DICK HERMANN

In 1962 and 1963, the Florida State defense was among the best in the South and in 1964 among the best in the nation. A three year starter at linebacker and key of that powerful defense was Dick Hermann from Marianna. Few FSU defenders have matched his combination of toughness and quickness. He played well in the big games: Auburn and Kentucky in '62, Auburn in '63, and the great wins over Florida and Oklahoma in '64. Hermann was a leader of the '64 defense called the "Seven Mangificents" and is the first member of that unit to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. Dick Hermann won the Crenshaw Award in 1964 as the "Seminole with the biggest heart." Roaming the field from linebacker, Dick Hermann brought honor to the garnet and gold.

JIMMY JORDAN

In four years at Florida State, Jimmy Jordan, #15, threw 595 passes, completed 298 for 4,173 yards and 39 touchdowns. He was honored by AP as Southeastern back of the week vs. LSU, Sports Illustrated as national back of the week vs. Oklahoma State, and ABC-TV as player of the game vs. LSU and Navy. In 1976 Jordan threw FSU's longest td pass, a 96 yarder to Kurt Unglaub vs. Virginia Tech. Beyond all the statistics and honors, what Jimmy Jordan and his friend and fellow qb Wally Woodham did was win! From 1977 through 1979 Jordan was a key factor in making FSU a major national power with a record of 29-6 and 3 straight victories over Florida. One of the most popular players ever to wear the garnet and gold, the qb with the rifle arm from Tallahassee Leon made Seminole football the college game's most exciting.

H. DONALD LOUCKS

Donald Loucks began his coaching career in 1936 at the University School of Florida State College for Women where he coached all sports. This was the beginning of an association with Florida State which crossed six decades, 1936-1980, ending in his retirement as Professor Emeritus of Physical Education. In 1942, while serving as an officer in the Army, he was stationed at West Point where he coached plebe basketball and tennis.

In 1947 Donald Loucks was the first FSU basketball coach and a year later was named the school's first tennis coach. His basketball team scored the first athletic victory (December 10, 1947) in Florida State history. His tennis team was the first athletic team to have a winning season. The varsity tennis courts were named for him in 1981.

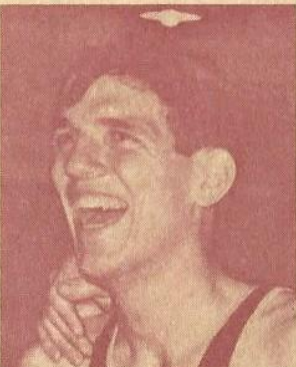

Donald Loucks served as Dean of Men at FSU from 1957-1967. His record is one of leadership, service and devotion to Florida State University.

GENE MCDOWELL

Gene McDowell came to Florida State from Waycross, Georgia and stayed to become one of the Seminoles' greatest linebackers. McDowell played guard and linebacker from 1960 through 1962. He was captain of the 1962 Seminoles and that season was named to AP's third team All America, the first FSU player to be so highly honored. In '62 McDowell was named the team's mvp and Florida's College Player of the Year. He also played in the North-South All Star Game.

Following graduation, McDowell coached at FSU in 1968-69, then moved to Kansas State for four years before returning to Tallahassee where he coached Tribe linebackers from 1974 to 1984. In 1985 he was named head coach at Central Florida. As player and coach Gene McDowell has well represented the garnet and gold.

JAMES MCFATTER

James "Country" McFatter came to Florida State from west Florida in 1950 and lettered in volleyball in 1951 and 1952. After four years in the Navy he returned to Tallahassee to play for Coach Bill Odeneal's NCAA championship teams in 1957 and 1958. McFatter was the versatile leader of those two great squads and was named to the NCAA All-American first team in both 1957 and 1958. James McFatter was an important force in Florida State's rise to national visibility in its first decade in intercollegiate athletics.

GEORGE LANGFORD

This attorney, businessman and civic leader has served two terms as president of the Seminole Boosters.

