by

YEARGIN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

At Yeargin we take pride in our work. And we are especially proud of the new steel belted radial passenger tire plant we built for Firestone at Wilson, North Carolina. More than 1,600,000 square feet.

As the builder of this new facility, we handled all aspects of construction with our own craftsmen and supervision — civil, mechanical, and electrical. And we completed the work in record time. The first tire was produced only 8 1/2 months after the ground-breaking in June, 1973.

When you think construction, think Yeargin. We can build it fast; we can save you money; and our quality of workmanship is second to none.

DAY

Ideally situated to save you time and money.

When Eastern meets your distribution needs, you have an experienced group working for you in two ideal locations: Greenville, South Carolina, and Jacksonville, Florida.

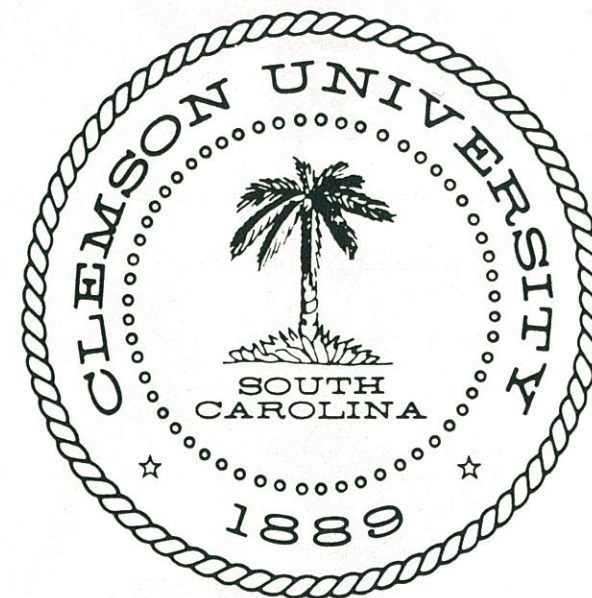

The recent addition of two brand new distribution centers in Imeson Park at Jacksonville gives us total floor space of 1,167,000 sq. ft., with more projected. Our materials handling and warehouse maintenance equipment is the finest. Our personnel hand picked. Our responsiveness to your instructions quick enough to move goods on a same-day basis. And our computer capability allows us to consolidate loads whenever we can save you money by doing so.

Write or call Harold Segars now at 803/277-2475. And if you're interested in using our Greenville facilities, ask about No Situs savings under the most favorable inventory tax laws in the nation.

The Tiger is what Clemson athletics is all about, whether it be Tony Saad dressed as one, a brightly decorated homecoming display, or Boris prowling in the Columbia Zoological Park. The Tiger and his fans back Clemson teams to the hilt.

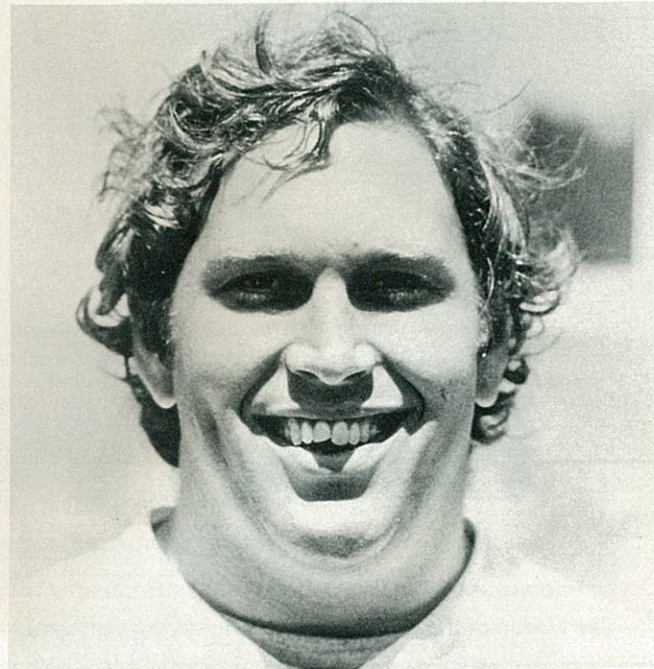

Clemson Tigers in the Pros

There are eight former Clemson Tigers currently playing the professional football ranks, five with the National Football League and a trio with the Canadian Football League.

All have made big impacts on their respective teams. Former Tiger stars in the pros are:

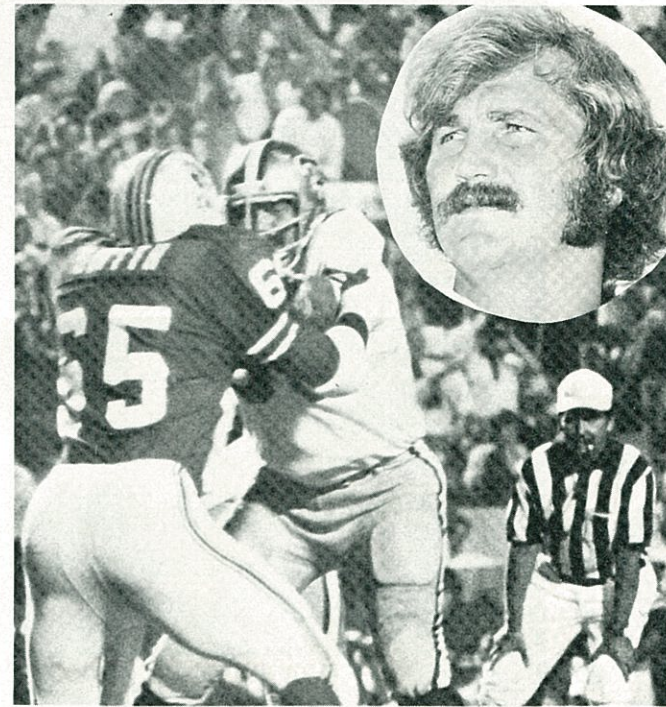

Linebacker Larry Hefner, a Charlotte, N. C., native who is in his fourth season with the Green Bay Packers. Larry was a 14th round draft choice in 1972, following his senior year at Clemson — 1971 — when he earned first team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors. Called "a tough competitor and bruising hitter" by Packer coaches, Larry, who captained the speciality teams, was injured early this season and underwent knee surgery. No doubt he'll return to harass the opposing ball carriers in 1976.

Center Wayne Mulligan, an eighth round draft pick by the St. Louis Cards in 1969, was a four-year starter for that team, then joined the New York Jets last year and started in 12 of the 13 games he played in. A native of Towson, Md., Wayne, according to Jet coaches "does a fine job of blocking for Joe Namath, and is a solid run blocker." He is in his sixth year with the NFL, and is again starting for the Jets.

A third round draft choice in 1972 and a teammate with Larry Hefner, John McMakin spent three full seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers, including last year's World Championship club. John was born in Spartanburg and played high school football in Tucker, Ga., and was an All-ACC selection with Larry in 1971. His rookie year with the Steelers he was the team's third leading receiver and was named to the UPI All-NFL Rookie Team. A rib injury and cracked collarbone last fall limited his playing time, and at the first of the '75 season John was traded to Detroit where he is seeing action with the Lions in their two tight end offense.

Fairfax, Ala., native Dave Thompson, a former All-America offensive lineman for the Tigers, is in his fifth professional season. Dave was the Detroit Lions' second round pick in 1971 and was a formidable blocker for both the running and passing game in the Motor City. He was traded to the New Orleans Saints in 1974 and was a full-time starter at left tackle, and is holding down that same spot this season. New Orleans coaches, which include former Tiger assistant Doug Shively, observed that Dave could play any position across the Saints' forward wall.

