SEMINOLES HIRE COACH — Mississippi State men's golf coach Nicky Goetze accepted the same role yesterday at Florida State.

Goetze, who played collegiately at Clemson from 1991 to 1993, became coach at Mississippi State two years ago and led the Bulldogs to the NCAA tournament this spring.

Goetze, 30, succeeds Ernie Lanford, who moved to an administrative position, overseeing the university's new professional golf management program in the school of business.

Former Clemson All-American Nicky Goetze was named Florida State's golf coach on Wednesday, leaving the Mississippi State program that he guided to a 19th-place finish at the NCAA Championship last season in just his second year on the job.

"His energy and expertise coupled with our plans for a new teaching facility makes for an exciting time in the growth of our program," FSU director of athletics Dave Hart said.

Goetze, 30, was a three-time All-American at Clemson. He competed on the Canadian Tour for three years and spent another two years on the Asian Tour.

Goetze, who is from Watkinsville, Ga., got into coaching in 1997, serving as an assistant at the University of Florida. He spent one season as head coach at UTEP before moving on to Mississippi.

Auburn-Bowden flap going to arbitration

Times wires

AUBURN, Ala. — Auburn University lawyers said Thursday that an arbitration panel will resolve the school's claim that former football coach Terry Bowden forfeited an $825,000 home mortgage and car benefits when he became an ABC analyst.

Bowden, who resigned during the 1998 season, contends his work with the television network does not violate terms of the resignation settlement he reached with the university.

The settlement says disputes will be resolved by a three-member arbitration panel, with Auburn and Bowden each picking one and both parties agreeing to the third.

The settlement dispute became public recently after Bowden criticized former coach Pat Dye and trustee Bobby Lowder, a wealthy Montgomery banker who was instrumental in the hiring of Dye and Bowden. Lowder declined to comment; Dye told a Birmingham sports radio station he would not comment, but he did say Bowden had "talked enough for both of us."

MORE FOOTBALL: An off-duty Newark, N.J., police officer beaten unconscious outside a Hoboken bar has sued Penn State quarterback Rashard Casey, Syracuse safety Keeon Walker and a one-time teammate of theirs at Hoboken High School. Officer Patrick D. Fitzsimmons seeks an unspecified amount of money as compensation for "severe and painful injuries" that have brought "significant loss in the quality and enjoyment of his life," according to the lawsuit. Casey and the third man, Desmond Miller, have pleaded innocent to charges of aggravated assault. Police said Walker tried to stop the attack and was not charged. Coach Joe Paterno has said he expects Casey, who led Penn State to victory in the Alamo Bowl last year, "will be exonerated when all of the facts are examined." . . . Freshman quarterback John Rattay won't enroll at Tennessee for the fall semester and will transfer to another school, Volunteers coach Phillip Fulmer announced Wednesday. Fulmer said Rattay wants a chance to start.

BASEBALL: LSU coach Skip Bertman will retire after the 2001 season if the school can get Louisiana-Monroe coach Ray "Smoke" Laval to replace him. Bertman met Wednesday with Laval and LSU athletic director Joe Dean about Laval's possible interest in the job. "We're trying to hire Smoke as an administrative assistant for next season, then have him take over as coach in 2001," Bertman said. Laval said he wants the job but declined to comment further. Bertman's record at LSU is 826-308-2 since 1984 with five national championships since 1991, including the 2000 College World Series title over Stanford last month. Laval, an assistant to Bertman from 1984-1993, is 241-159 at Louisiana-Monroe.

Terry Bowden contends his work for ABC is no violation.

BASKETBALL: The NCAA reprimanded Iowa State coach Larry Eustachy for his temper tantrum at the end of the Cyclones' Midwest Region Final loss to Michigan State. Eustachy received a double technical foul in the final minute of the 75-64 loss. With Iowa State down 69-64, guard Michael Nurse was called for an offensive foul, becoming the second Cyclone player to be disqualified. Players tried to hold Eustachy back, but he confronted officials Curtis Shaw, Frank Basone and Lonnie Dixon. Dixon called a technical on Eustachy, who grew angrier, pushing players away and approaching Basone. A second technical was called, sending Eustachy to the locker room. The committee cited Eustachy for profane language he used against officials and for walking onto the floor to yell.

ELSEWHERE: Shawn Walsh, who built Maine into a hockey power and coached the Black Bears to two national championships, has kidney cancer. Walsh, 45, plans to temporarily cut back on duties while recovering. In 16 years at Maine, he is 379-203-37 and won national championships in 1993 and 1999. . . . Ernie Lanford, who guided Florida State to five appearances in the NCAA Championships in eight years as men's golf coach, resigned to become coordinator of internships for the professional golf management program in the College of Business.

Auburn says Bowden violated settlement

Auburn University lawyers said Thursday an arbitration panel will resolve the school's claim that former football coach Terry Bowden forfeited an $825,000 home mortgage and car benefits when he became an ABC analyst.

Bowden, who resigned during the 1998 season, contends his work with the television network does not violate terms of the resignation settlement.

Auburn lawyers contend the settlement gave Bowden rights to the house for five years and the cars for three years only if he does not work in specific fields, including as a "radio, television, or newspaper commentator, spokesman, analyst or announcer."

► An off-duty Newark, N.J., police officer beaten unconscious outside a bar has sued Penn State quarterback Rashard Casey, Syracuse safety Keeon Walker and a one-time teammate of theirs at Hoboken High School. Patrick D. Fitzsimmons seeks an unspecified amount of money as compensation.

► University of Texas tennis coach Dave Snyder is resigning after 28 years, leaving the Longhorns as the second-winningest men's tennis coach in Division I history. Snyder has 697 career victories at the University of Arizona and Texas.

► Shawn Walsh, 45, who built Maine into a college hockey power and coached the Black Bears to two national titles, has been diagnosed with kidney cancer.

► FSU men's golf coach Ernie Lanford is resigning his position in athletics to become coordinator of internships for the Professional Golf Management Program in the College of Business. FSU recently became one of fewer than a dozen universities to be certified by the PGA to offer a curriculum in professional golf management.
