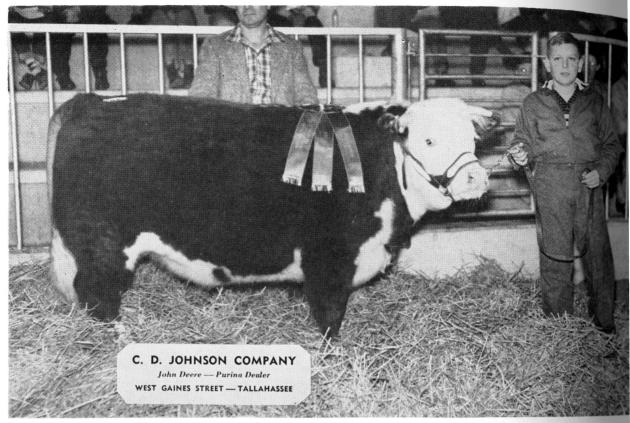

President Strozier's first year at Florida State has been one of accomplishment from the start. At Commencement last May he reported an accumulative total of research grants and contract funds of $1,225,000, greater by 487,-000 than in any previous year. Among these contracts is one with the United States Air Force amounting to $217,260for nuclear research, the largest single contract ever negotiated in support of research at Florida State.

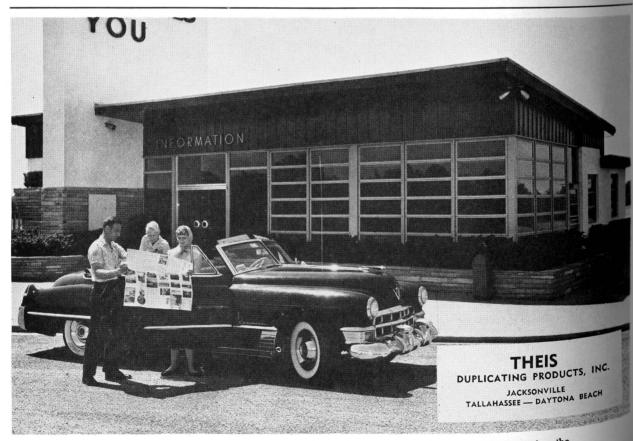

The NEW Governor's Mansion on North Adams Street is a popular point of interest for tourists. Presently occupied by Governor and Mrs. LeRoy Collins and their family.

Young Gary Marsh poises with his West Florida Livestock Show 4-H Grand Champion Steer which was bred in Leon County by A. F. Rich Farm. Frank Pope (standing rear) was the winners advisor and counselor.

Visitors to the State of Florida find genuine hospitality and a warm welcome when crossing the State line at either of Florida's several "Welcome Stations."

There's more to Florida...

There's WJXT in Jacksonville (formerly WMBR-TV) — bub of the entire Northeast Florida-South Georgia area — where curves on the progress charts are as alluring as those on the beaches. WJXT dominance is a positive fact.* Nine of the top ten network programs —(and all of the top ten local programs) are on WJXT.

> Locally, WJXT reaches a whopping 50% more TV Homes than Station B, and you go on to tap the Georgia counties for a total of 66% more television homes than any other Florida station delivers. In fact, WJXT leads the entire nation in share of audience for a two station market! The only possible conclusion: there's more, much more to WJXT a Jacksonville, Florida.

Nowhere in Florida can one find a spot more beautiful than Killearn Gardens. Now a State Park, visitors to Florida's Capital City always include a trip to these grounds in their itinerary.

ABOUT FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

Located in Tallahassee, Florida State University is one of the fastest growing universities in the country. Already it is literally bursting at its seams with an estimated 10,000 students expected by 1960.

The campus consists of 297 acres, the older part of which overlooks the capital city.

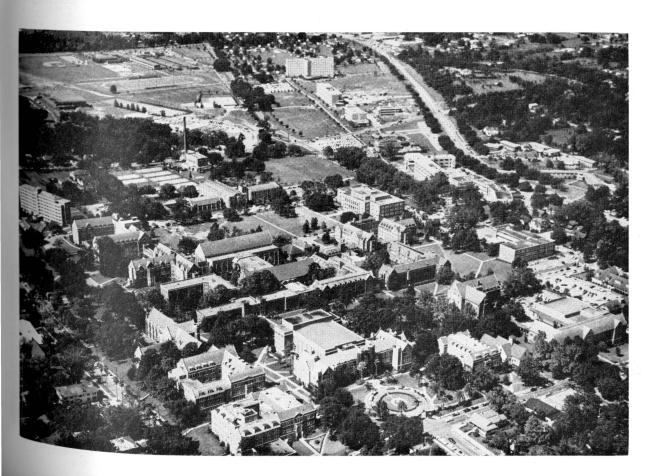

The new portion of the campus follows a 50-year master plan developed by well-known architects. It stretches westward along Highway 90.

