

In command virtually all the way, Florida State's basketball team knocked off Morehead (Ky.) State, 78-75, here Saturday night.

The Seminoles, showing no ill effects of a 2-week layoff for examinations, won it, in the last analysis, from the free-throw line.

They hit on 14 of 21 charity shots, versus the Kentuckians' futile five of 14.

BRIEF LEADS

Morehead outgunned the Tribe from the field, bagging 35 of 77 field goals for a .455 percentage. The Seminoles potted 32 of 78 for .410.

The visitors were ahead only twice, 2-1 and 4-3. FSU raced to a 13-points lead at 36-23, was in front 36-23 at intermission. Morehead twice came within five points in the last half.

FSU dominated board work, grabbing off 57 rebounds to Morehead's 47. Soph ace Dave Fedor plucked 18 off the boards, contributed 17 points.

High scorer for the Tribe, however, was set-shot artist Fred Woodward, who notched 18. Seven of his fielders were from long range.

Woodward sat out the latter part of the first half and the early going of the second with a sprained ankle. But when Morehead went into a zone, Coach Bud Kennedy ushered him back in, and he responded with more 2-pointers from far out.

STAR CHECKED

While Morehead guard star Herbie Triplett found it tough hitting with Jack Davis guarding him closely, Henderson Thompson took up the slack for Morehead. Thompson scored 21, teammate Mickey Morgan 17. Triplett settled for 13, 9 in the last half.

John Richter and Ray Swain contributed 13 and 12 points for the Tribe while Davis got 11.

For FSU it was victory No. 6 against 11 setbacks. Morehead, loser of several close ones, now stands 3-8.

The Seminoles play at Tampa Monday night, are next at home to Memphis State a week from Tuesday.
