TOP-RANKED

The 1993 N.C. State football game programs and the 1993-94 Wolfpack basketball game programs were recently ranked among the best in the nation. The programs, published by the NCSU Sports Information Office, were edited by assistant sports information director Carter Cheves '78. Titled PACK Preview, the basketball programs were judged second-best in the country while football claimed the No. 6 spot. Both sets of game programs captured first in the district, which includes the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia and Florida. In addition, the program cover for the Virginia game (Homecoming) was selected as the top football program cover in the nation. The cover, which incorporated an Autumn/Halloween theme, was chosen as the cover of the year from among 100 entries.

WOLFPACK (7-2, 5-1 ACC) vs. SEMINOLES (8-1, 7-0 ACC)

THE SERIES: The Seminoles lead the overall series by a 10-4 count, winning the last four encounters. Prior to FSU joining the ACC before the start of the 1992 season, these two teams had met 12 times between 1952 and 1969. The Pack's wins came in 1952 — 13-7 in Raleigh, in 1957 — 7-0 in Tallahassee, in 1965 — 3-0 in Raleigh and in 1967 — 20-10 in Tallahassee.

Last season Florida State took the frustration of a loss to Notre Dame the previous week out on visiting N.C. State with a 62-3 win in Tallahassee. The 'Noles went on to capture the National Championship with a 12-1 record. FSU took advantage of a pair of early turnovers by the Pack to take a 14-0 lead just five minutes into the game. FSU totaled 553 yards of offense but the Pack didn't help the cause with six turnovers. State managed 317 total yards, but were forced to take too many chances because of the big deficit. Heisman Trophy winner Charlie Ward completed 27 of 36 passes for 278 yards and four touchdowns.

During five of the meetings between the schools, N.C. State captured the ACC Championship during that year. Three out of those five years, the Seminoles were able to upend the ACC Champion Wolfpack.

SENIOR TRIBUTE

N.C. State's 19 seniors of 1994 will forever serve as a foundation for an ever-strengthening Wolfpack football program. This group has gone 39-18-1 overall and 23-13 in the ACC over the past five years as they head into their last game at Carter-Finley Stadium. And they are in the running for their fifth straight bowl appearance. Today, when these young men are introduced to you for the last time give them the standing round of applause they so deserve.

STOP THE STREAK: Florida State is gunning for its 24th consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference victory and its third straight league title this evening against the Wolfpack of N.C. State. The old record of consecutive ACC wins belonged to Maryland when they won 21 straight from 1973-77. N.C. State was the team that ended the Terps string when the Pack won a thrilling 24-20 victory in Carter-Finley Stadium on October 1. Can the Pack play spoiler again? State's best string of ACC wins is 14 set in 1972-74.

N.C. State has a huge chore to upset No. 6 Florida State, but a Wolfpack win would be one of the biggest in school history. A State win would put the Pack in a dead heat with FSU for the league championship. It would also be the Noles' first loss in the league since it joined in 1992. And of course, it would carry significant meaning in the bowl picture.

CHUCK: Former Pack player Chuck Amato (1965-67) is the assistant head coach and defensive line coach for Florida State. Amato was a member of the famed 1967 Wolfpack, which featured the "White Shoes" Defense. The '67 squad rose to No. 3 in the country, going 9-2 and beating Georgia, 14-7 in the Liberty Bowl. In fact, it was Amato's idea to brand the defense with the nickname "White Shoes." Amato made the suggestion to then Coach Earle Edwards and with his approval State's defensive unit began polishing their shoes white in a ritual every Friday night.

Amato was also a standout wrestler at NCSU winning ACC Championships at heavyweight in 1966 and at 191 pounds in 1968. Amato began his football coaching at NCSU, beginning as a student assistant coach in 1968. In 1971 he was hired by former coach Al Michaels as a graduate assistant and in 1973 he was promoted to full-time assistant by Lou Holtz. Amato's last year at State was in 1979 as the defensive coordinator for Bo Rein.

RARE FB REPEAT: When sophomore Rod Brown raced for 117 yards against Duke last week, he became the first fullback in 17 years to post back-to-back 100-yard rushing games. He ran for a career-high 125 yards during State's 47-45 win at Maryland. Ironically, these are the first two 100-yard rushing games of his career. The last NCSU fullback to pull off the feat was Billy Ray Vickers in 1977. Vickers ran for 102 yards against Virginia and followed that with 108 against Syracuse.