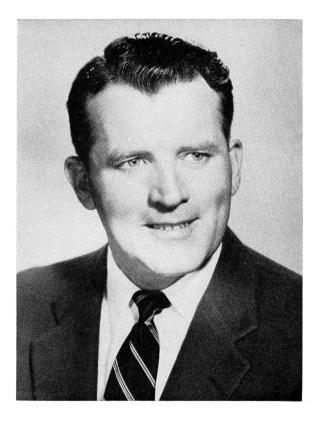

Growing by leaps and bounds, the campus has an 11floor dormitory with three more just like it expected in the near future. A million dollar physical education plant is a year-and-a-half old as is the multi-million dollar library building. New buildings completed this year are the School of Business and the School of Education, and a Geology addition.

A recent act of the Legislature granted the University $2,300,000 for developing basic nuclear studies which will put Florida State to the fore in the nuclear field.

Authorized by the 1851 Legislature, the institution was first established as the "Seminary West of the Suwannee," and was opened on a portion of its present campus. The name was changed to "Florida State College" in 1901 and the school remained coeducational until 1905. Then it became the "Florida Female College" and was renamed in 1909, "The Florida State College for Women."

By act of the 1947 Legislature, the institution again became coeducational as The Florida State University.

The Head Coach...

TOM NUGENT

"Sometimes when you talk to Tom Nugent," wrote the Atlanta Journal's Jim Minter, "you feel as though Mike Todd is still with us." Minter's point was simple. Florida State's energetic Athletic Director and Head Football Coach, in the colossal style of the late Mike Todd, does things first class.

It's been that way with Thomas Norman Nugent since, It's been that way with inomas Norman Nugent since, at age 15, he wrote he would be a head college football coach some day. That day arrived when he assumed com-mand of VMI's football fortunes. It was in 1949, and within three years after Nugent joined the obscure VMI Keydets, he had won a Southern Conference championship and pulled an upset over mighty Georgia Tech.

Nugent came to FSU in 1953 and thanks to his magnetic touch, football at Florida State has grown from a pickup sport in 1947 to a 1958 position that finds the Seminoles playing such tradition-steeped opponents as Georgia Tech, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, and Miami (Fla.).

Nugent's enthusiastic interest in the entire program of intercollegiate athletics at FSU resulted in his appointment as Director of Athletics last May. In his sixth year as the propelling force behind the Seminoles, Nugent has attained a record of 27 victories against 24 losses and one tie.

He has also become nationally known for his bright innovations. It was Nugent who presented to football the typewriter huddle, the double guarterback and the "1" formation used so effectively by his own Seminoles. Florida State's annual June coaching clinic, which he fathered five years ago, is probably football's finest. A native of Lawrence, Mass., the 45-year-old coach was graduated from Ithaca College in 1936.

JAMES WALLACE BUTTS HEAD FOOTBALL COACH University of Georgia

The 1958 football season marks the 20th year James Wallace Butts has been at the helm of the Georgia Bulldogs. Now the dean of Southeastern Conference head coaches and a member of the N.C.A.A. Rules Committee from District Three (comprising the Atlantic Coast, Southern and Southeastern Conferences), 'tis no wonder Georgians rank him with two other athletic immortals born and bred in the Empire State of the South: Ty Cobb and Bobby Jones.

Born in the heart of the state, Milledgeville, February 7, 1905, Butts is a direct descendant of one of Georgia's earliest settlers, Captain Samuel Butts, for whom Butts county (Ga.) is named. Capt. Butts was killed leading a charge of Georgia militia against Creek Indians in the Battle of Chalibbee January 27, 1814.

Wally Butts is the only native Georgian ever to attain national prominence in the football coaching field. He was a football, basketball and baseball standout at Georgia Military College in his home town of Milledgeville. He graduated at Mercer University in Macon in 1928, making all-S.I.A.A. end under Coach Bernie Moore (now S.E.C. commissioner).

