CALIFORNIA WINS MATCH THREE GAMES TO ONE

California ousts Lady Seminoles

By Rodney Campbell

Democrat correspondent

Failing to reach one of their goals for the first time this year, the Florida State Lady Seminoles found themselves singing the NCAA Tournament blues Thursday night.

California beat FSU 11-15, 15-11, 15-13, 15-13 to eliminate the Lady Seminoles from postseason volleyball play. FSU players said in August that they wanted to advance past the first round this year for the first time in school history.

The Lady Seminoles, 30-5, have lost in the opening round of the NAAs in all five of their appearances. California, 19-12, moves on to play the winner of tonight's Texas-Western Michigan match next week.

Among FSU's goals this season was a perfect Metro Conference record and a sweep of the conference tournament. The Lady Seminoles reached both of those plateaus rather easily, but stumbled on this one.

"California is a great team," FSU coach Cecile Reynaud said. "They're a real polished team. I think we've had a great season."

Reynaud's fear of a slow start quickly disintegrated when the Lady Seminoles came out of the block quickly. After California scored the first point of the match, FSU went on an 11-point run that had the 1,043 fans in a delirium.

FSU fell behind two games last season in its opening round NCAA Tournament loss to Colorado State.

Maggie Philgence, per usual, was the Lady Seminoles' big hitter in the first game, her 10 kills making her the school's all-time leader in that category with another year to go. The Virgin Islands native had 25 kills for the night, but Philgence quickly downplayed the record.

"Breaking the record didn't matter because we didn't win the match," she said.

The Golden Bears rallied near the end of the first game to make the score close. California's rally proved to be more important in subsequent games.

California grabbed a 4-0 advantage in the second game that swept away some of the momentum that the Lady Seminoles had grabbed earlier. Nancy Gaspadarek, Sonia Trevino and Philgence then went to work as FSU tied the game 4-4. That proved to be the last time the home team was able to share the lead in the game.

Plays by Holly McPeak, the National Freshman of the Year in 1987, and Carolyn Kempker were vital in the Golden Bears' second-game victory.

Game three proved to be the match-breaker for the Lady Seminoles. They held a 10-9 lead after a rally that brought them from five points down. California tried its best to run away and hide early, but the Golden Bears' big points near the end proved to be the most important.

A pair of aces by McPeak and a kill by All Pac-10 hitter Tiffany Rochelle sent the match the visitors' way. Rochelle's 4.58 kills per game was good enough to rank her 16th in the nation. Rochelle had 24 kills, while her teammate Lisa Arce led everyone with 27.

"We started serving the ball a little shorter to make Maggie have to run to get the ball," said California coach Dave DeGroot.

The Lady Seminoles' emotions ran higher than they had all season in the fourth game. Reynaud and assistant coach Shelly Birkholz leaped off the bench and darted toward the court on a couple of occasions when they believed calls weren't going their way.

That same intensity was evident on the court as the players dived and rolled for balls that they may not have gone for had the stakes been lower.

California's power game simply proved to be a little too much at the end as the Golden Bears broke FSU's seven-match home win streak.