Three former Tigers are with the same Canadian League team, the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and all three are in starting roles. They are offensive tackle Ken Peebles, a rookie, 12-year veteran center Bob Swift, and second-year running back Jay Washington. Ken was a starter for the Tigers last fall and earned first-team All-ACC honors as well as the State's Jacobs Blocking Trophy. Bob, a fullback at Clemson, broke into the league in 1964 with Toronto and rushed for over 1,000 yards. After a knee injury slowed him, Bob moved to the offensive line and was All-Canadian for Winnipeg in 1972 and 1974. Jay played in but eight games last year for Winnipeg, yet finished as the second leading rusher on the team with 582 yards. Ken is from Timonium, Md.; Bob from Lancaster, Pa.; and Jay from Charleston.

"My feeling about Charlie Waters," said Dallas Cowboy coach Tom Landry, "is that I'd like to play with 40 like him. He's a guy who plays hard and gives 100 per cent." A former quarterback-receiver at Tigertown, Charlie, from North Augusta, has played all four positions in the Dallas secondary in this his sixth year with Dallas. Voted by the fans as the "Favorite Cowboy," in Dallas, Charlie ranks as the seventh all-time team interception leader, as well as in the top 20 among active NFC players.

The ACC Football Stadiums

CLEMSON MEMORIAL STADIUM — The Tigers played their first game in Memorial Stadium in 1942 and this replaced Riggs Field, which was used for over two decades. The original stands in Memorial Stadium held 20,000 and this was expanded to 38,000 prior to the 1958 season and to its present 43,451 before the 1960 campaign. However, because of a grassed bank in the East end zone, sometimes called Section GG (green grass), the capacity can be over 50,000. Clemson's largest home crowd was 53,247 against arch rival South Carolina in 1968. The stadium is also known as Death Valley because of the Tigers' outstanding home record, having won 93 of 137 games with two ties. Clemson was undefeated at home during 1974, winning all six of its games.

WALLACE WADE STADIUM — Duke's Wallace Wade Stadium, renamed for retired football coach Wallace Wade, is not the newest in the ACC but it is the largest from a seating standpoint. Capacity, with added bleachers, is 57,000. The stadium, horseshoe in shape, was used for the first time in 1929 with Pittsburgh as the opponent. It holds a special niche in football history in that it is the only facility to host a Rose Bowl game other than the actual Pasadena arena. The game was played at Duke on January 1, 1942, due to threats of war on the West Coast. Over 56,000 witnessed that game as Oregon State eked out a 20-16 win over the Blue Devils. Recently, the stadium has also become known as one of the nation's foremost track arenas. Seven world records have been set on the oval and in 1974 the U.S.-USSR track meet drew a crowd of 65,500 over a two-day period.

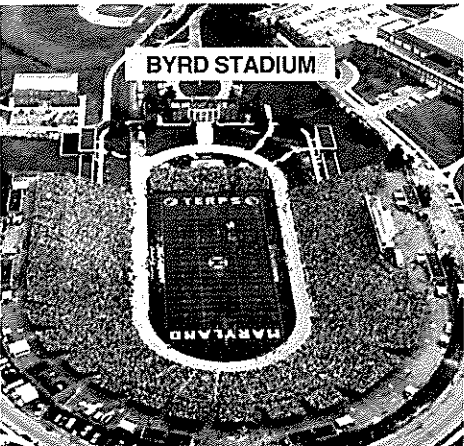

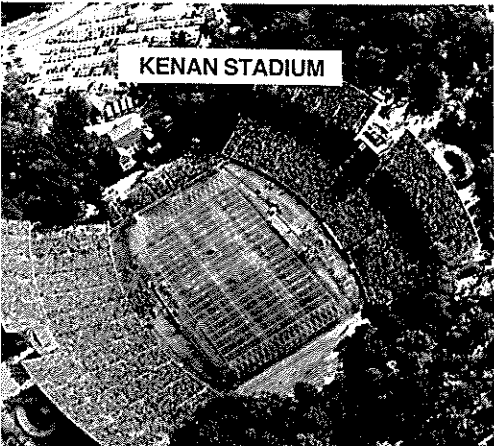

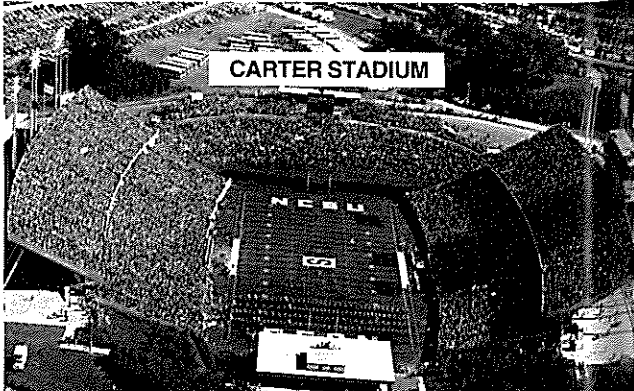

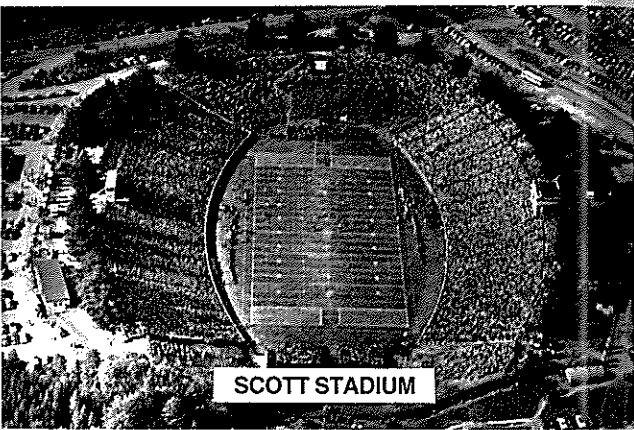

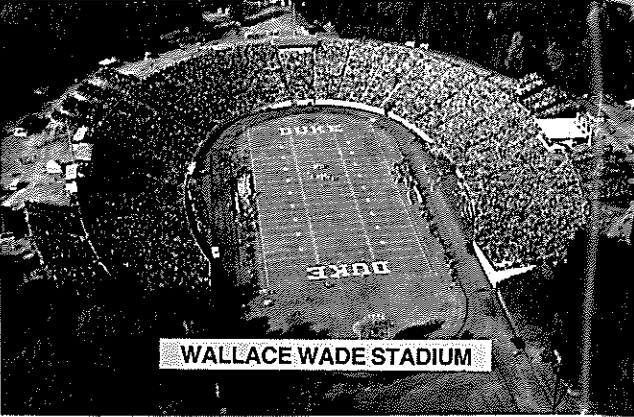

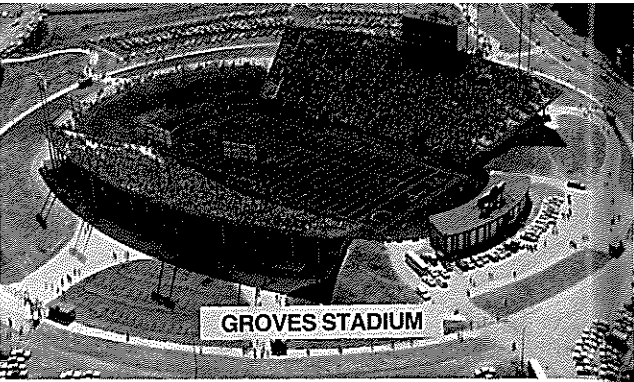

BYRD STADIUM — The University of Maryland's Byrd Stadium is named for the former star athlete — Dr. H. C. (Curly) Byrd — who coached its football team for 23 years and went on to become president of the University. The 35,000-seat stadium was constructed in 1950 at a cost of less than a million dollars. With the addition of extra seats 54,412 attended the Alabama game in 1974 while 49,647 saw the game with N. C. State. A new six-lane Tartan track has replaced the original cinder track and new dressing facilities for teams have been added in recent years. Maryland won 26 of the first 27 games played in the stadium and has an overall 72-47-1 record and a 43-23-1 mark against ACC opponents.

