FLORIDA STATE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL POST-GAME STORY

For Immediate Release: March 2, 1995

LADY SEMINOLES ELIMINATED FROM ACC TOURNAMENT

ROCK HILL, SC - The Florida State women's basketball team (8-22, 3-13) fell to the University of Maryland (11-17, 2-14) in the play-in game of the ACC Tournament tonight in Winthrop Coliseum 72-56.

Despite coming out in both halves with a 5-0 lead the Lady 'Noles were quick to start but could not finish. Florida State jumped to an early lead and were then held to only two points over the next 11 minutes including an eight minute drought.

Florida State post players got into foul trouble early which did not help the cause. Lysa Moorefield and Liberty Taylor both fouled out of the all important game for the Lady 'Noles. The foul trouble was not held to the big girls, as a team FSU was in the bonus in the second half before Maryland had even committed its first foul. "I have no excuses except that we are rebuilding, we have five big kids coming in and we will probably sign two more," said FSU Coach Marynell Meadors. "We are certainly going to get things turned around."

Senior Allison Peercy was held way under her average for the night which was a major factor in the defeat. Meadors gave credit to Maryland following the game. "Maryland outplayed us tonight there is no doubt about it," said Meadors. "They played much better and much more physical than we did."

Florida State did have impressive play from junior, Carla Williams who finished with 17 points and 14 rebounds in her first ever ACC Tournament. This double-double is the fifth for Williams at Florida State. Williams' impressive play leaves a positive note in the minds of the Seminoles as they look forward to her senior leadership next year. Every member of the Lady Seminole basketball team scored in their final outing of the year. Seven of these players will be returning for the 1995-96 season.

In the four years of ACC Tournament action, the Lady Seminoles have yet to return with a victory in the post season. "Maryland shot the ball well and they shot the ball well with us in their face, I thought that was the difference," said Meadors. "We turned the ball over too many times in the first half, we've been doing that in the last three weeks. We just get over anxious and rush things. If we could have gotten the score a little closer at half we could have made a run at them."