HOMEBOYS: In recent years, the N.C. State football program has expanded its recruiting efforts into fertile Florida for student-athletes. There are currently eight players on the Wolfpack roster who are native to the Sunshine State:

Jeff Butler, t-fr. .... Altamonte Springs
Ed Gallon, r-sr. .... Lakeland
Lonnie Gilbert, r-fr. .... Hialeah
Eddie Goines, r-sr. .... Lakeland
Chris Hennie-Roed, sr. .... Oviedo
Jason McGeorge, r-so. .... Gainesville
Jose Laureano, t-fr. .... Orlando
Jon Rissler, r-jr. .... Sarasota

REACH OUT AND TOUCH SOMEONE: For two consecutive weeks, the N.C. State Wolfpack has received an AT&T Long Distance Award. Two weeks ago when speedster Alvis Whitted broke through the Maryland coverage unit and hit paydirt to complete a 97-yard kickoff return, AT&T honored him with their Long Distance "kickoff return" award. Whitted's return marked the first time in 32 years that a Wolfpack player had accomplished this feat. This past week, two more N.C. State players were awarded national honors after the Wolfpack rallied to a come-from-behind victory over Duke. Quarterback Terry Harvey and flanker Adrien Hill received the AT&T Long Distance "pass play" award. Late in the third quarter, Harvey, playing with a partially separated shoulder, hit Hill on an 82-yard pass play moving the ball from State's 8-yard line to Duke's 10. Two plays later, Harvey hit Hill again, this time in the end zone for a touchdown.

VIDETICH IS RED-HOT: A semifinalist for the 1994 Lou Groza Collegiate Place-Kicker Award, N.C. State's Steve Videtich is producing the kind of kicking that is hard to overlook. He made a career best four field goals during State's 47-45 victory at Maryland. His last field goal of the game was a 35-yarder with just six seconds remaining in the game and provided State with the winning margin. It was Videtich's first last-second, game-winning field goal of his career. All of this came just one week after he kicked his career-long

Head Coach

Mike O'Cain

Following an inaugural season that included thrilling finishes, record-setting individual performances and a New Year's Day bowl appearance, Mike O'Cain begins his second season at the Wolfpack helm focusing on the themes of attitude and consistency.

O'Cain's leap into the head coaching fire was successful in every sense, considering he inherited the program just five weeks prior to the start of fall camp. His first team was competitive, posting a 7-4 regular season record that sent the Wolfpack to its sixth straight bowl game and seventh post-season appearance in eight years. He was the nation's only first-year head coach to take his team to a bowl game. His team was exciting, mounting fourth-quarter comebacks in six games that resulted in four wins. And his team was successful academically, placing 15 members on the ACC Honor Roll while 14 players earned their degrees in May.

In the meantime, O'Cain and his staff have put together one of the Pack's most highly-regarded recruiting classes in recent memory, a class of 24 signees who combine excellent skills with the game's most valuable natural talent — speed.

"There's no doubt that last year's team will always be special to me," O'Cain said. "Not only because it was my first year as a head coach, but also because of the 'never-say-die' effort those players put forth. Despite some extensive injuries, particularly to our defense, they worked hard and, for the most part, were an extremely competitive football team week in and week out.

"Now the challenge is to continue with that kind of attitude and effort and combine that with a consistency in performance that will smooth over some of those roller coaster highs and lows we experienced last season."

It was on June 29, 1993, that O'Cain's view of Wolfpack football changed dramatically. On that day, he was named to lead the Pack program, moving up from his role as NCSU's quarterback coach, succeeding Dick Sheridan, who resigned on that same day for unspecified health reasons after seven successful years at the Wolfpack helm. In accepting the promotion from Director of Athletics Todd Turner, O'Cain became the 31st head coach in the school's history.

O'Cain coached for 17 years prior to accepting the challenge of his first head coaching assignment. But he didn't just inherit the program, he was part of its transformation over the last eight years from a middle-of-the-road unit to a consistent ACC contender and bowl participant. During that time, NCSU offensive players, with O'Cain directing the State quarterbacks, re-wrote nearly every passing and receiving standard in the State record books.

But just as important have been the accomplishments of the Wolfpack team off the field. Wolfpack players have succeeded in the classroom as well as in the community, giving the N.C. State program a well-earned and highly-respected reputation.

"There are values that we instill in our program that are very consistent — discipline, doing things the right way and recruiting student-athletes who have the ability to graduate from North Carolina State University, to name just a few," O'Cain said. "To a man on this football staff, we are committed to these values."

O'Cain began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Clemson University where he had lettered for four seasons as a quarterback. He was the Tigers' MVP during the 1976 campaign and, ironically, he still holds the Tiger record for rushing yards in a game by a quarterback (140 yards on 13 attempts) set against N. C. State during his senior season. He stayed with the Clemson program for the 1977 season as a graduate assistant working with the running backs.

From 1978 through 1980, O'Cain worked with Art Baker at The Citadel as the offensive backfield coach.

O'Cain then moved on to Murray State for four years, where he served as quarterback coach and offensive coordinator for his first season and then assistant head coach and offensive coordinator for three more years.

O'Cain rejoined Art Baker in 1985, this time at East Carolina, where he served as assistant head coach.

He moved to Raleigh in 1986 when Dick Sheridan took over the Wolfpack program.

