

GAINESVILLE (AP) — Florida's magic 7-foot high jumper, Ron Jourdan, and Miami Jackson High School's Amos Machanic took top honors in the 26th annual Florida Relays Saturday.

Jourdan, who has cleared the seven-foot barrier 16 out of 18 attempts this season, captured the top award in the university class as he swept to a meet record of seven-feet even in the high jump. Along with the record, he received the Kerney-Rayburn Memorial Trophy for the outstanding collegiate athlete in the meet.

Jourdan's attempt at seven feet 2½ inches failed.

Machanic, a senior at Miami Jackson, led his teammates to a new record in the two-mile relay with a half mile anchor of 1:52.7. He later ran the fastest prep 440 ever run in Florida as he toured the track in 47.8. He was named the outstanding high school athlete of the meet.

Florida A&M's 440-yard relay team of Richard Corbett, Hubert Ginn, Richard Reed and Otis Hill won that event with a time of 40.9 seconds, while Florida State was second.

FSU's Mike Kelly took a couple of seconds, in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles (:52.3) and the 120-yard high hurdles (:14.1).

The Tribe's hurdle shuttle relay team was third, while Phil Parker of FSU was third in the triple jump, Ken Misner was fourth in the two-mile, Charles Galloway fifth in the triple jump and the FSU two-mile relay team finished fifth.

During the afternoon, six university class records and five high school marks were set. Miami Jackson's victory in the two-mile relay began the assault on the record books and Tennessee ended the afternoon with a record 3:8.1 in the mile relay.

Largo's Barney Hess thrilled the crowd with a record setting jump of 14 feet, 8 inches in the high school pole vault. Dell Ramers, a senior at Dunnedin High School, set a new record of 4:15.7 in the prep mile.