He married the former Miss Winifred Fay Taylor of Milledgeville, Feb. 19, 1929. They have three daughters: Faye, graduate of the University of Georgia School of Journalism in 1950 (now Mrs. John Jones of Decatur, Ga.); Jean, 1952 graduate of the University of Georgia School of Journalism (now Mrs. Frank Jones of Clinton, S. C.); and Nancy, now a senior at the University of Georgia.

The President DR. O. C. ADERHOLD

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, President of the University of Georgia, is one of Georgia's outstanding educators.

A native of Lavonia, Dr. Aderhold attended the public schools there and the University of Georgia where he received his bachelor and master's degrees. He was granted a doctor of pholosophy at Ohio State University.

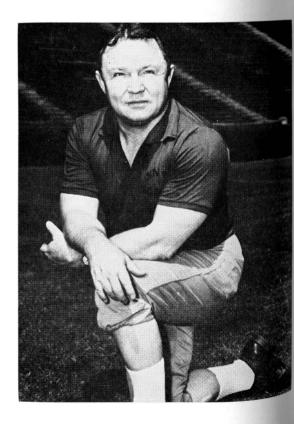

He became a student assistant at the University and worked his way through the ranks to become Dean of the College of Education in 1946. In September 1950, he was named President of the oldest state chartered university.

Under Dr. Aderhold's administration, distinguished members have been added to the faculty and important strides have been made in procuring and holding outstanding men, and measures have been taken to improve the quality of student work. Under his leadership notable progress has been made in the fields of basic and applied research, and service programs have been expanded to meet growing demands.

Grants for significant studies in marine biology, educational research, forestry, psychology, poultry, biology and other areas have been received during his administration.

A building program to fill the needs of a vital, growing university has been developed.

To people throughout Georgia, of course, President Aderhold is known as the father of the Minimum Foundation Program for Education, and for his work in persuading the General Assembly to enact the program.

Florida State University has grown to such proportions in recent years that it is truly "a city within a city" insofar as the community economy of Tallahassee is concerned. Pictured is the new FSU Gymnasium, one of the many modern buildings constructed on the campus in recent years.

HARBISON

TOOMEY

BOB HARBISON, 31, is a real veteran of the Seminole coaching staff in terms of longevity. Harbison begins his 11th full season with Florida State this fall. Back in his playing days, Bob was an outstanding guard for the late Bo McMillin at Indiana University from 1945-47. A native of Evansville, Ind., Harbison came to Florida State in 1948. He is credited with developing Little All-America linemen Bill Dawkins in 1951 and fellow coach Hugh Adams in 1949.

FRANK TOOMEY, 35, a native of Niagara Falls, N. Y., is in his fifth season as one of Coach Tom Nugent's right-hand men. A graduate of Ithaca College, Toomey has a lot to do with making the Seminole backfield go. He is also regarded as one of the best defensive coaches around. He came to Florida State in 1954 after coaching football and baseball at Waverly, N. Y., High School from 1948.

HUGH ADAMS, 30, a Little All-America on Florida State's 1949 team, returns for his third season with the Seminoles. A graduate assistant in 1955, Hugh was the first Florida State graduate to hold an assistant coaching position with the Seminoles. The Punta Gorda native was an assistant coach and mathematics instructor at Tallahassee's Leon High School in 1950-51. He served in the Navy before returning to Florida State in 1955 to earn his master's degree.

PAUL ODOM, 31, coached Florida State's high-powered freshman teams during the past three years. A graduate assistant in 1955, Odom was elevated from freshman coach to the varsity coaching staff last June. A native of Mount Dora, Odom played tackle for Rollins College in 1947-48. After Rollins dropped football, Paul switched to Stetson and captained the Hatters during the 1950 season.

CHARLIE LAPRADD, All-America tackle at the University of Florida in 1952, is the second newest full member of Florida State's coaching staff. LaPradd is expected to develop into an excellent football coach, primarily because of the way the young Seminoles respect him. A native of St. Augustine, Charlie, 30, was graduated from the University of Florida in 1953 before serving in the Air Force. He was a graduate assistant at FSU in 1956. He became a full member of the staff last season.

HERB HUGHES, 27, former University of New Mexico quarterback, takes over the reigns of Florida State's freshman football squad this season. Hughes assisted with the Seminole freshmen in 1956 and worked with the varsity last season. He showed an early inclination to become a football coach at New Mexico, where he was graduated in 1956. His shrewd knowledge of football is helping greatly in his coaching efforts.

LEE CORSO, the newest full-time member of the coaching staff — appointed last June — is one of the brighter names in Florida State's brief football history.

