HEAD COACH - JoAnne Graf

In just four seasons as head coach of Florida State, JoAnne Graf has achieved what most coaches only dream about--winning the national championship. Graf accomplished that feat at the end of the 1981 season as she guided the Florida State ten to a 54-7 record and the AIAW National Championship title, the first ever by a Florida State team.

The 1981 Coach of the Year in Florida, Graf may well be on her way to repeating last season's incredible accomplishments. During the 1982 season, Graf has paced FSU to a 52-10 record going into the national tournament--which has allowed Florida State to go into the national championships with the number one seed.

Graf has coached Florida State to victories in the Regional and State championships this past season; as well as first place finishes in the Florida Invitational, Friendly Cities Invitational, South Florida Invitational and the North Carolina State Invitational.

Graf is one of the few coaches in the nation that can claim 100 coaching wins in just two seasons, compiling a 106-17 record during the 1981 and 1982 seasons. Her overall mark at Florida State now reads 169-42 for four seasons.

1982 SEASON SUMMARY

To say Florida State had another outstanding year in softball in 1982 would be a terrific understatement. FSU had an awesome year. Despite losing starting pitcher Sue Painter to a knee injury for well over one third of the 1982 season, FSU still was able to win three invitationals and both the state and AIAW Region III crowns.

FSU started the season strong winning its first 12 games, including eight by shutout. Five of the wins came at Gainesville and gave Florida State its first Invitational win at the Lady Gator Classic.

All would not go well for the Lady Seminoles for the next 20 games however. In the 13th game of the season, Painter injured her knee. The injury forced Florida State to experiment for the next 23 games, with short stop Darby Cottle and second baseman Jan Sikes each drawing pitching assignments.

The makeshift line up resulted in FSU losing three games in a row and finishing only fourth at the Lady Seminole Invitational. FSU came on strong to capture both the Friendly Cities Invitational and the South Florida Invitational, before placing second in the Montgomery Invitational.

With Painter back in the lineup, FSU began to play like the team of old, as it rolled up victories in the North Carolina State Invitational and both the state and regional tournaments. At the North Carolina Lady Wolfpack tournament, Florida State became the first FSU team to go through an entire tournament to without allowing a run to be scored against them.

Despite the high scoring nature of the game, FSU has always displayed strong defense and a powerful offense. During the past season, FSU has outscored opponents 596 (9.61 average) to just 218 (3.52 average). The 1982 Lady Seminoles have held opponents scoreless 18 times; while only being shutout once.

FLORIDA STATE versus Seeded Teams

1. Northern Kentucky--Teams met just once in the 1982 season at the North Carolina State Invitational. FSU won 6-0. Lady Seminoles lead overall series, 2-0.
2. East Carolina--Split two games in regular season. East Carolina beat FSU 8-2 in Lady Seminole tourney with Lady Seminoles taking 5-0 win at NC State tournament. FSU leads all-time series 4-3.
3. South Florida--Teams met nine times during the regular and post season in 1982. FSU took seven of the meetings, winning two by shut out. South Florida took a 6-0 win at Tampa earlier. FSU leads overall series 22-7.
4. Western Carolina--Teams did not meet in regular season. FSU leads all-time series, 2-0.
5. Florida--FSU's number one rival, teams met in almost every tournament FSU entered in 1982. Along with several regular season non-tournament games, the two teams met a total of 14 times in 1982. FSU won eight times and lost six. FSU wins came in the Florida Invitational (3-0, 6-5); South Florida Invitational (8-1, 6-1), Montgomery Invitational (15-4); at Tallahassee (4-3); and at the state championship (5-1, 9-8). Losses came at the Lady Seminole Invitational (2-4); in Gainesville (0-14); at South Florida Invitational (11-12); at Montgomery Invitational (2-3, 2-11); at state tournament (1-2). FSU leads all-time series 31-23.
6. Cleveland State--Teams have never met.
7. Georgia Southern--FSU won only regular season meeting, 39-5, at Montgomery Invitational. FSU leads all-time series, 3-0.
8. Lakeland City Community College--Teams have never met.
9. UNC-Charlotte--Teams have never met in competition.
10. University of North Carolina--FSU defeated Lady Tar Heels 11-0 in only meeting of 1982. FSU leads overall series, 2-0.
11. Auburn--Although participating in the same tournaments several times in 1982, teams did not play each other. FSU holds overall series record 7-0.