KENAN STADIUM — The home of the North Carolina Tar Heels is regarded by many as one of the most beautiful football arenas in America. The stadium was built in a natural valley on the Carolina campus in the mid-1920's. It was dedicated on Nov. 12, 1927, and the Tar Heels defeated Davidson, 27-0, in the first game played there. William Rand Kenan, Jr., deserves the credit for making the stadium a part of University life. The stadium, with an initial capacity of 24,000, was constructed as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. In later years, Mr. Kenan added portable stands in the end zones and then an upper deck to the permanent stands to bring the present-day capacity to 47,000. In 1970, standing room tickets were sold for games against South Carolina and Duke and attendance reached an all-time high of 48,500. The stadium is surrounded by long leaf pines, oaks, myriad dogwoods and sycamores.

CARTER STADIUM — Construction of N. C. State's scenic Carter Stadium, at a cost of $3.7 million, was completed in 1966, and the Wolfpack hosted its first opponent in the facility on October 8, bowing to South Carolina in the Dedication Game, 31-21. The structure is named after State alumni W. J. and Harry Carter of Greensboro, N. C. During its nine-year history, Wolfpack teams have compiled a 29-12-3 record and will enter the 1975 season with a home-game victory string of 15. The doubled-decked sideline stands seat 41,000 fans, and, with 3,000 elevated end zone seats added this fall, the total seating capacity is 44,000. Last season, the Wolfpack averaged 42,600 for its five home games. The stadium's single-game record attendance was set on Oct. 6, 1973, when 50,200 overflowed the stands for the Pack's game against North Carolina. An excellent lighting system enables State to play many of its games at night.

SCOTT STADIUM — Dedicated October 15, 1931, the University of Virginia's Scott Stadium has one of the finest natural settings in the country. Named for the parents of Frederic William Scott and donated by Scott and his wife, it seats 25,000 with room for up to 34,000 with bleachers and standing room. In 1974 the Scott family and several anonymous donors gave funds to renovate and rebuild the entire structure, install new aluminum seats, and replace the grass playing field with astroturf. Since the all-time attendance of 34,000 for the Duke game in 1952, overflow crowds of 31,300 and 32,149 for the 1972 and 1974 Virginia Tech games, have been in attendance. Future expansion of the setting capacity is planned in the very near future, and funds are now being sought for that purpose.

GROVES STADIUM — Groves Stadium, home of the Wake Forest Demon Deacons, is now nine years old, being in use since the move from old Bowman Gray Stadium in 1968. Since that time, 674,200 fans have watched games in the 30,500-seat facility. The 77-acre tract was presented to the University by the late Charles H. Babcock, Winston-Salem businessman and Wake Forest benefactor. The $3.9 million stadium was dedicated and named at the 1968 opener against N. C. State in honor and memory of Henry Herman Groves Sr., formerly of Gastonia, N. C., and now of Jacksonville, Fla., and his two deceased brothers, Earl C. and L. Craig Groves. Unexcelled from a spectator's viewpoint, all seats are located along the sidelines and are located close to the playing field. The two-story Bridger Fieldhouse is located at the west end, and provides dormitory-type accommodations for player living as well as comfortable dressing facilities. The field is also well lighted.

Racketball Moves In

Charlie White prepares to defend State title.

Charlie White would like to have more time to play racketball, but he figures that won't come until after he defends his South Carolina championship in the state tournament which will be held at Clemson November 7-9 in Fike Recreation Center.

The problem is that preparing to play racketball requires more than just playing.

White, who teaches recreation and park administration at Clemson University, has been punishing the muscles he'll use in the tournament since early September.

Besides playing racketball three or four times a week, his seven-day routine includes running three miles in less than 23 minutes three times a week for endurance, running wind sprints three or four times for speed, and doing calisthenics and weight lifting to strengthen his legs and lower body.

The weight workouts include lying on his back and lifting 325 pounds with his legs, doing deep knee bends with 200 pounds on his shoulders and performing a lot of situps. He does four sets of 25 repetitions of each exercise.

Three days before the tournament starts he'll drop this grind and just relax, maybe swim or jog a little so he can begin competition fit and rested.

White expects his toughest opponents in the tournament to be Gerald Griffin, athletic director at Francis Marion College and State coordinator of the sanctioning group, the International Racketball Association; Tim Hamilton, a graduate student at the University of South Carolina; and Hayward Thompson, who plays for the Greenville YMCA.

Griffin was runner-up last year when the first annual tournament was held on his campus, but White rates Hamilton as probably the strongest player of the three.

White says racketball is "a terrific lifetime sport" and points out that in addition to the open division, which he plays in, the tournament will have age groups for 35-45, 45-55, and 55-up. This year's tournament also will have brackets for women for the first time.

Unlike its close cousin, handball, racketball doesn't require a player to keep his hands toughened for competition.

The court for racketball and handball is the same, a completely enclosed room 20 feet wide, 40 feet long and 20 feet high. A balcony window allows spectators and officials to watch the action.

Racketball requires a variety of different shots off the front wall, White explains. He says the game is "not just power, but as much finesse as power." It calls for quickness and good reactions, which he says the game helps to develop. It also demands endurance, especially in the legs, which White says are pushed to the limit.

As in volleyball, only the server may score. The first person to win two 21-point games takes the match. A close match normally lasts an hour or more.

The sport is relatively new in South Carolina, but White says the state association has 50 to 60 active members and several hundred other persons play on a less competitive level. A doubles tournament may be held next spring, and after the state tournament, play will begin on a team basis, with nine teams scattered across the state, four in the upcountry and five in the lower state.

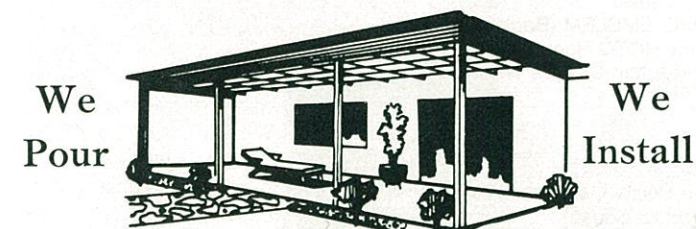

White began his interest in the sport a dozen years ago while a student at North Carolina State University, where he was a non-scholarship football player for one year. As a junior he worked at the Raleigh YMCA and began playing racketball.

He says good tennis players usually make good racketball players, but that the reverse isn't true and he's a "sorry tennis player."

Among his duties at Clemson is development of the university's new Recreation-Outdoor Education Research Laboratory, site of Jaycee Camp Hope for the retarded and a variety of other specialized camps.

White gets lots of physical activity in his job during the summer, but during the academic year when he settles into a more sedentary professorial role he feels the needs for scheduled workouts. He says physical fitness is "largely self-discipline. I consider it an important part of my life."

We're looking for certain majors to become Lieutenants.

Mechanical and civil engineering majors ... aerospace and aeronautical engineering majors ... majors in electronics ... computer science ... mathematics.

The Air Force needs people ... many with the above academic majors. And AFROTC has several different programs where you can fit ... 4-year, 3-year, or 2-year programs. Some offering full scholarships. All offering $100 a month allowance during the last two years of the program. Flying opportunities. And all leading to an Air Force officer's commission, plus advanced education.

If you'd like to cash in on these Air Force benefits, start by looking into the Air Force ROTC.

Put it all together in Air Force ROTC.

Memorial Stadium and exciting football is a tradition at Clemson University. The enthusiastic support for Clemson athletics by students, alumni and friends reflects this tradition in a most positive manner. It is a tradition which we wear with pride, one which we warmly share with you this Saturday afternoon in welcoming you to campus.