A native of Miami, where he was a three-sport All-Stater at Miami Jackson, 22-year-old Corso has always expressed a desire to coach. "Lee has that rare ability of being able to impart the knowledge he has," Coach Tom Nugent says. "I think he has a big future in coaching." Corso was graduated from Florida State in 1956 and served as freshman backfield coach last season.

Jacksonville—the Gateway City to Florida as seen from this aerial view is one of the fastest growing cities in the South. Beautifully designed bridges spanning the St. Johns River are linking

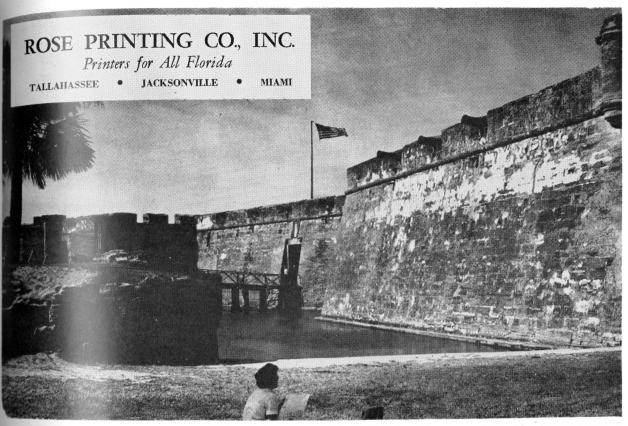

Like the "Pause That Refreshes" is increasing in popularity, water skiing, too, has become one of Florida's most favorite outdoor sports. Wherever there's an inlet, a river, pond or lake you're quite apt to find a speedboat and water skiers performing.

A few miles south of Tallahassee is the famous Wakulla Springs. On sunny weekends students from Florida State University find the cool spring water invigorating. Leisure hours on the beach also provide an excellent opportunity to study.

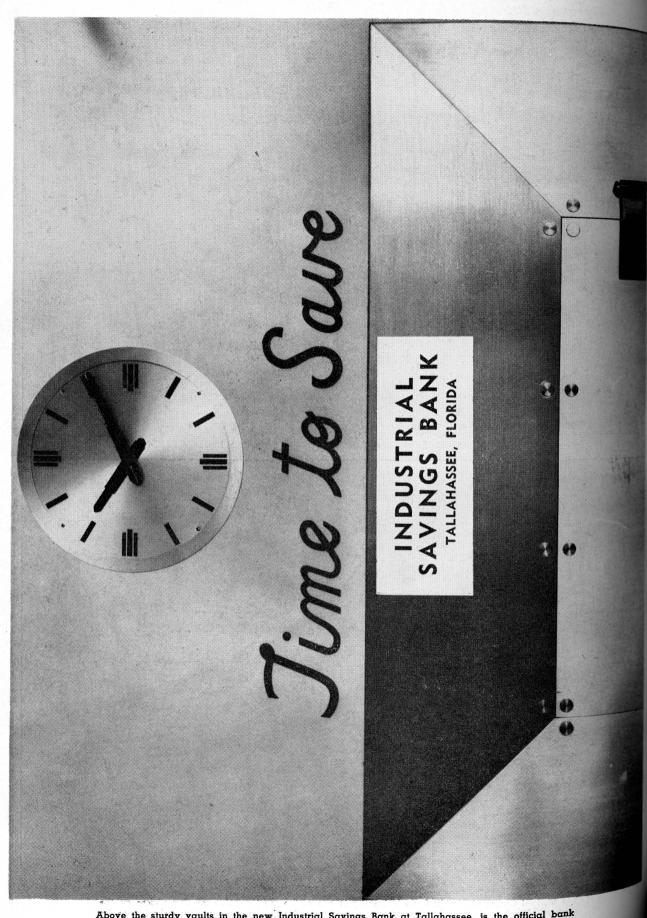

Beautiful 19-story Home Office Building of The Independent Life & Accident Insurance Co., is one of the tallest buildings in Jacksonville. This new building along with several others has given new height to the skyline of the Gateway City.

The Student Center at Florida State University is one of the most popular meeting places on the campus. A relatively new building, the spacious recreational areas are continuously in use by the students.

Above the sturdy vaults in the new Industrial Savings Bank at Tallahassee, is the official bank clock. A novel advertising theme, reminding people that, each fleeting moment that ticks away is lost, unless they've realized it's "Time To Save," has produced hundreds of new savings accounts.
