U of F
salutes

The University of Florida proudly salutes some of the outstanding cities and areas in the state of Florida and the thousands of alumni who live in these communities.

J. WAYNE REITZ
PRESIDENT

TALLAHASSEE

Florida's capital city of Tallahassee is one of the fastest growing cities in the state.

An increase of about 18,000 population over the 1950 census figures is expected in the city by this year.

The administrative and legislative hub of the state is located here and the city proudly boasts two state institutions of higher learning.

Today, on this historic gridiron meeting of the state's largest universities, the University of Florida is proud to have this opportunity to salute the city that is the home of its sister institution, Florida State University.

The picture above shows the central locations of the cluster of state buildings in the city. Below is the Governor's mansion set in its surroundings of Tallahassee beauty.

Douglas Shivers, graduate of the U of F College of Law, heads an Alumni group of 160 Florida grads who live in the Tallahassee area.

From a log cabin in 1824, Florida's Capitol has grown into the imposing structure of today (left). The state's new Supreme Court Building was built at a cost of $1.9 million in 1949. Killearn Gardens, state park, emphasize the beauty of the city here showing both natural and feminine charm.

Southern Charm

Much of the grace and charm of Old South living is present today in Tallahassee.

Tallahassee's way of life is mirrored in the architecture which predominates the city in the state buildings, public structures and campus facilities of both universities.

The regal and serene facades of eight government buildings belie the bustle of activity conducted in these structures. Every second year the legislature convenes to conduct the business of one of the nation's fastest growing states.

This church, the city's first non-government public building, built in 1832, still has the slave galleries.

Two State Supported Universities

Over 10,000 students annually enroll in Florida State University and Florida A&M.

Matching the growth of the city is the vigorous building program of Florida State University. Since becoming coeducational in 1947 a constantly increasing enrollment has become a part of the FSU picture. Sixteen schools and colleges comprise FSU and enrollment is now around 7,000.

Florida A&M is one of the leading Negro schools in nation.

A&M's leadership extends to the gridiron also. Many rows of trophies claiming the National Negro Collegiate Football Championship grace the A&M halls.

This new Home Economics Classroom Building typifies the many new buildings that have risen on the FSU campus during this recent period of increasing college enrollment.

Enrollment at Florida A&M annually reaches a figure around 3,000. This building shows the architecture of the plant, perched atop the Tallahassee hills.

All other "gasolines" are only part gas and here's proof leaded gasolines contain artificial combustion elements.

Only premium Amoco is all gas Untainted by lead... Untinted by color... Undiluted by additives

PRESIDENT J. WAYNE REITZ

A native of Olathe, Kansas, Dr. Reitz began his work with the University of Florida in 1934. He has served continuously on the campus since that time with the exception of five years when he was agricultural economics counsel to the United Growers and Shippers Association of Orlando and chief of the citrus fruit division of the production and marketing administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Completing his undergraduate work at Colorado A & M, where he served as president of the student body, Dr. Reitz received his Master of Science from the University of Illinois and his Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Wisconsin. He holds an LL.D. degree from Tusculum College and the University of Miami. He has been honored by his social fraternity, Sigma Chi, by being named a "Significant Sig," and was last year selected as "Man of the Year" by The Progressive Farmer.

An authority in the field of agricultural economics, Dr. Reitz has served as Extension Economist at Colorado A & M; Assistant Extension Economist, University of Illinois; Junior Economist, Farm Credit Administration; Assistant Professor to full Professor of Agriculture Economics, University of Florida; Provost of Agriculture, University of Florida; and President, University of Florida from 1955.