If you'll get to know us better you'll find we have other equally long-standing traditions . . . other traditions of continuing commitment and meaning.

One which will impress you immediately is Clemson's tradition of concern for people. Clemson is no Ivory Tower University. Its heartbeat is always alert to people's needs; its pulse renders service in all 46 counties of South Carolina. That's what this University has been about for more than 80 years. This commitment was first made for us by our founder, Thomas Green Clemson, who almost a century ago saw the great need in this State for a scientifically oriented institution of higher learning that would provide our young people with the training needed to build a better society.

As the years passed, the scope and mission of Clemson's services to the State and Nation have enlarged. Institutions — like individuals — do not stand still. Clemson is engaged in teaching, research and public service in those areas associated with a land-grant institution actively seeking to meet the needs of the people it serves. As their needs vary or change, Clemson adjusts its capabilities for service. Today, as we watch the football game, this University is responding to a wide range of problems affecting South Carolinians and people everywhere. It is a people-to-people commitment to which Clemson and its resources are totally dedicated.

Exciting football is the basic character of Memorial Stadium; relating to people is the basic character of Clemson University.

Let's make getting together a tradition. We'll learn a lot from each other. This is your campus. Come back as often as possible.

Athletic Director — BILL McLELLAN

A man for all seasons is Bill McLellan, a 43-year old native of Hamer, S. C., who has crossed every plateau in Clemson's rapidly expanding athletic program. And since he assumed the top position in the department over four years ago, Clemson athletics and excellence have been synonymous.

One might say that Clemson has been McLellan's home for 25 years, because since his graduation from high school he's been in Tigertown.

First, as a student-athlete when he played for the legendary Frank Howard. And during his undergraduate days, McLellan earned a pair of grid letters and was a member of Clemson's 1952 Gator Bowl team. He graduated from the University in 1954.

Two years later he earned his master's in agricultural economics, and the following two years he served the school in that department.

McLellan's second and long-lasting association with Clemson's athletic family began May 1, 1958, when he was appointed assistant business manager.

Although he held that title until 1966, McLellan served the athletic department in almost every imaginable area—from ticket managing and distribution, ordering and maintaining the equipment for all sports, and when the regular office staff turned out their lights upon completion of another day's work, McLellan journeyed out to the football field where he assisted his former coach with the grid duties.

In 1966, McLellan was appointed assistant athletic director, was named associate athletic director a couple of years later, and on Feb. 4, 1971, became the school's third director of athletics.

And it's been since that latter date that Clemson's athletic program has made tremendous strides.

Under McLellan's leadership, the entire athletic family relocated in the modern Frank Johnstone Jervy Center on West campus, and it's in this eye-catching structure where the dedicated Tiger AD makes his daily decisions in an effort to keep Clemson in the national limelight.

McLellan has directed improvements in all athletic areas, from aluminum seats for spectator comfort in Clemson Memorial Stadium to the most recent improvement in the program—the completion of the eight-lane swimming pool and the separate diving tank in Fike Recreation Center.

Certainly the men's varsity program speaks for itself—like the football team recording its best record a year ago since a 9-2 finish in 1959, and like the basketball team achieving its first-ever national ranking and making its first-ever trip to post-season tournament play, and like the soccer team recording its third straight ACC crown and third straight berth to the NCAA playoffs, and like the baseball team experiencing its 18th consecutive winning campaign on its way to the NCAA playoffs.

However, McLellan has directed his efforts to the overall program, including the intramural department for Clemson faculty, staff, and students alike, and the most recent addition of a women's athletic program.

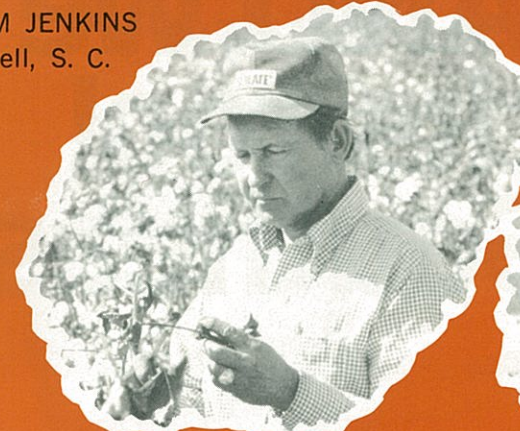

A year ago, the former was in its second year of a five-year McLellan-engineered plan, as the intramural department had grown to the point that it now requires four full-time staff directors.

And last year, the Tigers fielded women's teams in fencing, swimming and tennis, with the latter posting a fine 10-2 record. Then this winter, a Clemson women's basketball team will join that trio.

So it's been a constant climb by Clemson's athletic program under the leadership of Bill McLellan, and a climb that will certainly continue as the Tigers seek an overall program second to none.

McLellan is married to the former Ann Rogers of Fork, and they have two daughters, Suzy, a sophomore at Winthrop, and Arch Anna, and two sons, Bill and Cliff.

Head Football Coach—RED PARKER

1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and
South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year

In just two short years at Clemson University, Red Parker has given Tiger fans something to howl about. And whereas the howl from Tigertown has been a pleasant one, a howl of reverent awe has been heard from Clemson opponents.

Because in those two years—1973 and 1974—Parker's Tigers have netted almost 8,000 yards of total offense, and have scored more points (477) than Clemson managed in 34 previous games (475) prior to his arrival at Tigertown.

And last fall, in just his sophomore campaign, Parker led Clemson to its best finish with a 7-4 won-lost figure since the 1959 Bluebonnet Bowl Tigers posted a 9-2 slate.

Along the way the Tigers knocked off a pair of opponents who would go on to post-season bowl affairs, and because of Clemson's tie for second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Redhead was tabbed as both the league's and State of South Carolina's Coach-of-the-Year in 1974.

A native of Hampton, Ark., Parker was a standout in football, baseball, and track at Arkansas A&M, graduating in 1953.

After a couple of months in a summer baseball league, the Redhead was appointed prep mentor at Fordyce, Ark., High School, a school that was experiencing the misfortune of a 22-game grid losing streak.

But in eight seasons with Parker at the helm, Fordyce lost but a dozen games on its way to an impressive 75-12-4 record which included a 37-game winning streak.

In 1961 Parker returned to his alma mater as head coach, remaining there for five seasons. During his stay, A&M posted a 29-19-2 record, including a 24-5-1 ledger from 1963-65, and a pair of league titles.

Meanwhile, The Citadel had launched a search for a head coach who had a winning tradition, and that's how the Redhead became a Palmetto State resident.

And from 1966 through 1972, the Bulldogs established themselves as one of the most respected and dangerous grid teams in the Southern Conference, all because Parker introduced the veer offense to the area, and it didn't take long to leave its mark.

The 1971 Cadet squad raced to a fine 8-3 record, scored 366 points, and chalked up over 5,000 yards of total offense that season which ranked The Citadel as the nation's fourth-leading producer of real estate.

Parker's seven-year stand in Charleston gave the Bulldogs a 39-34 won-lost column.

His fourth head coaching position in as many schools is the one for which Tiger followers are grateful, because in December of 1972, the Smilin' Redhead became Clemson's 19th head coach.

Armed with his potent veer offense, Parker's enthusiasm and determination to make the Tigers a winner resulted in a 5-6 record his first season at Clemson and a third place finish in the ACC behind bowl-bound N. C. State and Maryland.

And last season's 7-4 record gave the Redhead a two-year Clemson mark of 12-10, and a 14-year head coaching record of 80-63-2 in the college ranks.

Prior to his initial grid campaign at Clemson, Parker promised to leave no stone unturned nor any avenue unexplored in an effort to put the Tigers' football fortunes along side of the country's top powers.

