

FSU men pull big tennis upset against Carolina

The Florida State men's tennis team won a major upset victory Wednesday, defeating the University of North Carolina 6-3 at the Tully courts.

"This is the best win I've had as a head coach at FSU," said second-year Coach Juan Ortiz. He added that this was the first time FSU had beaten the Tarheels.

FSU, with the win, is now 4-2 for the season. UNC lost its first and is 2-1.

The Seminoles host Old Dominion Friday at 2 p.m. and Miami Saturday at 1 p.m.
