The Seminoles rally for six runs late in Thursday's game to force another game today against Stanford.

Florida State was where it wanted to be under the circumstances.

In a must-win situation, the Seminoles had their ace on the mound and a snarl on their faces. But another disappointing effort by Nick Stocks in the College World Series turned FSU's furrowed brow into a more familiar frown.

Then smiles broke out like FSU bats in the late innings on Thursday night. FSU combined to score six runs in the sixth and seventh innings to rally past Stanford 8-6 and see another day in the College World Series.

"We played well tonight, but there is a lot of baseball left," FSU coach Mike Martin said.

"We are hanging in there," Martin said.

If FSU defeats Stanford today at 3:30 p.m. (EDT) on ESPN2, it plays in its first CWS championship since 1986 — against arch-rival Miami.

And for the first time since 1986, FSU has won three games in the College World Series. Jon McDonald (9-2) is scheduled to start for the Seminoles today.

FSU is 3-1 in this CWS, mostly because of its relief pitching and clutch hitting from its power hitters, especially Marshall McDougall and Matt Diaz.

Diaz's older brother, Zach, also played hero on Thursday night when he limited Stanford (50-14) to one hit in 4½ innings. The senior was charged with no runs, and allowed just one walk in his biggest appearance as a Seminole.

The Seminoles (56-13) used an RBI double by McDougall and a towering two-run home run by junior-college transfer Sam Scott to overcome a 6-2 deficit in the sixth inning and tie the game.

Then shortstop Brett Groves opened the seventh inning with a double. Ryan Barthelemy reached on an error by Stanford reliever Dan Rich, who bobbled a dribbler down the first-base line. With Groves on third and Barthelemy on first, Karl Jernigan hit into a double play, but that scored Groves with the go-ahead run.

FSU was not done. Diaz hit a one-run double off the center-field wall to put FSU ahead 8-6.

Stocks was out of the game by the time FSU woke up at the plate. He gave up six runs on eight hits in just 4½ innings. It was an effort hauntingly similar to Saturday when Stocks, a first-round "sandwich" pick of the St. Louis Cardinals in the recent Major League Baseball draft, allowed three runs on seven hits in just four innings.

As it did Saturday, FSU responded to Stocks' effort with a stellar effort from the bullpen and pop from the top of its order.

FSU had its opportunities early but continued a trend that almost proved to be season-ending. The Seminoles stranded nine runners in the first five innings — and 16 in the game, one shy of a CWS record — but were still able to chip away at Stanford's 3-0 lead.

Even when it scored two runs on fielder's choices by Barthelemy and John-Ford Griffin in the fourth, FSU stranded two runners as Matt Diaz lined out to left field.

Stanford had its missed chances too but struck first when another controversial call played a part in an FSU-Stanford game. On Monday, television replay showed an incorrect call was made at second base during FSU's four-run seventh inning. The call resulted in FSU's first out.

"The last time we played them, we got a lot of clutch hits. It was a turn-around tonight," Stanford coach Mark Marquess said. "They were the ones that got those clutch hits tonight. We had a couple of chances, and (Zach) Diaz did a great job of stopping us."