For the past two seasons, the Tigers' football fortunes have definitely been on the upswing. And if his past record is any indication of what to expect, then Parker's Tigers should continue to show improvement with each grid campaign.

Parker and his wife, the former Betty Goggans of Rison, Ark., have three children—Mrs. Vicki Wallace; Cindy, a student at Clemson; and Jim Mack.

Parker and '74 Tig Quarterback Mark Fellers discuss strategy.

INCOME IS THE OUTCOME
OF YOUR PART-TIME
JOB WITH THE AIR FORCE RESERVE.

An extra paycheck every month...that's one of the benefits of the Air Force Reserve. And as your rank goes up, so does the amount of that paycheck. All we ask of your time is one weekend a month and two weeks active duty during the year.

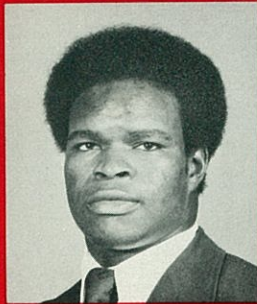

There are low-cost insurance plans, retirement benefits. An opportunity to learn a new skill or maybe sharpen up the one you used to have in the service. And the new faces and experiences of a Reserve weekend could be just the change you need in your regular routine.

If you had prior service bring yourself and your experience back to the Air Force Reserve. You'll benefit and so will the country. So, if you are between the ages of 17-34, call toll free 800-447-4700 (in Illinois call 800-322-4400) for the location of your nearest Air Force Reserve recruiter. Or, just send in the coupon.

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY describes the Tiger as "a large tawny black-striped Asiatic flesh-eating mammal related to the cat." And the largest and what is probably the best specimen in captivity in the Palmetto State is "Boris," a Siberian Tiger which is housed at the Columbia Zoological Park.

Prior to the 1970 football season, the Tiger Paw was adopted to help distinguish the Clemson Tiger from the many other Tigers at schools such as Auburn, Princeton, LSU, Memphis State and Missouri. It did not serve as a replacement to the Tiger, but as something to go along with our Clemson Tiger.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR IPTAY

For the first time in history, Clemson IPTAY members contributed over three quarters of a million dollars to the Clemson athletic program for the fiscal year of 1974-75.

The highly-successful 12 month period also marked the 11th consecutive year that IPTAY funds had increased over the previous year.

Altogether, $854,500 were contributed by 10,706 individuals and business firms. This represented 114 per cent of the goal set by the officers and directors.

The State of South Carolina reached 115 per cent of its goal, North Carolina netted 108 per cent, Georgia 117 and the remaining states 108.

Breaking down the various categories, final figures show there were 7,360 $20 IPTAY members, 2,193 who were $100 Gold Carders, 750 in the $250 Gold Card listing, 281 who were $500 Gold Cards, 84 who were a Tiger Donor ($1,000) and 38 who were Scholarship Donors ($2,000).

Kershaw County paced the Palmetto State by making 146 per cent of its goal. In second place was Allendale County with 138 per cent, third spot went to Berkeley with 132 per cent and with 127 per cent in fourth place was Newberry County.

Rounding out the top counties were Calhoun and Hampton, each with 125 per cent; Dorchester, Lexington, Greenville and Charleston Counties with 124 per cent each; and Anderson with 123 per cent.

Again, Greenville County raised the largest contributions of any other county in the state with $132,790, nearly twice as much as Richland's $66,560.

The Top Ten was rounded out with Anderson ($61,140), Pickens ($59,360), Spartanburg ($53,590), Greenwood ($24,030), Florence ($23,910), Lexington ($22,630), Orangeburg ($19,110) and Charleston ($17,580).

IPTAY was organized in 1934 by the late Dr. Ruppert H. (Rube) Fike with one purpose in mind—to finance athletic scholarships for Clemson's intercollegiate program. And since that time, not one single penny has gone for anything else other than scholarships for Clemson athletics. This year there will be 12 sports in the program as the Tigers will field a wrestling team for the first time.

Thousands of student-athletes have received an education through IPTAY, which may not have been possible otherwise. And many of these athletes have brought honor to themselves and Clemson by being named to All-America, all-conference and all-state teams. In 20 years existence of the Atlantic Coast Conference, the Tigers have won 13 outright conference championships and shared another.

Membership in IPTAY is open to anyone interested in helping Clemson students who participate in one or more of the 12 sports which the Tigers field. Gifts to IPTAY are matched by most matching gift companies.

IPTAY members receive ticket priority in football and basketball over everybody else, and season ticket IPTAY orders are always filled first.

Forest Hughes, Jr., of Winnsboro served as IPTAY president in the just passed record-breaking year. Serving with him were George Poole, Jr., of Mullins as vice president and Reeves Gressette, Jr., of Orangeburg as secretary-treasurer. These same officers were re-elected in August to serve another year.

4-H~ FOR YOUTH~by YOUTH

When the U. S. Congress established the Cooperative Extension Service in 1914, it also provided for "boys and girls club work."

Four-H, the organization which grew from that act, is today the largest youth-serving program in the country, perhaps in the world. Some 5.3 million boys and girls in the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands participate.