A native of Orangeburg, S.C., O'Cain's association with Dick Sheridan began at Orangeburg-Wilkinson High School, where Sheridan coached O'Cain. A three-year starter at quarterback, O'Cain led the team to a perfect 13-0 record, the state 4-A title and a No. 12 national ranking as a senior.

He received a series of accolades, including 4-A South Carolina Back of the Year, all-state and all-America. He was the starting quarterback for the 1971 Shrine Bowl where he teamed with Wolfpack offensive line coach Robbie Caldwell, who was the starting center.

FAMILY:

Married to the former Nancy Farnum of Orangeburg, S.C.
Children: Jenny, 9; Elizabeth, 7.

three-year letterman (1985-87), will oversee all football facilities and fields, including Carter-Finley Stadium. He'll assist in the physical conditioning and strength training for members of the Wolfpack.

A Kannapolis, N.C., native, Smith lined up at quarterback in his first two seasons at State, before moving to free safety for his sophomore season. In his final two seasons Smith became a starter at outside linebacker. His teammates voted him as a 1987 team captain along with offensive lineman Joey Page.

Smith was a standout quarterback at A.L. Brown High School. As a senior, he earned conference Player of the Year honors and was honorable mention all-state. Smith was also named the Cabarrus County Athlete of the Year.

Smith earned his speech communication degree from N.C. State in 1989.

CAROLYN STUART
Secretary to the Head Coach

Carolyn Stuart has been a member of the N.C. State athletics department for the past 18 years, serving the football program as the secretary to the head coach for each of those seasons. In total, she has worked for five Wolfpack head coaches, through 208 football games and nine bowl appearances.

Stuart, who worked in several different departments on campus prior to joining the football office in 1976, has worked for the University for 20 years.

A native of Benson, North Carolina, Stuart works with all facets of the Wolfpack football program. Her primary responsibility is serving as the administrative secretary for head coach Mike O'Cain.

Stuart and her husband, Jimmy, have one son, Darren.

SUE HICKS
Secretary to the Assistant Coaches

Sue Hicks is entering her seventh year as the secretary to the N.C. State assistant coaches as well as serving as the Weisiger-Brown Building receptionist.

A long-time Wolfpack enthusiast, Hicks earned her senior secretarial degree from Croft Business College. A Greensboro, N.C. native, she is married to Greg Hicks, a former ACC Championship wrestler for the Wolfpack.

Prior to settling in Raleigh, Hicks and her husband traveled the country with the Athletes in Action wrestling program for 13 years. Sue and Greg have two children, Cari and Nathan.

KATHY JACOBSEN
Recruiting Secretary

Kathy Jacobsen begins her second season as a member of the Wolfpack football staff, serving as a secretary in the program. Her primary duties include acting as the administrative assistant to the recruiting coordinator and functioning as the primary supervisor for the Wolfpack recruiting hostess group, the "Stately Ladies."

A native of Rockingham, N.C., Jacobsen worked with the state for three and a half years in the NCSU College of Management and the Dept. of Public Instruction prior to joining the athletic department.

Jacobsen and her husband, Larry, have two children, Mike and Michelle.

JAMEY COLL
Assistant Trainer

Jamey Coll is entering his second season with the Pack training staff. He came to N.C. State from the University of Connecticut where he served as head graduate assistant athletic trainer while also working as the athletic trainer for the Windham Orthopedic Surgical Group.

The athletics training major received his degree from Salem State College in 1991 and went on to Connecticut where he received an MA in exercise science in 1993.

Coll is certified with the National Athletic Trainers Association as an athletic trainer and is also certified as a strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

JIM SHERRILL
Video Coordinator

The newest addition to the Wolfpack football family is video coordinator Jim Sherrill. His duties will include video production for all Wolfpack sports.

A Sylva, N.C. native, Sherrill has extensive knowledge in video and television production. He's been involved in the field since 1981. Prior to joining the athletic department he was as a senior TV producer/director for the NCSU College of Engineering since 1986 and also directed the N.C. State coach's television shows since 1989.

Sherrill earned a B.A. degree in speech communication from N.C. State University in 1985. Born March 22, 1962, he is married to the former Kim Miller of Sylva, N.C. They have one son, David.

The New Cat B-Series Means Business.

No other backhoe loader looks like it. Or works like it. Discover the difference on your next job. See how easy it is to make more-and to keep more-of what you earn. With a new CAT 416B, 426B or 436B back hoe loader.

See what it's like to work with...

- An excavator-style backhoe that improves visibility, reaches further, and digs faster.
- Closed-center hydraulics that deliver up to 44% more hydraulic power, greater break-out, greater lift.
- A CAT 305 turbocharged* diesel engine built to meet specific B-Series requirements: designed to increase horsepower, fuel efficiency and reduce noise.

- High-reliability, low maintenance features that save hours, effort-and eliminate downtime.
  - And the loader that tops its class, now better than ever.
- The new CAT B-Series. Backhoe loaders that can make more, save more. One every job. See your CAT dealer now.
