KENAN MOMENTS

THURSDAY NIGHT PRIME-TIME

For years throughout the late 1990s and early 2000s, university officials at Carolina avoided hosting Thursday night games for ESPN because of logistical difficulties in managing 60,000 fans showing up at a football stadium adjacent to a sprawling medical complex. But when Butch Davis took the Tar Heel coaching job in 2007, he lobbied vigorously for the university to figure it out and allow his football program to take advantage of a massive public-relations opportunity and be shown to upwards of four million television viewers.

It finally happened in October, 2009—Florida State came to Chapel Hill for Thursday night, prime-time football.

The Tar Heels made the most of their opportunity for two and a half quarters, taking a 24-6 lead behind the field generalship of quarterback T.J. Yates. But a Seminole interception followed immediately by a 98-yard scoring pass flipped the switch. Florida State stormed back and escaped Chapel Hill with a 30-27 win, certainly one of the highlights in Coach Bobby Bowden's final year leading the Seminoles.

MACK BROWN

MACK BROWN, whose charismatic style and disciplined approach propelled the University of North Carolina to the Top Five and the University of Texas to the 2005 BCS National Championship, began his second stint as head coach in Chapel Hill on Nov. 27, 2018, and in just two short years, has led another Carolina resurgence.

A 43-year veteran of collegiate coaching, Brown has served as a head coach for 32 seasons with stops at Texas (1998-2013), North Carolina (1988-97, 2019-20), Tulane (1985-87), and Appalachian State (1983). Over his 32 seasons, Brown has posted a record of 259-132-1 (.662). Those 259 career victories rank seventh on the FBS all-time list and are the most among active coaches. The 2005 Paul W. "Bear" Bryant National Coach of the Year and the 2008 Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year, Brown is one of a handful of coaches in college football history to lead two separate programs to Top-Five national finishes.

Brown continued a remarkable turnaround in year two of his return to Carolina, leading the Tar Heels from two wins in 2018 to the Orange Bowl in 2020. Carolina, which went 8-4, spent much of the season ranked in the Top 25, finishing the regular season at No. 13 in the College Football Playoff rankings and ending the year ranked 18th in the AP Poll and 17th in the Coaches Poll. This marked just the second time since Brown's departure in 1997 that Carolina finished a season in the Top 25. Under his guidance, Carolina produced four All-Americans, 13 All-ACC selections, a Top-15 recruiting class and averaged a 3.0 GPA over the spring and fall semesters. In his first season back at the helm at North Carolina in 2019, Brown led the Tar Heels to a winning season and a resounding victory in the Military Bowl. The seven wins were two more than UNC had won in its previous two seasons combined (5) and the Heels won a bowl game for the first time since 2013.
