The Silver Slipper

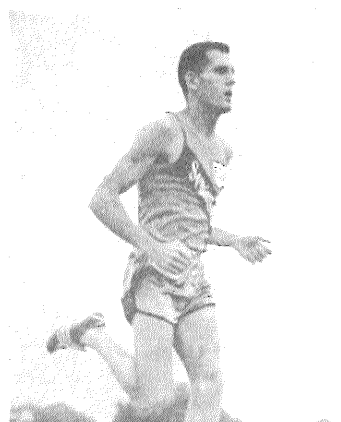

HUGH ADAMS . . . was one reason for Florida State's early success in football. Captain of the 1949 Seminoles, Adams was his squad's most valuable player. On teams that went 16-2 in 1948-49, he played both offensive and defensive tackle. Adams was chosen Little All-American in 1948 and 1949, the first Seminole gridder to receive national recognition.

After graduation Adams was an FSU assistant football coach and assistant dean of men at Florida State. He received his Ph.D. from FSU and became Lee County Superintendent of Schools. The Little All-American tackle now serves as President of Broward Community College. As a fine athlete and educational leader, Hugh Adams has brought honor to his alma mater.

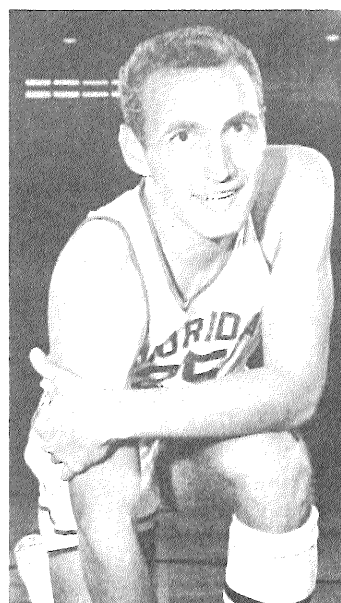

MIKE CONLEY . . Consistency and reliability were the marks of Mike Conley's career as a Florida State runner. From 1956 to 1958 he was one of the South's most consistent performers in the mile and two mile. In 1957 and 1958, his junior and senior years, Conley was undefeated in the mile in dual meet competition. He also anchored fine Seminole teams in both the mile and sprint medley relays. In 1958 at the Meet of Champions in Houston, Conley ran a 4:05.7 mile. The time was the Florida State school record for 16 years. In 1958 Conley was a Seminole co-captain. Since graduation Mike Conley has continued to be a leader. As principal of Leon High School he has made an outstanding record as an educator and has well represented his alma mater.

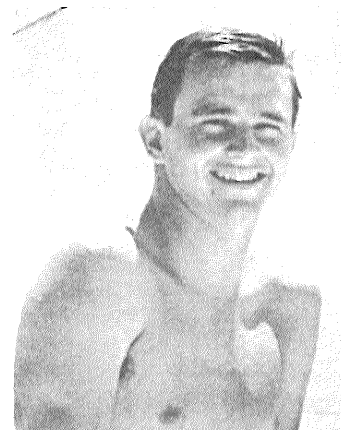

HUGH DURHAM . . . came to Florida State from Louisville and led the Seminole basketball teams of the late fifties. From '56 to '59 he scored 1,281 points, an average of 18.9 a game. His career free throw average was 77%. Twenty-one years after he played his last game, Durham is still 6th on per game scoring average, 7th in total points and 4th in free throw percentage. His 43 points against Stetson, has only been exceeded once. In his senior year, Hugh was named honorable mention All-American.

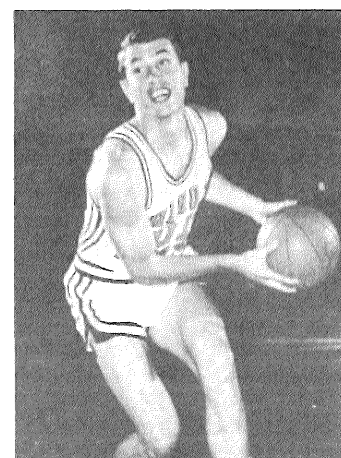

After a term as Bud Kennedy's assistant, Hugh Durham became FSU head basketball coach in 1966 and served until 1978. His marks of 230-95 and a .708 winning percentage were among the nation's best. Four times Durham's teams won more than 20 games and three times FSU was sent to the NCAA tournament. In 1971-72 Seminole cagers fought their way to the NCAA finals and emerged as runner up to UCLA. Durham made Florida State a national cage power. Fierce competitor, brilliant leader, Hugh Durham deserves Hall of Fame selection as player and coach.

BUCKY HILES . . . In the late fifties Bucky Hiles came from Atlanta to star for Bim Stults' Seminole swimming team. In 1959 he made All-American in the 440 freestyle and in 1961 he again gained All-American recognition, this time in the 100 yard butterfly. Hiles was the first Seminole swimmer to make All-American in two different strokes. At one time he held school records in seven different events. Captain of the Florida State mermen in '61, Hiles was chosen the university's athlete of the year. One of the most versatile swimmers in Seminole history, Bucky Hiles' performances brought national recognition to Florida State University.

JEFF HOGAN . . . was a brilliant two sport star for Florida State in an era of increased specialization. From 1966 to 1969 the Ohioan was a leader on Seminole baseball and basketball teams. On the diamond Hogan played third base and shortstop. An excellent fielder, Jeff hit .331 in 1968. On the basketball court Hogan is a member of FSU's exclusive 1,000 point club. The star guard poured through 466 field goals and 232 free throws for 1,146 points, and a 14.8 game average. Hogan converted 82% of his free throws in '67- '68 and 75% over his three year career. He was also a fine play-maker and defender. Following graduation Jeff Hogan played professional baseball and coached high school basketball. A leader on diamond and court as an athlete and a coach, he has well represented his alma mater.

BUDDY STRAUSS . . . Finest offensive player in Florida State's first football years was Buddy Strauss. A Tallahassee native, Strauss played in 1948-1949, becoming the first Seminole to gain 1,000 yards rushing over a career. His 1,170 yard record lasted for seven years until broken by Lee Corso in a four year career. Buddy Strauss' 747 yards rushing in 1949 was a single season mark that stood until 1972. His 161 yards in a single game in '49 was a record on the books for 28 years until shattered by Larry Key. Buddy Strauss' final game, the Cigar Bowl, the Seminoles' first post-season appearance, was his best. He gained 132 yards in an upset of Woffard. The fine running back has remained a devoted supporter of Florida State University. He was active in founding the Seminole Boosters and has remained active ever since. Great running back, active alumnus, Buddy Strauss stands for the best in Seminole tradition.