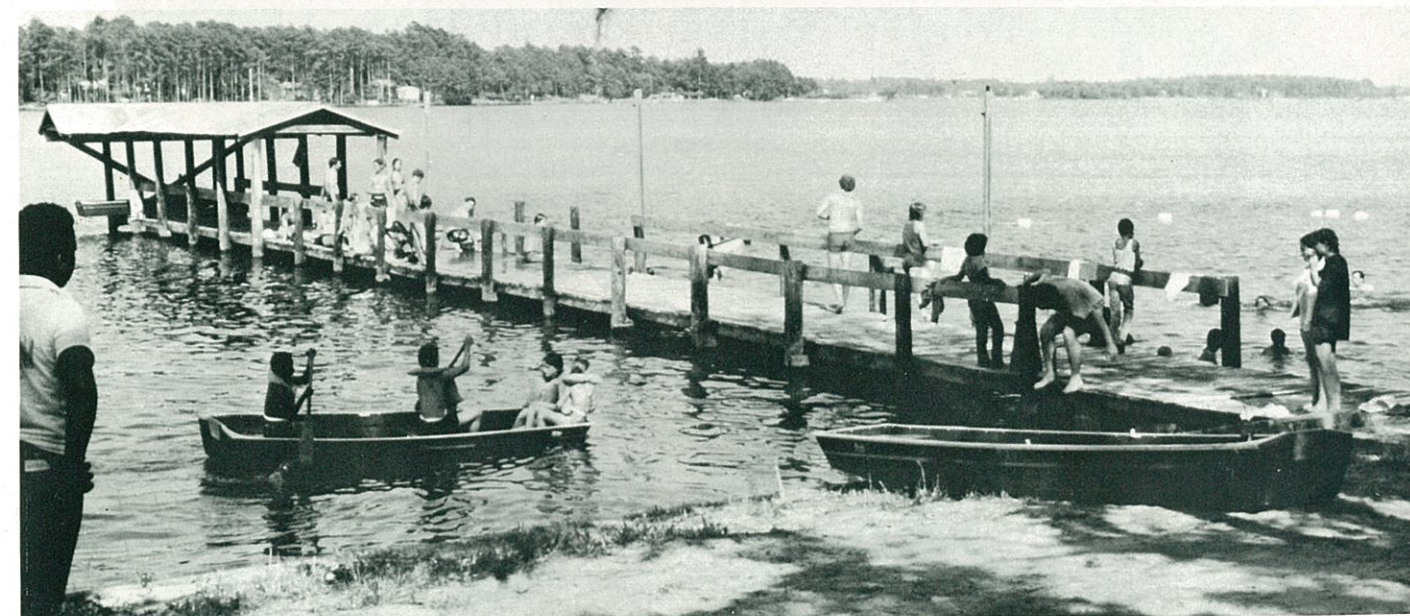

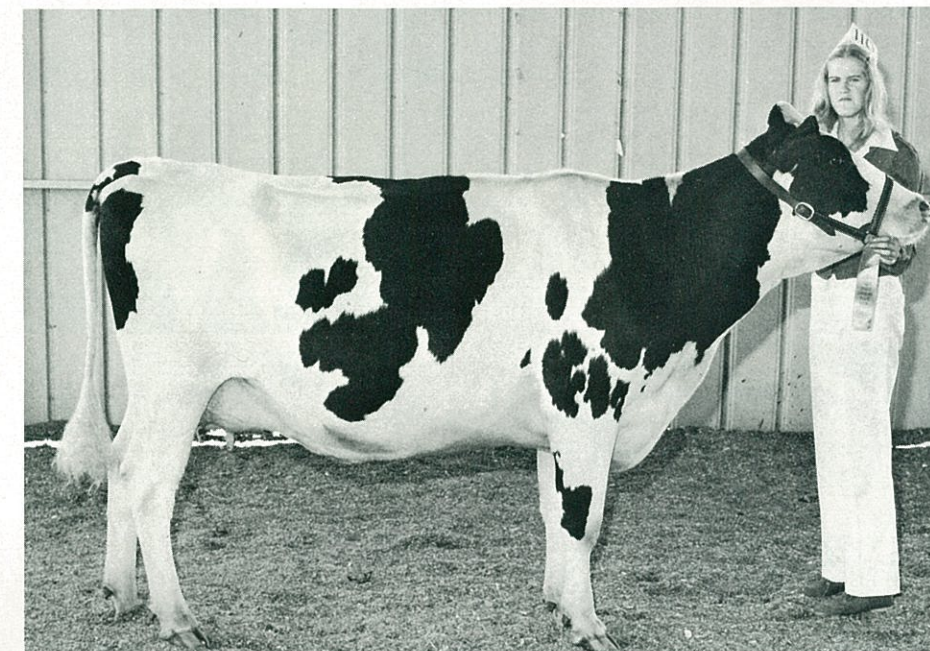

Some 90,000 youth in South Carolina take part.

Also, 4-H has broadened its dimensions, offering activities wherever young people live. In South Carolina, 27 percent of the 4-H'ers live on farms, 59 percent in small towns and open country, 12 percent in towns and cities of 100,000-15,000, and 2 percent in urban and suburban areas. Some 52 percent are from minority racial ethnic groups.

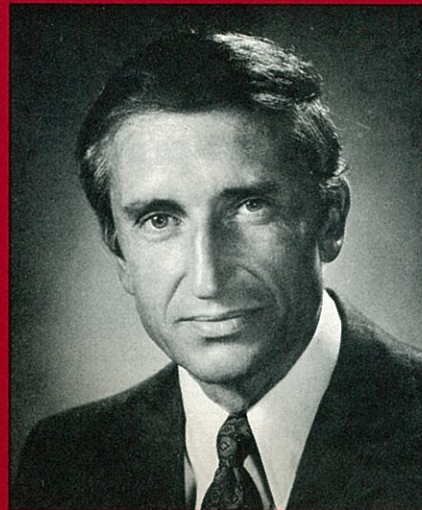

Members of organized 4-H clubs elect officers, help plan programs and choose projects according to their interests and lifestyles. Clemson University Extension Service staff members and volunteer leaders guide the young people in their efforts. More than 1,800 adult and teen volunteer leaders assisted with the activities last year.

Further information on the 4-H program may be obtained by contacting Clemson's County Extension offices.

The Florida State Series

Frankly speaking, the Clemson-Florida State football series has been short and sweet (on the Seminole side) or sour (on the Clemson side).

Only one game has been played between the two institutions, and that came in 1970 in a night game at Tallahassee.

A senior quarterback named Tommy Warren, along with a budding sophomore signal caller (Gary Huff), cut loose with an aerial barrage which punctured the Clemson secondary for 332 yards for a 38-13 victory. Warren accounted for 260 of those yards, jumping to a 10-3 first quarter lead, and increasing this to 22-6 at halftime.

Junior quarterback Tommy Kendrick was no slouch himself that night, completing 25 of 48 passes, both establishing Clemson records, for 237 yards.

Tight end John McMakin, now with the Detroit Lions, was on the receiving end of nine Kendrick arials that night, accounting for 84 yards and one touchdown.

Eddie Seigler accounted for Clemson's other seven points with a PAT and field goals of 22 and 46 yards.

But the Seminole passing proved too much for the Tigers that November 7th. Tom Bailey threw a halfback pass for a score, Warren zeroed in on a pair and Huff added another. Frank Fontes added three field goals.

Although there is a different cast of players today, both Clemson and Florida State will give each other a severe test in the passing department.

The Seminoles went into the Auburn game last Saturday night ranked second in the nation in pass defense, giving up an average of 49.8 yards per game in their first six outings. They could possibly vault into first place as Auburn managed only 46 aerial yards.

Clemson, on the other hand, was ranked ninth prior to the N. C. State game with a 71.2 yard average. The 'Pack had 12 yards passing, which could put Clemson as high as sixth place.

To add to this comparative statistic is the fact that both the Tigers and Seminoles are in the Top 20 in the nation in passing offense. Clemson is averaging 176 yards through the air in seven games while the Seminoles are just a shade behind with 172.

Both teams enter today's game with identical 1-6 records on the year, and each has suffered three close losses. The Tigers encountered four-point defeats to both Tulane and Duke and a five-point setback to Georgia Tech while the Seminoles were beaten by Iowa State by four and went down to three-point defeats to both Virginia Tech and Auburn.

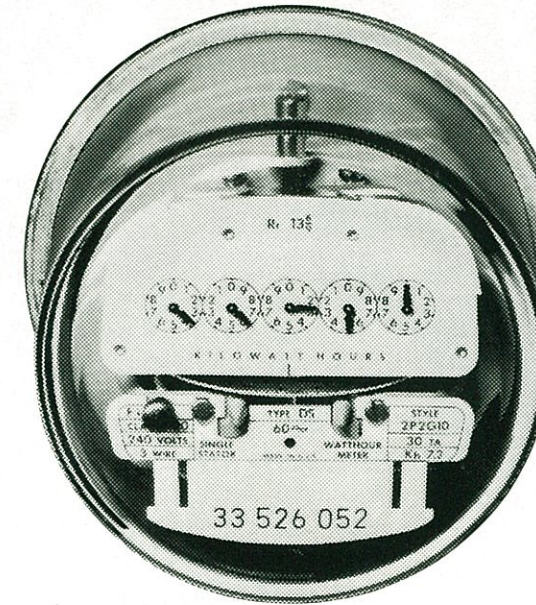

Seminole coach Darrell Mudra, in his second year at FSU, will trigger his wing-T and double wing formation with Clyde Walker, whose father was formerly on the coaching staff at the University of North Carolina and is now athletic director at Kansas. Young Walker has averaged better than 10 completions a game.

The game today is the first of a two-year contract. Clemson returns the game next year in Tallahassee on October 30th.

The Clemson Tiger Varsity Cheerleaders spend just about as much time preparing for the season as Red Parker's gridders. Often we tend to take these individuals for granted, but Coach Parker, the Tigers, and everyone at Clemson University would like to thank the cheerleaders for making Clemson Football and our school spirit what it is today. The cheerleaders are pictured above. They are, in front, head cheerleader Chip Smith and The Tiger, Tony Saad. Back row, left to right, Cindy O'Brien and Keith Crawford, Aline Crews and David Baird, Sheri Costa and Allen Blackman, Carol Ann Gerdon and Jim Spivey, Pam Hutson and Jimmy Hunt, and Jeanie Wilson and George Langstaff. Michael Kohn was absent when the picture was made.

