FSU creams Tar Heels

Everything's Peachy, 28-3

ATLANTA — Good again, and lucky again, Florida State's football team ran happily past stunned North Carolina 28-3 here Friday on the frozen turf of Atlanta Stadium.

A shining knight on a white charger almost had to show up for the Seminoles to win this Peach Bowl game, it seemed.

One did. His name was Eric Thomas.

Playing every snap in his first start at quarterback, the Valdosta sophomore directed Florida State to touchdowns on its first two possessions of the game. His first two passes of the day got those touchdowns, tosses of 15 and 18 yards to 6-foot-6 Weegie Thompson.

But passing on this day of shattering cold was something Thomas did to catch an opponent off guard. The Seminoles came to run — and run they did, for a whopping 265 of their game-total 364 yards.

Tailback Greg Allen churned for 97 on 17 tries, fullback Cletis Jones for a surprising 79 on 20, and Thomas himself netted 41 on 13.

And this, mind you, was against an opponent ranked 17th nationally in total defense. North Carolina also had led the Atlantic Coast Conference in defense against the run, defense against the pass and scoring defense.

FSU's experienced offensive line, which Coach Bobby Bowden seemed to think the most dominant force of the day, was not intimidated by 24-degree weather that limited the crowd to 25,648. The Peach Bowl said there were approximately 15,000 people who had purchased tickets and did not come. This is a city that for two successive years has led the NFL in no-shows. On this day, at least, the Atlanta no-shows were being just plain sensible.

"This was a great win for us," said Bowden, "but it did not redeem the disappointment of the season and the loss to Florida. It helped that this game was on national TV, but those people out there watching don't hate the Gators like we do."

Early in the second quarter, with FSU leading 14-0, a small plane twice flew over the stadium, flaunting an orange-and-blue score in its wake: Florida 53 FSU 14.

It was difficult to evaluate the most amazing aspect of an amazing game, but big tackle Alphonso Carreker cast his solid vote for a defense that limited the Tar Heels to 198 yards, including a mere 32 running.

"I think the key was stopping North Carolina's run," said Carreker. "If you do that, and force them to pass, you can beat them. They don't throw the ball as well as they run it."

Carreker was acclaimed the defensive player of the game, and Thomas the top offensive one by the Peach Bowl after pressbox balloting. Thomas won the CBS award as FSU's top player, while linebacker Micah Moon got the network's North Carolina honor.

By halftime, the Seminoles had the game in hand 21-0. It stayed that way until the fourth quarter when North Carolina got its lone score, on a 36-yard Brooks Barwick field goal, before the Seminoles registered a final touchdown.

FSU finished 7-5, North Carolina 8-4.

"We could have quit at the half, but we didn't," said Carolina Coach Dick Crum. "In the second half we played well enough to stay in the game."

"But in the first half we just self-destructed."

Florida State got superb field position early — initially at its 38 following a kickoff return of 29 yards by Roosevelt Snipes, and then at its 46 after the defense had held Carolina inside its 20 on first possession and forced a punt.

On the opening series, Thomas got the Seminoles into the end zone after nine plays. The running of Allen was the major spur. When Allen fumbled around the 20, guard Jamie Dukes claimed it for the Seminoles at the 17 — a mighty big play. Three more plays saw Thomas fake brightly before throwing a payoff strike to Thompson in the end zone.

FSU required just five plays to score the second time around. The big gainer was an 18-yarder by Allen with a pitchout. From the 18, a falling Thomas threw under heavy pressure to Thompson and the tall fellow rambled on into the end zone.

Carolina, on its only offensive threat of the first half, probed to a first down at FSU's 26, but Barwick missed a 42-yard try for a field goal.

In the second quarter, tight end Pete Panton jumped on a fumbled punt and gave FSU a crack from the Tar Heel 17.

Thomas and Jones got the ball to the 5. Snipes scored the touchdown from a foot away on third down.

Later, FSU pushed to Carolina's 35 but Larry James intercepted Thomas at the 20 with 24 seconds remaining in the half.

The third quarter was pretty much of a punting duel.

From its nine, Carolina got off a fine drive that extended into the last quarter and ended with Barwick's 3-pointer from 36 out.

Eddison Bramble blocked a Louis Berry punt soon after, giving Carolina a shot from FSU's 42 but the Tar Heels ran out of downs after getting to FSU's 12.

Then Thomas took the Seminoles on an 88-yard march. Passes of 23 and 17 yards to Panton on successive plays figured prominently. From the 1, Thomas kept and got the touchdown with 31 seconds left in the game.

Throwing just 13 times, Thomas got 99 yards out of seven completions.

"They mixed their offense as well as anyone we've seen," said heralded North Carolina defensive tackle William Fuller of the Seminoles. "They had a great backfield — and a great quarterback."

Bryan Blados, offensive tackle of the Tar Heels, similarly tipped his helmet to the FSU defense.

"They had tremendous pursuit after the ball," he said. "All 11 players always seemed to be around it. Florida State played as well against the run as any team we played all year. It was our toughest challenge, and we just never got it going."

In this closing game on the next-to-last day of the year, Florida State — offensively and defensively — got it going in most unlikely circumstances.
