Florida State's potent Seminoles extended their winning streak to nine straight games, defeating Amherst and Duke here Saturday.

. While FSU was winning 5-0 and 104 over Amherst and Duke, respectively, Duke lost to North Carolina 4-2, and Mississippi State defeated Northeast Louislana State, 41 in FSU Invitational action.

The Seminoles gained their third shutout of the year behind lefthander Don Murray in 1 his first start of the season !! Only two regulars started against Amherst, and shortstop Larry Johnson gave way to Dave Dahlen after hitting safe- t ly in his 11th straight game.

The Seminole reserves rapped in two Amherst pitchers for seven d hits, led by Tom Thomas with 8 two hits and Randy Brown with two RBIs. Murray was plagued th by wildness, giving up eight. bases via the charity route, but H the Panama City sophomore fi struck out seven and gave up only four singles in his nine w innings. th

31

The 900 (ans who came look-

11-1 ing for a slugfest between the ig Seminoles and powerful Duke s, weren't disappointed in the afternoon game. The two teams banged out 23 hits, but Coach Tred Hatfield's team got more 0 mileage than the Blue Devils d from Durham?

O Johnson's hitting streak went by the boards, but the Seminole shortstop had a busy day nevertheless. The Thomasville, Ga, senior came up with 11 assists in the field, starting two double plays to get righthander h Bob Kull out of some tight spots. He also scored a run, I made two putouts and made the only Florida State error.

Kull won his second start of the year, though hit hard by the muscular boys from Duke. The Blue Devils managed a run in the third after Ken Suarez's double, Gerry Chmiclewski's grounder and Kull's - perfect squeeze bunt got the Seminoles v three runs in the second.

N.

The visitors from the Tar Heel State were frustrated for five innings afterwards, while F. the Seminoles pecked away ye with two runs in their half of the third, two more in the fifth. one in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Scotty Glackin, who plays a good bit of quarterback in the Atlantic Coast Conference when he isn't behind the plate, finally lashed one out in the ninth to bring in three runs.

It was the second home run of the game. Bob Wilcox parked his first one in the third, chasing Monty McBryde home shead of him. Wilcox had the hottest bat for FSU, getting three hits in four at bat.

Kull helped his cause with two singles in three trips, while Suarez and Chmielewski each got two for four.

Action continues tomorrow when third ranked Wake Forest comes to town, taking on state rival North Carolina in the morning. FSU plays a rematch with North Carolina in the afternoon.

Danny Litwhiler's Michigan of State team arrives Tuesday to play Wake Forest and Florida State for the rest of the week.