The faster it spins, the more you spend.

The purpose of that rotating disk on your electric meter is to measure the amount of power being used.

The more you're using, the faster it goes. And the higher your monthly bill will be.

Keep that in mind. And use electricity wisely.

Because whenever you waste power, you waste money.

AND NOW, THE WEATHER. FAIR AND WARMER
WITH A MONTEZUMA SNOWBLAST LIKELY THIS EVENING.

What better way to follow up a lot of tough, strenuous football watching than with a cool, refreshing Montezuma Snowblast? You've never heard of a Montezuma Snowblast? Well, you can find out what it is by ordering one at your favorite watering hole. Or better yet, you can make one yourself, right in your own domicile. Here's how.

To make a Montezuma Snowblast, you take a large amount of subzero altocumulus clouds—no, that's not it. Here it is.

Take 1½ ounces of that noblest of tequilas—Montezuma—and set it aside. Or drink it, and set another 1½ ounces aside. Then take 12 heaping ounces of ice, fill a glass with it, pour in Montezuma and fill up the glass with Fresca,* the tangy citrusy Thirst Quencher. Quetzalcoat!! You've got an authentic Montezuma

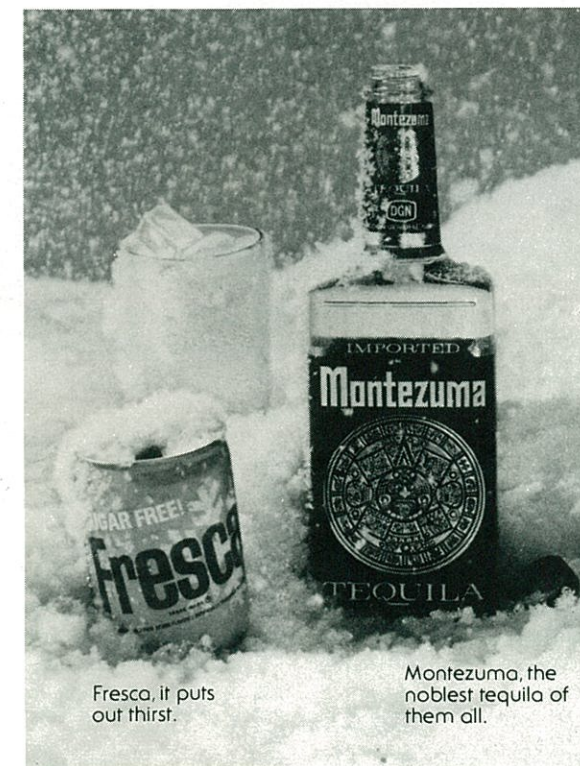

Snowblast ready to unleash on friend and foe alike.

This recipe is void where prohibited or otherwise restricted.

Get an authentic Montezuma Snowblast T-shirt. Just look for our display at your local store. Or send $2.95 (check or M.O. only) to Barton Brands, Dept. C, 200 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60604. Indicate S, M, L, or XL. Offer good while supply lasts. Void in any state where prohibited or restricted.

Fresca, it puts out thirst.

Montezuma, the noblest tequila of them all.

CLEMSON TIGER

For the discriminating sportsman and collector. A work of art to cherish as you remember the best of times. The exceptional gift for the Clemson fan. "The Clemson Tiger," a dramatic animal sculpture from the prestigious studio of Louis Paul Jonas, Inc., of New York.

An opportunity to our knowledge never before offered to any college or university. Created exclusively for and in cooperation with the Clemson University Athletic Department.

A delicate, anatomically detailed interpretation fashioned from a strong clay-based material called "resilient ceramic."

Individually finished and painted by hand in oil colors by professionally trained artists who produce a unique collection of Limited Editions priced between $350 and $700. Each model in one-tenth scale.

"The Clemson Tiger," base: 14½ x 5 inches, $400.

Only five hundred models will be produced, over approximately thirty months. A few of these models are ready now for immediate delivery.

The Tiger Writer

One received the 1958 Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing. Another broadcast the first eyewitness account of the invasion of Western Europe.

Others include the editor-in-chief of the Honolulu Advertiser and the White House correspondent for Reader's Digest.

In addition to journalistic distinction, what they have in common is a degree from an institution that's better known for turning out engineers, military officers and agricultural specialists.

Clemson University is the alma mater of Harry Ashmore, who won his Pulitzer Prize while he was editor of the Arkansas Gazette; Wright Bryan, who was managing editor of the Atlanta Journal when he made the D-Day broadcast; George Chaplin, who has held the top editorial post on the Honolulu Advertiser since 1959; and Earl Mazo, who wrote for the New York Herald Tribune and New York Times before joining Reader's Digest in 1965.

Bryan, a member of the class of 1926, was editor of the Atlanta Journal and the Cleveland Plain Dealer and vice president for development at Clemson before his retirement in 1970. He doesn't recall any adviser to the campus newspaper, The Tiger, when he was its editor, but in 1960 he wrote of "John Lane, English teacher who made Clemson's Tiger an incubator of professional newspapermen though Clemson is a technical college."

Lane, who served as faculty adviser to all Clemson student publications for 30 years, retired in 1961 and died in 1968. He was called "a one-man school of journalism."

Although some professional journalists came out of Clemson earlier, Bryan says the number increased with Lane's encouragement.

The retired editor refers to Ashmore, Mazo and Chaplin as Lane's "prize products" in professional journalism.

Lane was succeeded as Tiger adviser by Claud Green, now dean of undergraduate studies, in 1960. He and Louis Henry, the present adviser, shared the duty for several years, beginning in 1963.

Henry recalls Lane's personal interest in journalism, which he says generated interest among students. Henry says Lane's one-hour course for publication staffs and his encouragement accounted for the number of journalists Clemson produced during his tenure. Lane often invited professional journalists to speak and critique The Tiger in that course.

Henry credits Gamma Alpha Mu, a now defunct local writers' fraternity, with creating some enthusiasm.

And he finds that from year to year The Tiger staffs spontaneously generate sparks of interest.

Although the one-hour course of yesteryear has been joined since 1969 by two three-hour courses, one emphasizing newspapers and the other on broadcast journalism, Henry believes in the value of facing deadlines for a real publication. He says, "I think that because they have to learn through experience they become better journalists."

Henry, who was co-editor of The Tiger in 1952, has tried to follow Lane's policies, with no major changes.

His list of 26 of his former students who have gone into journalism includes only a few who were not members of The Tiger staff.

Clemson graduates started Osceola, a Columbia weekly. Others are scattered through the state. And beyond South Carolina's borders Clemson alumni work for the New York Times, Stars & Stripes, the Atlanta Journal, Portland (Maine) Press Herald and New Republic magazine.

The future looks bright for members of The Tiger staff who choose to enter professional journalism, in view of Wright Bryan's remark that in his days the campus newspaper staff, "was much more amateurish than it is now."

CLEMSON

*Alumni Loyalty Fund—
Many Things To Many People*

They are doctors, lawyers, teachers, farmers, businesspersons, military strategists, public servants. They have a lot going for them. They have an opportunity to grow. And their roots are here on this campus. They are former students of this institution in the foothills of South Carolina.

Clemson University has been involved in providing one of this nation's most vital commodities since 1893. Yet, the educational capabilities of Clemson continue to mount, and the University has a vibrant incentive to demonstrate its ability, and an objective yardstick to measure it.

As Clemson University continues its contribution to the development of this state, it remains an indispensable part of its future. Combine capacity, ability and opportunity and you conclude that potential is virtually unlimited.

