DR. RAY BELLAMY

One of the truly outstanding "student-athletes" ever to attend Florida State University, Dr. Ray Bellamy continues to represent his alma mater with pride and dignity. Dr. Bellamy will go down as one of the more consistent and outstanding tennis players in the history of the school. He was the captain of the tennis team and No. 1 player in 1960 and 1961, his junior and senior years. He lost only three matches during that two-year span.

Ray was a model student and athlete during his undergraduate years of 1957-61. While pursuing rigorous pre-medical studies he was also a strong campus leader. He was vice president of his senior class, a member of the Gold Key honorary Society and ODK Honorary Society. In addition Ray was president of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Dr. Bellamy went on from Florida State to serve as a flight surgeon in the United State Navy and continued his fine tennis career. He was an All-Navy doubles champion and played on the All-Navy team in 1967 and '68.

After returning to the state of Florida to begin his practice, Dr. Bellamy became the state 35-and-over singles and doubles champion during the 1970's. Dr. Ray Bellamy stands as a shining example to those who seek to get the most from both athletics and academics.

CHIC CICIO

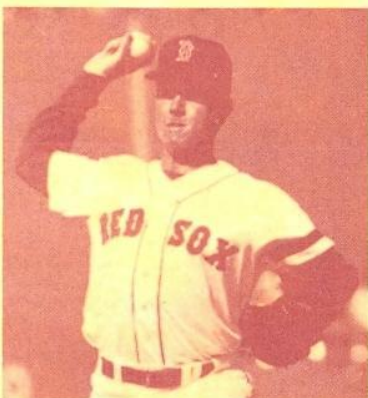

Chic Cicio has been an enthusiastic leader for physical fitness for 40 years. A perfectionist in gymnastics, he always led by doing. In his years at Florida State University, he led the Seminoles by winning many championships, including the 1956 National AAU Free Exercise Competition and placed first in vaulting in an International meet against Cuba. He was a runner-up in free exercise events at the National AAU Meet in 1957 where he came in sixth in the All-Around Event.

In regional meets, Chic was the Southern Intercollegiate All-Around Champion in 1956 and in the Florida AAU meet he won five first-places and was the All-Around Champion. Cicio was a gymnastics All-American and has been inducted into the National Gymnastics Hall of Fame.

Cicio has always been a coach. As a student he was an assistant coach to his teammates, an important contributor to the youth in Florida State University's nationally known Gymkana Program. Later as a Counselor/Coach in Dade County Public Schools he instructed swimmers and divers as well as gymnasts. After college, Cicio stayed in good enough shape to win third place in the Free Exercise Event in the 1967 National Professional Gymnastics Tournament.

Well rounded, he won the "Most Muscular Man" trophy in the Mr. Florida contest of 1958 while representing Florida State University. As a senior, in 1959 he was runner-up in the "Mr. South" bodybuilding championships, found time to perform in several musical productions and was featured at FSU football games as Sammy Seminole.

JEFF GRAY

Consistency and control were the marks of former Florida State pitching great Jeff Gray, currently one of the top relievers in the American League.

After four years with the Seminoles, Gray signed with the Philadelphia Phillies organization in 1984. In 1990, Gray emerged as the top reliever in the Boston Red Sox organization, leading the major league club in its stretch drive for the AL East title.

Gray came to Seminole territory in 1981 as a high school All-American and quickly made a name for himself by pitching well in big games. Gray posted a 3-1 mark in 10 appearances as a freshman and won a career-best nine games in 1983. In his four year stint, Gray won 28 games for the Seminoles.

The right-hander was selected to the Metro Conference all-tournament team in 1983, picking up the win in the champion game against Tulane. During that year, Gray blanked defending national champion Miami 5-0.

PATTI HENDERSON

Patti Henderson came to Florida State from Toronto in 1982 and stayed to become one of the Lady Seminoles' greatest players. She was 68-36 in singles and won 71 doubles matches. Patti teamed with fellow Canadian Sue Hatch for a 39-13 doubles record, an NCAA invitation and a ranking at 12th in the nation.

After her playing days Patti Henderson was named assistant coach and in 1988 became head coach. In 1989 Coach Henderson's team won the Metro women's tennis championship, breaking a long South Carolina domination. In 1991 her squad again won the Metro title.

Active in the ITCA, the college tennis coaches association, Patti three times won the organization's national championship in both singles and doubles.

In 1991 Coach Henderson returned to her native Toronto to become Canada's national women's tennis coach.

Only one woman has been both Metro MVP as a player, in 1986, and Metro Coach of the Year, in 1989 and 1991. Her name is Patti Henderson.

OTTO PETTY

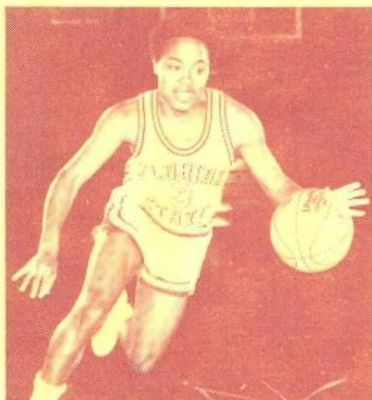

Referred to as one of the nation's best "little men" during his tenure at Florida State, 5' 7" Otto Petty led FSU to its only Final Four appearance in 1972.

