Women finish among also-rans in cross country nationals Saturday

by gerald ensley
flambeau sports writer

An enthusiastic, but outmanned, FSU women's cross country team found itself buried Saturday in the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) national meet in Denver, Col.

There, in the Mile High City, amid temperatures in the 30s, FSU finished 17th of 24 teams, while its two top runners, still recuperating from injuries, finished 81st and 97th.

As FSU coach Paul Toran points out, the finish of Rose Giampalmo (81st) and Kathy Moore (97th), as well as that of Lisa Kinch (151st), Nancy McCormac (173rd) and Nancy Jaquish (191st) must be viewed in the context of the competition and circumstances.

"Out of hundreds of colleges that run cross country, we made it to the nationals and finished 17th," Toran said. "And out of the thousands of runners in the nation our girls were among the top two hundred. Sure, we were disappointed, but not destroyed."

As Toran also noted, only 230 runners finished out of the starting 280, as the altitude, cold temperatures and competition took their toll.