It is, with your help. Graduates, former students and friends of Clemson are not only a source of pride for the University but a monumental strength in undergirding its educational programs with annual investments in the institution through the Clemson Alumni Loyalty Fund and other development opportunities at the University.

But greater challenges lie ahead. Knowledge has multiplied beyond comprehension; the domestic and world situations have become unwieldy and precarious. To make sure performance measures up to potential, Clemson University utilizes wisely and frugally every source of aid possible from all sectors of a free society — private citizens and foundations, business and industrial organizations, state and federal governments.

Now, more than ever before, Clemson needs you, your interest, and your investment in education. Now, more than ever before, won't you consider what you can do for Clemson?

Clemson and Stevens...Partners in textiles.

Clemson alumni, students, and faculty are important to Stevens. Tiger alumni continue to help keep Stevens a recognized leader in the international textile market place. Clemson students help Stevens plants near the campus maintain high levels of productivity. Stevens and the textile industry at large benefit each year from the research and recommendations of Clemson faculty and graduate assistants. Clemson and Stevens . . . partners on the campus and in the plants.

Clemson played before almost a half-million football fans last fall, and 251,424 of those grid boosters saw the Tigers' six home games in 1974, for an average of 41,904 per game. The largest home crowd a year ago was the 52,667 total that watched as Clemson whipped arch-rival South Carolina 39-21, and that marked the second largest home crowd ever.

ARA-Slater's philosophy is a unique, systematic approach designed to achieve our most important goal: STUDENT SATISFACTION. This concept is a result of our experience with millions of students. We have the flexibility to understand your needs and the capability to satisfy them.

At Clemson, ARA demonstrates practical, new methods for providing nourishing, well-balanced meals to athletes, students and staff. Our corporate and regional specialists give ARA's dining service manager expert advice in planning menus, purchasing goods, controlling waste, utilizing labor. The support of this team effort is carried out daily in Schilleter Hall and Harcombe Commons, and at the Clemson House Buffeteria. It is our desire to serve students what they want and to accommodate them by providing this same efficient service for special events or festive holiday meals.

We're here to provide the type of service that will benefit the entire school and community. THAT'S WHAT WE THINK A DINING SERVICE IS ALL ABOUT.

Homecoming at Tigertown is always a festive and fun-packed weekend. In addition to the all-student productions at Tigerama the night before the game, the fraternities provide the campus with attractive displays, like the one above, which honors Red Parker, the 1974 Atlantic Coast Conference and State of South Carolina Coach-of-the-Year.

Where the Action is!

When the name of the game is service, you have to be
where the action is!

For textiles, the action is in the southeast, and that's why we have just completed a major expansion of our Southeast District Office in Charlotte. Every aspect of this facility — technical service laboratories, warehouse, distribution and customer service — has been expanded and modernized. Where the action is — that's where you will find Sandoz with the service you need, when you need it, and where you need it.

Why not see for yourself?
Come and visit us, and see what the newest in textile customer service facilities can do for you, and why you too will consider us your partner in wet processing operations.

1975-76 CLEMSON BASKETBALL

TIGER OUTLOOK

Nine returning lettermen are back in camp from last year's Clemson basketball team, one that many felt was the best ever in the school's history, as Bill Foster enters his initial year at the Tiger helm.

Heading the list is 7-1 junior center Tree Rollins, a second team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection last winter who led the league in both rebounding (11.7) and blocked shots (11.9).

Rollins gained some international experience for the second consecutive summer as a member of the first Intercontinental Cup Basketball Team, and then spent the middle part of October in Mexico City at the Pan Am Games.

Last year Clemson raced to a fine 17-11 record, posted its best regular season ACC finish ever with a second place tie, earned its first national ranking ever in both wire service polls, and advanced to its first post-season berth ever with an NIT bid.

But Foster is absent three starters from that team in Jo Jo Bethea and Wayne Croft, both of whom graduated, and Skip Wise, who inked a multi-year three-quarter of a million dollar contract with the Baltimore franchise of the ABA.

Returning with Rollins as a starter is Stan Rome (10.4), who spent the fall with the football team.

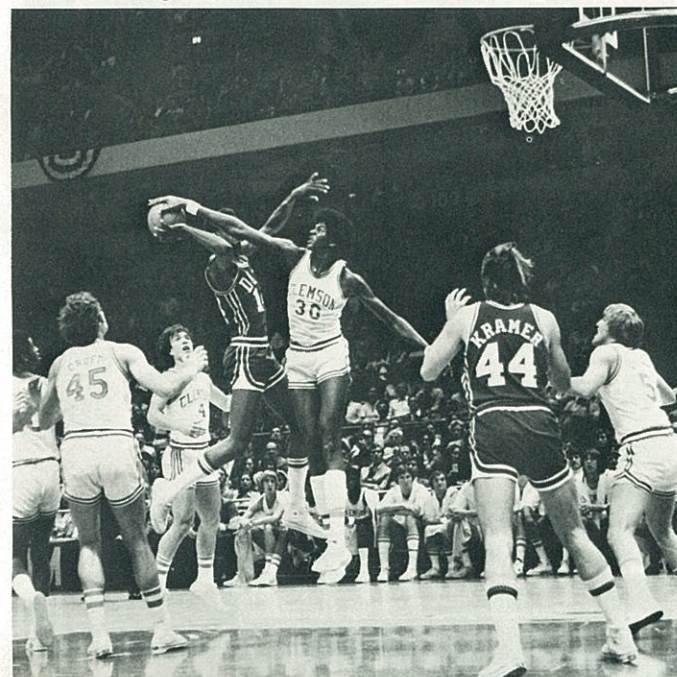

Other lettermen back are Colon Abraham (7.1), David Brown (2.9), Jimmy Howell (2.5), and Andy Butchko at the forward spots, and Bruce Harman (1.7) and John Franken (3.0) in the backcourt.

Charlie Rogers (3.9) has served as backup to Rollins for the past two seasons, and he's ready for more duty at center.

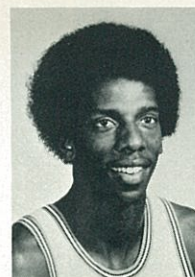

Freshmen signees include 6-3 Greg Coles of East Elm-hurst, N. Y., 6-7 Marvin Dickerson of Charleston, and 6-2 Derrick Johnson of Indianapolis, Ind.

The Tigers are talented, however, young — three freshmen, three sophomores, four juniors, and only two seniors. But Foster is working for the right blend to keep Clemson's cage fortunes on a national level of prominence.

IPTAY--Special Recognition

For the 11th straight year, contributions made to the Clemson IPTAY Club showed an increase over the previous 12 months. Altogether, 10,706 individuals and firms contributed $854,500, which was 114 per cent of the quota initially set.

South Carolina made 115 per cent of its goal, North Carolina 108, Georgia 117 and the remaining states 108.

This was the first time over three quarters of a million dollars was realized and the fourth straight year over a half million dollars came in. Every penny received by IPTAY since its beginning in 1934 has been used for athletic scholarships only.

On the following pages, we have listed those people and business organizations, who are being recognized by their permission, for their interest and continued support of IPTAY.

BEFORE LONG, PEOPLE ARE GOING TO BE TALKING ABOUT LOAD-BEARING BRICK IN THE SAME BREATH WITH MOM'S APPLE PIE.

Given today's economy, architects and builders are going to be praising load-bearing brick for years to come. Because, all things being equal, you can put up a building faster with load-bearing brick than concrete and steel. And you can put it up for less money. And you don't sacrifice a thing aesthetically.

At Richtex, we're uniquely equipped to help you take advantage of the boom in bearing-wall construction, because we've got a newly automated plant that can turn out all the big brick you need. So give us a call. And find out what's cooking at Richtex. P.O. Box 3307, Columbia, South Carolina 29230 (803) 786-1260. RICHTEX
