

Tribe netters fall 8-1

Florida State's struggling tennis team dropped its third straight match Saturday when Kentucky upset the Seminoles 8-1 on rain-drenched Tully Gym courts.

The loss dropped the Seminoles' record to 2-4 on the year. The Tribe will try to get back on the winning side of the ledger this afternoon with a 3 p.m. match against Kansas.

Florida State's lone win came in the number two singles where Enrique Andrade defeated the Wildcat's Glen Booth, 6-0, 7-5.

The number one singles saw Kentucky's Scott Smith upset the Seminoles Gordon Jones 6-3, 5-7, 7-5. The Wildcat's were forced to go to three sets in only one other singles match against an injury riddled Tribe line-up.
