

Jacksonville Navy Divides with FSU

Max Long of Jacksonville pitched the full nine innings yesterday and earned Florida State University a 7-4 decision for an even split with Jacksonville Navy in a two-game baseball series. Jacksonville Navy won Saturday, 2-1, in eight innings.

FSU clustered five runs in the seventh inning to clinch yesterday's victory, but only one of them on a hit. Walks and errors contributed the other four. Sam Travis homered and Whitey Beasley tripled for Navy.

Navy's Frank Jankunis and Duane Sheets held FSU to only three hits in yesterday's game, shortened by darkness.

Jacksonville's NAS Fliers open a two-game series here today against the Camp LeJeune nine at 2:30 p.m. Merle Gunnet will pitch for Fliers while Zac Caccaria is due to pitch Monday's game.

JACKSONVILLE, March 13 (AP)

—Max Long pitched the full nine innings today and earned Florida State University a 7-4 decision for an even-split with Jacksonville Navy in a two-game baseball series. Jacksonville Navy won Friday 2-1 in eight innings.

FSU clustered five runs in the seventh inning to clinch today's victory, but only one of them on a hit. Walks and errors contributed the other four. Sam Travis homered and Whitey Beasley tripled for Navy.

Navy's Frank Jankunis and Duane Sheets held FSU to only three hits in yesterday's game, shortened by darkness.