Petty not only brought the Seminoles his great ball-handling wizardry, he also contributed his charismatic spark on the basketball court. A three-year letterman at FSU, Petty seemed to have a sixth sense of knowing when and where to put the ball.

He put the ball in the right guys hands 602 times during his career and still holds the all-time assist record at Florida State. Petty's 227 assists during the 1970-71 stands as the school record for assists in a season. He also holds the school record for assists in a game, handing out 16 in a game with South Alabama in 1972.

Also know for his defensive skills, Petty dished out a team-high 173 assists during that Final Four season, when FSU lost 81-76 to UCLA in the championship game. Not to be forgotten in that season was Florida State's march through the NCAA Tournament - a string of victories over Minnesota, Kentucky and eventually North Carolina in the National semi-final game. A string which landed Petty and the shocking Seminoles on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

Petty's eminent talent and achievement are still honored today. He is unquestionably one of the best point guards to ever attend Florida State.

JODY REED

Jody Reed stands as one of the great all-around baseball players to ever attend Florida State University. After working his way through the minor league system, Reed has been a mainstay in the Boston Red Sox infield for the past five years.

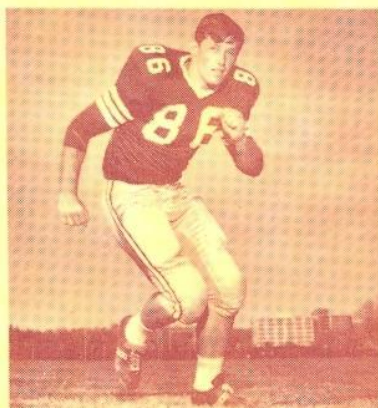

A transfer from Manatee Community College, Reed was drafted twice before he stepped on the field at Florida State. He was a two-year starter at shortstop for the Seminoles, leading FSU to a pair of Metro Conference Tournament titles.

"If there is one factor you can credit to the success of our club, it's the addition of Jody Reed," FSU Head Coach Mike Martin said of Reed during the 1983 season.

Reed was an All-South Regional selection in 1983 and Metro Conference Tournament MVP in 1984. In 1983, Reed led the club in runs scored (97), doubles (23), walks (68) and stolen bases (31). With Reed at short, FSU turned a school-record 88 double plays.

Drafted in the seventh round by the Boston Red Sox, Reed immediately began his climb to the major leagues. He continues to live the game, fastly becoming Florida State's most recognized major leaguer.

BILLY RHODES

William M. "Billy" Rhodes, Jr. is still one of the highest drafted offensive linemen to come out of Florida State. A fourth round draft pick by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1969, Rhodes played in the 1969 Senior Bowl and is considered one of the best linemen ever to attend Florida State.

During his four years, 1965-68, Rhodes played for legendary FSU Head Coach Bill Peterson. He lettered on three teams that went to bowl games; the 1966 Sun Bowl, 1967 Gator Bowl, and the 1968 Peach Bowl. He was one of only two Seminoles, the other being Ron Sellers, to play in the 1969 Senior Bowl.

Rhodes was picked by Bill McGrotha to the all-time FSU football team. Longtime Seminole line coach Bob Harbison lists Rhodes as one of the toughest and best linemen to play for him. He has continued his involvement and support for Florida State over the years. Rhodes has been a Seminole Booster and Tomahawk Club member, always available to give help and support at any time.

The Eustis, Florida native has been a very successful business and family man. He continues to be a tribute to his alma mater just as he was a player and student.

DR. BERNARD SLIGER

They called him "Bernie" and that in itself may tell you something about the man who served as Florida State University's President from 1976 through his retirement in 1991. Marvelously effective as a leader and universally popular as a human being, Dr. Bernard F. Sliger guided FSU through 15 years of unprecedented growth and achievement.

It was not a coincidence that Florida State's athletic fortunes exploded during Sliger's tenure as President. Always a proponent of a strong athletic program and its place among college campus life, Bernie brought in strong administrators and pushed for coaches that not only knew how to win, but could win with integrity. So sound was Sliger's philosophy regarding college athletics that he became one of the prime national movers in setting standards and giving direction from his position on the prestigious NCAA Council. He was the presidential point-man during the most recent push for reform in college sports.

Under Sliger's leadership Florida State's women's sports programs began to flourish and non-revenue sports programs began making a national impact. During Sliger's tenure Florida State baseball teams went to 14 regional tournaments and five College World Series. FSU basketball enjoyed six NCAA Tournament trips and twice went to the NIT.

But Bernie's pride and joy had to be FSU Football which he saw rise to the absolute pinnacle of the sport. Thirteen bowl games in his 15 years bringing 11 championships. An unprecedented nine straight bowl games without a loss and four consecutive top four national finishes marked the end of his tenure.

And as Sliger bade farewell he left a final legacy for the ages. For under his hand, Florida State University abandoned its independent status and aligned itself with the nation's most highly-regarded academic and athletic conference, the ACC.

Dr. Bernie Sliger will be remembered for many, many things as time goes by, but he'll certainly remain most dear to those who follow and support FSU Athletics.