His projects have run from
major stadium improvements to books on Seminole football.

George Langford has generously devoted his drive,
organizational ability and great
enthusiasm to the improvement of Florida State athletics.

BILL ODENEAL

A pioneer in the development of intercollegiate volleyball, Bill Odeneal became the nation's first full-time college coach at Florida State University in 1949. Dr. Odeneal's Seminole spikers were the nation's best in the fifties, winning three NCAA championships. The Garnet and Gold, under Odeneal's direction, also claimed eight state AAU titles and many regional championships.

In addition to his coaching, Dr. Odeneal has written many articles about the sport and co-authored the book Beginning Volleyball. He has served on many national athletic bodies and was a charter member of the NCAA Volleyball Tournament Committee. Bill Odeneal played a vital role in gaining national attention for the athletic program of the young Florida State University.

MIKE ROBERSON

A World Class sprinter all four years (1976-1980) at Florida State, Mike Roberson set records at all levels of competition. He set FSU indoor and outdoor marks in the 60, 100 and 200, and Metro Conference records in the 100 and 200. Roberson won a gold medal in the 100 in the World University Games and was a member of the gold medal winning 400 meter relay team in the Pan American Games.

In 1980 FSU's greatest team, led by Roberson, finished 3rd in the NCAA. Mike finished 2nd in the 100 and ran on the 3rd place 400 meter relay team. His last race as a collegian was his greatest. Mike won the NCAA 200 meter championship at 19.96, becoming the first human in history to break 20 seconds at sea level. Anyone who saw Mike Roberson run the curve in the 200 will remember the sight as a supreme example of athletic grace and power.

MAC SCARCE

In 1970 and 1971 a tall lefthander came out of the bullpen to make his mark as Florida State's greatest relief pitcher and one of the finest relievers in NCAA history. Mac Scarce, from Richmond, Virginia by way of Manatee J.C., was a vital force on the '70 Tribe, runner-up for the national championship. His brilliant 7 innings of relief in the NCAA finals stands as one of the finest moments in Seminole diamond annals. Scarce had 30 saves over the '70-'71 seasons and 18 in '71 alone, career and season records for FSU and the NCAA. In 1970 he gave up only 13 hits in 33 relief innings, a school record. Mac was co-captain of the '71 Seminoles. After leaving Florida State, Scarce pitched for the Phillies and Mets. His poise under pressure made Mac Scarce one of the major reasons for FSU's reputation over the years as a perennial baseball power.

GARY SCHULL

From 1963 through 1966 Gary Schull was the leader of Florida State's basketball Seminoles. The Pompano Beach prep star, short for a college center, made up for lack of size with hustle and aggressiveness. In his career, Schull averaged 14.8 points a game and grabbed more than 10 rebounds a contest. He scored 1,122 points and came down with 769 rebounds in his three years. Schull grabbed 27 rebounds against JU in '66 and led FSU to a memorable 51-50 victory over Florida in 1964. Gary Schull, a fine student, graduated in 1966 and went to Europe to become one of Italy's best known and most popular pro cagers. The personification of hustle and determination, Gary Schull represents the best in the Seminole athletic tradition.

WALLY WOODHAM

In four years at Florida State (1976-1979) Wally Woodham, #12, threw 476 passes, completed 273 for 3,550 yards and 22 touchdowns. In his greatest performance, Woodham ripped the Florida Gator defense to shreds in 1978 completing 16 of 24 for 179 yards. He was AP's Southeastern back of the week. Beyond all the statistics and honors, what Wally Woodham and his friend and fellow qb Jimmy Jordan did was win! From 1977 through 1979 Woodham led Florida State to the top nationally with a record of 29-6, including 3 straight victories over Florida. The brilliant quarterback from Tallahassee Leon, whose finesse destroyed defenses and put the ball back in the end zone, brought FSU football to its pinnacle of success.