PRESIDENT J. WAYNE REITZ

COACH BOB WOODRUFF

GEORGE R. (BOB) WOODRUFF

Easy-mannered Bob Woodruff is now in his ninth season as guiding hand for the Fighting Gator football team. Over the past eight seasons he has turned the one-time docile Gators into a formidable force which opponents know they must reckon with Saturday after Saturday each fall. The rough-tough Southeastern Conference has found Florida often in the running for the championship and its members know they have a game on their hands when they now meet a team aptly known as "Fighting" Gators. After graduation from Tennessee, where he was a standout tackle in the years 1936-37-38, Woodruff was an assistant coach of the Vols for two years. Next he coached at West Point, helping guide Army to national championships in 1944 and 1945. He was then assistant coach at Georgia Tech for one year, before becoming head coach at Baylor. He brought the Bears into prominence in three seasons, his 1949 team winning eight and losing two. He assumed his current position as head coach and athletic director at Florida in 1950 and gave the Gators their first bowl team in 1952. Florida has finished third in the tough Southeastern Conference the past two years, the highest they have ranked since the league was formed in 1933.

CAPTAIN DON FLEMING

"He has the finest reflexes of any player I know," says Coach Bob Woodruff of Florida's 1958 team captain, Don Fleming. One of the finest ends in the South, Fleming is a superlative defensive player, is an excellent blocker, and is a very capable receiver.

A native of Shadyside, Ohio, he stands six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds. He broke into the varsity lineup in 1956 and is now seeking his third varsity letter. He played 239 minutes during his sophomore year and 312 minutes in last season's nine games.

NOTE: A "rule of thumb" in placing certain men on defense is as follows: Tackles are always reversed (left moves to right, vice versa) on defense; centers and fullback are linebackers; halfbacks are reversed; and quarterbacks are usually safetymen.

About Today's Game

State's Most Talked About Game Finds Gators Meeting Seminoles

By Jimmy Gay

Director of Sports Publicity, University of Florida

Today's inaugural meeting between the University of Florida's Fighting Gators and Florida State University's Seminoles is without a doubt the most talked about football game in the State's history.

Florida, the State's largest institution of higher learning, enters the game and new series backed by more than a half-century of gridiron history. Florida State, itself a large and proud institution, is a relative youth in football background, dating its sports history back to 1947.

An amusing aspect of the upcoming contest will be the many divided loyalties within family circles. It would be interesting to know how many homes there are where the husband is an alumnus of the University of Florida and the wife an alumna of Florida State University, their undergraduate days of course going back for the most part to the pre-1947 period when Florida had primarily an all-male student body and Florida State was a college for women.

Thrills Promised

Florida State, boasting its finest team in history, is an offensive-minded team that has produced an average of 22.8 points a game. The Gators on the other hand have proved defensively strong, ranking high in the nation each week.

Leading ground gainer for the Seminoles is Fred Pickard, who has run the ball 113 times for 581 yards, a 5.0 yard average. Vic Prinzi has passed 69 times for an amazing completion record of 40 and 480 yards gained. He has thrown for seven touchdowns. Leading receiver is Jack Espenship with 16 catches.

The Gators have the constant threat of the long gainer, the home run type of offense that keeps opponents wary at all times. Examples of these are a pair of 67 yard jaunts by Halfback Don Deal, a 59-yard pass interception return by Halfback Don Lucey, a 76-yard burst by Quarterback Jimmy Dunn, a 54-yard run by Fullback Sonny Giles, and a 36-yard pass interception return by Bobby Green. Interesting fact about Florida's scoring this season is that 18 players have accounted for 136 points, while the entire team gets credit for a safety and two points.

Florida State has 16 players who figured in scoring this season, making this game potentially one of the most wide-open seen on Florida Field in many years. Imagine 34 players available who have shown they have scoring potential.

Yet, the most-often heard question before the game goes something like this: Can Florida's vaunted defense halt Florida State's versatile offense?

Forty-three thousand fans are expected today to see for themselves.

Season's Record

Florida's record this year is 4 wins, 3 defeats, one tie. Victories were over Tulane, 34-14; U.C.L.A., 21-14; Georgia, 7-6; and Arkansas State, 51-7. Losses were to Mississippi State, 7-14; L.S.U. 7-10; and Auburn, 5-6. Vanderbilt and Florida tied, 6-6.

Florida State has won 7 and lost 2, winning from Tennessee Tech, 22-7; Furman 42-6; Wake Forest, 27-24; Virginia Tech, 28-0; Tennessee, 10-0; Tampa, 43-0; and Miami, 17-6. Losses were to Georgia Tech, 3-17; and Georgia, 13-28.

