TAYLOR MAKING MOST OF OPPORTUNITY

By Les Johns

READ MORE

While the Wake Forest defense has clearly added depth entering the 2021 season as the Demon Deacons seek to move from “Good to Great,” the key to achieving those goals is consistency, according to returning fifth-year senior Ja’Sir Taylor.

Last year, for instance, the Wake Forest defense allowed just 17.7 points a game in three-straight ACC victories – including a 23-16 upset win over No. 19 Virginia Tech. But then allowed 59 points just two weeks later to North Carolina.

“This is the year either we put up or shut up,” Taylor said. “We either show we’re a great defense and we can do it week-in and week-out. Or we continue to fall through the cracks and play one good game, then the next one not-so-well. We need to go out there and be consistent, and match our high-powered offense.

“If they score and do what they can do and we hold up our own, I think we’re going to have a great season. I’m confident that we’ll be able to do that.”

Taylor and the Deacs are off to a 2-0 start, posting a 42-10 win on Opening Night against Old Dominion as well as 41-16 victory against Norfolk State.

WEEK ONE JUST THE BEGINNING FOR DAVIS

By Les Johns

READ MORE

Wake Forest second-year freshman Jasheen Davis was a force through all of spring and fall camp, and then he went on the field and produced in the first game of the season against Old Dominion – earning ACC Co-Rookie of the Week after grabbing a team-leading nine tackles, 2.5 tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks against the Monarchs.

“I was obviously a little nervous and anxious, but also excited,” Davis said. “I’ve put in a lot of work during the offseason. When it came to the game, it felt like my time to shine. As the game progressed, I settled in.”

Entering his first start, Davis listened to some R&B music and internalized some positive reinforcement from defensive end teammate Rondell Bothroyd.

“Rondell told me to be the player I am,” Davis said. “He reminded me that I dominated through all of fall camp, so just go out and be the player I know I can be. He told me to go out there and play like I’m the best player on the field.”

Always a student of the game, Davis is constantly seeking ways to add moves to his proverbial toolbox. He watched a lot of college football, and seeks guidance from those who have come before him at Wake Forest.

“I learned a lot from Boogie (Basham),” Davis said. “I mean, he’s playing in the league now. I just took my pen and pad and wrote down the things he did and thought about. I still ask him to this day about moves.”

Basham texted Davis after the Deacs defeated Old Dominion 42-10.

“Congrats,” the text read. “Time to get better.”
