President Campbell

For the 1956 Homecoming game the Florida State University "Seminoles" are pleased to be host to the Wake Forest College "Deacons" from Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Founded in 1834, Wake Forest College has achieved a distinguished record. A monumental achievement has been the removal of the institution from its original campus to a new campus at Winston-Salem.

On behalf of the alumni, the students, and the faculty of the University we extend cordial greetings to our friends from Wake Forest.

By PIERCE LEHMBECK

Fed by the desire to keep a perfect homecoming record alive, Florida State is host to a rugged Wake Forest Demon Deacon football squad today before an estimated 20,000 fans.

The Seminoles haven't lost a home-coming game since taking up football in 1947. And with one of their finest teams in years, they hope to continue the streak today.

Wake Forest, a newcomer to the FSU football slate, is fresh from a 17-0 drubbing at the hands of Clemson's Tigers. But the Deacs will be on the rebound and they're an always rough ACC competitor.

Head Coach Tom Nugent said early this past week the Seminoles should enter today's game in their finest physical condition since the season opener against Ohio University.

Bobby Renn, the star left half who was injured in the Georgia game three weeks ago, is back in the starting lineup today and should be at near top form. And rugged Bob Elliot, a top defensive guard who sat out last week's 14-0 triumph over N. C. State, is back for this one.

Fired by the festive spirit of a Seminole homecoming, Florida State enters this game a slight favorite. But with Wake Forest's Demon Deacons the opponents, it could be another long afternoon.

We'll know in a couple of hours.

THE SEMINOLE FOOTBALL NETWORK

Florida State University's football contests are carried to every part of the state this year by the ever-growing voice of the Seminole Football Network.

Entering its fourth year, the network now boasts a total of 12 stations located throughout Florida. (See the listings below.)

Again, the veteran trio of Bill Snyder, Ben Letson and Jim Kirk are handling the mikeside duties for the network. They've been greatly responsible for the growth and success of the broadcasts.

Snyder, of WPDQ in Jacksonville, is the playby-play man. He began his professional career by working the games of the old professional baseball club, the St. Louis Browns.

Kirk does the color. As sports director of station WMOP in Ocala, he's been with the network from its beginning.

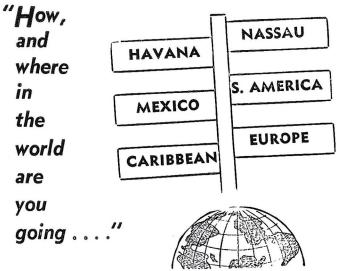

Letson, owner and manager of WCNH in Quincy, engineers the broadcasts.

THE MARCHING CHIEFS

HOMECOMING, 1955

Manley Whitcomb will direct Florida State's Marching Chiefs, hailed by Atlanta newspapers as the best university marching group in the south, in at least seven halftime performances this year.

Shows are planned for all home games— Ohio University, Virginia Tech, Wake Forest, Furman and Mississippi Southern — and it's likely the band will perform at Philadelphia October 27 and Miami November 2.

FSU has in Whitcomb one of the nation's foremost masters of band music. He came to Florida State in 1953 following a record 17 years at Ohio State where he led the famous Buckeye band to national recognition.

Since coming to FSU Whitcomb has developed the 128-piece Marching Chiefs into one of the most outstanding musical organizations of its kind in the nation.

At Ohio State he directed the university band in its famous westward jaunt to the Rose Bowl in 1950. Whitcomb has appeared as lecturer, guest conductor, clinician and adjudicator in 12 states. He saw service as a combat infrantryman in World War II and was twice awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat in France.

The Marching Chiefs, which includes 180 personnel, is truly an all-southern band due to its appearances throughout the south and its predominantly all-southern personnel. The Marchina Chiefs have appeared in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas with a possibility of adding Pennsylvania to the list this year.

Whitcomb, also a music professor, received Bachelor of Music and Masters degrees from Northwestern University. He's a native of Mellon, Wisconsin.

Band Day at Florida State, planned October 6 this year, is one of the highlights of the Marching Chiefs' spectacular shows because it brings together some of the finest high school bands in Florida, Georgia and Alabama.

Band Day was first inaugurated at FSU in 1951 and it has grown from some 13 bands to over 30. This will be the sixth annual edition of the event and promises to top all the rest.

ABOUT WAKE FOREST

By RUSSELL BRANTLEY News Bureau Director

One hundred and twenty-two-year-old Wake Forest College is in a spanking new home and is now working out its "shakedown" cruise.

Ten years of planning and working and praying came to a climax this spring. The College held an early commencement and hundreds of alumni roamed the old campus in the "Forest of Wake." But while the last diplomas were being handed out, huge moving vans were rumbling away.

LDING

RIDA

In the short period between May 21 and June 18 over 95 per cent of the moving was done. Books, equipment and faculty possessions were installed in shiny new buildings on a $20 million campus at Reynolda, just outside the City of Winston-Salem.

And now the administration, faculty and students are about the job of re-planting traditions, the intangibles that couldn't be packed and hauled 110 miles. With them lies the job of maintaining and improving the personality of a very personable college.

Residence buildings include four U-shaped dormitories for men and two for women. There also are a power plant and maintenance building.

The College was founded in 1834 by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. For five years Wake Forest operated exclusively as a manual labor school. In 1838 the institution was re-chartered as a college. From then until 1894, Wake Forest operated exclusively as a liberal arts college. The School of Law was established in 1894, and the School of Medicine (moved to Winston-Salem as the Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest in 1941) in 1902. The School of Business Administration was organized in 1949

Wake Forest was a boys' school until 1942 when coeds were admitted.

In 1946 the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation agreed to pay Wake Forest up to $350,000 a year in perpetuity if friends of the College would provide necessary buildings to house the College on a new campus in or near Winston-Salem. Mr. Charles H. Babcock and the late Mrs. Babcock gave the campus site. The Baptists of North Carolina accepted the proposal and an intensive fund-raising and construction program resulted.

Enrollment during the last academic year totaled 1,753. There were 1,326 liberal arts students, 208 in the School of Medicine, 130 in the School of Business Administration and 89 in the School of Law.

During its history Wake Forest has been headed by 10

During its history Wake Forest has been headed by 10 presidents. A complete list with dates of their administration, follows:

Samuel Wait, 1834-45; William Hooper, 1845-59; John Brown White, 1849-54; Washington Manly Wingate, 1854-79; Thomas Henderson Pritchard, 1879-82; Charles Elisha Taylor, 1884-1905; William Louis Poteat, 1905-27; Francis Pendleton Gaines, 1927-30; Thurman D. Kitchin, 1930-50; Harold Wayland Tribble, 1950 to the present.

Wake Forest is governed by a Board of Trustees which is elected by the North Carolina Baptist Convention. The Board has 36 members who serve four-year terms, with nine being chosen each year at the annual convention.

Wake Forest has contributed many ministers, teachers, physicians, lawyers, scientists, and journalists to the every-day life of man. It is particularly interesting to note the large number of its graduates who plow themselves back into the life of North Carolina.