ALMA MATER

Florida, our Alma Mater,
Thy glorious name we praise;
All thy loyal sons and daughters
A joyous song shall raise.
Where palm and pine are blowing,
Where southern seas are flowing,
Shine forth thy noble Gothic walls,
Thy lovely vine-clad halls.
'Neath the Orange and Blue victorious
Our love shall never fail.
There's no other name so glorious—
All Hail, Florida, Hail.

Twelve miles from the city is one of Florida's largest springs which boils sparkling clear water up from a depth of 187 feet.

Playtime

Outdoor activities form a large part of Tallahassee recreation.

The climate blends the leisurely warmth of tropical Florida with the invigoration of more seasonal weather changes.

Hunting enthusiasts find great stretches of untapped forests throughout the area which provide some of Florida's finest hunting.

Facilities for family fun are found all over the city and at various locations just a short drive away.

A beautiful golf course challenges the golfer to play its rolling route (above).

Young Southern Belles wait in honor of the May Queen under a traditional oak used as a crowning site since the 1800's (left).

Craft of the type pictured will take the sportsman into the Gulf after trophy-sized gamefish.

Area Waterways Leads to a Variety of Sports

From the clear waters of spring fed rivers and lakes, to the brackish rivers leading to the breakers of the Gulf of Mexico is offered in the area a variety of watersports.

Fresh water sport is offered on the oak-shaded banks of streams or lakes where the easy-paced cane pole mingles with the willowy fly rod.

The surprise of a wide range of prizes found in semi-salt waters of Gulf-connected rivers is close by, also.

These same rivers serve as highways for the hunters. On the river, the hunter can reach some of the world's best goose hunting in the salt flats of St. Marks. Good duck shooting is also offered in the area.

Some excellent swamp hunting is reached easiest through river travel.

Nimrods from all sections of the nation are found on the salt flats near Tallahassee when the geese make their annual appearance.

A close look is provided of tung nuts on the tree. This crop is used in making a base for paints.

Broad leaves of shade-grown tobacco promise a profitable year for the Tallahassee area tobacco growers.

Rich Agricultural Area

Rich red soil in the area supports a variety of agricultural crops that provide a wide foundation for this segment of the area's economy.

Often referred to as the tung nut capital of the world, over 14,000 acres of land are devoted to this important crop.

Lush pasture grasses support top-notch herds of beef cattle and other livestock are also found in abundance.

Shade-grown tobacco occupies much of the cultivated land in the Tallahassee area. This method of filtering Florida's famous sun onto the money-crop results in a special type of leaf that is important in the tobacco industry.

Rounding out the agricultural picture are harvests of staple crops.

Herds such as this form a part of the state's beef production that places Florida second in this industry East of the Mississippi.

Some of the many faces of Tallahassee are presented in this montage. They blend to bring a style of living peculiarly "Modern-Southern."

A Modern City — With Charm . . . Growth . . . and Planning

The recent modernization and growth of Tallahassee has not removed the famous charm of Southern living for which the city is noted.

"The Southland at its best" is a phrase often associated with Tallahassee and the friendliness and grace of its residents quickly show why it is a truism.

The city's rise to prominence as a wholesale center for a wide area in three states has resulted in careful planning by community leaders to meet the demands of future industry.

Great areas are reserved for industrial park development. This "park" is situated to take best advantage of a great complex of transportation already established to serve the new wholesale operations.

In judging a modern filter cigarette...

IT'S WHAT'S UP FRONT THAT COUNTS

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

"Winston has got it," says Garry Moore, "because Winston's got a secret! It's Filter-Blend—fine, mild tobaccos specially processed for filter smoking!"

"A cigarette without flavor is like a world without women. Who wants it?" says the star of Winston's television hit, "I've Got a Secret!". "After all, if you don't get flavor . . . you're missing the whole idea of smoking!"

"Winston has got flavor! Because up ahead of Winston's pure modern filter is Filter-Blend—a Winston exclusive! This secret — Filter-Blend — is what makes Winston America's best-tasting filter cigarette. Try Winston!"

America's best-selling filter cigarette!