Florida State's record against seeded teams going into the AIAW National Championship stands at 19-9. FSU's overall series mark against seeded teams now stands at 71-33 dating back to the 1978 season.

FSU's Cottle wins honor as one of top 16 athletes

Darby Cottle, a senior at Florida State, has been named the 1982 recipient of the Broderick Award for slow-pitch softball.

The award is presented annually to the top 16 collegiate women athletes in the nation.

Winners of the Broderick Award are selected by a national poll of women's athletic directors and are judged for excellence and achievement in their particular sport.

With her selection as the best softball player in the country, Cottle becomes eligible for the coveted Broderick Cup, presented each year to the collegiate woman athlete of the year.

"We're extremely proud of Dar-by's accomplishments," said FSU Women's Athletic Director Barbara Palmer. "The Broderick Award is the most prestigious award a female athlete can receive in her sport, and we're delighted that she is one of just 16 people to be considered for the Broderick Cup."

Cottle, a native of Ty Ty, Ga., has been a three-year starter at shortstop for the Lady Seminoles. During the past season, Cottle led FSU to its second consecutive AIAW national championship. During the season, Cottle batted .469 in 63 games, while leading the team in hits (96), doubles (11), triples (4) and home runs (11).

She was named to the AIAW All-State, All-Region and All-National Tournament teams and All-American for the second consecutive year. During the national tournament, Cottle had 11 hits in 16 at-bats and played errorless ball in leading FSU to four straight victories and the national title.

FSU's Darby Cottle selected country's best in softball

BY D. BARRINGTON
FLAMBEAU SPORTS EDITOR

Last night a tearful Darby Cottle accepted the 1982 Broderick Award for slow pitch softball—which named her the best softball player in the country.

Cottle, a senior at Florida State University, was presented the award given only to 16 female athletes in the country each year. Cottle was selected by a poll of athletic directors nationwide.

"Darby is an example of the kind of athletes we have at FSU and we're proud of her," Barbara Palmer, FSU's women's athletic director said.

"She is an accomplished athlete and an outstanding student," Palmer also said. Cottle has a cumulative GPA of 3.4. Since joining the FSU softball team, Cottle has three times earned AIAW All-state and all-regional honors. She has twice earned all-national honors and has been named an All-American two consecutive years.

"I should not be standing up here alone receiving this award," Cottle said. She went on to thank her parents who coached her for 10 years, head coach JoAnn Graf, the assistant coach and the girls on the team. "In all the awards I've won, they have never been selfish and have always been supportive of me," Cottle continued.

Cottle also acknowledged the women's athletic program at FSU, and the Lady Seminole Boosters.

Graf said the award was not only an indication of Cottle's playing abilities, but her character as well.

Cottle was also instrumental in the organization of the adoptive parents program for female athletes and also helped organize the Fellowship of Athletes group on campus.

Florida Flambeau/Bob O'Lary

FSU's Darby Cottle is number one in softball

By being selected for the Broderick Award, Cottle is now eligible for the Broderick Cup. The Broderick Cup is to women athletes what the Heisman trophy is to male athletes.

Cottle is expected to play her last year at FSU, if in fact there is a season. Since the change over from the AIAW women's athletics to the NCAA, which does not sanction slow-pitch, the future of women's slow-pitch softball at FSU is unknown. No word has come yet from the NCAA as to whether FSU and other schools will have to end their slowpitch programs and switch to fast-pitch, or pick up an entirely different sport.
